

ScreenPro Starts Rolling Out GoStop App In Film And Production Industry

Toronto, Ontario--(Newsfile Corp. - May 6, 2021) - ScreenPro Security Inc. (CSE: SCRN)

("ScreenPro" or the "Company") is pleased to announce that the Company launched its medical app device, GoStop, with its film and television clients. ScreenPro has successfully integrated GoStop with its laboratory reporting systems.

GoStop is a COVID-19 digital passport developed with a privacy preserving approach that will enable people to use the alerting software and downloadable app with authentication certificates. COVID-19 tests uploaded to the app, with either a negative or positive test result, trigger an instant notification to individuals in the test group. In the case of a positive result, the app advises isolation for the subject and quarantine of their contacts.

When managing groups in the hundreds per film set over multiple locations, it is essential to have a patient centric reporting platform that can effectively announce who is clear and who is not clear to work in the shortest time frame possible. This type of efficiency was requested by the Company's clients who require individual reporting for each of their team members. Production employees and or film technicians, who register with the app and have their entire testing history recorded within the app with reminders to retest. This improves scheduling and reduces the workload on the covid medical team on set. If there is a positive test for COVID-19, the medical staff on set are notified and recommend immediate isolation. The app can also be used to book and record vaccinations for the virus and can be used as a vaccine passport as well. The company has applied to have the app registered for Android on the Google Play Store.

John McMullen CEO of ScreenPro, stated, "We are pleased to announce the successful blending of GoStop into ScreenPro's mobile passport to deliver reports directly from our labs to the client. This offering to our film and television clients offers a new level of efficiency and service to the patients. To offer this functionality, with efficient reporting gives the confidence that everyone on set is cleared so they can get back to work."
