2. Significant accounting policies (continued)

Exploration and evaluation assets

Costs incurred prior to acquiring the right to explore an area of interest are expensed as incurred.

Once the right to explore an area has been secured, expenditures on exploration and evaluation activities are capitalized to exploration and evaluation assets. Exploration expenditure relates to the initial search for deposits with economic potential and to detailed assessments of deposits or other projects that have economic potential.

Management reviews the carrying value of capitalized exploration and evaluation assets regularly, assessing recoverable value and possible impairment.

Once an economically viable reserve has been determined for an area, associated costs are tested for impairment and then reclassified to property, plant and equipment.

Future accounting pronouncements

The following standards have been issued but are not yet effective:

- Financial instruments (IAS 39 replacement)
- Consolidation
- Fair value measurement
- Leases
- Revenue recognition
- Joint ventures
- Post employment benefits
- Insurance contracts

The Company is currently evaluating the impact of the above standards on its financial performance and financial statement disclosures but expects that such impact will not be material.
