

CleanGo GreenGo Receives Health Canada Certification for Hemp Based Hand Cream Topical Sanitizer

Vancouver, B.C. – September 22, 2021: CleanGo Innovations Inc. (CSE: CGII),(FSE: APO2) (“CleanGo”) or (the “Company”) announces that it has received a Drug Identification Number (“DIN”) (#02515679) from Health Canada for its plant-based, hand cream topical that has the same efficacy as 70% alcohol-based hand sanitizer. This product was developed after promising results from the Company’s research of certain plant-based compounds combined with alternative sanitation ingredients activity against pathogens for potential hand sanitizer alternatives. This will be CleanGo’s fourth Health Canada approval in 2021. The product will be launched under the new CleanGo GreenGo Essentials product line in Q3 2021.

“This effective sanitizing hand lotion provides all of the benefits of a normal alcohol-based sanitizer with none of the harmful side effects. It uses plants containing natural compounds like hemp, that work powerfully in conjunction with our sanitizing formula to fight bacteria and viruses while maintaining soft and hydrated skin,” says Anthony Sarvucci, CEO of CleanGo. “It is ideal for nurses, front line workers and anyone who is tired of dry, damaged hands from habitually using alcohol-based hand sanitizer.”

All DINs sold in Canada require premarket approval. The sanitizer claim that was approved for CleanGo’s sanitizing hand cream topical is proven to be just as effective as the popular alcohol-based hand sanitizers. CleanGo’s skin protecting topical uses a unique plant-based combination to achieve an effective hand sanitizer with therapeutic effects

According to the IMARC group, the global hand sanitizer market was worth USD $4.2 billion in 2020. “Due to the pandemic changing our daily habits to include hand sanitizer, we believe a need for a product that provides all the protection of alcohol-based sanitizers, but also keeps your hands moisturized and smooth will be able to take a significant chunk of the market giving consumers a better choice for sanitizing their hands” said Sarvucci. “We want to make hand sanitizing a pleasurable experience on par with using normal hand cream, with our new Essentials line we have done just that.”
