The Corporation's ability to continue as a going concern is dependent upon its ability to raise additional capital, and/or on borrowing from third parties sufficient to meet current and future obligations.

10. Changes in Accounting Policies including Initial Adoption

See Note 2 to the Financial Statements, there were no changes to Accounting Policies adopted in fiscal 2011:

Future changes in significant accounting policies

The following accounting standards have been issued by the CICA but are not yet effective:

International financial reporting standards

In January 2006, the Canadian Accounting Standards Board announced its decision requiring all publicly accountable entities to report under International Financial Reporting Standards. This decision establishes standards for financial reporting with increased clarity and consistency in the global marketplace. These standards are effective for interim and annual financial statements relating to fiscal years beginning on or after January 1, 2011 and are applicable for the Corporation's first quarter of fiscal 2012 with retroactive adoption effective with the prior fiscal year.

The Corporation has taken a number of steps to evaluate the potential impact and implement these new standards on the consolidated financial statements including:

- The CFO has attended training courses on IFRS and attended Round Table discussions with other CFOs of public companies.
- A fee estimate of $5,000 has been obtained from a major accounting firm for assistance with Scoping and Planning of the IFRS conversion process.
- The valuation expert, who assisted in valuation calculations to allocate the purchase price for subsidiaries purchased in January, 2009 will be available to assist in any additional calculations required under IFRS.
- Scoping and planning activities were performed in July, and August, 2010 and the Corporation purchased a software system to help with the development of IFRS financial statements.

11. Financial Instruments and Other Instruments

The Corporation's financial instruments are cash, accounts receivable, accounts payable and accrued liabilities, amounts due to related parties and long term debt.

The Corporation's carrying value of cash and cash equivalents, accounts receivable, and accounts payable approximates fair value due to the immediate or short term maturity of these instruments.

The fair value of $150,149 due to certain shareholders and related parties are less than carrying value, as the amounts are non-interest bearing. As the amounts have no terms of repayment, the fair value cannot be calculated with any degree of certainty.

Interest rate risk is the risk that the value of a financial instrument might be adversely affected by a change in the interest rates. In seeking to minimize the risks from interest rate fluctuations, the Corporation manages exposure through its normal operating and financing activities. The Corporation may be exposed to interest rate price risk through fixed rate debt and interest rate cash flow risk through floating interest rate bank indebtedness and credit facilities.

13. Management's Report on Internal Control over Financial Reporting

Financial Reporting

Management is responsible for certifying the design of the Corporation's internal control over financial reporting ("ICFR") as required by Multilateral Instrument 52-109 - "Certification of Disclosure Issuers' Annual and Interim Filings."

The Corporation's ICFR is intended to provide reasonable assurance regarding the reliability of financial reporting and the preparation of financial statements for external purposes in accordance with applicable Canadian GAAP. ICFR should include those policies and procedures that establish the following:

- Maintenance of records in reasonable detail, that accurately and fairly reflect the transactions and dispositions of corporate assets
- Reasonable assurance that transactions are recorded as necessary to permit preparation of financial statements in accordance with applicable Canadian GAAP
- Receipts and expenditures are only being made in accordance with authorizations of management and the Board of Directors
- Reasonable assurance regarding prevention or timely detection of unauthorized acquisition, use or disposition of our assets that could have a material effect on the financial statements.

Because of its inherent limitations, ICFR may not prevent or detect misstatements. Also, projections of any evaluation of effectiveness to future periods are subject to the risk that controls may become inadequate because of changes in conditions, or that the degree of compliance with the policies or procedures may deteriorate.

On behalf of the management of the Corporation.
