About Lifestyle Delivery Systems

Lifestyle Delivery Systems produces a smokeless alternative option to medical and recreational users of cannabis. Lifestyle’s technology produces infused strips (similar to breath strips) that are not only a safer, healthier option to smoking but also a new way to accurately meter the dosage and assure the purity of the product. From start to finish, the production process tests for quality and composition of all the ingredients used in each and every strip, resulting in a delivery system that is safe, consistent and effective.
