Andrew Gourlay Joins Resinco® Capital Partners Inc. Technical Advisory Board

April 14, 2011

TSX: RIN

FWB: L6V

Vancouver, BC – Resinco® Capital Partners Inc. ("Resinco") is pleased to announce the appointment of Mr. Andrew Gourlay as a new member of its Technical Advisory Board ("TAB"). The TAB provides Resinco with advice, counsel, guidance and education related to the technical aspects of potential investments. Additionally, TAB members provide quality assurance related to the assessment of ongoing exploration programs in current investments. The TAB members receive a monthly retainer, options in Resinco and lead the technical due diligence on new deals. The TAB will also review on-going operational plans of investee companies. Resinco believes the TAB will also deliver potential investment opportunities to Resinco through members' personal networks.

Mr. Gourlay has over 30 years experience as a Professional Geologist & Qualified Person. Across Asia, North and South America, Mr. Gourlay has gained extensive management and exploration knowledge of a wide variety of deposit types with a particular focus on copper/gold porphyry systems. He has successfully advanced projects from grassroots to resource calculation stage. Mr. Gourlay has been a vital addition to companies like Kennecott Canada, Chase Resource Corp., Essex Resource Corp., Asia Gold Corp., and Sinchao Metals Corp.

"We are delighted to have Andrew join our TAB," said John Icke, President and CEO of Resinco. "Over the past two years I have worked with Andrew through my position on the board of Lions Gate Metals, I have witnessed his deep understanding and passion for geology in North and South America. I believe Andrew can assist Resinco in existing and new opportunities in these areas."
