1. NATURE OF OPERATIONS AND GOING CONCERN

Pascal Biosciences Inc. (the "Company") was incorporated on January 28, 2011 pursuant to the Business Corporations Act (British Columbia). On May 24, 2013, the Company acquired all of the issued and outstanding shares of bioMmune Advanced Technologies Inc. ("BAT"), a private company (incorporated on July 5, 2012) formed to commercially exploit a number of patents and patent applications that surround three technologies. On March 27, 2017, the Company incorporated a wholly owned subsidiary in Seattle, Washington, named Pascal Biosciences US, Inc. ("Pascal (US)"). The Company is a Tier 2 Biotechnology Issuer engaged in the research and development of products for the treatment of cancers, and for improvement of the immune system, trading on the TSX Venture Exchange (the "Exchange") under the trading symbol "PAS".

The Company's head office and registered and records office is 1780 - 400 Burrard Street, Vancouver, BC, Canada, V6C 3A6.

The Company has not generated any revenues and has incurred losses since inception. The Company expects to spend a significant amount of capital to fund research and development and on further laboratory and animal studies. As a result, the Company expects that its operating expenses will increase significantly, and consequently, will require significant revenues to become profitable. Even if the Company does become profitable, it may not be able to sustain or increase profitability on a quarterly or annual basis. The Company cannot predict when, if ever, it will be profitable. There can be no assurances that the intellectual property of the Company, or other technologies it may acquire, will meet applicable regulatory standards, obtain required regulatory approvals, be capable of being produced in commercial quantities at reasonable costs, or be successfully marketed. The Company plans to undertake additional laboratory and animal studies with respect to its intellectual property, and there can be no assurance that the results from such studies or trials will result in a commercially viable product or will not identify unwanted side effects.

These condensed consolidated interim financial statements have been prepared under the assumption of a going concern, which assumes that the Company will be able to realize its assets and discharge its liabilities in the normal course of business. As at August 31, 2019, the Company has an accumulated deficit of $12,281,855 (November 30, 2018: $9,375,573) and reported a net loss for the nine months ended August 31, 2019 of $2,886,262 (August 31, 2018: $1,443,815). The Company's ability to maintain its existence is dependent upon the continuing support of its creditors and its success in obtaining new equity financing for its ongoing operations. Financing options available to the Company include equity financings and loans. If the Company is unable to obtain additional financing, management may be required to curtail certain discretionary expenses. These conditions indicate the existence of material uncertainties that cast significant doubt as to the ability of the Company to meet its obligations as they come due, and accordingly, the appropriateness of the use of accounting principles applicable to a going concern. Realization values of the Company's assets may be substantially different from carrying values as shown in these condensed consolidated interim financial statements and, accordingly, should the Company be unable to continue as a going concern, the adjustments could be material.

These condensed consolidated interim financial statements were authorized for issue by the Board of Directors on October 29, 2019.

Pursuant to the terms of the October 2012 patent assignment agreement with the University of British Columbia ("UBC"), the Company paid UBC an assignment fee of $300,000 related to three technologies in the cancer protein projects of research. On May 24, 2013, the Company acquired BAT and the difference between the purchase consideration and the fair values of BAT's net assets has been assigned to intangible assets for a total of $854,827.

During the year ended November 30, 2018, the Company returned two patents to Dr. Wilfred Jefferies as follow: "Compositions and methods of modulating an immune response" and "Methods and compositions for modulating voltage-gated calcium channel function However, the Company continues to advance an additional patent associated with the calcium channel antibody program, which emerged from these initial patent applications. The calcium channel antibody program remains a focus of the research conducted by the Company and in collaboration with UBC. In March 2017, the Company returned the patent titled "HAT acetylation and promoters and uses of composition thereof in promoting immunogenicity" to UBC, which supported the CD74 program. With the Company's focus on cancer, the Company's management decided to return the previously supported CD74 program. The focus of the CD74 program was on infectious disease with technologies discovered at UBC. The technology related to the role of the chaperone protein, CD74, in the presentation of immune surface proteins to improve immune responses to pathogen or cancer antigens through the activation of dendritic cells with vaccine adjuvants. In May 2017, the Company also returned to UBC the patent titled "Curcuphenol compounds for increasing MHC-I expression," which supported the natural novel compounds program. The Company recognizes the importance of this initial technology application and has continued to expand on the natural novel compounds program to include cannabinoids and strengthen its intellectual property with the filing of a new provisional application in January 2018. With the return of the patents, indicators of impairment existed resulting in an assessment of recoverable amount of the capitalized intangible assets, and ultimately the recognition of an impairment loss of $698,853.

(a) Fair value

Financial instruments recognized at fair value on the consolidated statements of financial position must be classified in one of the following three fair value hierarchy levels:

Level 1 – measurement based on quoted prices (unadjusted) observed in active markets for identical assets or liabilities;

11. FINANCIAL INSTRUMENTS (continued)

Level 2 – measurement based on inputs other than quoted prices included in Level 1 that are observable for the asset or liability; or Level 3 – measurement based on inputs that are not observable (supported by little or no market activity) for the asset or liability.

As at August 31, 2019, the Company's financial instruments are comprised of cash and cash equivalents, receivables, and accounts payable and accrued liabilities. The carrying amounts reported in the consolidated statements of financial position for cash and cash equivalents, receivables, and accounts payable and accrued liabilities approximate fair values due to the short-term maturities of these financial instruments.

(b) Credit risk

Financial instruments that potentially subject the Company to a concentration of credit risk consist primarily of cash and cash equivalents. The Company limits its exposure to credit loss by placing its cash and cash equivalents with high credit quality financial institutions. The carrying amount of financial assets represents the maximum credit exposure.

(c) Liquidity risk

Liquidity risk is the risk that the Company will not be able to meets its financial obligations as they become due. The Company's approach to managing liquidity is to ensure that it will have sufficient funds to meet its liabilities when due.

At August 31, 2019, the Company had cash and cash equivalents of $950,535 (November 30, 2018: $3,644,582) available to apply against short-term business requirements and current liabilities of $134,006 (November 30, 2018: $226,698). All of the liabilities presented as accounts payable and accrued liabilities are due within 90 days of August 31, 2019.

(d) Currency risk

(c) Currency risk (continued)

As at August 31, 2019 and 2018, the Company's net exposure to foreign currency risk is as follows:

US dollars	2019	2018
Cash	35,153	170,317
Accounts payable	(59,050)	(28842)
Net exposure to foreign currency risk	23,897	141,475
Canadian dollar equivalent	31,771	184,314

Based on the above net foreign currency exposure, and assuming all other variables remain constant, a 7% weakening or strengthening of the Canadian dollar against the US dollar would not have a material effect on the Company's net loss and comprehensive loss.
