Affinor Growers announces new sophisticated vertical design to produce marihuana clones.

October 9, 2014, Montreal, Canada - Affinor (CSE:AFI, OTC:RSSFF, Frankfurt:1AF) ("Affinor" or the "Corporation") announces that they are in the completion stages of releasing a new, sophisticated vertical cloning design. Affinor will offer the state-of-the-art equipment for developing pharmaceutical and marihuana clones in United States and Canada.

This Affinor owned design, will stack up to 15 levels high and produce 200 clones per square foot every 10 days, rooted and ready to move. The software driven, automated airflow lid removal process allows Affinor to mass-produce high quality, legal marihuana seedlings. The root development system, including automated root watering, will be at least 30% faster than any traditional system and can reduce labor costs by 50%.

This new design prompted the Affinor management team's decision to not pursue the rooftop acquisition located at 523/535 Richards Street, in Vancouver BC previously announced on September 11, 2014. Affinor will save a substantial amount by completing it's own system compared to the $1.4 million cost of the rooftop acquisition.

Executive Chairman Nick Brusatore, comments: "We're excited that Affinor now has its own, unique vertical cloning system. This technology is unlike anything the world has seen and will give Licensed Producers of Marihuana a huge advantage considering the increasing need for speed to produce marihuana in the United States."
