The Company submitted its Application to Health Canada in January, 2018. Like any other applicant seeking to obtain a License at the time, it was subject to Health Canada's stringent licensing requirements. The ACMPR process was replaced by an online system called CTLS in August 2018. The table below provides a general overview of the application process for becoming a licensed producer of cannabis for medical purposes under CTLS, as described by Health Canada:

Stage	Summary Overview
Stage 1 (City View has completed this stage)	Intake and Initial Screening When an application is received by Health Canada, it undergoes an assessment for completeness. Incomplete applications are returned to the applicant or Health Canada will contact the applicant for further information. If an application appears to be complete, it will be assigned an application number. The application number means that the application has completed the assessment.
Stage 2 (City View has completed this stage)	High Level Review At this stage, the application is reviewed review at a high level. to complete the assessment of the application to ensure it meets the requirements of the Cannabis Regulations Once this review is complete Health Canada will issue a status update letter to the applicant indicating it has no concerns with what is proposed in the application. The applicant now has to build out a facility which meets the regulatory requirements.
Stage 3	Detailed Review and Issuance of License to Produce After the facility has been approved Health Canada will complete a detailed review of the application to establish that the issuance of the license is not likely to create risks to public health, safety or security, including the risk of cannabis being diverted to an illicit market or use, and establish that there are no other grounds for refusing the application. The application is reviewed to ensure the level of detail included in the application is sufficient to assess the requirements of the regulations and validate the information provided. Consideration is also given to the proposed security measures Physical security plans will be reviewed and assessed in detail at this stage. The applicant is responsible for ensuring that they are in compliance with all applicable provincial/territorial and municipal laws, including zoning restrictions, fire and electrical safety, and environmental legislation (e.g. waste management). During this stage, security clearance forms for key personnel (i.e., the proposed senior person in charge, responsible person in charge, alternate responsible person in charge, each officer and director of the corporation) are sent for processing. Once Health Canada confirms that the requirements of the regulations have been met, and the application successfully completes the Detailed Review and Security Clearance stage, a license to produce will be issued.

Stage 4	Introductory Inspection (as cultivation begins) As part of the terms and conditions on their license, a licensed producer is required to notify Health Canada as cultivation begins. Once notified, Health Canada will schedule an initial inspection to verify that the licensed producer is meeting the requirements of the regulations including, but not limited to, the physical security requirements for the site, record-keeping practices and good production practices and to confirm that the activities being conducted by the licensed producer correspond to those indicated on their license. Before being authorized for the activity of sale, the licensed producer must undergo a Pre-Sale Inspection by Health Canada to verify that they are in full compliance with all regulations, with a focus on good production practices.
Stage 5	Pre-Sales Inspection (prior to issuance of sales license) If a licensed producer wishes to add the activity of sale to their existing license, an amendment application must be submitted to the Office of Medical Cannabis. Health Canada will then schedule an inspection to verify that the licensed producer is meeting the requirements of the regulations including, but not limited to, good production practices, packaging, labelling, shipping, and record keeping prior to allowing the sale or provision of product.
Stage 6	Issuance of License to Sell To complete the assessment of the requirements of the regulations and establish that adding the activity of sale of cannabis products is not likely to create a risk to public health, safety or security, and to confirm that there are no other grounds for refusing the amendment application, Health Canada reviews: (i) results of the pre-sale inspection; (ii) information submitted in the amendment application to add the activity of sale to the license; and (iii) any other relevant information. When the review is completed, an amended license, including the activity of sale, is issued to the licensed producer. The licensed producer may now begin supplying cannabis products to registered clients, other licensed producers and/or other parties Separate licenses may be issued for dried marijuana, plants and/or cannabis oil.
