Global UAV Technologies to attend and present at multiple conferences through the fall.

Global UAV Technologies Ltd. (UAV-CSE) (the “Company”) reports that it, or its wholly owned subsidiaries, will be attending and presenting at multiple drone related conferences through the fall.

The current slate of conferences is:

September 6 to 8th

InterDrone - Rio Hotel, Las Vegas

- This is North America’s second largest Unmanned Aerial Vehicle conference. Global UAV Technologies will be at booth 712 and Robert Lefebvre, managing director of NOVAerial Robotics, will be a featured speaker again this year after a well-received speaking session last year. This year he will presenting a workshop entitled UAV Systems Comparison – Planes, Frames and Autopilots. This session will compare and contrast the large variety of different aircraft types. It will cover the strengths and weaknesses of each of the vehicle types and help operators decide which is best suited to meet the needs of their particular UAV operation. Robert will also be taking part in an Ardupilot open-source autopilot software round-table discussion.
