VANCOUVER, BC, Feb. 1, 2024 /CNW/ - C2C Metals Corp. (CSE: CTOC) (the "Company" or "C2C") reports today the appointment of Dr. Doug Underhill as Chief Geologist and Qualified Person for the Company. Dr. Underhill provides C2C with exceptional geological strength as the Company expands into conventional uranium exploration in the southwest United States.

Douglas Underhill    PhD Geology, MBA, CPG

Dr. Underhill is a consulting economic geologist with 50 years of international experience with natural resource exploration, development and analysis including 40 years with a specific emphasis on uranium. He is an internationally recognized uranium expert, with broad based knowledge in all phases of both commercial and International Atomic Energy Agency ("IAEA") uranium programs. His specialties range from world uranium geology and resources, resource estimation, ISL technology, through preparation of NI 43-101 Technical Reports.

Dr. Underhill previously served as the Qualified Person for enCore Energy Corp., holds a PhD Geology from McMaster University (Ontario, Canada); an MBA from Colorado State System (USA); an MSc Geology from McGill University (Montreal, Canada); and a BA Geology from the University of Connecticut (USA). He has made presentations on uranium resources, production and supply-demand on five continents, and advised governments, including the USA, Australia and China, on uranium resources and production technology.

Chris Huggins, Chief Executive Officer stated: "On behalf of C2C Metals I am pleased to welcome Dr. Underhill to our team and thrilled he is joining as Chief Geologist. His expertise in the uranium sector sends a strong message about our intentions and ability to advance the Melinda Project and expand our portfolio of conventional uranium assets in the United States."
