Transition to IFRS

The effective date of the transition was May 31, 2010 (the company's date of incorporation). All revenues and expenses for the quarter ending March 31, 2011 have been presented using IFRS.

Note 4 to the financial statements for the quarter ending March 31, 2011 describes the effect in numerical terms of the conversion to IFRS.

It should be noted that the conversion to IFRS has had no impact on cash flow or on key performance indicators for the company. At the present time, management does not foresee that the IFRS changeover will have any significant impact on future reporting. Given the short time period that the company has existed and given the nature of its operations, it is unlikely that any financial trends will be distorted because of the changeover. The company has changed the title of its statement of financial position from "balance sheet" to "statement of financial position" as a result of the changeover to IFRS.

Impact on the business

The business processes of the Corporation are simple and no major challenges are expected at this point to operate under IFRS. The Corporation has no compensation arrangements that will be affected by the IFRS implementation. The Corporation's anticipated Stock Option Plan is not
