NFTs4Refugees lists artworks from international artists as a partnership between the World Datanomic Forum and the Schwarz Foundation, led by Paula Schwarz. The money from an art sale goes to an artist's selected Non-Governmental Organisation (NGO). Charities include the World Food Program, Upgrade Ukraine, The United Nations, AI4Good, and Stand with Ukraine.

"NFT4Refugees was created to help artists familiarise themselves with the digital art space using NFTs and is where profitable art meets giving back in the most transparent way," said Paula Schwarz, CEO of NFT4Refugees. Paula believes in promoting peace through art and trusts that technology can enable people who have less.

NFT4Refugees is strengthened by The World Datanomic Forum and the Schwarz Foundation. The World Datanomic forum organises a broad network of interdisciplinary researchers, non-profits, governments, and corporate actors to collect data and support solutions. Equally, the Schwarz Foundation is a private non-profit institution aiming to foster the exchange of ideas and practices between cultures and countries.

Fineqia supported Art&Co. during the Covid pandemic in 2020 when the platform was used to launch the world's largest online art auction for Covid relief. Fineqia has now partnered with Art&Co. again for the purpose of supporting refugees.
