

MicroCoal® Technologies Provides Corporate Reorganization Update

Vancouver, B.C., Canada – November 18, 2014 – MicroCoal® Technologies Inc. (CNSX: MTI) (Frankfurt: OFS.F) (OTC: CFQSF) (“MicroCoal” or the “Company”) announced today that the Company has withdrawn from voluntary bankruptcy reorganization its wholly owned United States subsidiary (MicroCoal Inc.). In a prior news release, the Company announced its intention to restructure the subsidiary through bankruptcy protection.

Chief Executive Officer Lawrence Siegel noted: “The suspension of these bankruptcy proceedings means that the Company can turn its focus to the construction of its commercial-scale demonstration plant in King William County, Virginia.”

Remarked James Young, Chairman of the Board of Directors: “Although the Company was prepared to wind-up MicroCoal Inc. through bankruptcy proceedings, I am pleased that the Company was able to achieve its corporate re-organization objectives in such a way that this bankruptcy could be avoided.”

About MicroCoal™ Technologies Inc.

The Company is focused on commercializing its unique, clean-coal upgrading technology known as MicroCoal®; a low-cost, patented microwave technology that reduces moisture in coal resulting in an upgraded energy content of coal. This process provides significant financial benefits to coal-fired electrical generating utilities such as: large cost savings from switching to low-rank coal, substantial increases in boiler efficiencies and heat output, improved ash efficiencies and reductions in scrubber costs. Important environmental benefits such as reductions in greenhouse gases and mercury can also be derived from implementation of this technology. The Company is currently constructing the first commercial facility in Indonesia and discussions for other projects are underway.

On behalf of the Board of Directors,

“Dr. James Young”

Chairman of the Board of Directors
