Everyone involved in this project has worked tirelessly, given amazing effort and countless hours of overtime and weekends to bring this project to its ultimate conclusion, a state-of-the-art facility. I have said this before and will continue to remind everyone watching this project develop that if not for all the efforts put forth by the City of Adelanto, its Planning Commission and staff, the City Council, Gabriel Elliot, Jessie Flores and the Mayor of Adelanto Richard Kerr this project would not have been possible." The LDS Scientific's team anticipates commencement of finished product production next week.
