

UNITED LITHIUM CORP. ANNOUNCES BOARD AND MANAGEMENT CHANGES

Vancouver, B.C. (July 30, 2018) – United Lithium Corp. (CSE: UTL, OTC: UTLF, FSE: OUL) (“United Lithium” or the “Company”) announces certain board of directors and management changes.

Following the acquisition of the Wray Mesa vanadium and uranium property, the Company’s focus has been to develop an experienced team that is well experienced specifically in the exploration and the development of vanadium and uranium projects. The Company has actively sourced a team that has a proven track record of success. As such, the Company is pleased to announce that it has appointed Matthew Rhoades as President, Chief Executive Officer, and as a director and Anthony Kovschak as a director.

George Sharpe, who has been serving as President and Chief Executive Officer, will remain a director of the Company. In addition, Charn Deol, a director, will now also be serving as Chief Financial Officer and Corporate Secretary of the Company.

Sheri Rempel has resigned as Chief Financial Officer, Corporate Secretary, and as a director, and Lan Shangguan has also resigned as a director of the Company. United Lithium would like to thank both Ms. Rempel and Ms. Shangguan for their significant contributions to the Company as they played an integral part in taking the Company public. United Lithium wishes them both well in their future endeavours.

With a B.S. and M.S. in Geology and an MBA, Matt Rhoades is an accomplished professional geologist who is based in Colorado. He has vast experience with exploration and development projects at numerous deposits and mines throughout the American West, Canada, Mexico and South America. He is the former State Geologist for New Mexico.

With a B.S. in Geology, minors in Mathematics and Chemistry and a M.S. in Geology, Anthony Kovschak is a mining professional residing in Colorado. He has vast experience in the exploration and production of uranium and vanadium projects nationwide. Mr. Kovschak’s experience includes being a consulting geologist to both Norwest and to Denison Mines USA.

Mr. Kovschak also acted as Manager of Exploration and Chief Geologist for Homeland Uranium, Inc. where he directed and supervised uranium exploration in the continental USA, Niger, Peru and several other countries. In addition to his work experience in the field, he was also a lecturer of Geology at Colorado Mesa University, Grand Junction, Colorado.

Mr. Rhoades states, “I look forward to joining a great team experienced in the vanadium and uranium sector. We are very excited about exploring and developing the Wray Mesa project.”

In connection with the board and management changes, the Board of Directors has also approved a corporate change of name to United Battery Metals Corp. to better reflect its existing business. The Company will provide the effective date and further details of the change of name in due course.

ON BEHALF OF THE BOARD OF UNITED LITHIUM CORP.
