KF Aerospace and Star Navigation Announce Distribution Agreement

TORONTO, Ontario, May 4, 2016- Star Navigation Systems Group Ltd. (TSX-V: SNA) (OTCBB: SNAVF) ("Star" or the "Company") and KF Aerospace (formerly Kelowna Flightcraft Ltd.) ("KF") are pleased to announce the appointment of KF as Canadian distributor of Star's STAR-A.D.S.® In-Flight Safety Monitoring System.

KF will be promoting the STAR-A.D.S. ® System and after-sales services to their customers and prospect base, while Star will provide value-added services.

Mr. Viraf S. Kapadia, Star's CEO said:

"We are very pleased to expand our long-standing relationship with one of the top aviation service providers in Canada. Together with KF, this agreement will allow us to bring our newest technologies and services to a large base of customers and operators."

The STAR-A.D.S. ® System provides solutions to the needs of all operators, whether they are passenger airlines, business aircraft, commercial or cargo transporters. Ideally suited for the retrofit market, STAR-A.D.S. ® brings direct access to analyzed flight information, in real-time, for use by all departments, from Operations and Maintenance to Finance, and provides tangible and measurable direct Return on Investment.

The STAR-A.D.S.® System already complies with all current relevant air transport regulations and with the expected worldwide tracking recommendations from NTSB, FAA, and ICAO. These new recommendations are the result of extensive industry consultations following the losses of AF-447 and MH-370. Star contributed its expertise to this consultation process.

About KF Aerospace:

Founded by Barry Lapointe and Jim Rogers since 1970, KF began providing maintenance services to Canadian Operators and now provides a wide range of aviation services to corporate, commercial and military customers worldwide from operations in Kelowna, BC and Hamilton, ON.
