

Koios Releases New Powder Supplement for Sale

/THIS NEWS RELEASE IS NOT FOR DISTRIBUTION TO U.S. NEWSWIRE SERVICES FOR DISSEMINATION IN THE UNITED STATES/

VANCOUVER, June 5, 2018 /CNW/ - Koios Beverage Corp. (CSE: KBEV; OTC: SNOVF) (the "Company" or "Koios") is pleased to announce its newly developed line of brain-enhancing nootropic instant mix powders is available for sale this week.

Koios announced on May 8th, 2018 the launch of a new line of nootropic products, including a nutritional instant mix powder and daily-use capsule. The addition of these new products enables Koios to reach a broader audience and target a whole new demographic of customers.

The powder is for advanced nootropic users or someone looking for stronger and more intense cognitive benefits than what is found in the line of ready-to-drink products. Until now the Koios supplements were available in liquid form, which typically are offered at weaker concentrations. The Koios powder and capsule products allow users to take a higher dose without having to consume as much liquid.

The new line of capsules uses the same winning formula as the Company's low-calorie, nutritionally-dense beverages, giving consumers the option of absorbing the active ingredients in capsule-form while on the go.

"The powdered version of our supplement allows us to create a more potent form of the product, and allows users to customize it for their own needs," said Chris Miller, CEO and Director. "We wanted to pack more nutrients and nootropics into one product than any of our competition, while creating some of the better-flavoured supplements on the market."

Koios uses a proprietary blend of nootropics and natural organic compounds to enhance human productivity without using harmful chemicals or stimulants. Koios products can enhance focus, concentration, mental capacity, memory retention, cognitive function, alertness, brain capacity and create all day mental clarity.

The new Koios supplements can be purchased on the Company's website (www.mentaltitan.com) or on Amazon at the Wishing-U-Well online store. The Company is planning to increase its online sales through 2018.

"The new powders and capsules were developed through years of intense research and product testing, with the goal of giving people access to a healthier alternative to energy drinks, caffeine or non-natural ingredients," Miller says. "We're thrilled to make available this week a product that packs the most value and the best science into a single supplement."

On behalf of the Board of Directors of the Company.
Chris Miller, CEO and Director, KOIOS BEVERAGE CORP.
