Josephine Mining Corp. Appoints New Director

Spokane, Washington- November 3, 2011- Josephine Mining Corp. (TSXV: JMC) ("Josephine" or the "Company") today announced that Mr. James T. O'Neil Jr., CMA, has been appointed to its Board of Directors, subject to regulatory approval.

Chairman Robert L. Russell commented, "James is a senior financial executive whose 40+ year career has focused on mining accounting, mine operations and their finance. He is an innovative problem-solver who has implemented operating efficiencies leading to enhanced shareholder value where employed. James' substantial experience in strategic planning, project evaluation, U.S. and Canadian corporate accounting and treasury functions, and internal audit and controls are welcome skill sets for our Board."

Currently Mr. O'Neil is CFO and COO of Jipangu International and subsidiaries which is a Denver, Colorado-based metal and quarrying multinational company, exploiting mineral resources and conducting research. Notably, he was previously Vice President-Finance, Controller and Treasurer at Apollo Gold Corporation which was also located in Denver.

Mr. O'Neil graduated from Arizona State University with both a Bachelor's of Science and a Master's of Business Administration and is a Certified Management Accountant (CMA).
