FOR IMMEDIATE RELEASE

Affinor Growers to begin Cannabis Grow Trial

Vancouver (Canada), March 20, 2018 – Affinor Growers Ltd. ("Affinor Growers") (CSE:AFI, OTC:RSSFF, Frankfurt:1AF) is pleased to announce that it has completed the medical growing facility to begin next grow trial of Cannabis using the Affinor Growers Patented Vertical Farming Technology.

The results of this test are key and will not only ensure the patient Gene Greenwood receives high quality, clean, safe product to enable him to treat his cancer, this will also ensure all protocol requirements are confirmed for mass organic production around the world and give clarity to the potential producers. We are currently in negotiations with Affinor Growers has plans to utilize its vertical farming equipment to become a large producer of Cannabis in other legal markets as they open up around the world with a more strategic environment naturally set for mass production of the cannabis plant. We wish to better understand all protocols needed for larger markets and align ourselves with high quality organic cost-effective production using our sustainable practices with soil remediation zero water waste and no pesticide use. We feel the product and production methods will lead the way showing the world suitability and quality at the same time and driving markets.
