We have a tremendously talented team behind us and during this next phase of Glance our team will be focused on further improving our product features, growing our network of merchants and users, and increasing shareholder value."

"Having been the CEO of Glance for over four and a half years I feel now is an appropriate time to transition", said Mr. Griffin. "Over the course of working with Jonathan for well over a year, I have been very impressed with his passion, intelligence, knowledge, and hard work. Jonathan has become involved in all areas of the company during his tenure as Chief Commercial Officer and is highly respected amongst the team. I am convinced that products like our Real-Time Bill™ and Order-From-Table™ are the future of paying and ordering."

Speaking on behalf of the board of directors, Mr. Kirk Herrington said "It has been a pleasure to work with Desmond who brought forth innovative ideas and a real passion for building mobile e-commerce products.
