

Sweet Earth Featured in Woman's World Magazine and Provides Update on Bioavailability Research

VANCOUVER, BC, April 15, 2021 /CNW/ - Sweet Earth Holdings Corp. (CSE: SE) (FSE: 1KZ1) (OTCQB: SEHCF) ("Sweet Earth" the "Company") is pleased to announce that it has been featured in the Healthy Living section of Woman's World¹ magazine, America's leading health and fitness tabloid / portal for women over fifty years of age. The article, which is featured in the April 12, 2021² issue of Woman's World Magazine highlights the potential benefits of using CBD Hydrating Oat & Honey Facial Cleanser for dry eye syndrome ("DES"). The Company has seen a significant increase in sales of its facial cleansers since the article.

The Healthy Living article is a treatment-focused synopsis of a patient, who was recommended by a friend, to apply Sweet Earth's facial cleanser as a natural remedy to alleviate severe dry syndrome symptoms³. Over the next several months the patient's symptoms began to subside, and she is now symptom free. According to Healthline⁴ and Weedmaps⁵, CBD is scientifically known to provide relieve and benefits for inflammation, including areas around the eye; however, it's potential benefits for DES have yet to be researched. The Company will commence a study in the near future to better understand its product's benefits for DES.

Sweet Earth is a farm-to-shelf company emphasizing the value of research, as highlighted in its February 16, 2021 news release on bioavailability studies and product development with NAVCO Pharmaceuticals Limited, an accredited laboratory located in Burlington, Ontario. The Company's current study, "Skin Redeemability for Body Creams" specifically tests the bioavailability, safety, and efficacy of its lotions by better understanding permeability.

Chris Cooper, CFO of Sweet Earth, commented, "We are very excited about the positive exposure of from the Woman's World magazine article and have already seen a significant positive impact on sales. We are equally encouraged by the positive feedback from the growing number of product users. It is fortunate that our previous and ongoing research appears to display positive user results."
