Organic Potash Corporation Provides an Operational Update

FOR IMMEDIATE RELEASE

Dec 17, 2012

Toronto, Ontario, Dec 17, 2012 – Organic Potash Corporation (CNSX: OPC) (“OPC” or the “Corporation”) is pleased to provide the following operational updates:

K2 Processing Plant & Production Capabilities

Modifications to the processing system of the Corporation’s K2 mini plant are in the final stages and OPC is pleased to report that K2 is now in pre-commercial mode and has successfully produced seven (7) metric tonnes of Potassium Carbonate, all of which is above 99%+ in purity. The Potassium Carbonate that has been produced is being safely stored and is suitable for sale to the open market. Further expansion to the Corporation’s supply chain network has been completed as the network now has almost 500 ashing units in the field which almost 200 second generation enhanced ashing units in place and in operation. Combined, these ashing units give the Corporation the ability to produce approximately 15 Metric Tonnes of ash, per day, which is a key ingredient in OPC’s Potassium Carbonate.

Sales & Marketing Update

OPC continues to build its potential customer base. Currently, OPC has been in contact with interested parties located in Poland, Egypt, Japan, Germany and the U.K. All of the interested parties contacted OPC directly in regards to the Potassium Carbonate that is currently being stored.

Update on OPC’s Processing Facilities

A lease has been signed for the Tema mini plant facility for 2013 and currently the Corporation is negotiating a further 5 year lease term. OPC is also in the final stages of receiving exportation license from the Ghanaian Government.
