

QUIMBAYA GOLD LAUNCHES LIDAR SURVEY AT TAHAMI SOUTH GOLD PROJECT IN COLOMBIA

VANCOUVER, BC – January 23th, 2025 - Quimbaya Gold Inc. (CSE: QIM, OTCQB: QIMGF, FSE: K05) ("Quimbaya" or the "Company") is pleased to announce that it has undertaken a LIDAR survey at its Tahami South Project in Colombia. The aim of the LIDAR survey is to acquire high-resolution geospatial data for topographic mapping and detailed terrain analysis. The resulting data will significantly support ongoing exploration efforts by providing accurate terrain models and enhancing the understanding of surface features essential for project planning, exploring, drilling and decision-making processes.

The outlined study area within the polygon covers a total of 575.10 hectares. Figure 1 and Table 1 provide the geospatial location of the polygon to be surveyed in DATUM UTM zone 18N WGS 1984.

Ricardo Sierra, VP Exploration for Quimbaya commented: “Based on the analysis of satellite imagery and available bibliographic data, it has been identified that the primary structural orientations in the area including at our neighbor’s operating mine to the south (Aris Mining Corp TSX: ARIS) run NE-SW, NW-SE and N-S. As a result, the flight plan for the LIDAR survey be will aligned in an E-W direction. This orientation will allow for optimal data acquisition and to enhance the identification of key structural features, contributing to a more accurate and comprehensive interpretation of the gold vein system corridors in preparation for our Q2 planned 4,000 meters of drilling.”

“This LIDAR survey marks a significant step forward in advancing the project's potential by helping to process out the vegetation cover to better expose and delineate the vein systems within this highly prospective area,” said Alexandre P. Boivin, President and Chief Executive Officer of Quimbaya. He added: “This is where things start to get exciting as each methodical step takes us closer to our goal of making a high grade gold discovery in this renowned gold-rich district.”
