Solid Resources Announces Engagement of Fox-Davies Capital as Broker to the Company

VANCOUVER, - Solid Resources Ltd. ("Solid" or the "Company") (TSXV: SRW) announces that it has appointed Fox-Davies Capital ("Fox-Davies"), a specialist resources broker based in London, to broaden investor awareness in the London capital markets. Fox-Davies will begin coverage of the Company in the near future to ensure the equity story receives sufficient coverage and assist future equity investors understand the projects and future of the Company given the recent co-operation arrangement with Glencore.

This investor program is expected to provide improved access to new and existing sources of capital and offer the Company greater flexibility and opportunities to fund its aggressive growth plans for both the Cehegin Iron Ore and Alberta-1 tin/tantalum Spanish projects, along with improving liquidity for the Company's shareholders.

Fox-Davies is a natural resource specialist broker based in London that has raised over $1 billion for resource companies. Moreover, Fox-Davies has acted as lead broker to EMED Mining for a number of years culminating in several successful equity fund raisings whilst developing a deep understanding of the Spanish mining industry and potential mining investors in the region.

Solid Resources is a Canadian junior mining company focused in Spain on the exploration and development of rare and industrial metals. The Company is currently studying the re-opening of the Cehegin iron ore mine in south-eastern Spain and is applying for an exploitation permit on its Alberta-1 tantalum/tin and lithium property in north-western Spain.

Neither the TSX Venture Exchange nor its Regulation Services Provider (as that term is defined in the policies of the TSX Venture Exchange) accepts responsibility for the adequacy or accuracy of this release.
