BioMark is very grateful of TCS and its CanExport Innovation (CXI) program. “The CXI program has been instrumental in funding and supporting our international market exploration to the United States, Japan and China. These are all important oncology related markets that we are targeting to introduce our cancer diagnostics solution”, says BioMark CEO and President Rashid Ahmed.”

About The CXI Program

The CXI program, formerly called Going Global Innovation, offers funding to support innovators from Canadian small and medium enterprises (SMEs), academic institutions and non-government research centres looking for foreign partners for the purpose of establishing collaborative research & development agreements. It helps companies offset a variety of costs to help innovators co-develop, validate or adapt their technologies, with the aim to commercialize.

About BioMark Diagnostics Inc.

BioMark is developing proprietary, non-invasive, and accurate cancer diagnostic solutions which can help detect, monitor and assess treatment for cancer early and cost effectively. The technology can also be used for measuring response to treatment and potentially for serial monitoring for cancer survivors.
