Currently, the Company is focused on three main verticals for targeted investments.

The Company’s Resource Incubation vertical will pursue a diversified portfolio of resource investments with an emphasis on the precious-metal and battery-metal sectors. ThreeD is focused on investing in district scale plays with high optionality and maximum exposure to rising markets.

The Company’s Artificial Intelligence (“A.I.”) vertical will focus on disruptive data science technologies. Machine Learning and Neuro Networks have been at the forefront of value creation in many industries. ThreeD believes that it is necessary to have exposure to companies pioneering A.I./Machine Learning technologies into new sectors.

The Company’s third vertical will focus on Blockchain Assets. As previously announced on October 16, 2017, the Company formed an initial advisor group of outside consultants to help with due diligence and deal flow relating to potential Blockchain Investments.
