

MedBright AI Investments and The Ken Sperling Lecture Series Support Medical Economics Lectures at Yale University Medical School

Vancouver, British Columbia – November 22, 2023 – MedBright AI Investments Inc. (the “Company” or “MedBright”) (CSE:MBAI, OTCQB:MBAIF, FSE:1V7) is pleased to announce it, along with The Ken Sperling Lecture Series, will be supporting and participating in medical economics lectures at Yale University School of Medicine.

The Ken Sperling Lecture Series was founded in honor of Ken Sperling, who advised federal lawmakers and the Obama administration on the development and implementation of the 2010 health care reform law and was a pioneer in health insurance exchanges in the United States. His legacy continues with a twice annual lecture series and symposia for the house staff at Yale Medical School focused on a range of topics associated with the economics of healthcare in the US. Amongst other topics, the series will address the impact AI is having on healthcare services in the US.

“I am excited to participate in working to support the house staff at Yale New Haven Hospital and Yale University Medical School,” said Michael Dalsin, Chair of the MedBright AI Investment. “We share the same commitment to create lectures and symposia on the topic of Healthcare Microeconomics, especially as we see a wide array of applications using artificial intelligence in the business of healthcare.”
