FOR IMMEDIATE RELEASE

VPN Technologies Announces Changes in Directors

Vancouver, British Columbia, Canada – February 18, 2021 – VPN Technologies Inc. (CSE: VPN, OTCQB: SRBBF, Frankfurt: 6GQ1) (“VPN Technologies”, or the “Company”) is pleased to announce the appointment of Mr. Curtis Ingleton to the Company’s board of directors (the “Board”) and Chief Technical Officer. The Company also announces the resignation of Mr. Harvey Dick from the Board effective immediately.

Mr. Ingleton is an experienced technology developer and lead researcher who has guided several companies in start-up phase. He couples 20 years of computer networking experience with nearly a decade of work in Additive Manufacturing (AM) Technology, Applied Robotics and 3D Printing. With these skillsets he founded Genius IE: an engineering consortium focused on Additive Manufacturing Technology. Curtis conducts his research in cooperation with both industry and academia to create future materials, processes and equipment. His services have been sought out by General Motors, Magna Corporation and Klik-Klik to name a few. Product development, process and equipment design are all experiential strengths Curtis draws on. He has been awarded Make Magazine’s Worlds’ Best 3D Printer, Southern Ontario’s Top 40 Under 40 Business People and has received a nomination for a McMaster University Honorary Degree. Curtis brings the resources of a prototyping lab to any company he works with, accelerating their response to market demands and allowing them to deploy sensible solutions for their clients while producing impactful software solutions for the projects he has been involved with. Recently, he has begun plans to standardize the way the industry configures, maintains and manages cryptomines. He has previously participated as a panelist providing commentary on the evolution of Blockchain Smart Contracts, Decentralized Applications (DApps), and Decentralized Autonomous Organizations (DAO’s).

The Company extends its appreciation to Mr. Dick for his past contribution to the board. The Company wishes him well in his future endeavors.
