

New World NFT Platform Adds Motion Capture Technology to Create Unique NFTs

Toronto, Ontario--(Newsfile Corp. - August 24, 2021) - Graph Blockchain Inc. (CSE: GBLC) (OTC Pink: REGRF) (FSE: RT5A) ("Graph") or (the "Company") is pleased to announce that the Company's newest acquisition, New World Inc., is creating animated non-fungible tokens ("NFTs") using cutting edge motion capture technology that offers creators and collaborators endless opportunities.

New World Inc. is successfully creating animated NFTs using their in-house motion capture technology. By recording an individual's movements with motion capture, creators and collaborators have the ability to use their own tracking data and map it directly to their NFT creation. The data can be applied to three-dimensional models and/or characters creating unique pieces of immersive art. The art is then minted as an NFT on New World Inc.'s app and viewed in augmented reality.

UFC fighter Ariane Lipsky is the most recent athlete to get strapped into New World Inc.'s motion capture equipment. Ariane recorded her movements and strikes, which will be translated into a three-dimensional animated character that will be sold as an NFT certifying that she herself was the original owner of the tracked movement. Ariane is excited to continue to utilize New World's platform to showcase new ways to engage with her fans.

This motion capture technology opens new opportunities for creators on New World Inc.'s platform to collaborate across various verticals by creating engaging NFTs. New conversations and potential value between talent, brands, athletes, artists, musicians etc. and their sponsors / endorsees.
