

ScreenPro Reports 10% Growth in COVID-19 Testing Operations

Toronto, Ontario--(Newsfile Corp. - July 19, 2022) - ScreenPro Security Inc. (CSE: SCRN) (OTCQB: SCRSF) ("ScreenPro" or the "Company") is pleased to announce its monthly COVID-19 testing operations have increased by 10% since January 2022. The Company started its year with approximately 19,000 tests administered and has now reached approximately 21,000 tests in June 2022.

The testing growth and demand is fueled by the seventh wave Canadians are now facing as experts suggest the new submerged Omicron variant, BA.5 has caused the newest spike in infections. (Source: <https://globalnews.ca/news/8994313/long-term-care-covid-outbreak-spike-7th-wave-canada/>)

The Science Table reports that the wave likely began early June with cases soon to peak. With an increase of 52 percent of people hospitalized due to COVID-19, testing for the virus is vital now more than ever. Ontario's Chief Medical Officer of Health, Dr. Kieran Moore reports that Omicron variants, including BA.5, have impacted the sensitivity of a standard rapid antigen test, reducing sensitivity and accuracy to 50 to 60 per cent. The PCR test is now the most accurate test to detect COVID-19 and the newest variants. "As the latest data shows that rapid antigen testing is not as sensitive for detecting the virus compared to PCR testing, we are pleased to share that we have access to the most precise PCR testing to detect new variants. As Canadians face a seventh wave of Covid with stronger mutations, ScreenPro is equipped to detect accuracy and deliver results to maintain safety," said Lena Kozovski, CEO of the Company.
