

Digital Commodities Announces Completion of Change of Business, Name Change, and Ticker Symbol Change

Vancouver, British Columbia--(Newsfile Corp. - March 20, 2025) - Digital Commodities Capital Corp. (CSE: BCBC) (OTCQB: BCBCF) (FSE: W04) (the "Company"), is pleased to announce that, further to its news releases dated February 21, 2025, and March 19, 2025, it has successfully completed its change of business from a cannabis issuer to an investment issuer (the "Change of Business"). In connection with this transition, the Company has also changed its name from "The BC Bud Corporation" to "Digital Commodities Capital Corp."

The Company expects its common shares to commence trading under its new name as of market open on Monday, March 24th, 2025 under the ticker symbol "RIPP".

As part of the Change of Business, the Company has prepared a comprehensive Form 2A Listing Statement, which outlines key details regarding its investment strategy, initial portfolio composition, target sectors, use of funds, and investment policy. The final version of the Listing Statement will be made available under the Company's profile on SEDAR+ at www.sedarplus.ca in the coming days.

Brayden Sutton, CEO of the Company, commented: "This marks an exciting new chapter for our Company as we pivot toward an investment strategy centered on high-growth, high-impact sectors. By transitioning from a cannabis issuer to an investment issuer, we gain the flexibility to deploy capital into emerging opportunities across digital assets, hard commodities, and resource-focused businesses. With a strong focus on sectors poised for long-term expansion, we are strategically positioning ourselves to create lasting shareholder value."
