M. Ross Orr commented,

“We are very pleased with the re-election and composition of the board and are pleased to welcome the addition of Jay Richardson as a new director to the Company. The knowledge, experience and support our board brings to BacTech will only strengthen our project work in Bolivia and Ecuador and help us drive our business plan forward.”

In addition, UHY McGovern Hurley LLP was appointed as Auditors for the ensuing year.

Project Overview

The Telamayu project involves the environmental remediation of the “Antiguo” tailings and a Company option on the larger “Nuevo” tailings, both situated at the Telamayu mill site near the town of Atocha in the Department of Potosi in Bolivia. As part of the remediation process BacTech will recover silver, tin, and copper utilizing a conventional processing technology.

The existing Telamayu mill concentrator has generated the Antiguo and Nuevo tailings by processing mineralized material from the surrounding mines for over 80 years. There is considerable infrastructure at the mill site including high voltage power, rail, mill housing, and a local workforce. The current infrastructure will contribute to a reduction in capital costs of the project. Currently metallurgical test work is underway to determine the percentage of metal to be recoverable.
