Revenues

Total product revenue from ongoing operations for the three and six months ending September 30, 2020 was $2,377,581 and $5,049,355 compared to $7,030,130 and $11,174,035 for the same period in fiscal 2020. The significant decline in revenue in fiscal 2021 as compared to similar periods in fiscal 2020, is primarily due to the significant decline in Plaintree's markets due to the effects of the COVID-19 pandemic on Plaintree's customers.

Plaintree has two diversified business divisions: Specialty Structures and Electronics.

Plaintree's Electronics Division revenues from operations decreased during the first six months of fiscal 2021 to $2,956,412 compared to $4,103,741 in the same period in fiscal 2020.

Plaintree's Electronics division_has two main operations. One principally supplies the commercial aerospace industry and the other principally supplies the military aerospace industry. In February of 2020, the forecast for both of these divisions indicated similar revenues as in the previous fiscal 2019. In March 2020, the COVID-19 pandemic hit, grinding the commercial aerospace market to a near halt and by May 2020 the Company's commercial aerospace business and forecast had fallen dramatically. This sector's decline accounts for 100% of this divisional decline.

Plaintree's Specialty Structures Division revenues from operations decreased to $2,0920,943 in the first six months of fiscal 2021 to $7,070,294 from the same period in fiscal 2019.

This Division has three main product lines, mining domes, foundations for unstable soils and hydraulic cylinders. The uncertainty about the pandemics effects on actual mines forced many orders to be postponed but not cancelled. The COVID-19 pandemic also caused many of our expected foundation orders to be postponed as our customers concentrated on more critical issues. These postponements accounted for the vast majority of this division's revenue decline.

The remaining decline was due to the hydraulic cylinder market essentially shutting down.

Gross Margin

Total gross margin remained relatively consistent during the first six months ending September 30, 2020 of fiscal 2021, primarily attributed to government wage subsidies, at 27% compared to 29% for the same period of fiscal 2020. The Company recorded in cost of goods sold, $487,296 in government sponsored wage subsidies related to Covid-19 during the period.

Operating Expenses

Research and development expenses

Research and development expenses were $452,896 and $764,291 for the first six months of fiscals 2021 and 2020, respectively. Research and development expenditures consist primarily of development engineering and personnel expenses. The Company reduced expenses by $243,794 due to government sponsored wage subsidies related to COVID-19 during the period.

Finance and administration expenses
