on which the Corporation receives a final receipt for a final prospectus, unless an amendment to the final prospectus is filed and a receipt obtained therefor by the Corporation in accordance with applicable securities laws; provided that the total period of distribution under the Offering will in any event not exceed 180 days from the date of the final receipt for the prospectus. The Corporation has appointed the Agent to hold in trust all subscription funds received until the Minimum Offering has been raised. If the Minimum Offering is not raised on or before the day that is 90 days after the date a final receipt is issued for the prospectus, or such later date as the Corporation and the Agent may agree upon and as may be permitted under applicable securities laws (subject to the filing of any required amendment to the prospectus and the regulator issuing a receipt for the amendment), the Agent must return such funds to the subscribers without interest, set-off or deductions. See “Use of Proceeds” and “Plan of Distribution”.

The following table sets forth the number of Units that may be issued by the Corporation pursuant to the Over-Allotment Option:

Agent’s Position	Maximum Size or Number of Securities Available	Exercise Period or Acquisition Date	Exercise Price or Average Acquisition Price
Over-Allotment Option	Up to 1,714,285 Units, if the Maximum Offering is completed and the Over-Allotment is exercised in full	Any time until and including 60 days after the Closing Date	$0.35 per Unit

Except in certain limited circumstances, no certificates representing Units, Ordinary Voting Shares or Warrants will be issued to purchasers in the Offering. Instead, on the Closing Date, the purchasers of Units will have the component parts of their Units, namely the Ordinary Voting Shares and Warrants, registered in the name of CDS Clearing and Depository Services Inc. (CDS) or its nominee and electronically deposited with CDS. Purchasers of the Units will receive only a customer confirmation from the Agent or other registered dealer who is a CDS participant and from or through whom a beneficial interest in the underlying Ordinary Voting Shares and Warrants is acquired.

FORWARD-LOOKING STATEMENTS

Certain statements in this prospectus may constitute “forward-looking” statements which involve known and unknown risks, uncertainties and other factors which may cause the actual results, performance or achievements of the Corporation, or industry results, to be materially different from any future results, performance or achievements expressed or implied by such forward-looking statements. When used in this prospectus, such statements use such words as “may”, “would”, “could”, “will”, “intend”, “expect”, “believe”, “plan”, “anticipate”, “estimate” and other similar terminology. These statements reflect the Corporation’s current expectations regarding future events and operating performance and speak only as of the date of this prospectus. Forward-looking statements involve significant risks and uncertainties, should not be read as guarantees of future performance or results, and will not necessarily be accurate indications of whether or not such results will be achieved. A number of factors could cause actual results to differ materially from the results discussed in the forward-looking statements, including, but not limited to, the factors discussed below and under “Risk Factors”. Although the forward-looking statements contained in this prospectus are based upon what management of the Corporation believes are reasonable assumptions, the Corporation cannot assure investors that actual results will be consistent with these forward-looking statements. These forward-looking statements are made as of the date of this prospectus and are expressly qualified in their entirety by this cautionary statement. Subject to applicable securities laws, neither the Corporation, nor the Agent assume any obligation to update or revise them to reflect new events or circumstances.

In particular, this prospectus contains forward-looking statements pertaining to the following:

- the expenses and timing of Closing of the Offering;
- expectations regarding industry trends, overall market growth rates and the Corporation’s growth rate and growth strategy;
- the Corporation’s business plans and strategies, including expectations regarding the U.S. expansion and the growth in the number of new Consultants;
- the Corporation’s competitive position in the industry;
- expectations regarding future director and executive compensation levels and plans;
- the Corporation’s investment objectives and strategies;
- the Corporation’s expected results from operations, future capital and other requirements and expenditures (including the amount, nature and resources of funding thereof);
- business prospects and opportunities;
- dependence on key personnel; and
- expectations regarding market prices and costs.

With respect to forward-looking statements contained in this prospectus, the Corporation has made assumptions regarding, among other things, the Corporation’s ability to:

- attract a sufficient number of qualified Consultants;
- drive sales growth and increase revenues;
- innovate its service offering to maintain and grow its target customer base;

- retain key management and personnel;
- expand and grow its brand in the United States;
- obtain additional financing on satisfactory terms;
- manage the impact of competition; and
- adapt to changes in the IT services industry.

The Corporation's actual results could differ materially from those anticipated in these forward-looking statements as a result of the risk factors set forth below and elsewhere in this prospectus, including:

- a failure to successfully implement its growth strategies, including the U.S. expansion;
- a failure to identify, recruit and contract with a sufficient number of qualified Consultants;
- the Consultants' failure to be profitable initially or at all;
- a failure to manage the U.S. expansion effectively;
- a failure to support the expanding franchise system;
- a limited influence over the operations of the Consultants and on-going required cooperation;
- changes in tax laws in Canada and the U.S.;
- increased costs and regulatory burden as a result of being a public company;
- an inability to meet future financing requirements;
- changes to governmental and regulatory requirements;
- unfavourable fluctuations in exchange rates;
- an inability to compete in the IT services market; and
- a market for the Ordinary Voting Shares may not develop.

ELIGIBILITY FOR INVESTMENT

In the opinion of Norton Rose Fulbright Canada LLP, counsel to the Corporation, based on the provisions of the Tax Act in force as of the date hereof, the Ordinary Voting Shares and Warrants comprising the Units, and the Ordinary Voting Shares issuable on exercise of Warrants, as applicable, will be a qualified investment under the Tax Act for a trust governed by a registered retirement savings plan (RRSP), a registered retirement income fund (RRIF), a deferred profit sharing plan, a registered education savings plan (RESP), a registered disability savings plan (RDSP) or a tax-free savings account (TFSA), each as defined in the Tax Act, at a particular time, provided that, at such time:

- (a) in the case of the Ordinary Voting Shares that comprise part of a Unit, and the Ordinary Voting Shares that are to be issued on exercise of a Warrant, such Ordinary Voting Shares, as the case may be, are listed on a "designated stock exchange" for purposes of the Tax Act (which currently includes the CSE) or the Corporation is a "public corporation" as defined in the Tax Act; and

- (b) in the case of the Warrants, (i) either the Ordinary Voting Shares are listed on a “designated stock exchange” for purposes of the Tax Act (which currently includes the CSE) or the Corporation is a “public corporation” as defined in the Tax Act, and (ii) the Corporation is not a “connected person” (as defined in the regulations to the Tax Act) under the governing plan of the trust.

Notwithstanding that the Ordinary Voting Shares (including Ordinary Voting Shares issued on exercise of Warrants) and Warrants may be a qualified investment for a trust governed by a TFSA, RRSP, RRIF, RDSP or, RESP, the holder of a TFSA or RDSP, the annuitant under a RRSP or RRIF or the subscriber of an RESP that holds Ordinary Voting Shares or Warrants will be subject to a penalty tax if such Ordinary Voting Shares or Warrants, as the case may be, are a “prohibited investment” for purposes of the Tax Act for the TFSA, RDSP, RRSP, RRIF or RESP, as the case may be. Ordinary Voting Shares and Warrants will generally be a “prohibited investment” if the holder of the TFSA or RDSP, the annuitant under the RRSP or RRIF or the subscriber of the RESP, as the case may be, (i) does not deal at arm’s length with the Corporation for the purposes of the Tax Act or (ii) has a “significant interest” (within the meaning of the Tax Act) in the Corporation. Prospective purchasers should consult their own tax advisors regarding their particular circumstances

PRELIMINARY PROSPECTUS SUMMARY

The following is a summary of the principal features of this Offering and should be read together with the more detailed information and financial data and statements appearing elsewhere in this prospectus. Certain capitalized terms used but not defined in this summary are defined elsewhere in this prospectus.

The Corporation: The Corporation was incorporated under the Business Corporations Act (Ontario) on June 26, 1997. See "The Corporation - General".

The Corporation provides mobile IT support for small to medium-sized businesses. Its services include computer set up, network installation, tailored software services and IT support.

The Corporation operates a network of technically proficient and specially trained independent IT consultants to help clients on site by providing effective, consistent and customized IT solutions. The rise of cloud computing and the increasing complexity of computer networks has created a large market for IT solutions and maintenance. For small to medium sized businesses, it is expensive and ineffective to support an in-house IT department. The Corporation offers a mobile and flexible IT solution that can be tailored to individual client needs.

The Offering: The Corporation is offering to the public, through the Agent, a minimum of 5,714,285 Units and up to a maximum of 11,428,571 Units at a price of $0.35 per Unit for aggregate gross proceeds of a minimum of $2,000,000 and up to a maximum of $4,000,000. Each Unit is comprised of one Ordinary Voting Share and one-half of one Warrant (which are qualified for distribution by this prospectus), and each whole Warrant will entitle the holder thereof to acquire one Ordinary Voting Share at an exercise price of $0.70 per Ordinary Voting Share until the Expiry Date, subject to accelerated expiry. See "Plan of Distribution" and "Description of Share Capital - Warrants".

Ordinary Voting Shares: The Ordinary Voting Shares are "restricted securities" within the meaning of such term under applicable Canadian securities laws because each Ordinary Voting Share is entitled to only one vote per share, whereas each Class B special share is entitled to 10 votes per share. Assuming the issuance of the maximum of 11,428,571 Units (and assuming no exercise of the Over-Allotment Option), the Ordinary Voting Shares will collectively represent 98% of our total issued and outstanding shares and 87% of the votes attached to all of our issued and outstanding shares, and the Class B special shares will collectively represent 1.4% of our total issued and outstanding shares and 13% of the votes attached to all of our issued and outstanding shares.

Other than with respect to voting rights, the Ordinary Voting Shares are akin to common shares of the Corporation. The Class B special shares are non-participating securities and are not entitled to receive dividends and on wind-up of the Corporation, are not entitled to receive out of the assets and property of the Corporation. See "Description of Share Capital".

Agent's Compensation: The Agent will be paid the Agent's Commission in the amount of 8% of all gross proceeds realized from the sale of Units to purchasers under the Offering, payable in cash, Agent's Commission Units or a combination thereof.

The Corporation will also grant Agent's Warrants, entitling the Agent to purchase that number of Agent's Units equal to 8% of the number of Units sold to Subscribers under the Offering. The Agent's Warrants will be exercisable at an exercise price equal to the Offering Price for twenty-four (24) months from the Listing Date.

The Agent will also receive the Corporate Finance Fee of $40,000, of which $20,000 is a non-refundable fee that has been paid, with the remaining $20,000 payable at Closing.

The Corporation will also pay the Agent's expenses, including reasonable legal fees.

See "Plan of Distribution".

Qualification for Distribution:

In addition to the Units and its component parts, this prospectus also qualifies the Agent's Compensation Units (if any) and the Agent's Warrants issued to the Agent. See "Plan of Distribution".

Use of Proceeds:

Assuming the issuance of the minimum of 5,714,285 Units, the estimated net proceeds to be received by the Corporation will be $1,500,000 after the deduction of the Agent's Commission of $160,000, the Corporate Finance Fee of $40,000 and the estimated expenses of the Offering of $300,000. Assuming the issuance of the maximum of 11,428,571 Units, the estimated net proceeds to be received by the Corporation will be $3,340,000 after the deduction of the maximum Agent's Commission of $320,000, the Corporate Finance Fee of $40,000 and the estimated expenses of the Offering of $300,000.

The net proceeds payable to the Corporation will be used to fund the Corporation's expansion into the United States. See "Use of Proceeds".

Eligibility for Investment:

See "Eligibility for Investment".

Risk Factors:

Some of the major risks and uncertainties that may materially and adversely affect the Corporation include:

- a failure to successfully implement its growth strategies, including the U.S. expansion;
- a failure to identify, recruit and contract with a sufficient number of qualified Consultants;
- a failure to support the expanding franchise system;
- an inability to meet future financing requirements; and
- an inability to compete in the IT services market.

There is currently no market through which the Ordinary Voting Shares and Warrants may be sold and Subscribers may not be able to resell securities purchased under this prospectus. While the Corporation has applied to list the Ordinary Voting Shares distributed under this prospectus on the CSE, the listing is subject to the Corporation fulfilling all of the listing requirements of the CSE. An investment in the Units involves a high degree of risk and should be considered highly speculative due to the nature of the Corporation's business and its relatively early stage of development and should only be considered by persons who can afford to lose all or some of their investment. Other risk factors associated with an investment in the Units are listed under the heading “Risk Factors”.

Selected Financial Information:

THE CORPORATION

General

The Corporation was incorporated under the Business Corporations Act (Ontario) on June 26, 1997.

The head office of the Corporation is located at 131 Wharncliffe Road South, London, Ontario, N6J 2K4. The registered office of the Corporation is located at 450 Talbot Street, London, Ontario N6A 4K3.

The Corporation has no material subsidiaries.

BUSINESS OF THE CORPORATION

General

The Corporation provides mobile information technology (IT) support for small to medium-sized enterprises. Its services include computer set up, network installation, tailored software services, and IT support. The Corporation does not view its competitors as computer repair companies; rather, it believes it occupies a unique space as a “business-to-business” mobile IT support company.

The Corporation oversees and retains a network of technically proficient and specially trained independent IT consultants (“Consultants”) to help clients by providing on site, effective, consistent, and customized IT solutions. The rise of cloud computing, which means data and programs are stored and accessed over the internet instead of a computer’s local hard drive, and the increasing complexity of computer networks, has created a large market for IT solutions and maintenance services. It is increasingly expensive and ineffective for small to midsize businesses to maintain an in-house IT department. In today’s environment, a small business office may have several hundred devices running on its network. Each device runs its own operating system and has distinct security protocols and installation needs. Accordingly, employing an individual IT employee, or even a small IT department in-house, is no longer effective, as it is very difficult to learn and keep up to date with the variety of different operating systems, protocols, and software applications required to maintain an effective IT program. Likewise, protecting the critical data of a business from hacking and ransomware attacks, and other critical cybersecurity issues of such networks, are becoming increasingly complicated. The Corporation offers to small and medium sized businesses a solution to these challenges via a mobile and flexible IT solutions team. Solutions and support can be tailored to individual client needs by the Consultants. The Corporation’s research shows that companies that close their internal IT departments and switch to the services of the Corporation save, on average, 27% in annual IT costs.

The Corporation currently has approximately 125 Consultants operating in major cities across Canada. The Consultants operate in their specific geographic areas, sourcing client leads through marketing guidelines provided by the Corporation. The Corporation is also marketing its services through digital and online marketing platforms. Each time a new service call or client lead comes directly to the Corporation, it is made available to be serviced by the Consultants operating in the subject area. In order to speed up the administration process and create a highly scalable business model, the Corporation developed a centralized Electronic Record Processing (ERP) system called “IamAnerd”. This highly secure system is available online at www.IamAnerd.com and on mobile devices. IamAnerd handles marketing, invoicing, inventory, continuing education courses, payment processing, client database management and most other day to day administrative tasks for each Consultant. The Corporation believes that its ERP system is unique to the market, and that there are no similar systems being used by its competitors.

All Consultants are independent contractors and each Consultant is responsible for their own costs relating to client origination and development. The majority of the Consultants lease and operate fully branded red-colored vehicles with the Corporation’s branding (Nerdmobiles). On average, a Consultant retains 38%-50% of revenues from each client contract, with the balance of the revenue being provided to the Corporation.

The Corporation intends to grow its Canadian business by hiring a designated sales force to increase brand awareness and improve client sales and origination.

The Corporation also intends to expand its business into the United States (U.S.) through licensing and franchising agreements, building a network of U.S. based IT consultants that operate under the “Nerds on Site” brand. The Company’s vision is to become a leading North American provider of mobile IT services for small and medium sized businesses by replicating its Canadian model in the U.S. market.

The Corporation has identified four cities in Florida for the initial phase of the U.S. expansion, being: (i) Orlando; (ii) Cape Coral; (iii) Port Lucie; and (iv) Boko Raton. All of these cities share three common characteristics: (a) major post-secondary IT campuses, providing a constant potential supply of new Consultants; (b) a population under 500,000 people, allowing for faster brand recognition; and (c) a geographic location next to major metropolitan areas, which provide opportunity for further expansion of the Corporation’s services. Using its web-based interface to interact with its Consultants, the Corporation anticipates that most of its expansion costs will be associated with recruiting and training new Consultants, marketing the Corporation’s services, and leasing vehicles.

The Corporation will seek to implement a franchise model to facilitate its U.S. expansion, which will offer franchisee Consultants exclusivity over certain geographic areas for an annual fee. The Corporation expects to enter into first franchise agreements with U.S.-based Consultants in the first half of 2018.

U.S. Expansion Plans and Strategies

The Corporation is planning a U.S. expansion because the IT services market in the U.S. is the largest in the world, currently accounting for approximately one third of the global IT services market.

The IT services industry in the U.S. is dominated by small and medium-sized businesses. Out of the approximately 375,000 IT businesses registered in United States, approximately 374,000 have fewer than 500 employees.¹ This situation creates an opportunity for the Corporation. Besides organic market growth, the Corporation’s ERP and business model may allow for growth through consolidation of multiple small businesses under the Corporation’s umbrella.

The Corporation plans to begin the first phase of its U.S. expansion in Florida within 45-60 days of the Closing Date. The Corporation intends to continue expanding to 1 to 2 new U.S. cities per month until the end of the 2018 fiscal year, at which time the Corporation expects the new U.S.- based Consultants to be fully trained and operational. The Corporation intends to enter into franchise agreements with 10-15 Consultants per city. Once trained, each Consultant will launch an intensive marketing campaign to raise brand awareness and establish a presence in the local IT services market.

Specialized Skills and Knowledge

The Corporation will require each new Consultant to have specialized IT skills and knowledge. The advantage to the Corporation’s platform is that it offers clients access to the collective IT acumen of all of the Consultants through the Corporation’s ERP “IamAnerd” system. The Consultants communicate with each other through this system, which allows Consultants to share information and collectively troubleshoot innovative solutions for clients. This synergy gives the Corporation an advantage over its competitors, because instead of relying on the acumen of one IT consultant, with his/her inherent IT service limitations, the client has access to and can rely on the collective skill-set of all the Consultants. Due to the collegial and team-based culture of the Corporation’s Consultant network, communicating directly through the IAMaNerd system, the Consultants can cover more competencies than a small IT in-house team.

Employees

The Corporation currently has seven full-time employees at its head office in London, Ontario.

History

Development of the Business

From incorporation to 2001, the Corporation focused its business on the residential IT services market in London, Ontario. Following the election of Charles Regan to the board of directors, the Corporation switched its business focus from serving residential clients to serving small to medium-sized businesses. The Corporation concurrently adopted a sub-contractor business model and expanded across Canada. By January 2003, the Corporation had 100 Consultants under contract and had expanded to 17 cities across Canada.

Fiscal Years Ended May 31, 2017 and May 31, 2016

Over the last two years, the Corporation has operated in a steady fashion, preparing and planning its U.S. expansion strategy. The Corporation's revenue was $9.0 million for the 2016 fiscal year and $8.7 million for the 2017 fiscal year, which change the management considers flat.

The Corporation has a business relationship with Canadian Tire Corporation, Limited (Canadian Tire), and is currently providing IT support services to 175 Canadian Tire stores across Canada.

Expected Changes for the Fiscal Year Ending May 31, 2018

The Corporation plans to begin its U.S. expansion in the first half of the 2018 calendar year. The Corporation plans to expand to a maximum of 10 U.S. cities, with 10-15 new Consultants in each city. The U.S. expansion will require a substantial capital investment. Management's current estimate is that the expansion program will require approximately $6.0 million in costs related to marketing, operations, recruiting and the day to day management of the Corporation.

DIVIDEND POLICY

Holders of Class A special shares are entitled to receive fixed preferential cumulative cash dividends at the rate of 7.25% per annum, payable quarterly, on the Class A Redemption Amount of each Class A special share. If on any dividend payment date the dividend is not paid in full on all of the Class A special shares then issued and outstanding, such dividends or the unpaid part thereof shall be paid on a subsequent date or dates, determined by the Board, on which the Corporation has sufficient monies properly applicable to the payment of the same. The holders of Class A special shares shall not be entitled to any dividends other than or in excess of the cash dividend described above. To date, the Corporation has not paid any dividends to the holders of Class A special shares.

Further, the Corporation has neither declared nor paid any dividends on the Ordinary Voting Shares since incorporation. The payment of dividends in the future will depend on the earnings and financial condition of the Corporation and such other factors as the Board may consider appropriate. The Corporation does not foresee paying dividends in the near future.

DESCRIPTION OF SHARE CAPITAL

Pursuant to the Articles of the Corporation, the Corporation is authorized to issue an unlimited number of Ordinary Voting Shares, 1,000,000 Class A special shares and 1,000,000 Class B special shares.

Ordinary Voting Shares

Holders of Ordinary Voting Shares are entitled to receive notice of and to attend and vote at all meetings of Shareholders of the Corporation. Each Ordinary Voting Share shall entitle the holder thereof to one vote. Subject to the preferences accorded to holders of any other shares of the Corporation ranking senior to the Ordinary Voting Shares, Shareholders are entitled to dividends if, as and when declared by the Board. In the event of the liquidation, dissolution or winding up of the Corporation, the holders of Ordinary Voting Shares, after payment of all amounts to be paid to the holders of Class A special shares, shall participate equally, on a per share basis, in any further distribution of the property or assets of the Corporation.

The Ordinary Voting Shares are "restricted securities" within the meaning of such term under applicable Canadian securities laws because each Ordinary Voting Share is entitled to only one vote per share, whereas each Class B special share is entitled to 10 votes per share. After giving effect to the Offering (assuming the Maximum Offering and no exercise of the Over-Allotment Option), the Ordinary Voting Shares will collectively represent 98% of the total issued and outstanding shares and 87% of the votes attached to all of the issued and outstanding shares. The Class B special shares will collectively represent 1.4% of the total issued and outstanding shares and 13% of the votes attached to all of the issued and outstanding shares.

Other than with respect to voting rights, the Ordinary Voting Shares are akin to common shares of the Corporation.

Warrants

The Warrants qualified for distribution under this prospectus will be issued under the terms of the Warrant Indenture to be entered into between the Corporation and TSX Trust Company as Warrant Agent on or before the closing of the Offering. The Corporation will appoint the principal transfer office of the Warrant Agent in Toronto as the location at which the Warrants may be surrendered for exercise or exchange.

The Warrant Indenture will provide that the Expiry Date of the Warrants may be accelerated if, on any 10 consecutive trading days occurring following the closing of the Offering, the closing price of the Ordinary Voting Shares on the CSE (or the closing bid, if no sales were reported on a trading day) is greater than $1.00. The decision to accelerate the Expiry Date is at the sole discretion of the Corporation. The accelerated Expiry Date shall occur on the 30th day after the date on which the Corporation gives notice to the Subscribers in accordance with the Warrant Indenture of such acceleration.

The Warrant Indenture will provide for adjustment in the number of Ordinary Voting Shares issuable upon the exercise of the Warrants and/or the exercise price per Ordinary Voting Share upon the occurrence of certain events, including:

- (i) the issuance of Ordinary Voting Shares or securities exchangeable for or convertible into Ordinary Voting Shares at no additional cost to all or substantially all of the holders of the Ordinary Voting Shares by way of a stock dividend or other distribution (other than dividends paid in the ordinary course);
- (ii) the subdivision, redivision or change of the Ordinary Voting Shares into a greater number of shares;
- (iii) the consolidation, reduction or combination of the Ordinary Voting Shares into a lesser number of shares;
- (iv) the issuance to all or substantially all of the holders of the Ordinary Voting Shares of rights, options or warrants under which such holders are entitled, during a period expiring not more than 45 days after the record date for such issuance, to subscribe for or purchase Ordinary Voting Shares, or securities exchangeable for or convertible into Ordinary Voting Shares, at a price per share to the holder (or at an exchange or conversion price per share) of less than 95% of the "current market price", as defined in the Warrant Indenture, for the Ordinary Voting Shares on such record date; and
- (v) the issuance or distribution to all or substantially all of the holders of the Ordinary Voting Shares of securities of the Corporation including rights, options or warrants to acquire shares of any class of securities exchangeable or convertible into any such shares or property or assets and including evidences of indebtedness, or any property or other assets.

The Warrant Indenture will also provide for adjustment in the class and/or number of securities issuable upon the exercise of the Warrants and/or exercise price per security in the event of the following additional events:

- (i) reclassification of the Ordinary Voting Shares (other than as described above);
- (ii) consolidations, amalgamations, arrangements or mergers of the Corporation with or into any other corporation or other entity (other than consolidations, amalgamations, arrangements or mergers which do not result in any reclassification of the outstanding Ordinary Voting Shares or a change of the Ordinary Voting Shares into other shares); or
- (iii) the transfer of the undertaking or assets of the Corporation as an entirety or substantially as an entirety to another corporation or other entity.

No adjustment in the exercise price will be required to be made unless the cumulative effect of such adjustment or adjustments would result in a change of at least 1% in the prevailing exercise price.

The Corporation will also covenant in the Warrant Indenture that, during the period in which the Warrants are exercisable, it will give notice to each registered holder of Warrants (each, a "Warrantholder") of certain stated events, including events that would result in an adjustment to the exercise price for the Warrants or the number of Ordinary Voting Shares issuable upon exercise of the Warrants, at least 10 Business Days prior to the record date or effective date, as the case may be, of such event.

No fractional Ordinary Voting Shares will be issuable upon the exercise of any Warrants and no cash or other consideration will be paid in lieu thereof. Warrantheolders will not have any voting or pre-emptive rights or any other rights which a Shareholder would have.

From time to time, the Corporation and the Warrant Agent, without the consent of the Warrantheolders, may amend or supplement the Warrant Indenture for certain purposes, including correcting or rectifying any ambiguities, defects or inconsistencies or making any change that does not prejudice the rights of any Warrantheolder. Any amendment or supplement to the Warrant Indenture that would prejudice the interests of the Warrantheolders may only be made by "extraordinary resolution", which is defined in the Warrant Indenture as a resolution either (1) passed at a meeting of the Warrantheolders at which there are Warrantheolders present in person or represented by proxy representing at least 25% of the aggregate number of the then outstanding Warrants (unless such meeting is adjourned to a prescribed later date due to a lack of quorum, at which adjourned meeting the Warrantheolders present in person or by proxy shall form a quorum) and passed by the affirmative vote of Warrantheolders representing not less than 66 2/3% of the aggregate number of all the then outstanding Warrants represented at the meeting and voted on the poll upon such resolution, or (2) adopted by an instrument in writing signed by the Warrantheolders representing not less than 66 2/3% of the aggregate number of all the then outstanding Warrants.

The Warrants and the Ordinary Voting Shares issuable upon exercise thereof have not been registered under the 1933 Act or the laws of any state of the U.S. The Warrants may not be exercised in the U.S. or by or on behalf of a U.S. person (as defined in Regulation S under the 1933 Act) unless an exemption is available from the registration requirements of the 1933 Act and any applicable state securities laws and the holder has delivered an opinion of counsel satisfactory to the Corporation to such effect.

Class A special shares

The Class A special shares are non-voting shares. Holders of Class A special shares are entitled to receive fixed preferential cumulative cash dividends at the rate of 7.25% per annum, payable quarterly, on the Class A Redemption Amount of each Class A special share. If on any dividend payment date the dividend is not paid in full on all of the Class A special shares then issued and outstanding, such dividends or the unpaid part thereof shall be paid on a subsequent date or dates, determined by the Board, on which the Corporation has sufficient monies properly applicable to the payment of the same. The holders of Class A special shares shall not be entitled to any dividends other than or in excess of the cash dividend described above. The Class A special shares shall rank, both as regards to dividends and repayment of capital, in priority to the Ordinary Voting Shares and Class B special shares.

In the event of the liquidation, dissolution or winding up of the Corporation, the holders of Class A special shares shall be entitled to receive out of the assets and property of the Corporation, before any amount is paid or any property or assets of the Corporation are distributed to the holders of Ordinary Voting Shares, the aggregate Class A Redemption Amount for all Class A special shares, together with all accrued and unpaid preferential cumulative cash dividends.

A holder of Class A special shares may require the Corporation to redeem any or all Class A special shares held by such holder at the Class A Redemption Amount per share, together with an amount equal to all dividends accrued thereon and remaining unpaid.

The Corporation may, at any time, purchase for cancellation all or any part of the outstanding Class A special shares, for a price not to exceed the Class A Redemption Amount per share, plus costs of purchase, and an amount equal to all dividends accrued thereon and remaining unpaid. The Corporation may also redeem all or any part of the outstanding Class A special shares on payment of the Class A Redemption Amount for each share, together with an amount equal to all dividends accrued thereon and remaining unpaid.

Class B Special Shares

Holders of Class B special shares are entitled to notice of and to attend and to cast 10 votes for each Class B special share held by them at all meetings of Shareholders of the Corporation.

Holders of Class B special shares are not entitled to receive any dividends and in the event of the liquidation, dissolution or winding up of the Corporation, the holders of Class B special shares shall not be entitled to received out of the assets and property of the Corporation.

A holder of Class B special shares may require the Corporation to redeem any or all Class B special shares held by such holder at the Class B Redemption Amount per share.

The Corporation may, at any time, purchase for cancellation all or any part of the outstanding Class B special shares, for a price not to exceed the Class B Redemption Amount plus costs of purchase. The Corporation may also redeem all or any part of the outstanding Class B special shares on payment of the Class B Redemption Amount for each share.

EXECUTIVE COMPENSATION

Compensation Discussion and Analysis

Introduction

The purpose of this Compensation Discussion and Analysis (CD&A) is to provide information about the Corporation's proposed philosophy, objectives and processes regarding compensation for the President and Chief Executive Officer (CEO), the Chief Financial Officer (CFO) and the Chief Operating Officer (each a Named Executive Officer or a NEO) assuming closing of the Offering. It explains how decisions regarding executive compensation are made and the reasoning behind these decisions and discusses the key elements of the Corporation's compensation program.

Following the closing of the Offering, it is expected that the Corporation will have three Named Executive Officers:

- Charles Regan – President and CEO;
- Rakesh Maholtra – CFO; and
- David Redekop – Chief Operating Officer

Compensation Governance

Given the stage of the Corporation's development, it is anticipated that the Board, as a whole, will fulfil the oversight responsibilities with respect to human resources policies and compensation, directly.

The Board's expected mandate with respect to executive compensation will be to: (a) review and determine the Corporation's key human resources policies; (b) review and determine the executive compensation philosophy and remuneration policy for the Corporation; (c) review and determine employment agreements relating to the CEO, CFO and any other executive officers; (d) evaluate annually the performance of the CEO, CFO and any other executive officers and review the annual compensation package and performance objectives for such executives; (e) annually determine any bonuses to be paid; (f) review and determine if any significant changes to the overall compensation program; (g) review the adequacy and form of compensation of directors periodically to determine if the compensation realistically reflects the responsibilities and risks involved in being an effective director; (h) review and determine the grants of options to purchase shares of the Corporation; and (i) perform any other activities consistent with its mandate, the Corporation's by-laws and governing laws as deemed necessary or appropriate.

The Board has the authority to engage outside consultants and advisors, including independent counsel.

The Board believes it has the knowledge, experience and background required to fulfil its proposed mandate.

The Elements of the Corporation's Compensation Program

The Corporation's compensation program is expected to consist of two principal elements, a base salary and options granted under the Option Plan, which is expected to be approved by the Board in connection with the Closing of the Offering. In exceptional circumstances, cash bonuses may be paid.

The Objective of the Corporation's Compensation Program

The objective of the Corporation's compensation program is to attract and retain highly qualified and committed senior management by providing appropriate compensation and incentives intended to align the interests of senior management with those of the Corporation's shareholders in order to provide incentives for senior management to enhance shareholder value.

What the Corporation's Compensation Program is Designed to Reward

The Corporation's proposed compensation program is designed to reward senior management for achieving the Corporation's business objectives as well as increases in shareholder value resulting from increased value or potential value in the Corporation's technology prospects.

Why the Corporation Chooses to Pay Each Element of its Compensation Program

Following the Offering, the Corporation intends to pay a base salary as part of its compensation program to: (i) provide each NEO with sufficient, regularly-paid income; (ii) recognize each NEO's unique value and contribution to the success of the Corporation; and (iii) reflect each NEO's position and level of responsibility.

The Corporation also intends to grant Options as part of its compensation program in order to: (i) align NEOs' interests with the interests of the Corporation's shareholders; (ii) reward long-term performance by allowing NEOs to participate in any long-term market appreciation of the Corporation's shares; and (iii) ensure the Corporation is competitive with its comparable industry peers from a total remuneration standpoint and to encourage executive officer retention, commitment and focus on long-term growth.

How the Corporation Determines the Amount for Each Element and How Each Element Affects Decisions About Other Elements and Fits into the Corporation's Overall Compensation Objectives

The Board will determine the amount of each element of the Corporation's compensation program for NEOs. The two principal elements of the compensation program will be weighted equally and fit into the Corporation's overall compensation strategy, as described below.

Base Salaries

The Board will consider some or all of the following factors when determining the base salary of each NEO: (i) the overall performance of the Corporation and the particular NEO; (ii) base salaries and overall compensation paid to senior management of comparable industry peers (without specific benchmarking); (iii) the relationship among base salaries paid within the Corporation and individual experience and contribution; (iv) general market conditions and the Corporation's financial condition; (v) other compensation received by the NEO; and (vi) competition for qualified personnel. The intent is to fix base salaries at levels that are consistent with the Corporation's compensation program objective.

Option Plan

The Corporation expects to adopt an option plan (the “Option Plan”) prior to the Closing of the Offering pursuant to which the Board may, from time to time, grant options to directors, officers, employees and consultants of the Corporation. The number of Ordinary Voting Shares granted under each option and the vesting terms thereof are in the discretion of the Board. Options granted under the Option Plan must have a term of no more than five years from the date of grant. The exercise price of each option granted under the Option Plan is in the discretion of the Board, provided that the exercise price cannot be below the lower of the fair market value of the Ordinary Voting Shares and the closing price of the Ordinary Voting Shares on the CSE on the last trading day before the date of grant. Any outstanding options granted under the Option Plan expire on a date not exceeding 90 days following the date that the holder ceases to be an officer, director, employee or consultant of the Corporation, as the case may be, except in the case of death in which case the options expire one year from the date of death. Options granted under the Option Plan are non-assignable and non-transferable. Outstanding options granted under the Option Plan may be adjusted in certain events, as to exercise price (subject to disinterested shareholder approval prior to any reduction to the exercise price if the affected optionee is an insider (as defined in the Securities Act) of the Corporation at the time of the proposed amendment) and number of Ordinary Voting Shares, to prevent dilution or enlargement. The number of Ordinary Voting Shares that may be optioned under the Option Plan, unless otherwise approved by shareholders, is limited to 10% of the outstanding Ordinary Voting Shares from time to time; provided, that any one participant under the Option Plan shall not be entitled to receive options to acquire an aggregate of greater than 5% (2% in the case of consultants) of the outstanding Ordinary Voting Shares in any 12 month period.

Hedging Activities

The Corporation has no plans to implement a formal hedging policy with respect to purchases of securities by NEOs or directors to hedge or offset a decrease in market value of equity securities granted as compensation or held, directly or indirectly, by such individuals. To the Corporation’s knowledge, no NEO or director has plans to hedge the economic value of his direct or indirect interests in the market value of the Ordinary Voting Shares so held or granted as compensation.

Risk Assessment and Oversight

The Board is keenly aware of the fact that compensation practices can have unintended risk consequences. The Board will continually review the Corporation’s compensation policies to identify any practice that might encourage an employee to expose the Corporation to unacceptable risks. At the present time, the Board is satisfied that the current executive compensation program does not encourage the Corporation’s executives to expose the business to inappropriate risk. The Board takes a conservative approach to executive compensation, rewarding individuals for the success of the Corporation once that success has been demonstrated and incenting them to continue that success through the grant of Options. The Option Plan limits the number of Options a particular NEO is entitled to receive.

Summary Compensation Table

Based on the information available at the date hereof, the following table sets out information concerning the total compensation amounts expected to be paid, accrued or otherwise expensed by the Corporation with respect to fiscal 2018, for each of the NEOs (assuming the continued employment of each NEO):

Directors will be reimbursed for their reasonable out-of-pocket expenses incurred in serving as directors. PLAN OF DISTRIBUTION

The Offering consists of a minimum of 5,714,285 Units and a maximum of 11,428,571 Units at a price of $0.35 per Unit.

Pursuant to the Agency Agreement, the Agent has agreed to act as, and has been appointed as, the sole lead manager and sole bookrunner to offer the Units for sale to the public on a commercially reasonable best efforts basis. The Offering Price was established by negotiation between the Agent and the Corporation. The Agent will be paid, upon the closing of the Offering, the Agent's Commission equal to (i) 8% of all gross proceeds realized from the sale of the Units under the Offering. The Agent has the discretion to request that the Agent's Commission be paid in cash, Units (at the issue price) or a combination thereof. In addition, the Corporation has agreed to grant to the Agent, as additional compensation, Agent's Warrants that will entitle the Agent to purchase such number of Agent's Units as is equal to 8% of the aggregate number of Units sold to purchasers under the Offering. Each Agent's Warrant will entitle the Agent to purchase one Agent's Unit at an exercise price of $0.35 per Agent's Unit until the date which is 24 months after the Listing Date. This prospectus also qualifies the distribution of the Agent's Commission Units (if any) and the Agent's Warrants. The Corporation has further agreed to pay the Agent the Corporate Finance Fee of $40,000, of which $20,000 is a non-refundable fee that has been paid, and $20,000 is payable at the closing of the Offering. The Corporation will also pay the Agent's expenses, including reasonable legal fees and disbursements.

Subsection 11.2 of NI 41-101 restricts the maximum number of securities issued to the Agent that may be qualified under a prospectus to 10% of the total number of the securities distributed under the prospectus. For the purposes of this Offering, any combination of Agent's Commission Units and Agent's Warrants totalling up to 10% of the number of Units sold are qualified compensation securities ("Qualified Compensation Securities") and are qualified for distribution by this prospectus. To the extent that the Agent is entitled to receive securities as compensation exceeding 10% of the Units sold, those securities exceeding the 10% threshold will not be Qualified Compensation Securities, will not be qualified for distribution under this prospectus, and will be subject to a four month hold period in accordance with applicable securities laws.

The Corporation has granted the Agent an Over-Allotment Option to purchase up to an additional 1,714,285 Units on the same terms and conditions as the Offering, exercisable in whole or in part, at the sole discretion of the Agent, at any time and from time to time until and including 60 days after the date of closing of the Offering, to cover over-allotments, if any. This prospectus also qualifies the distribution of the Units issuable upon exercise of the Over-Allotment Option.

Under the terms of the Agency Agreement, the Agent may, at its discretion on the basis of its assessment of the state of the financial markets and upon the occurrence of certain stated events, including the presence of a material adverse change in the affairs of the Corporation, unsatisfactory due diligence, or a breach by the Corporation of the Agency Agreement, among others, terminate the Agency Agreement. Subscriptions for Units will be received subject to rejection or allotment in whole or in part. The right is reserved to close the subscription books at any time without notice. Closing will occur not later than 90 days after a receipt for the final prospectus or not later than the expiration date of any extension thereof granted by the applicable regulatory authorities.

The Offering is subject to a minimum offering of 5,714,285 Units at the Offering Price of $0.35 per Unit for minimum gross proceeds of $2,000,000. The Corporation must appoint a registered dealer authorized to make the distribution, a Canadian financial institution, or a lawyer who is a practicing member in good standing with a law society of a jurisdiction in which the securities are being distributed, or a notary in Quebec, to hold in trust all funds received from subscriptions until the minimum offering has been raised. If the minimum offering is not raised within the distribution period, the trustee will return the funds to the subscribers without interest or deduction.

The Agent has agreed to use commercially reasonable best efforts to secure subscriptions for the Units offered pursuant to the Offering in the provinces of British Columbia, Alberta and Ontario. This prospectus qualifies the distribution of the Units to the Subscribers in the provinces of British Columbia, Alberta and Ontario. The Agent may, in connection with the Offering and in its sole discretion, retain one or more licensed dealers, brokers and investment dealers (referred to herein as the Selling Firms) as sub-agents and may receive subscriptions for the Units from such Selling Firms. The Agent is not obligated to purchase any of the Units in connection with the Offering.

This Offering is not underwritten and is subject to the receipt by the Agent of subscriptions for the Minimum Offering in the amount of $2,000,000. Subscriptions for the Units will be received subject to rejection or allotment in whole or in part and the right is reserved to close the subscription books at any time without notice. It is expected that the closing of the Offering will occur on or about [●] (the Closing Date), or on such later date as the Corporation and the Agent may agree upon, but in any event not later than the date that is 90 days after the date on which the Corporation receives a receipt for a final prospectus. The distribution of the Units will not continue for a period of more than 180 days after the date on which the Corporation receives a final receipt for a final prospectus, unless an amendment to the final prospectus is filed and a receipt obtained therefor by the Corporation in accordance with applicable securities laws; provided that the total period of distribution under the Offering will in any event not exceed 180 days from the date of the final receipt for the prospectus. The Corporation has appointed the Agent to hold in trust all subscription funds received until the Minimum Offering has been raised. If the Minimum Offering is not raised on or before the day that is 90 days after the date a final receipt is issued for the prospectus, or such later date as the Corporation and the Agent may agree upon and as may be permitted under applicable securities laws (subject to the filing of any required amendment to the prospectus and the regulator issuing a receipt for the amendment), the Agent must return such funds to the subscribers without interest, set-off or deductions. See “Use of Proceeds” and “Plan of Distribution”.

There is currently no public market for the Ordinary Voting Shares. The Corporation has applied to list the Ordinary Voting Shares distributed under this prospectus on the CSE. Listing of such Ordinary Voting Shares will be subject to the Corporation fulfilling all of the listing requirements of the CSE.

For a period of one (1) year from the Closing Date, the Corporation has agreed to provide the Agent with the exclusive right and opportunity to act as agent up to a maximum economic syndicate position of 100%, or any offering of securities of the Corporation to be issued and sold in Canada by private placement or public offering, or to provide professional, sponsorship or advisory services performed (or normally performed) by a broker or investment dealer. If the Corporation is intending to proceed with any such issuance or has received a proposal for any such issuance, the Corporation shall provide to the Agent notice of the proposed terms thereof (including the commission payable to that agent) and the Agent shall have an opportunity to respond to the Corporation that they are desirous of acting as agent, or participating as the case may be, in such offering on behalf of the Corporation on the terms and conditions contained therein. If the Agent declines, in writing, the Corporation may proceed with such offering through another agent or underwriter, provided the arrangements with such agent or underwriter are entered into within 30 days thereafter (it being acknowledged and agreed by the Agent that if the Corporation issues any securities to which the foregoing would apply, but does not retain or utilize a registered dealer as agent therefore, the foregoing shall not apply to such issuance, unless any of the subscribers to the issuance of such securities is a subscriber or beneficial purchaser of Units pursuant to the Offering.

ESCROWED SECURITIES

NP 46-201 requires that securities held by a “principal” of an issuer be held in escrow. A “principal” of an issuer is: (i) a person who acted as a promoter of the issuer; (ii) a director or senior officer of the issuer; (iii) a person holding more than 20% of the securities of the issuer both immediately before and immediately after the issuer’s initial public offering; and (iv) a person carrying more than 10% of the securities who also has the right to appoint one or more directors or senior officers of the issuer. In addition, the CSE may impose hold periods which apply where seed shares have been issued to non-principals prior to an initial public offering. The Escrowed Shareholders for the purposes of this prospectus are the principals who are not otherwise excluded from the escrow requirements of NP 46-

201 and those who have purchased securities for less than the Offering Price within 12 months preceding the date of this prospectus.

In accordance with NP 46-201 and pursuant to the Escrow Agreement to be entered into among the Escrowed Shareholders, the Corporation and the Escrow Agent, and assuming no Ordinary Voting Shares offered hereunder are purchased by the Escrowed Shareholders, a total of 41,274,500 Ordinary Voting Shares will be deposited into escrow with the Escrow Agent on Closing of the Offering. The following table discloses the Escrow Securities of the Corporation which will be held in escrow pursuant to the Escrow Agreement or that are otherwise subject to a contractual restriction on transfer:

Designation of class	Number of securities held in escrow or that are subject to a contractual restriction on transfer	Percentage of class (after giving effect to the Minimum Offering)	Percentage of class (after giving effect to the Maximum Offering)
Ordinary Voting Shares	41,274,500	65%	60%

An escrow restricts the ability of certain holders to deal with their Escrow Securities while they are in escrow. The Escrow Agreement sets out these restrictions and provides that, except to the extent permitted thereunder, the principals cannot sell, transfer, assign, mortgage, enter into a derivative transaction concerning, or otherwise deal in any way with their Escrow Securities or the related share certificates or other evidence of the Escrow Securities. A private company, controlled by one or more principals, that holds Escrow Securities, may not participate in a transaction that results in a change of its control or a change in the economic exposure of the principals to the risks of holding Escrow Securities.

The Escrow Securities shall not be released unless listing of the Ordinary Voting Shares is completed by the Corporation. As the Corporation is an “emerging issuer” as such term is defined in NP 46-201, the original number of the Escrow Securities purchased by principals of the Corporation may be released as follows:

On the date the issuer’s securities are listed on a Canadian exchange (the listing date):	1/10 of the Escrow Securities
6 months after the listing date:	1/6 of the remaining Escrow Securities
12 months after the listing date:	1/5 of the remaining Escrow Securities
18 months after the listing date:	1/4 of the remaining Escrow Securities
24 months after the listing date:	1/3 of the remaining Escrow Securities
30 months after the listing date:	1/2 of the remaining Escrow Securities
36 months after the listing date:	The remaining Escrow Securities

Shares Subject to Resale Restrictions

Statutory Hold Periods

In addition to the foregoing escrow provisions, securities legislation imposes certain resale restrictions on securities issued within four months prior to an initial public offering. The legislation which imposes and governs these hold periods is National Instrument 45-102 - Resale of Securities.

For purposes of this summary, references to Ordinary Voting Shares include Ordinary Voting Shares comprising part of a Unit and Ordinary Voting Shares issued on exercise of a Warrant, unless otherwise indicated. This summary applies only to a purchaser who is a beneficial owner of Ordinary Voting Shares and Warrants acquired pursuant to this Offering and who, for the purposes of the Tax Act and at all relevant times: (i) deals at arm's length with the Corporation and the Agent and is not affiliated with the Corporation; and (ii) holds the Ordinary Voting Shares and Warrants as capital property (a Holder).

Ordinary Voting Shares and Warrants will generally be considered to be capital property of a Holder unless they are held in the course of carrying on a business or were acquired in one or more transactions considered to be an adventure or concern in the nature of trade. A purchaser who is resident in Canada for purposes of the Tax Act and whose Ordinary Voting Shares might not otherwise qualify as capital property may be entitled to make the irrevocable election provided by subsection 39(4) of the Tax Act to have the Ordinary Voting Shares and every other "Canadian security" (as defined in the Tax Act) owned by such purchaser in the taxation year of the election and in all subsequent taxation years deemed to be capital property. Purchasers should consult their own tax advisors for advice as to whether an election under subsection 39(4) of the Tax Act is available and/or advisable in their particular circumstances. Such election is not available in respect of Warrants.

This summary is not applicable to a Holder: (i) that is a "financial institution" within the meaning of section 142.2 of the Tax Act; (ii) that is a "specified financial institution" as defined in the Tax Act; (iii) that has made a "functional currency" reporting election under section 261 of the Tax Act to report its "Canadian tax results" in a currency other than Canadian currency; (iv) an interest in which is, or for whom an Ordinary Voting Share or Warrant would be, a "tax shelter investment" for the purposes of the Tax Act; or (v) that has entered or will enter into a "derivative forward agreement" or "synthetic disposition arrangement", as those terms are defined in the Tax Act, in respect of Ordinary Voting Shares or Warrants. Such Holders should consult their own tax advisors.

This summary is based upon: (i) the current provisions of the Tax Act in force as of the date hereof; (ii) all specific proposals to amend the Tax Act that have been publicly announced by, or on behalf of, the Minister of Finance (Canada) and published in writing prior to the date hereof (the Proposed Amendments); and (iii) counsel's understanding of the current administrative policies and assessing practices of the Canada Revenue Agency (CRA) published in writing and publicly available prior to the date hereof. No assurance can be given that the Proposed Amendments will be enacted or otherwise implemented in their current form, if at all. Other than the Proposed Amendments, this summary does not take into account or anticipate any changes in law, administrative policy or assessing practice, whether by legislative, regulatory, administrative, governmental or judicial decision or action, nor does it take into account the tax laws of any province or territory of Canada or of any jurisdiction outside of Canada.

This summary is of a general nature only, is not exhaustive of all possible Canadian federal income tax considerations and is not intended to be, nor should it be construed to be, legal or tax advice to any particular Holder. Accordingly, Holders should consult their own tax advisors with respect to their particular circumstances.

Allocation of Cost

A Holder who acquires Units pursuant to this Offering will be required to allocate the purchase price paid for each Unit on a reasonable basis between the Ordinary Voting Share and the one-half Warrant comprising each Unit in order to determine their respective costs to such Holder for the purposes of the Tax Act.

The adjusted cost base to a Holder of each Ordinary Voting Share comprising a part of a Unit acquired pursuant to this Offering will be determined by averaging the cost of such Ordinary Voting Share with the adjusted cost base to such Holder of all other Ordinary Voting Shares (if any) held by the Holder as capital property immediately prior to the acquisition.

Exercise of Warrants

No gain or loss will be realized by a Holder of a Warrant upon the exercise of such Warrant. When a Warrant is exercised, the Holder's cost of the Ordinary Voting Share acquired thereby will be equal to the adjusted cost base of the Warrant to such Holder, plus the amount paid on the exercise of the Warrant. For the purpose of computing the adjusted cost base to a Holder of each Ordinary Voting Share acquired on the exercise of a Warrant, the cost of such Ordinary Voting Share must be averaged with the adjusted cost base to such Holder of all other Ordinary Voting Shares (if any) held by the Holder as capital property immediately prior to the exercise of the Warrant.

Holders Resident in Canada

This portion of the summary applies to a Holder who, at all relevant times, is, or is deemed to be, resident in Canada for the purposes of the Tax Act (a Resident Holder).

Dividends

A Resident Holder will be required to include in computing its income for a taxation year any taxable dividends received or deemed to be received on the Ordinary Voting Shares. In the case of a Resident Holder that is an individual (other than certain trusts), such dividends will be subject to the gross-up and dividend tax credit rules applicable to taxable dividends received from taxable Canadian corporations. Taxable dividends which are designated as "eligible dividends" will be subject to the enhanced gross-up and dividend tax credit regime in the Tax Act.

In the case of a Resident Holder that is a corporation, the amount of any such taxable dividend that is included in its income for a taxation year will generally be deductible in computing its taxable income for that taxation year. In certain circumstances a dividend or deemed dividend received by a Resident Holder that is a corporation may be treated as a capital gain or proceeds of disposition. Resident Holders should contact their own tax advisors in this regard.

A Resident Holder that is a "private corporation" or a "subject corporation", as defined in the Tax Act, will generally be liable to pay a refundable tax under Part IV of the Tax Act on dividends received on the Ordinary Voting Shares to the extent such dividends are deductible in computing the Resident Holder's taxable income for the year. A "subject corporation" is generally a corporation (other than a private corporation) controlled directly or indirectly by or for the benefit of an individual (other than a trust) or a related group of individuals (other than trusts).

Dispositions of Ordinary Voting Shares and Warrants

A Resident Holder who disposes of or is deemed to have disposed of an Ordinary Voting Share or Warrant (other than on the exercise of a Warrant) will generally realize a capital gain (or capital loss) equal to the amount by which the proceeds of disposition, net of any reasonable costs of disposition, are greater (or are less) than the adjusted cost base to the Resident Holder of the Ordinary Voting Share or Warrant immediately before the disposition or deemed disposition.

A Resident Holder that is throughout the relevant taxation year a "Canadian-controlled private corporation" (as defined in the Tax Act) may be liable to pay a refundable tax on its "aggregate investment income" (as defined in the Tax Act) for the year, including taxable capital gains.

Generally, the expiry of an unexercised Warrant will give rise to a capital loss equal to the adjusted cost base to the Resident Holder of such Warrant.

Taxable Capital Gains and Losses

A Resident Holder will generally be required to include in computing its income for the taxation year of disposition, one-half of the amount of any capital gain (a “taxable capital gain”) realized in such year. Subject to and in accordance with the provisions of the Tax Act, a Resident Holder will be required to deduct one-half of the amount of any capital loss (an “allowable capital loss”) against taxable capital gains realized in the taxation year of disposition. Allowable capital losses in excess of taxable capital gains for the taxation year of disposition may generally be carried back and deducted in any of the three preceding taxation years or carried forward and deducted in any subsequent taxation year against net taxable capital gains realized in such years.

The amount of any capital loss realized on the disposition or deemed disposition of an Ordinary Voting Share by a Resident Holder that is a corporation may, in certain circumstances, be reduced by the amount of dividends received or deemed to have been received by it on such Ordinary Voting Shares. Similar rules may apply where a Resident Holder that is a corporation is a member of a partnership or a beneficiary of a trust that owns Ordinary Voting Shares or where a partnership or trust, of which a corporation is a member or a beneficiary, is a member of a partnership or a beneficiary of a trust that owns Ordinary Voting Shares. Resident Holders to whom these rules may be relevant should consult their own tax advisors.

Minimum Tax

A Resident Holder who is an individual (other than certain trusts) and receives or is deemed to have received taxable dividends on the Ordinary Voting Shares or realizes a capital gain on the disposition or deemed disposition of Ordinary Voting Shares or Warrants may be liable for alternative minimum tax under the Tax Act. Resident Holders who are individuals should consult their own tax advisors in this regard.

Holders Not Resident in Canada

This portion of the summary is generally applicable to a Holder who, at all relevant times, for purposes of the Tax Act: (a) is not, and is not deemed to be, resident in Canada; and (b) does not use or hold the Ordinary Voting Shares or Warrants in connection with carrying on a business in Canada (a Non-Resident Holder). This portion of the summary does not apply to a Holder that carries on, or is deemed to carry on, an insurance business in Canada and elsewhere or that is an “authorized foreign bank” (as defined in the Tax Act) and such Holders should consult their own tax advisors.

Dividends

Dividends paid or credited (or deemed to be paid or credited) by the Corporation to a Non-Resident Holder on the Ordinary Voting Shares will be subject to Canadian withholding tax at the rate of 25%, subject to any reduction in the rate of withholding to which the Non-Resident Holder is entitled under an applicable income tax convention between Canada and the country in which the Non-Resident Holder is resident. For example, where a Non-Resident Holder is a resident of the United States, is fully entitled to the benefits under the Canada-United States Tax Convention (1980), as amended, and is the beneficial owner of the dividend, the applicable rate of Canadian withholding tax is generally reduced to 15%.

Dispositions of Ordinary Voting Shares and Warrants

A Non-Resident Holder will not be subject to tax under the Tax Act in respect of any capital gain realized on a disposition or deemed disposition of an Ordinary Voting Share or Warrant unless the Ordinary Voting Share or Warrant (as applicable) is, or is deemed to be, “taxable Canadian property” of the Non-Resident Holder for the purposes of the Tax Act and the Non-Resident Holder is not entitled to an exemption under an applicable income tax convention between Canada and the country in which the Non-Resident Holder is resident.

Generally, an Ordinary Voting Share or Warrant (as applicable) will not constitute taxable Canadian property of a Non-Resident Holder provided that the Ordinary Voting Shares are listed on a “designated stock exchange” for the purposes of the Tax Act (which currently includes the CSE), unless at any time during the 60-month period immediately preceding the disposition, (a) at least 25% of the issued shares of any class or series of the capital stock of the Corporation were owned by or belonged to any combination of: (i) the Non-Resident Holder, (ii) persons with whom the Non-Resident Holder did not deal at arm’s length, and (iii) partnerships in which the Non-Resident Holder or a person described in (ii) holds a membership interest directly or indirectly through one or more partnerships; and (b) at such time, more than 50% of the fair market value of such shares was derived, directly or indirectly, from any combination of real or immovable property situated in Canada, “Canadian resource property” (as defined in the Tax Act), “timber resource property” (as defined in the Tax Act), or options in respect of, interests in, or for civil law rights in such properties, whether or not such property exists.

If a Non-Resident Holder disposes (or is deemed to have disposed) of an Ordinary Voting Share or Warrant that is taxable Canadian property of that Non-Resident Holder, and the Non-Resident Holder is not entitled to an exemption under an applicable income tax convention, the consequences described above under the headings “Holders Resident in Canada — Dispositions of Ordinary Shares and Warrants” and “Holders Resident in Canada — Taxable Capital Gains and Losses” will generally be applicable to such disposition. Such Non-Resident Holders should consult their own tax advisors..

RISK FACTORS

An investment in Units involves a high degree of risk and should only be considered by persons who can afford to lose their entire investment. The following are certain risk factors relating to an investment in Units which prospective investors should carefully consider before deciding whether to purchase any Units. The following information must be read in conjunction with the detailed information appearing elsewhere in this prospectus. Such risk factors may have a material adverse effect on the financial position or results of operations of the Corporation or the value of the Units.

Risks Related to Our Business and Industry

If the Corporation fails to identify, recruit and contract with a sufficient number of qualified Consultants, our ability to increase revenues could be materially adversely affected.

We may not be able to identify, recruit or contract with suitable Consultants in our target markets on a timely basis or at all. In addition, our Consultants may not ultimately be able to access the financial or management resources that they need to operate the business, or they may elect to cease business development for other reasons. If we are unable to recruit suitable Consultants or if our Consultants are unable or unwilling to continue to act as consultants, our growth may be slower than anticipated, or cease, which could materially adversely affect our ability to increase our revenue and materially adversely affect our business, financial condition and results of operations.

New Consultants may not be profitable initially, and may adversely impact our business.

Historically, many of our new Consultants go through an initial ramp-up period typically lasting six to 12 months, during which time they generate sales and income below the levels at which we expect. This is in part due to the time it takes to build a customer base in a new area and other start-up inefficiencies that are typical of new businesses. It may also be difficult for us and our Consultants to attract a customer base, or otherwise overcome the higher costs associated with a new business. New Consultants may not have results similar to existing Consultants or may not be profitable. If new Consultants remain unprofitable for a prolonged period of time, we may jointly decide to terminate the franchise relationship. The termination of a franchise agreement could have a negative impact on our business and operating results.

Our expansion into new markets in the United States may present increased risks due to lower customer awareness of our brand, our unfamiliarity with those markets and other factors.

As of the date of this Prospectus, we have 125 Consultants in 10 provinces across Canada. While we intend to expand into the United States, our operating experience in Canada may not be relevant or necessarily translate into similar results in the U.S. market. We anticipate that our U.S. franchise partners will experience lower brand awareness, lower sales and/or transaction counts. As a result, new U.S. consultants may be less successful than their Canadian counterparts. Consultants in new markets may take longer to ramp up and reach expected sales and profit levels, or may never do so, thereby affecting our overall growth and profitability as a result of reduced royalty revenue. To build brand awareness in these new markets, we and our franchise partners may need to make greater investments in advertising and promotional activity than originally planned, which could negatively impact the profitability of our operations in those markets. We may also find it more difficult in these new markets to hire, motivate and keep qualified Consultants who can project our vision, passion and culture. The United States may also have regulatory differences with Canada, which we and our U.S. franchise partners may not be familiar with, or that subject us and our U.S. Consultants to significant additional expense or to which we and our U.S. Consultants are not able to successfully comply with, which may have a particularly adverse impact on their sales or profitability and could in turn adversely impact our revenue and results of operations. If we do not successfully execute our U.S. expansion plans, our business, financial condition and results of operations could be materially adversely affected.

Our business and results of operations depend in significant part on the future performance of our Consultants, and we are subject to a variety of additional risks associated with our Consultants.

Our business and results of operations are significantly dependent upon the success of our franchise partners and Consultants. Our franchise partners and Consultants may be adversely affected by:

- declining economic conditions;
- increased competition in the IT services industry;
- changes in the IT services industry generally, including the way IT services are delivered to consumers;
- demographic trends;
- customers' budgeting constraints; and
- our reputation and consumer perception of our market position.

Our revenue comes from royalties generated by our franchise partners and Consultants. We anticipate that franchise royalties will represent a substantial part of our revenue in the future. Accordingly, we are heavily reliant on the performance of our franchise partners and Consultants in successfully operating their businesses and paying royalties to us on a timely basis. Our franchise system subjects us to a number of risks, any one of which may impact our ability to collect royalty payments from our franchise partners, may harm the goodwill associated with our franchise, and/or may materially adversely affect our business and results of operations.

Failure to support our expanding Consultant network could have a material adverse effect on our business, financial condition and results of operations.

Our growth strategy depends significantly on expanding our Consultant network, which will require the implementation of enhanced management information systems, financial controls and other systems and procedures as well as additional management, franchise support and financial resources. We may not be able to manage our expanding Consultant base effectively. Failure to provide our Consultants with adequate support and resources could materially adversely affect both our new and existing Consultants as well as cause disputes between us and our Consultants and potentially lead to material liabilities. This may also lead to fewer qualified persons seeking to become new Consultants. Any of the foregoing could materially adversely affect our business, financial condition and results of operations.

We and our Consultants rely heavily on information technology, and any material failure, weakness, interruption or breach of our security systems could prevent us from effectively operating our business.

Our and our Consultants' operations depend upon our collective ability to protect our computer equipment and systems against damage from physical theft, fire, power loss, telecommunications failure or other catastrophic events, as well as from internal and external security breaches, viruses and other disruptive problems. The failure of these systems to operate effectively, maintenance problems, upgrading or transitioning to new platforms, expanding our systems as we grow or a breach in security of these systems could result in delays in customer service and reduce efficiency in our operations. Remediation of such problems could result in significant and unplanned capital investments.

We have limited influence over the operations of our Consultants and we require their cooperation.

Our success relies in part on the financial success and cooperation of our Consultants, yet we have limited influence over their operations. Our Consultants manage their businesses independently. The revenues we realize from Consultants are largely dependent on the ability of our Consultants to grow their sales or maintain existing sales. Our Consultants may not experience sales growth or maintain existing sales, and our revenues and margins could be negatively affected as a result. If sales trends worsen for Consultants, their financial results may deteriorate, which could result in, among other things, delayed or reduced royalty payments to us.

Our success also depends on the willingness and ability of our Consultants to implement major initiatives, which may include financial investment, and to remain aligned with us on operating, promotional and capital-intensive reinvestment plans. If Consultants do not successfully operate their business in a manner consistent with our required standards, the brand's image and reputation could be harmed, which in turn could hurt our business and results of operations.

Conflicts of Interest

Certain of the directors and officers of the Corporation also serve as directors and/or officers of other companies involved in information technology. To the extent that such other companies may participate in ventures which the Corporation may participate there exists the possibility for such directors and officers to be in a position of conflict. Such directors and officers have duties and obligations under the laws of Canada to act honestly and in good faith with a view to the best interests of the Corporation and its Shareholders. Accordingly, such directors and officers will declare and abstain from voting on any matter in which such director and/or officer may have a conflict of interest.

If the Corporation is not able to continue to innovate or if the Corporation fails to adapt to changes in the IT services industry, the Corporation's business, financial condition and results of operations would be materially and adversely affected.

The IT services industry is characterized by rapidly changing technology, evolving industry standards, new service and product introductions and changing customer demands. Furthermore, the Corporation's competitors are constantly developing innovations to service options. The Corporation's failure to innovate and adapt to these changes would have a material adverse effect on the Corporation's business, financial condition and results of operations.

Security breaches and attacks against the Corporation's systems and network, and any potentially resulting breach or failure to otherwise protect confidential and proprietary information could damage the Corporation's reputation and negatively impact the Corporation's business, as well as materially and adversely affect the Corporation's financial condition and results of operations.

Although the Corporation intends to employ significant resources to develop the Corporation's security measures against breaches, the Corporation's cybersecurity measures may be unable to detect or prevent all attempts to compromise the Corporation's systems, including distributed denial-of-service attacks, viruses, malicious software, break-ins, phishing attacks, social engineering, security breaches or other attacks and similar disruptions that may jeopardize the security of information stored in and transmitted by the Corporation's systems or that the Corporation otherwise maintains. Breaches of the Corporation's cybersecurity measures could result in unauthorized access to the Corporation's systems, misappropriation of information or data, deletion or modification of user information, or a denial-of-service or other interruption to the Corporation's business operations. As techniques used to obtain unauthorized access to or sabotage systems change frequently and may not be known until launched against the Corporation, the Corporation may be unable to anticipate, or implement adequate measures to protect against, these attacks.

The Corporation may be subject to material litigation.

In connection with the Corporation's planned U.S. expansion, it may face an increasing number of claims, including those involving higher amounts of damages. The outcome of any claims, investigations and proceedings is inherently uncertain, and in any event defending against these claims could be both costly and time consuming, and could significantly divert the efforts and resources of the Corporation's management and other personnel. An adverse determination in any such litigation or proceedings could cause the Corporation to pay damages as well as legal and other costs, limit the Corporation's ability to conduct business and change the manner in which the Corporation operates.

The Corporation may need additional capital but may not be able to obtain it on favorable terms or at all.

The Corporation may require additional cash resources due to future growth and development of the Corporation's business, including any investments or acquisitions the Corporation may decide to pursue. If the Corporation's cash resources are insufficient to satisfy the Corporation's cash requirements, the Corporation may seek to issue additional equity or debt securities or obtain new or expanded credit facilities. The Corporation's ability to obtain external financing in the future is subject to a variety of uncertainties, including the Corporation's future financial condition, results of operations, cash flows and share price performance. In addition, incurring indebtedness would subject the Corporation to increased debt service obligations and could result in operating and financing covenants that would restrict the Corporation's operations. There can be no assurance that financing will be available in a timely manner or in amounts or on terms acceptable to it, or at all. Any failure to raise needed funds on terms favorable to the Corporation, or at all, could severely restrict the Corporation's liquidity as well as have a material adverse effect on the Corporation's business, financial condition and results of operations. Moreover, any issuance of equity or equity-linked securities could result in significant dilution to the Corporation's existing shareholders.

Risks Relating to the Offering

Our dual class share structure has the effect of concentrating voting control and the ability to influence corporate matters with NOS Holdings Ltd., a corporation controlled by Charles Regan, John Harbarenko and David Redekop.

Our Class B special shares have 10 votes per share and our Ordinary Voting Shares have one vote per share. NOS Holdings Ltd., the corporation controlled by our Chief Executive Officer and our founders, will hold all of our Class B special shares and will hold approximately 70% of the voting power of our outstanding voting shares following the Offering (assuming the maximum Offering, but no exercise of the Over-Allotment Option) and will therefore have significant influence over our management and affairs and over all matters requiring shareholder approval, including election of directors and significant corporate transactions. The concentrated voting control of NOS Holdings Ltd. will limit the ability of the holders of our Ordinary Voting Shares to influence corporate matters for the foreseeable future, including the election of directors as well as with respect to decisions regarding amendments of our share capital, creating and issuing additional classes of shares, making significant acquisitions, selling significant assets or parts of our business, merging with other companies and undertaking other significant transactions.

Each of our directors and officers owes a fiduciary duty to the Corporation and must act honestly and in good faith with a view to the best interests of the Corporation. However, any director and/or officer that is a shareholder, even a controlling shareholder, is entitled to vote its shares in its own interests, which may not always be in the interests of our shareholders generally. The concentration of voting power in NOS Holdings Ltd. may also have an adverse effect on the price of our Ordinary Voting Shares. NOS Holdings Ltd. may take actions that our other shareholders do not view as beneficial, which may adversely affect our results of operations and financial condition and cause the value of your investment to decline.

No Market for Securities

Although the Corporation has made application to list its Ordinary Option Shares on the CSE, there is currently no market through which any of the Corporation's securities, including the Ordinary Voting Shares and Warrants may be sold and there is no assurance that the Ordinary Voting Shares will be listed for trading on the CSE, or any other stock exchange, or if listed, will provide a liquid market for such securities. Until the Ordinary Voting Shares are listed on a stock exchange, holders of Ordinary Voting Shares may not be able to sell their shares. Even if a listing is obtained, there can be no assurance that an active public market for the Corporation's Ordinary Voting Shares will develop or be sustained after completion of the Offering. The Offering Price determined by negotiation between the Corporation and the Agent was based upon several factors, and may bear no relationship to the price that will prevail in the public market. The holding of Ordinary Voting Shares and Warrants involves a high degree of risk and should be undertaken only by investors whose financial resources are sufficient to enable them to assume such risks and who have no need for immediate liquidity in their investment. Ordinary Voting Shares and Warrants should not be purchased by persons who cannot afford the possibility of the loss of their entire investment.

Management has broad discretion to use the net proceeds from the Offering.

Management will have broad discretion concerning the use of the net proceeds of the Offering, as well as the timing of their expenditure. As a result, investors will be relying on the judgment of management for the application of the proceeds of the Offering. Management may use the net proceeds of the Offering in ways that investors may not consider desirable. The results and the effectiveness of the application of the proceeds are uncertain. If the proceeds are not applied effectively, the results of the Corporation's business and operations may suffer. See "Use of Proceeds".

The Corporation currently does not intend to pay cash dividends on its Ordinary Voting Shares.

The Corporation has not declared or paid any cash dividends on the Ordinary Voting Shares to date. The payment of dividends in the future, if any, is dependent on the Corporation's earnings, financial condition, capital requirements, business conditions, corporate law requirements and on such other factors as the Board considers appropriate. Unless and until the Corporation pays dividends, shareholders' ability to achieve a return on their investment will depend upon an appreciation in the price of the Ordinary Voting Shares.

AS A RESULT OF THESE RISK FACTORS, THE OFFERING IS SUITABLE ONLY FOR THOSE SUBSCRIBERS WHO ARE WILLING TO RELY ON THE MANAGEMENT OF THE CORPORATION AND WHO CAN AFFORD TO LOSE THEIR ENTIRE INVESTMENT IN THE UNITS.

MATERIAL CONTRACTS

The only material contracts currently in force and effect which have been entered into by the Corporation or will be entered into prior to the Closing of this Offering are:

- (a) the Agency Agreement;
- (b) the Warrant Indenture; and
- (c) the Escrow Agreement.

A copy of the material agreements may be examined by prospective Subscribers during normal business hours at the offices of Norton Rose Fulbright Canada LLP, legal counsel to the Corporation, 3700, 400 - 3rd Avenue S.W., Calgary, Alberta, Canada, T2P 4H2 during the period of distribution of the securities offered hereby.

INTERESTS OF MANAGEMENT IN MATERIAL TRANSACTIONS

Management of the Corporation is not aware of any material interest, direct or indirect, of any director or officer of the Corporation, any person beneficially owning, directly or indirectly, more than 10% of the Corporation's voting securities, or any associate or affiliate of such person in any transaction within the last financial year or in any proposed transaction which in either case has materially affected or will materially affect the Corporation.

The auditors of the Corporation are MNP LLP, Chartered Accountants, of Toronto, Ontario. MNP LLP was first appointed as auditors of the Corporation on October 9, 2015.

The Corporation's transfer agent and registrar is TSX Trust Company at its principal offices in Calgary, Alberta.

PURCHASERS' STATUTORY RIGHTS

Securities legislation in certain provinces of Canada provides Subscribers with the right to withdraw from an agreement to purchase securities. This right may be exercised within two business days after receipt or deemed receipt of a preliminary prospectus and any amendment. In several of the provinces, the legislation further provides a Subscriber with remedies for rescission or, in some jurisdictions, damages if the prospectus and any amendment contains a misrepresentation or is not delivered to the Subscriber, provided that such remedies for rescission or damages are exercised by the Subscriber within the time limit prescribed by the securities legislation of the Subscriber's province. The Subscriber should refer to any applicable provisions of the securities legislation of the Subscriber's province for the particulars of these rights or consult with a legal advisor.

In an offering of Warrants, investors are cautioned that the statutory right of action for damages for a misrepresentation contained in the prospectus is limited, in certain provincial securities legislation, to the price at which the Warrant is offered to the public under the prospectus offering. This means that, under the securities legislation of certain provinces, if the purchaser pays additional amounts upon exercise of the security, those amounts may not be recoverable under the statutory right of action for damages that applies in those provinces. The purchaser should refer to any applicable provisions of the securities legislation of the purchaser's province for the particulars of this right of action for damages or consult with a legal advisor.

Independent Auditors' Report

To the Shareholders of Nerds on Site Inc.:

We have audited the accompanying financial statements of Nerds on Site Inc., which comprise the statements of financial position as at May 31, 2017, May 31, 2016 and June 1, 2015, and the statements of loss and comprehensive loss, statement of changes in equity (deficiency), and cash flows for the years ended May 31, 2017 and 2016, and a summary of significant accounting policies and other explanatory information.

Management's Responsibility for the Financial Statements

Management is responsible for the preparation and fair presentation of these financial statements in accordance with International Financial Reporting Standards and for such internal control as management determines is necessary to enable the preparation of financial statements that are free from material misstatement, whether due to fraud or error.

Auditors' Responsibility

Our responsibility is to express an opinion on these financial statements based on our audits. We conducted our audit in accordance with Canadian generally accepted auditing standards. Those standards require that we comply with ethical requirements and plan and perform the audit to obtain reasonable assurance about whether the financial statements are free from material misstatement.

An audit involves performing procedures to obtain audit evidence about the amounts and disclosures in the financial statements. The procedures selected depend on the auditors' judgment, including the assessment of the risks of material misstatement of the financial statements, whether due to fraud or error. In making those risk assessments, the auditor considers internal control relevant to the entity's preparation and fair presentation of the financial statements in order to design audit procedures that are appropriate in the circumstances, but not for the purpose of expressing an opinion on the effectiveness of the entity's internal control. An audit also includes evaluating the appropriateness of accounting policies used and the reasonableness of accounting estimates made by management, as well as evaluating the overall presentation of the financial statements.

We believe that the audit evidence we have obtained is sufficient and appropriate to provide a basis for our audit opinion.

Opinion

In our opinion, the financial statements present fairly, in all material respects, the financial position of Nerds on Site Inc. as at May 31, 2017, May 31, 2016 and June 1, 2015, and its financial performance and its cash flows for the years ended May 31, 2017 and May 31, 2016 in accordance with International Financial Reporting Standards.

Emphasis of Matter

Without modifying our opinion, we draw attention to Note 2 to the financial statements which highlights the existence of a material uncertainty relating to conditions that cast significant doubt on Nerd on Site Inc.'s ability to continue as a going concern.

Notes to the Financial Statements

For the years ended May 31, 2017 and 2016

(in Canadian dollars)

1. Nature of operations

Nerds on Site Inc. (the "Company") was incorporated on June 26, 1996 pursuant to the Ontario Business Corporations Act and is engaged in the business of providing information technology services, hardware, software and related support agreements. The Company's head office is located at 131 Wharncliffe Road South, London, Ontario, N6J 2K4.

2. Statement of Compliance and Going concern

The Company's financial statements have been prepared in accordance with International Financial Reporting Standards ("IFRS") as issued by the International Accounting Standards Board ("IASB"). The financial statements have been prepared on a historical cost basis, except for certain financial instruments that are measured at fair value as described in the accounting policies.

These financial statements have been prepared on a going concern basis, which contemplates that the Company will be able to realize its assets and discharge its liabilities in the normal course of business. Accordingly, they do not give effect to adjustments that would be necessary should the Company be unable to continue as a going concern, and therefore be required to realize its assets and liquidate its liabilities and commitments in other than the normal course of business and at amounts different from those in the accompanying financial statements. Such adjustments could be material. It is not possible to predict whether the company will be able to raise adequate financing or to ultimately attain profit levels of operations. These conditions indicate the existence of material uncertainties that may cause significant doubt about the Company's ability to continue as a going concern. Changes in future conditions could require material write downs of the carrying values.

The Company has not yet realized profitable operations and has incurred losses to date resulting in a cumulative deficit of $256,680 as at May 31, 2017 (2016 - $235,582, June 1, 2015 - $141,069). The recoverability of the carrying value of the assets and the Company's continued existence is dependent upon the achievement of profitable operations, or the ability of the Company to raise alternative financing, if necessary. While management has been historically successful in raising the necessary capital, it cannot provide assurance that it will be able to execute on its business strategy or be successful in future financing activities. As at May 31, 2017, the Company had current assets of $534,816 (2016- $2,683,259, June 1, 2015 - $1,483,171) to cover current liabilities of $2,240,322 (2016- $2,600,527, June 1, 2015 - $1,614,518).

These financial statements were approved by the Company's board of directors on November 14, 2017.

3. Significant accounting policies (continued)

Use of estimates

The preparation of the financial statements in conformity with IFRS requires management to make estimates and assumptions that affect the amounts of assets, liabilities, revenue, costs, expenses and other comprehensive loss that are reported in the financial statements and accompanying disclosures. The estimates and associated assumptions are based on historical experience, actions that the Company may undertake in the future and on various other assumptions that are believed to be reasonable under the circumstances. Actual results may differ from these estimates.

Significant areas requiring the use of estimates and assumptions include the determination of useful lives of property and equipment, accounts receivable, valuation allowance and loans.

The estimates and underlying assumptions are reviewed on an ongoing basis. Revisions to accounting estimates are recognized in the period in which the estimate is revised if the revision affects only that period or in the period of the revision and further periods if the revision affects both current and future periods. By their nature, these estimates are subject to measurement uncertainty and the effect on the financial statements of changes in such estimates in future period may be significant.

Property and equipment

Property and equipment are carried at historical cost less accumulated depreciation and any accumulated impairment losses. Each component of an item of property and equipment with a cost that is significant in relation to the total cost of the item is depreciated separately. Maintenance and repair expenditures that do not improve or extend the life are expensed in the period incurred.

Depreciation is recognized to write off the cost or valuation of assets (other than land) less their residual values over their useful lives, using the straight-line method. The estimated useful lives, residual values and depreciation methods are reviewed at the end of each year, with the effect of any changes in estimate accounted for on a prospective basis. An item of property and equipment is derecognized upon disposal or when no future economic benefits are expected to arise from the continued use of the asset. Any gain or loss arising on the disposal or retirement of an item of property and equipment is determined as the difference between the sales proceeds and the carrying amount of the asset and is recognized in profit or loss.

Estimated useful lives for the principal asset categories are as follows:

Computer hardware	3 - 5 years
Computer software	3 years
Furniture and fixtures	3 - 5 years
Vehicles	3 - 5 years
Websites	3 years

Research and development

Research costs are charged to profit or loss in the period in which they are incurred, net of related tax credits. Development costs are charged to profit or loss in the year they are incurred, net of related tax credits, unless they meet the capitalization criteria listed below:

- the technical feasibility of completing the intangible asset so it will be available for use or sale;
- the Company's intention to complete and its ability to use or sell the asset;
- how the asset will generate future economic benefits and ;
- the availability of resources to complete the asset; and
- the ability to measure reliably of the expenditure during development.

Impairment of long-lived assets

At the end of each reporting period, the Company reviews the carrying amounts of its tangible and intangible assets to determine whether there is any indication that those assets have suffered an impairment loss. If any such indication exists, the recoverable amount of the asset is estimated to determine the extent of the impairment loss (if any). Where it is not possible to estimate the recoverable amount of an individual asset, the Company estimates the recoverable amount of the cash-generating unit to which the asset belongs. Where a reasonable and consistent basis of allocation can be identified, corporate assets are also allocated to individual cash-generating units, or otherwise they are allocated to the smallest group of cash-generating units for which a reasonable and consistent allocation basis can be identified.

Intangible assets with indefinite useful lives and intangible assets not yet available for use are tested for impairment at least annually, and whenever there is an indication that the asset may be impaired.

The recoverable amount is the higher of fair value less costs to sell and value in use. In assessing value in use, the estimated future cash flows are discounted to their present value using a pre-tax discount rate that reflects current market assessments of the time value of money and the risks specific to the asset for which the estimates of future cash flows have not been adjusted.

If the recoverable amount of an asset (or cash-generating unit) is estimated to be less than its carrying amount, the carrying amount of the asset (or cash-generating unit) is reduced to its recoverable amount. An impairment loss is recognized immediately.

If an impairment loss subsequently reverses, the carrying amount of the asset (or a cash-generating unit) is increased to the revised estimate of its recoverable amount, but only to the extent the increased carrying amount does not exceed the carrying amount that would have been determined had no impairment loss been recognized for the asset (or cash-generating unit) in prior years. A reversal of an impairment loss is recognized immediately.

Income taxes

Income tax expense consists of current and deferred tax expense. Current and deferred tax are recognized in profit or loss except to the extent that they relate to items recognized directly in equity or other comprehensive income.

Current tax

Current tax is recognized and measured at the amount expected to be recovered from or payable to the taxation authorities based on the income tax rates enacted or substantively enacted at the end of the reporting period and includes any adjustment to taxes payable in respect of previous years.

Deferred tax

Deferred tax is recognized on any temporary differences between the carrying amounts of assets and liabilities in the financial statements and the corresponding tax bases used in the computation of taxable earnings. Deferred tax assets and liabilities are measured at the tax rates that are expected to apply in the period when the asset is realized and the liability is settled. The effect of a change in the enacted or substantively enacted tax rates is recognized in profit or loss, comprehensive income or loss or in equity depending on the item to which the adjustment relates.

Deferred tax assets are recognized to the extent future recovery is probable. At the end of each reporting period, deferred tax assets are reduced to the extent that it is no longer probable that sufficient taxable earnings will be available to allow all or part of the asset to be recovered. A deferred tax asset is recognized for unused tax losses, tax credits and deductible temporary differences, to the extent that it is probable that future taxable profits will be available against which they can be utilized.

Unrecognized deferred tax assets are reviewed at each reporting date and are recorded to the extent it has become probable that future taxable profit will allow the deferred tax asset to be recovered.

Inventory

Inventory is stated at the lower of cost or net realizable value and valued on a specific identification cost basis.

Preferred shares

Preferred shares with mandatory redemption on a specific date are classified as liabilities. The dividends on these preferred shares are recognized in the statements of (loss) and comprehensive (loss) as interest expense.

Loss per share

Basic and diluted loss per share is calculated by dividing the loss for the period by the weighted average number of common shares outstanding during the period. The treasury stock method is used to calculate diluted Income (loss) per common share amounts. Under the treasury stock method, the weighted average number of common shares outstanding used for the calculation of the diluted per common share amount assumes that the proceeds to be received on the exercise of dilutive share options and warrants are used to repurchase common shares at the average market price during the year. In the Company's case, diluted loss per common share presented is the same as basic loss per common share as the Company has not issued any options or warrants.

Financial instruments

All financial instruments are initially recognized at fair value on the statements of financial position. The Company has classified each financial instrument into one of the following categories: (1) financial assets or liabilities at fair value through profit or loss ("FVTPL"), (2) loans and receivables, (3) financial assets available-for-sale, (4) financial assets held-to maturity, and (5) other financial liabilities. Subsequent measurement of financial instruments is based on their classification.

Financial assets and liabilities at FVTPL are subsequently measured at fair value with changes in those fair values recognized in the statements of (loss) and comprehensive (loss). Financial assets "available-for-sale" are subsequently measured at fair value with changes in fair value recognized in other comprehensive (loss), net of tax.

Financial assets "held-to-maturity", "loans and receivables", and "other financial liabilities" are subsequently measured at amortized cost using the effective interest method. The Company's financial assets and liabilities are recorded and measured as follows:

Financial Instruments (continued)

Asset or Liability	Category	Measurement
Cash and restricted cash	FVTPL	Fair value
Accounts receivable and due from related parties	Loans and receivables	Amortized cost
Accounts payable, accrued expenses, due to a related party, bank debt, loans and capital leases payable and preferred shares	Other liabilities	Amortized cost

The Company classifies the fair value of financial instruments according to the following hierarchy based on the amount of observable inputs used to value the instrument.

Level 1 – Quoted prices are available in active markets for identical assets or liabilities as of the reporting date. Active markets are those in which transactions occur in sufficient frequency and volume to provide pricing information on an ongoing basis.

Level 2 – Pricing inputs are other than quoted prices in active markets included in Level 1. Prices in Level 2 are either directly or indirectly observable as of the reporting date. Level 2 valuations are based on inputs, including quoted forward prices for commodities, time value and volatility factors, which can be substantially observed or corroborated in the marketplace.

Level 3 – Valuations in this level are those with inputs for the asset or liability that are not based on observable market data.

Impairment of financial assets

Financial assets, other than those at FVTPL, are assessed for indicators of impairment at each period end. Financial assets are impaired when there is objective evidence that, as a result of one or more events that occurred after the initial recognition of the financial asset, the estimated future cash flows of the investment have been impacted.

Objective evidence of impairment could include the following:

- significant financial difficulty of the issuer or counterparty;
- default or delinquency in interest or principal payments; or
- it has become probable that the borrower will enter bankruptcy or financial reorganization.

For financial assets carried at amortized cost, the amount of the impairment is the difference between the asset's carrying amount and the present value of the estimated future cash flows, discounted at the financial asset's original effective interest rate.

The carrying amount of all financial assets is directly reduced by the impairment loss. Changes in the carrying amount of the allowance account are recognized in profit or loss.

Except for available for sale ("AFS") equity instruments, if, in a subsequent period, the amount of the impairment loss decreases and the decrease relates to an event occurring after the impairment was recognized; the previously recognized impairment loss is reversed through profit or loss.

Foreign currency translation

Transactions in foreign currencies are initially translated into the functional currency using rates prevailing at the date of the transaction. Monetary assets and liabilities are translated using the exchange rates in effect at the end of the reporting period and non-monetary assets and liabilities at historical exchange rates. Revenue and expense items are translated using average exchange rates prevailing during the period. Foreign exchange gains and losses are included in profit or loss.

Revenue Recognition

The Company recognizes revenue at the time significant risk and rewards of ownership have been transferred to the customer or the services have been performed, the price is fixed or determinable, collectability is reasonably assured and costs incurred can be measured reliably. Amounts invoiced to customers, primarily deposits that do not meet the revenue recognition criteria are considered 'deferred' and are included with the company's current liabilities for reporting purposes.

The Company's revenue for the years ended May 31, 2017 and 2016 were principally derived from the following sources:

- Service fees charged for consulting services performed by the Company's IT Consultants under written service contracts with customers. The service contracts the Company enters into, generally fall into three specific categories: time and materials, fixed-price and prepaid service agreements.
- Sale of off the shelf software, hardware and related support which are specifically charged on the Company's invoices. Software, hardware and related service are part of what the Company provides to small and medium size enterprises when providing consulting. Software, hardware and related service items are priced and billed separately from IT service charges.
- The Company's customers may also be charged miscellaneous fees, including software licensing fees, shipping fees, cloud storage fees, web hosting fees and fees for other miscellaneous services.

Revenue is recorded after the recognition criteria mentioned above have been met.

Service fees for consulting services

When a customer enters into a time and materials, fixed-price or a prepaid service contract, the Company recognizes revenue in accordance with the Company's evaluation of the deliverables in each contract. If the deliverables represent separate units of accounting, the Company then measures and allocates the consideration from the arrangement to the separate units, based on reliable evidence of fair value for each deliverable. Units of accounting from deliverables include specific objectives delineated in the service contract.

Revenue under time and materials contracts is recognized as services are rendered and billed at contractually agreed upon rates. Most contracts are short in duration and revenue recognized on delivery.

If the Company's initial estimates of the resources required or the scope of work to be performed on a fixed-price contract are inaccurate, or the Company does not manage the project properly within the planned time period, a provision for estimated losses on incomplete projects is made. Any known or probable losses on projects are charged to operations in the period in which such losses are determined. Management reviews the estimated total direct costs on each contract to determine if the estimated amounts are accurate, and estimates are adjusted as needed in the period revised estimates are made. No losses were recognized on fixed-price contracts during the years ended May 31, 2017 and 2016.

The Company also performs services on a periodic retainer basis under infrastructure service contracts, which include monthly web hosting and support services. Revenue under periodic retainer-based contracts is recognized rateably over the contract period, as outlined within the respective contract. In the event additional services are required, above the minimum retained or contracted amount, then such services are billed on a time and materials basis. Customer prepayments, even if non-refundable, are deferred (classified as deferred revenue) and recognized over future periods as services are performed.

Restricted cash

In connection with the sale of Series A preferred and common share issuance on January 27, 2015, the Company has segregated the proceeds from this transaction pursuant to agreement that $1,000,000 of the funds are restricted for the short-term needs of the Company in 2017 while the rest of the funds may be used for accounting, auditing, legal, consulting and other costs directly related to gaining a listing.

Future accounting pronouncements

Standards issued but not yet effective up to the date of issuance of these financial statements are listed below. This list is of standards and interpretations issued that the Company reasonably expects to be applicable at a future date. The Company intends to adopt those standards when they become effective.

Amendments to IFRS 7, Financial Instruments: Disclosures ("IFRS 7"). The Company will be required to adopt amendments to IFRS 7, requiring increased disclosure regarding derecognition of financial assets and the continuing involvement accounting for annual periods beginning on or after December 1, 2016. Management is currently evaluating the potential impact, if any, that the adoption of IFRS 7 will have on the Company's financial statements.

IFRS 9, Financial Instruments, ("IFRS 9") was issued by the IASB in October 2010 and will replace IAS 39, Financial Instruments: Recognition and Measurement ("IAS 39"). IFRS 9 uses a single approach to determine whether a financial asset is measured at amortized cost or fair value, replacing the multiple rules in IAS 39. The approach in IFRS 9 is based on how an entity manages its financial instruments in the context of its business model and the contractual cash flow characteristics of the financial assets. Most of the requirements in IAS 39 for classification and measurement of financial liabilities were carried forward unchanged to IFRS 9. The new standard also requires a single impairment method to be used, replacing the multiple impairment methods in IAS 39. IFRS 9 will be effective as at January 1, 2018. Management is currently evaluating the potential impact, if any, that the adoption of IFRS 9 will have on the Company's financial statements.

IFRS 15, Revenue from Contracts and Customers (“IFRS 15”) was issued by the IASB on May 28, 2014, and will replace IAS 18, revenue, IAS 11, construction contracts, and related interpretations on revenue. IFRS 15 sets out the requirements for recognizing revenue that apply to all contracts with customers, except for contracts that are within the scope of the standards on leases, insurance contracts and financial instruments. IFRS 15 uses a control based approach to recognize revenue which is a change from the risk and reward approach under the current standard. Companies can elect to use either a full or modified retrospective approach when adopting this standard and it is effective for annual periods beginning on or after January 1, 2018. Management is currently evaluating the potential impact, if any, that the adoption of IFRS 15 will have on the Company’s financial statements.

IFRS 16, Leases (“IFRS 16”) was issued by the IASB on January 13, 2016. The Company will be required to adopt IFRS 16 in its financial statements for the annual period beginning on December 1, 2019. The new standard introduces a single lessee accounting model and requires a lessee to recognize assets and liabilities for all leases with a term of more than 12 months, unless the underlying asset is of low value. A lessee is required to recognize a right-of-use asset representing its right to use the underlying asset and a lease liability representing its obligation to make lease payments. This standard substantially carries forward the lessor accounting requirements of IAS 17, while requiring enhanced disclosures to be provided by lessors. Management is currently evaluating the potential impact, if any, that the adoption of IFRS 16 will have on the Company’s financial statements.

4. Critical accounting judgments and key sources of estimation uncertainty

The preparation of financial statements requires management to make judgments, estimates and assumptions that affect the application of policies and reported amounts of assets and liabilities, and revenue and expenses. The estimates and associated assumptions are based on historical experience and various other factors that are believed to be reasonable under the circumstances, the results of which form the basis of making the judgments about carrying values of assets and liabilities that are not readily apparent from other sources. Actual results may differ from these estimates.

The estimates and underlying assumptions are reviewed on an ongoing basis. Revisions to accounting estimates are recognized in the period in which the estimate is revised if the revision affects only that period or in the period of the revision and further periods if the review affects both current and future periods.

Critical areas of estimation and judgements in applying accounting policies include the following:

Going concern

These financial statements have been prepared in accordance with IFRS on a going concern basis, which assumes the realization of assets and discharge of liabilities in the normal course of business within the foreseeable future. Management uses judgment in determining assumptions for cash flow projections, such as anticipated financing, anticipated sales and future commitments to assess the Company’s ability to continue as a going concern. A critical judgment is that the Company continues to raise funds going forward and satisfy their obligations as they become due.

4. Critical accounting judgments and key sources of estimation uncertainty (continued)

Useful lives of property and equipment

As described in Note 3, the Company reviews the estimated useful lives of property and equipment with definite useful lives at the end of each year and assesses whether the useful lives of certain items should be shortened or extended, due to various factors including technology, competition and revised service offerings. During the year ended May 31, 2017 and May 31, 2016, the Company was not required to adjust the useful lives of any assets based on the factors described above.

Deferred income taxes

The calculation of deferred income taxes is based on assumptions which are subject to uncertainty as to timing and which tax rates are expected to apply when temporary differences reverse. Deferred tax recorded is also subject to uncertainty regarding the magnitude of non-capital losses available for carry forward and of the balances in various tax pools. By their nature, these estimates are subject to measurement uncertainty, and the effect on the financial statements from changes in such estimates in future period could be material. Deferred tax assets are recognized to the extent that it is probable that they will be able to be utilized against future taxable income. Deferred tax assets are reviewed at each statement of financial position date and adjusted to the extent that it is no longer probable that the related tax benefit will be realized.

Accounts Receivable

Receivables are stated net of allowance for doubtful accounts of $nil, $nil and $273,000 for May 31, 2017, 2016 and June 1, 2015, respectively. The Company estimates an allowance based on experience with its service providers and judgment as to the likelihood of their ultimate payment. The Company also consider collection experience and make estimates regarding collectability based on trends in the customers' aging.

5. Accounts receivable

Accounts receivable consist of amounts due from customers receiving IT consulting services and equipment. Total net accounts receivable amounted to $303,786, $381,736 and $336,791 at May 31, 2017, 2016 and June 1, 2015, respectively. Allowances for bad debts of $nil, $nil and $273,000 were recorded and recognized as at May 31, 2017, May 31, 2016 and June 1, 2015, respectively.

The Company monitors all accounts receivable and transactions on a monthly basis to ensure collectability and the adequacy of loss provisions. Considerations include payment history, business volume history, financial statements of customers, projections of customers and other standard credit review documentation.

6. Inventory

The Company had $59,166, $64,937 and $29,856 of finished goods inventory purchased for resale as at May 31, 2017, May 31, 2016, and June 1, 2015 respectively. The value of the inventory is equivalent to lower of cost or market value as of the reporting dates above.

The shares are redeemable any time by the shareholder, with 30 days-notice, starting from June 30, 2016. The Class A Preferred shares are not convertible but do have priority in event of liquidation. 15. Financial instruments and risk management

Risk management

In the normal course of its business, the Company is exposed to a number of financial risks that can affect its operating performance. These risks, and the actions taken to manage them, are as noted below.

Interest rate

Interest rate risk is the risk that the value of a financial instrument might be adversely affected by a change in interest rates. The Company does not believe that the results of operations or cash flows would be affected to any significant degree by a sudden change in market interest rates, relative to interest rates on cash and cash equivalents and bank debt due to the short-term nature of these balances and the loans and capital leases payable due to the Company's current borrowing rate does not materially differ from market rates for similar bank borrowings.

Credit risk

Credit risk is the risk of loss associated with the counterparty's inability to fulfill its payment obligations. For financial assets, this is typically the gross carrying amount, net of any amounts offset and any impairment losses. In the normal course of business, the Company's trade accounts receivable are potentially exposed to credit risk from its customers. To mitigate this risk the Company provides an allowance for doubtful accounts equal to the estimated losses expected to be incurred in the collection of accounts receivable.

Currency risk

The Company's functional currency and its reporting currencies are both in Canadian dollars. The Company has negligible transactions in currencies other than Canadian dollars and as such has limited exposure to risk of currency gains or losses.

Liquidity risk

Liquidity risk is the risk that the Company will encounter difficulty raising liquid funds to meet commitments as they fall due. In meeting its liquidity requirements, the Company closely monitors its forecasted cash requirements with expected cash drawdown.

The Company had no current commitment for capital expenditures as at May 31, 2017. Accounts payables, accrued liabilities, due to a related party and bank debt are due within the next 12 months. Dividends on preferred shares paid quarterly beginning June 30, 2016 (see Note 10). Notes to the condensed interim financial statements

(in Canadian dollars)

(Unaudited)

1. Nature of operations

Nerds on Site Inc. (the "Company") was incorporated on June 26, 1996 pursuant to the Ontario Business Corporations Act and is engaged in the business of providing information technology services, hardware, software and related support agreements. The Company's head office is located at 131 Wharncliffe Road South, London, Ontario, N6J 2K4.

2. Statement of Compliance and Going concern

These condensed interim financial statements have been prepared in accordance with IAS 34 Interim Financial Reporting. They do not include all the information required for a complete set of IFRS financial statements. However, selected explanatory notes are included to explain events and transactions that are significant to an understanding of the changes in the Company's financial position and performance since the last audited financial statements as at and for the year ended May 31, 2017.

The Company's condensed unaudited interim financial statements have been prepared in accordance with International Financial Reporting Standards ("IFRS") as issued by the International Accounting Standards Board ("IASB"). The financial statements have been prepared on a historical cost basis, except for certain financial instruments that are measured at fair value as described in the accounting policies.

These condensed unaudited interim financial statements have been prepared on a going concern basis, which contemplates that the Company will be able to realize its assets and discharge its liabilities in the normal course of business. Accordingly, they do not give effect to adjustments that would be necessary should the Company be unable to continue as a going concern, and therefore be required to realize its assets and liquidate its liabilities and commitments in other than the normal course of business and at amounts different from those in the accompanying condensed unaudited interim financial statements. Such adjustments could be material. It is not possible to predict whether the company will be able to raise adequate financing or to ultimately attain profit levels of operations. These conditions indicate the existence of material uncertainties that may cause significant doubt about the Company's ability to continue as a going concern. Changes in future conditions could require material write downs of the carrying values.

The Company has incurred losses to date resulting in a cumulative deficit of $817,907 as at November 30, 2017 (May 31, 2017 – $256,680). The recoverability of the carrying value of the assets and the Company's continued existence is dependent upon the achievement of profitable operations, or the ability of the Company to raise alternative financing, if necessary. While management has been historically successful in raising the necessary capital, it cannot provide assurance that it will be able to execute on its business strategy or be successful in future financing activities. As at November 30, 2017, the Company had current assets of $2,680,573 (May 31, 2017 - $534,816) to cover current liabilities of $5,103,466 (May 31, 2017 – $2,240,322).

These condensed interim financial statements were authorized for issue by the Board of Directors on March 16, 2018.

The policies applied in these condensed interim financial statements follow the same accounting policies and methods of application as our most recent annual financial statements. Accordingly, these should be read in conjunction with our audited financial statements for the year ended May 31, 2017.

These condensed interim financial statements are presented in Canadian dollars, which is also the functional currency of the Company. All financial information is expressed in Canadian dollars unless otherwise stated.

3. Significant accounting policies

Use of estimates

The preparation of the financial statements in conformity with IFRS requires management to make estimates and assumptions that affect the amounts of assets, liabilities, revenue, costs, expenses and other comprehensive loss that are reported in the financial statements and accompanying disclosures. The estimates and associated assumptions are based on historical experience, actions that the Company may undertake in the future and on various other assumptions that are believed to be reasonable under the circumstances. Actual results may differ from these estimates.

Significant areas requiring the use of estimates and assumptions include the determination of useful lives of property and equipment, accounts receivable, valuation allowance and loans.

The estimates and underlying assumptions are reviewed on an ongoing basis. Revisions to accounting estimates are recognized in the period in which the estimate is revised if the revision affects only that period or in the period of the revision and further periods if the revision affects both current and future periods. By their nature, these estimates are subject to measurement uncertainty and the effect on the financial statements of changes in such estimates in future period may be significant.

Basis of measurement

The financial statements have been prepared on the historical cost basis except as otherwise noted.

Preferred shares

Preferred shares with mandatory redemption on a specific date are classified as liabilities. The dividends on these preferred shares are recognized in the condensed interim statements of income (loss) and comprehensive income (loss) as interest expense.

Impairment of financial assets

Financial assets, other than those at FVTPL, are assessed for indicators of impairment at each period end. Financial assets are impaired when there is objective evidence that, as a result of one or more events that occurred after the initial recognition of the financial asset, the estimated future cash flows of the investment have been impacted.

Objective evidence of impairment could include the following:

- significant financial difficulty of the issuer or counterparty;
- default or delinquency in interest or principal payments; or
- it has become probable that the borrower will enter bankruptcy or financial reorganization.

For financial assets carried at amortized cost, the amount of the impairment is the difference between the asset's carrying amount and the present value of the estimated future cash flows, discounted at the financial asset's original effective interest rate.

The carrying amount of all financial assets is directly reduced by the impairment loss. Changes in the carrying amount of the allowance account are recognized in profit or loss.

Nerds on Site Inc.

Notes to the condensed interim financial statements

(in Canadian dollars)

3. Significant accounting policies (continued)

Except for available for sale (“AFS”) equity instruments, if, in a subsequent period, the amount of the impairment loss decreases, and the decrease relates to an event occurring after the impairment was recognized; the previously recognized impairment loss is reversed through profit or loss.

On the date of impairment reversal, the carrying amount of the financial asset cannot exceed its amortized cost had impairment not been recognized.

Revenue Recognition

The Company recognizes revenue at the time significant risk and rewards of ownership have been transferred to the customer or the services have been performed, the price is fixed or determinable, collectability is reasonably assured, and costs incurred can be measured reliably. Amounts invoiced to customers, primarily deposits that do not meet the revenue recognition criteria are considered ‘deferred’ and are included with the company’s current liabilities for reporting purposes.

The Company’s revenue for the periods ended November 30, 2017 and 2016 were principally derived from the following sources:

- Service fees charged for consulting services performed by the Company’s IT Consultants under written service contracts with customers. The service contracts the Company enters into, generally fall into three specific categories: time and materials, fixed-price and prepaid service agreements.
- Sale of off the shelf software, hardware and related support which are specifically charged on the Company’s invoices. Software, hardware and related service are part of what the Company provides to small and medium size enterprises when providing consulting. Software, hardware and related service items are priced and billed separately from IT service charges.
- The Company’s customers may also be charged miscellaneous fees, including software licensing fees, shipping fees, cloud storage fees, web hosting fees and fees for other miscellaneous services.

Revenue is recorded after the recognition criteria mentioned above have been met.

Service fees for consulting services

When a customer enters into a time and materials, fixed-price or a prepaid service contract, the Company recognizes revenue in accordance with the Company’s evaluation of the deliverables in each contract. If the deliverables represent separate units of accounting, the Company then measures and allocates the consideration from the arrangement to the separate units, based on reliable evidence of fair value for each deliverable. Units of accounting from deliverables include specific objectives delineated in the service contract.

Revenue under time and materials contracts is recognized as services are rendered and billed at contractually agreed upon rates. Most contracts are short in duration and revenue recognized on delivery.

If the Company’s initial estimates of the resources required or the scope of work to be performed on a fixed-price contract are inaccurate, or the Company does not manage the project properly within the planned time period, a provision for estimated losses on incomplete projects is made. Any known or probable losses on projects are charged to operations in the period in which such losses are determined. Management reviews the estimated total direct costs on each contract to determine if the estimated amounts are accurate, and estimates are adjusted as needed in the period revised estimates are made. No losses were recognized on fixed-price contracts during the periods ended November 30, 2017 and 2016.

3. Significant accounting policies (continued)

The Company also performs services on a periodic retainer basis under infrastructure service contracts, which include monthly web hosting and support services. Revenue under periodic retainer-based contracts is recognized rateably over the contract period, as outlined within the respective contract. In the event additional services are required, above the minimum retained or contracted amount, then such services are billed on a time and materials basis. Customer prepayments, even if non-refundable, are deferred (classified as deferred revenue) and recognized over future periods as services are performed.

Restricted cash

In connection with the sale of Series A preferred and common share issuance on January 27, 2015, the Company has segregated the proceeds from this transaction pursuant to agreement that $1,000,000 of the funds are restricted for the short-term needs of the Company in 2017 while the rest of the funds may be used for accounting, auditing, legal, consulting and other costs directly related to gaining a listing.

4. Accounts receivable

Accounts receivable consist of amounts due from customers receiving IT consulting services and equipment. Total net accounts receivable amounted to $140,192 and $303,786 at November 30, 2017 and May 31, 2017 respectively. Allowances for bad debts of $79,735 and $nil were recorded and recognized as at November 30, 2017 and May 31, 2017 respectively.

The Company monitors all accounts receivable and transactions on a monthly basis to ensure collectability and the adequacy of loss provisions. Considerations include payment history, business volume history, financial statements of customers, projections of customers and other standard credit review documentation.

8. Preferred shares liability and Common stock

On June 25, 1996, the Company issued 1,550 founder shares to three founding stockholders. Effective with a stock split on January 27, 2015 of 5,031 to 1, the 1,550 shares were adjusted to 7,800,000 common shares outstanding. Effective with stock split on October 3, 2017, these 7,800,000 common shares outstanding were further adjusted to 39,000,000 common shares outstanding. Historical amounts have been adjusted to reflect the stock split.

On February 20, 2013, the Company issued, on a split adjusted basis, 1,199,000 shares of common stock to two consultants in exchange for consulting services to execute certain capital market transactions. Effective with stock split on October 3, 2017, these 1,199,000 common shares outstanding are adjusted to 5,995,000 common shares outstanding. The shares were valued based on the value of services provided and the Company recorded a charge of $191,859 recorded over three years (2013 - 2015) based on term of services provided.

On January 27, 2015, the Company issued 1,000,000 shares of Class B Preferred shares to the three founding shareholders. Each Class B Preferred share is entitled to 10 votes per share. Proceeds to the Company were $nil. Class B Shares were issued to provide the founders with 10 votes per share, do not entitle the holders to interest, dividends, and do not provide assets rights in the event of a liquidation of the Company.

On January 27, 2015, the Company issued 1,000,000 Class A Preferred shares and 1,000,000 Common shares to a certain investor in exchange for $1,000,000. Effective with stock split on October 3, 2017, these 1,000,000 common shares outstanding are adjusted to 5,000,000 common shares outstanding. The Class A shares are non-voting, and entitle the holder to cumulative dividends at a rate of 7.25% per year, paid quarterly, beginning June 30, 2016 and are redeemable upon given notice at any time, the whole or from time to time any part of the outstanding shares, by the Company from the date of issuance in cash for $1 per share together with an amount equal to all dividends accrued and remaining unpaid. The shares are redeemable any time by the shareholder, with 30 days-notice, starting from June 30, 2016. The Class A Preferred shares are not convertible but do have priority in event of liquidation. Preferred shares do not meet the criteria for equity classification due to the cash redemption feature and have therefore been recorded as a liability. During the three and six- month ended November 30, 2017 and year ended May 30, 2017, the Company redeemed $30,000 and $500,000 of preferred shares respectively.

On November 8, 2017, the Company issued 100,000 common shares at $0.25 per share for a total cash consideration of $25,000. In addition, on November 8, 2017, $50,000 of debt was settled by issuance of 200,000 common shares at $0.25 per share.

As at November 30, 2017 and May 31, 2017, the Company had the following number of shares outstanding post- split adjustment:

Description	November 30, 2017	May 31, 2017

On October 27, 2017, the Company completed the issuance of an aggregate of $2,140,500 principal amount of unsecured convertible debentures at a price of $1,000 per convertible debenture. On November 20, 2017, the Company completed the issuance of an additional $720,000 principal amount of unsecured convertible debentures due November 20, 2018 at a price of $1,000 per convertible debenture (collectively the “debentures”). The debentures are unsecured convertible debentures and bear simple interest at a rate of 10% per annum from the date of issue.

The Company has the option to prepay the principal amount of a Debenture, in whole or in part, in addition to all accrued but unpaid interest accumulated to the date of such prepayment subject to providing the debenture holder with thirty (30) days prior written notice in respect of such prepayment.

The holder of the debenture may elect to convert, in whole or in part, the principal amount of the debenture together with any accrued but unpaid interest accumulated thereon as of the date of such conversion into units of the Company (the “Units”) at a deemed conversion price (the Conversion Price) equal to the lesser of: (i) $0.25 per Unit; or (ii) the initial public offering price of a common share in the capital of the Corporation (each a Common Share) on the Canadian Securities Exchange (or any other Canadian exchange on which the Common Shares may be listed).

The Company may at any time and on written notice to the Purchaser require the conversion of the debenture (inclusive of the principal amount together with any accrued but unpaid interest accumulated thereon as of the date of such required conversion) into Units at the conversion price of $0.25 per Unit in the event that, during the term of the Debenture, the closing price of a common share in the capital of the Corporation (each a Common Share) on the Canadian Securities Exchange (or any other Canadian exchange on which the Common Shares may be listed) equals or exceeds $0.50 per Common Share for at least five (5) consecutive trading days.

The Company paid the following compensation for the initial raise of $2,140,500 on October 27, 2017 and the additional raise of $720,000 on November 20, 2017 to the agents:

- Total cash compensation for of $140,360 plus issuance of 561,440 broker warrants. Each broker warrant is exercisable to purchase one additional common share of the Issuer at a price of $0.25 for a period of 12 months expiring October 27, 2018.

The Company evaluated the terms and conditions of the convertible debentures and noted that the conversion feature did not meet the 'fixed for fixed' criteria for equity classification. The Company has therefore accounted for the conversion feature as a derivative financial liability to be revalued at each reporting period.

The fair value of the conversion feature was estimated using the Black-Scholes option pricing model to determine the fair value of conversion feature using the following assumptions:

	October 27, 2017	November 20, 2017

Expected life	1 year	1 year

Unit conversion price	$0.25	$0.25

Upon issuance, the Company valued the conversion feature of the convertible debt instrument as a derivative liability with the residual amount of proceeds being recognized as debt.

	$	$	$
	27-Oct-17	20-Nov-17	Total
Total proceeds from convertible debt offering	2,140,500	720,000	2,860,500

Value of host debt instrument upon issuance	1,773,887	596,682	2,370,569

The broker warrants issued by the Company were also estimated using the Black-Scholes option pricing model to determine the fair value of the broker warrants using the following assumptions:

APPENDIX B
MANAGEMENT'S DISCUSSION & ANALYSIS FOR THE YEAR ENDED MAY 31, 2017

NERDS ON SITE INC.

MANAGEMENT'S DISCUSSION AND ANALYSIS

FOR THE YEAR ENDED May 31, 2017

The following Management Discussion and Analysis ("MD&A") of the financial condition and results of Nerds on Site Inc. (the "Company") is prepared as of March 16, 2018. In this MD&A only, references to the "Company", "NOS", "we", "us" or "our" refer to Nerds on Site Inc. This MD&A should be read in conjunction with our audited financial statements for the year ended May 31, 2017. The MD&A contain certain forward-looking information that involves risks and uncertainties, including but not limited to, those described in the "Risk Factors" section of this prospectus.

See "Forward-Looking Information" and "Risk Factors" for a discussion of the uncertainties, risks and assumptions associated with these statements. Actual results may differ materially from those indicated or underlying forward-looking information because of various factors, including those described in "Risk Factors" and elsewhere in this MD&A.

Basis of Presentation

Our audited financial statements have been prepared in accordance with IFRS and are presented in Canadian dollars unless otherwise indicated. We manage our business based on one operating and reportable segment.

All references in this MD&A to "Fiscal 2017" are to our fiscal year ended May 31, 2017, references to "Fiscal 2016" are to our fiscal year ended May 31, 2016, and references to "Fiscal 2015" are to our fiscal year ended May 31, 2015. All references to IFRS opening statement of financial position are to the statement of financial position as at June 1, 2015.

Non-IFRS Financial Measures

This MD&A may refer to certain non-IFRS measures. These measures are not recognized measures under IFRS, do not have a standardized meaning prescribed by IFRS and therefore may not be comparable to similar measures presented by other companies. Rather, these measures are provided as additional information to complement those IFRS measures by providing further understanding of our results of operations from management's perspective. Accordingly, these measures should not be considered in isolation nor as a substitute for analysis of our financial information reported under IFRS. We use "days sales outstanding" as a non-IFRS measure of outstanding receivables – the amount of receivables divided by annual sales divided by 365.

Adjusted EBITDA does not have a uniform definition. Our definition will likely differ from the definitions used by other companies, including peer companies, and therefore comparability may be limited. Thus, our non-IFRS measure of Adjusted EBITDA should be considered in addition to, not as a substitute for, or in isolation from, measures prepared in accordance with IFRS.

Overview

The Company was incorporated on June 26, 1996 pursuant to the Ontario Business Corporations Act and is engaged in the business of providing information technology services, hardware, software and related support agreements.

We are an IT service/managed service provider, we operate a network of 125 sub-contractors ("Nerds") servicing on average 11,000 customers per year in Canada, with over 130,000 customers serviced since the inception. Our centralized ERP system IAMANERD.COM ("IAMANERD") is online operating system that manages day to day operations of our Nerds.

In 2017, the Company was operating in the usual business mode without any material increase in clients lists, number of Nerds or other material performance data. With the planned expansion into United States, the Company focused on business planning, negotiations and discussion with funding providers on different funding methods to fund the expansion in United States. Revenue decreased from $9.016 Million to $8.667 Million.

IAMANERD contains marketing hub, inventory processing, client processing tools and database, Nerd to Nerd communication medium, credit card payment tools, central ordering, purchasing and invoicing, continuing education hub called University of NERDology. This system has been developed by the Company over the last 10 years, and is being developed continuously.

Thanks to IAMANERD our Nerds spend most of their time servicing clients. The administration/inventory and other day-to-day admin is done by the system and our admin office that oversees the operation. Our Canadian Nerds are motivated proprietors, who operate under an agreement with the Company, wearing our branded bright red T-shirts and driving bright red fully branded cars, mostly VW Beetles (“NerdMobiles”). Our business model was created to be as flexible for expansion as possible, with low overhead costs. Our Nerds are compensated on per deal or per contract basis, on various revenue splits. Revenue splits range from 37% of the contract revenue to Nerd to 50% of the contract revenue to Nerd. In addition to revenue splits our Nerds receive various volume incentives.

We are very protective of the Nerd Brand. Keyword Nerd, Nerd-mobile, and other combinations are either trademarked or trademark application filed in 12 countries. We continue to develop and monitor our trademark portfolio on monthly and quarterly basis.

We have exclusive software sales agreements with several related companies providing SaaS products. Those products include TimeWellScheduled™, DNS Thingy™, MYbusinessOS™. From each software sale we receive 20% royalty, which is split based on our standard splits with Nerds.

In 2018 the focus is to penetrate and roll out our business in the USA. We have a roll out strategy that is in line with historic roll out that was exercised in Canada in multiple cities. The strategy is based on launching in smaller cities and rippling out to neighboring major metropolitan areas. With a smaller number of Nerds and NerdMobiles we generate higher levels of brand recognition and penetration with our marketing tactics of parading in downtown, commercial and industrial sectors. Our US Nerds will be franchisees managed by the Company in the beginning of the roll out. Once business volume is established in the smaller cities close to our historic average, we will attract area developers – 2nd tier franchisees - to manage, lead and grow individual areas. Pricing of each area developer franchise is based on the number of listed businesses listed by the USA Postal site, targeted at $5-$7 per in the identified zip codes being purchased.

Our major challenges in 2018 will be effectively recruiting new Nerds and arranging a cost-efficient lease/financing program in US to acquire NerdMobiles. Flexibility on this front enables the transfer of financing and/or lease arrangements from the Company to each Nerd franchisee. A proven and time-tested series of marketing tactics should enable the initiation of cash flow from new operations within 60-90 days.

Key Performance Indicators

Key performance indicators that we use to manage our business and evaluate our financial results and operating performance include: recurring revenue, total revenue, number of customers and expenses. We evaluate our performance on these metrics by comparing our actual results to management budgets, forecasts and prior period performance.

Recurring revenue and retention rates

Our consulting service customers generally enter into agreements, for use of our services. Most of these agreements include provisions by which they renew following the initial term.

Our consulting services model results in a high proportion of recurring revenue. The power of the consulting service model is only fully realized when a vendor has high retention rates. Our emphasis on recurring revenue has resulted in growth and in revenue maintenance over the past years.

The recurring nature of our revenue provides high visibility into future performance, and upfront payments result in cash flow generation in advance of revenue recognition. However, this also means that agreements with new customers or agreements with existing customers purchasing additional services in a quarter may not contribute significantly to current quarter revenue. As an example, a new customer who enters into an agreement on the last day of a quarter will have no impact on the revenue recognized in that quarter.

Number of customers

We believe that our ability to expand our customer base is an indicator of our market penetration and the growth of our business. We define customers as the number of independent entities that are separately billed.

Significant Factors Affecting Results of Operations

Our results of operations are influenced by a variety of factors, including:

Revenue

The Company recognizes revenue at the time significant risk and rewards of ownership have been transferred to the customer or the services have been performed, the price is fixed or determinable, collectability is reasonably assured, and costs incurred can be measured reliably. Amounts invoiced to customers, primarily deposits that do not meet the revenue recognition criteria are considered 'deferred' and are included with the Company's current liabilities for reporting purposes.

The Company's revenues were principally derived from the following sources:

Service fees charged for consulting services performed by the Company's IT Consultants under written service contracts with customers. The service contracts the Company enters into, generally fall into three specific categories: time and materials, fixed-price and prepaid service agreements.

Sale of off the shelf software, hardware and related support which are specifically charged on the Company's invoices. Software, hardware and related service are part of what the Company provides to small and medium size enterprises when providing consulting. Software, hardware and related service items are priced and billed separately from IT service charges.

The Company's customers may also be charged miscellaneous fees, including software licensing fees, shipping fees, cloud storage fees, web hosting fees and fees for other miscellaneous services.

Cost of Revenue

Cost of revenue include both subcontract costs for providing information technology and related services and associated hardware and software costs. The Company provides mobile IT support for various businesses including PC set up, network installation and support & tailored software services. The Company uses a specially trained network of technically proficient IT consultants to help clients on site by providing effective, consistent and customized IT solutions.

Selling, general and administrative expenses

Selling, general and administrative expenses consist primarily of salaries and related expenses for our sales, administrative and marketing staff, including management services, data centre and call centre costs, professional and legal costs and banking services. These costs also include advertising, events, corporate communications, brand building and product marketing activities. We plan to continue to invest in sales and marketing by expanding our domestic and international selling and marketing activities, building brand awareness and sponsoring additional marketing events. We expect that in the future, sales and marketing expenses will increase with increase in revenue in absolute dollars and we incur additional employee-related costs and professional fees related to the growth of our business and international expansion.

Our presentation and functional currency is Canadian dollars and all the amounts in this management discussion and analysis are in Canadian dollars unless otherwise indicated. We derive most of our revenue from customers who pay in Canadian dollars. Our head office and most of our employees are in Ontario, Canada, and as such a significant amount of our expenses are paid in Canadian dollars. We have negligible transactions in currencies other than Canadian dollars and as such have limited exposure to risk of currency gain or loss.

Discussion of Operations-Years ended May 31, 2017, and 2016

Revenue

The Company has a single reportable segment for mobile IT consulting services. We recorded total revenue of $8.667 Million in Fiscal 2017 as compared to $9.016 Million for Fiscal 2016. Total revenue dropped marginally by 4% in Fiscal 2017 when compared to Fiscal 2016.

In 2017, the Company was focused on business planning, negotiations and discussion with funding providers on different funding methods to fund the expansion in United States without any material increase in clients lists, number of Nerds or other material performance data.

Gross Profit

The Company recorded gross profit of $2.515 Million in Fiscal 2017 as compared to $2.926 Million in Fiscal 2016.

	2017	2016	2016 to 2017 % change
	Year ended May 31, (thousands of dollars)
Total Revenue	8,667	9,016	(4) %
Gross Margin	2,515	2,926	(14) %
Gross Margin %	29%	32 %

Our overall gross margin as a percentage of revenue decreased by 3% between fiscal years 2017 and 2016. Our reduced margin to 29% is primarily due to our revenue mix between sale of software, hardware consulting services. The Company anticipates its gross margin percentage to advance in the near term as investment in our growth of our business model to the United States will likely provide added benefits from economies of scale.

Selling, general and administrative expenses

	2017	2016	2016 to 2017 % change
	Year ended May 31, (thousands of dollars)
Total Expense	2,422	2,942	(18) %
As a percentage of revenue	28%	33 %

Selling, general and administrative expenses have seen year over year reduction from 2016 to 2017, with decrease of $0.5 Million or 18% from 2016 to 2017. The main driver for the reduction in spending has been the focus of management to reduce costs which include reduction in salaries and benefits to key management personnel, reduction in travel and advertisement costs.

Operating income (loss)	81	(27)	n/a

Our operating income was $81 Thousand in fiscal 2017 as compared to operating loss of $ (27) Thousand in fiscal 2016. The operating profit is primarily the result of the Company regulating its operating costs and reducing or eliminating uneconomical costs.

Our net loss was $(21) Thousand in fiscal 2017 as compared to net loss of $(95) Thousand in fiscal 2016. Beyond the impact of operating income (loss) as noted above, the other drivers for our annual net losses is the interest expense for $78 Thousand and $67 Thousand for 2017 and 2016 respectively and dividend payable for $24 Thousand in 2017 on preferred shares classified as a liability in the statement of financial position (refer to note 10 to the audited financial statements).

Adjusted EBITDA

Limitations on the use of non-IFRS financial measures

Adjusted EBITDA does not have a uniform definition. Our definition will likely differ from the definitions used by other companies, including peer companies, and therefore comparability may be limited. Thus, our non-IFRS measure of Adjusted EBITDA should be considered in addition to, not as a substitute for, or in isolation from, measures prepared in accordance with IFRS.

There are inherent limitations with non-IFRS measures; we compensate for these limitations by reconciling Adjusted EBITDA to the most comparable IFRS financial measure. Management encourages investors and others to review our financial information in its entirety, not to rely on any single financial measure, and to view our non-IFRS financial measures in conjunction with the most comparable IFRS financial measures.

Our balance sheet has several key items that are necessary to analyze to gain a full understanding of our financial results. The following analysis explains those items.

Trade and other receivables

As at May 31, 2017, our trade receivables balance was $304 Thousand, which is 20% less from the prior year. The material change in the trade receivable is primarily the better management of receivables. We have a diverse group of customers, not one of which represents greater than 10% of the total receivables balance and, considering our low DSO we believe that our collection risk is relatively low.

Preferred Shares

	(thousands of dollars)
Preferred shares	500	1,000

On January 27, 2015, the Company issued 1,000,000 Class A Preferred shares. The Class A shares are non-voting, and entitle the holder to cumulative dividends at a rate of 7.25% per year, paid quarterly, beginning June 30, 2016 and are redeemable upon given notice at any time, the whole or from time to time any part of the outstanding shares, by the Company from the date of issuance in cash for $1 per share together with an amount equal to all dividends accrued and remaining unpaid. The shares are redeemable any time by the shareholder, with 30 days-notice, starting from June 30, 2016. Preferred shares do not meet the criteria for equity classification under IFRS due to the cash redemption feature and have therefore been recorded as a liability. During the year ended May 30, 2017, the Company redeemed $500,000 of the said preference shares

Net cash from (used) in operating activities

Cash flow from operations for Fiscal 2017 was $60 Thousand as opposed to cash used in Fiscal 2016 of $ (151) Thousand. The primary driver of the year-over-year change was the reduction in selling, general and administrative costs in Fiscal 2017 which resulted in net loss of $(21) Thousand in Fiscal 2017 as compared to a net loss of $(95) Thousand in Fiscal 2016. The timing of receipts and payments, including reduction in accounts receivables by $78 Thousand in Fiscal 2017 as compared to an increase in accounts receivables by $(45) Thousand in Fiscal 2016 resulted in improvement in cash from operating activities in Fiscal 2017. The change in trade payables in Fiscal 2017 resulted in a use of cash of $(106) Thousand as compared to use of cash of $(45) Thousand in Fiscal 2016.

Net cash from (used) in investing activities

Cash flow from investing activities was $601 Thousand in Fiscal 2017 as compared to $268 Thousand in Fiscal 2016. Relating to the sale of Series A preferred and common share issuance on January 27, 2015, the Company has segregated the proceeds from this transaction pursuant to agreement that $1 Million of the funds were restricted for the short- term needs of the Company. As of June 1, 2015, the Company had $1 million reflected in its statement of financial position. As of May 31, 2016, the balance in restricted cash was $726 Thousand and as of May 31, 2017, the balance in restricted cash was $38 Thousand. The change in restricted cash resulted in cash inflow of $697 Thousand in Fiscal 2017 as compared to inflow of $273 Thousand in Fiscal 2016. During Fiscal 2017, the outflow of cash was primarily for payment related to internally generated intangible asset for $(63) Thousand and purchase of property and equipment for $(32) Thousand. In Fiscal 2016, the outflow of cash was for purchase of property and equipment for $(5) Thousand.

Net cash from (used) in financing activities

Net cash used in financing activities in Fiscal 2017 was $(691) Thousand as compared to $(125) Thousand in Fiscal 2016. In Fiscal 2017, the Company accepted additional bank debt and loans and capital lease payable for $317 Thousand which resulted in inflow of cash as against repayment made in Fiscal 2016 for $(117) Thousand resulting in outflow of cash. The use of cash in Fiscal 2017 was the payments to related parties for $(509) Thousand and redemption of Series A Preferred shares for $(500) Thousand. The use of cash for Fiscal 2016 was the payments to related parties for $(8) Thousand.

Outstanding Share Data

(a) Authorized: Unlimited number of common shares

(b) Issued

On June 25, 1996, the Company issued 1,550 founder shares to three founding stockholders. Effective with a stock split on January 27, 2015 of 5,031 to 1, the 1,550 shares were adjusted to 7,800,000 common shares outstanding. Effective with stock split on October 3, 2017, these 7,800,000 common shares outstanding were further adjusted to 39,000,000 common shares outstanding. Historical amounts have been adjusted to reflect the stock split.

On February 20, 2013, the Company issued, on a split adjusted basis, 1,199,000 shares of common stock to two consultants in exchange for consulting services to execute certain capital market transactions. Effective with stock split on October 3, 2017, these 1,199,000 common shares outstanding are adjusted to 5,995,000 common shares outstanding. The shares were valued based on the value of services provided and the Company recorded a charge of $191,859 recorded over three years (2013 - 2015) based on term of services provided.

On January 27, 2015, the Company issued 1,000,000 shares of Class B Preferred shares to the three founding shareholders. Each Class B Preferred share is entitled to 10 votes per share. Proceeds to the Company were $nil. Class B Shares were issued to provide the founders with 10 votes per share, do not entitle the holders to interest, dividends, and do not provide assets rights in the event of a liquidation of the Company.

On January 27, 2015, the Company issued 1,000,000 Class A Preferred shares and 1,000,000 Common shares to a certain investor in exchange for $1,000,000. Effective with stock split on October 3, 2017, these 1,000,000 common shares outstanding are adjusted to 5,000,000 common shares outstanding. The Class A shares are non-voting, and entitle the holder to cumulative dividends at a rate of 7.25% per year, paid quarterly, beginning June 30, 2016 and are redeemable upon given notice at any time, the whole or from time to time any part of the outstanding shares, by the Company from the date of issuance in cash for $1 per share together with an amount equal to all dividends accrued and remaining unpaid. The shares are redeemable any time by the shareholder, with 30 days-notice, starting from June 30, 2016. The Class A Preferred shares are not convertible but do have priority in event of liquidation. Preferred shares do not meet the criteria for equity classification due to the cash redemption feature and have therefore been recorded as a liability. During the year ended May 30, 2017, the Company redeemed $500,000 of the said preference shares.

As at May 31, 2017, 2016 and June 1, 2015, the Company had the following number of shares outstanding post-split adjustment:

Description	May 31, 2017	May 31, 2016	June 1, 2015
Common A Shares	49,995,000	49,995,000	49,995,00
Class A Preferred Shares	500,000	1,000,000	1,000,000
Class B Preferred Shares	1,000,000	1,000,000	1,000,000

Financial Instruments and risk management

All financial instruments are initially recognized at fair value on the statements of financial position. The Company has classified each financial instrument into one of the following categories: (1) financial assets or liabilities at fair value through profit or loss (“FVTPL”), (2) loans and receivables, (3) financial assets available-for-sale, (4) financial assets held-to maturity, and (5) other financial liabilities. Subsequent measurement of financial instruments is based on their classification.

Financial assets and liabilities at FVTPL are subsequently measured at fair value with changes in those fair values recognized in the statements of (loss) and comprehensive (loss). Financial assets “available-for-sale” are subsequently measured at fair value with changes in fair value recognized in other comprehensive (loss), net of tax.

Credit risk

Credit risk is the risk of an unexpected loss if a customer or counterparty to a financial instrument fails to meet its contractual obligations. For financial assets, this is typically the gross carrying amount, net of any amounts offset and any impairment losses. In the normal course of business, the Company’s trade accounts receivable are potentially exposed to credit risk from its customers. However, the Company Days of Sales Outstanding is usually 15 days or less and no customer represents more than 10% of the total trade receivables balance as of May 31, 2017. To mitigate this risk the Company provides an allowance for doubtful accounts equal to the estimated losses expected to be incurred in the collection of accounts receivable.

Interest rate

Interest rate risk is the risk that the value of a financial instrument might be adversely affected by a change in interest rates. The Company does not believe that the results of operations or cash flows would be affected to any significant degree by a sudden change in market interest rates, relative to interest rates on cash and cash equivalents and bank debt due to the short-term nature of these balances and the loans and capital leases payable due to the Company's current borrowing rate does not materially differ from market rates for similar bank borrowings.

Liquidity risk

Liquidity risk is the risk that the Company will encounter difficulty raising liquid funds to meet commitments as they fall due. In meeting its liquidity requirements, the Company closely monitors its forecasted cash requirements with expected cash drawdown.

The Company had no current commitment for capital expenditures as at May 31, 2017. Accounts payables, accrued liabilities, due to a related party and bank debt are due within the next 12 months. Dividends on preferred shares paid quarterly beginning June 30, 2016. Loans and capital leases payable are due in 2019 and 2020, and are payable monthly principal plus interest, until their maturity date.

Currency risk

The Company's functional currency and its reporting currencies are both in Canadian dollars. The Company has negligible transactions in currencies other than Canadian dollars and as such has limited exposure to risk of currency gains or losses.

Capital Management

Our objective in managing capital is to ensure sufficient liquidity to pursue our growth strategy and to provide sufficient resources to meet day-to-day operating requirements, while at the same time taking a conservative approach towards financial leverage and management of financial risk. In managing the capital structure, we take into consideration various factors, including the growth of the business and related infrastructure and the up-front cost of taking on new customers. The officers and senior management of the Company are responsible for managing the capital and do so through monthly meetings and regular review of financial information. The Board of Directors is responsible for overseeing this process. We manage capital to ensure that there are adequate capital resources while maximizing the return to shareholders through the optimization of the cash flows from operations and capital transactions.

Critical Accounting Estimates

The Company has applied IFRS 1 – First-time Adoption of IFRS in preparing the statement of financial position as at June 1, 2015.

The preparation of the financial statements in conformity with IFRS requires management to make estimates and assumptions that affect the amounts of assets, liabilities, revenue, costs, expenses and other comprehensive loss that are reported in the financial statements and accompanying disclosures. The estimates and associated assumptions are based on historical experience, actions that the Company may undertake in the future and on various other assumptions that are believed to be reasonable under the circumstances. Actual results may differ from these estimates.

Significant areas requiring the use of estimates and assumptions include the determination of useful lives of property and equipment, accounts receivable, valuation allowance and loans.

The significant accounting policies and estimates are discussed below:

Revenue Recognition

The Company recognizes revenue at the time significant risk and rewards of ownership have been transferred to the customer or the services have been performed, the price is fixed or determinable, collectability is reasonably assured and costs incurred can be measured reliably. Amounts invoiced to customers, primarily deposits that do not meet the revenue recognition criteria are considered 'deferred' and are included with the company's current liabilities for reporting purposes.

The Company's revenue was principally derived from the following sources:

- Service fees charged for consulting services performed by the Company's IT Consultants under written service contracts with customers. The service contracts the Company enters into, generally fall into three specific categories: time and materials, fixed-price and prepaid service agreements.
- Sale of off the shelf software, hardware and related support which are specifically charged on the Company's invoices. Software, hardware and related service are part of what the Company provides to small and medium size enterprises when providing consulting. Software, hardware and related service items are priced and billed separately from IT service charges.
- The Company's customers may also be charged miscellaneous fees, including software licensing fees, shipping fees, cloud storage fees, web hosting fees and fees for other miscellaneous services.

Revenue is recorded after the recognition criteria mentioned above have been met.

Service fees for consulting services

When a customer enters into a time and materials, fixed-price or a prepaid service contract, the Company recognizes revenue in accordance with the Company's evaluation of the deliverables in each contract. If the deliverables represent separate units of accounting, the Company then measures and allocates the consideration from the arrangement to the separate units, based on reliable evidence of fair value for each deliverable. Units of accounting from deliverables include specific objectives delineated in the service contract.

Revenue under time and materials contracts is recognized as services are rendered and billed at contractually agreed upon rates. Most contracts are short in duration and revenue recognized on delivery.

If the Company's initial estimates of the resources required or the scope of work to be performed on a fixed-price contract are inaccurate, or the Company does not manage the project properly within the planned time period, a provision for estimated losses on incomplete projects is made. Any known or probable losses on projects are charged to operations in the period in which such losses are determined. Management reviews the estimated total direct costs on each contract to determine if the estimated amounts are accurate, and estimates are adjusted as needed in the period revised estimates are made. No losses were recognized on fixed-price contracts during the years ended May 31, 2017 and 2016.

The Company also performs services on a periodic retainer basis under infrastructure service contracts, which include monthly web hosting and support services. Revenue under periodic retainer-based contracts is recognized rateably over the contract period, as outlined within the respective contract. In the event additional services are required, above the minimum retained or contracted amount, then such services are billed on a time and materials basis. Customer prepayments, even if non-refundable, are deferred (classified as deferred revenue) and recognized over future periods as services are performed.

Property and equipment

Property and equipment are carried at historical cost less accumulated depreciation and any accumulated impairment losses. Each component of an item of property and equipment with a cost that is significant in relation to the total cost of the item is depreciated separately. Maintenance and repair expenditures that do not improve or extend the life are expensed in the period incurred.

Depreciation is recognized to write off the cost or valuation of assets (other than land) less their residual values over their useful lives, using the straight-line method. The estimated useful lives, residual values and depreciation methods are reviewed at the end of each year, with the effect of any changes in estimate accounted for on a prospective basis. An item of property and equipment is derecognized upon disposal or when no future economic benefits are expected to arise from the continued use of the asset. Any gain or loss arising on the disposal or retirement of an item of property and equipment is determined as the difference between the sales proceeds and the carrying amount of the asset and is recognized in profit or loss.

Estimated useful lives for the principal asset categories are as follows:

Computer hardware	3 - 5 years
Computer software	3 years
Furniture and fixtures	3 - 5 years
Vehicles	3 - 5 years
Websites	3 years

Preferred shares

Preferred shares with mandatory redemption on a specific date are classified as liabilities. The dividends on these preferred shares are recognized in the statements of (loss) and comprehensive (loss) as interest expense.

Loss per share

Basic and diluted loss per share is calculated by dividing the loss for the period by the weighted average number of common shares outstanding during the period. The treasury stock method is used to calculate diluted Income (loss) per common share amounts. Under the treasury stock method, the weighted average number of common shares outstanding used for the calculation of the diluted per common share amount assumes that the proceeds to be received on the exercise of dilutive share options and warrants are used to repurchase common shares at the average market price during the year. In the Company's case, diluted loss per common share presented is the same as basic loss per common share as the Company has not issued any options or warrants.

First-time adoption of IFRS

The Company has applied IFRS 1 – First-time Adoption of IFRS in preparing the statement of financial position as at June 1, 2015. Prior to June 1, 2015, the Company's financial statements were prepared in accordance with generally accepted accounting principles in the United States of America ("US GAAP").

Exemptions applied

IFRS 1 sets forth guidance for the initial adoption of IFRS. Under IFRS 1, the standards are applied retrospectively at the opening statement of financial position date with all adjustments to assets and liabilities taken to retained earnings unless certain exemptions are applied. The Company has applied the following exemptions to its opening statement of financial position as at June 1, 2015:

(a) Leases

IAS 17 – Leases discussed the new treatment of leases and the new criteria to determine whether they are operating or finance in nature. Furthermore, IFRIC 4 – Determining Whether an Arrangement Contains a Lease provides guidance to first-time adopters as to how to determine whether certain arrangement contain a lease portion to it. First-time adoption of IFRS requires applying IAS 17 by determining (i) whether an arrangement contains a lease (IFRIC 4), and (ii) whether that lease is a finance or operating lease. The Company has taken the IFRS 1 election and will treat the application provisions prospectively.

Mandatory exceptions

IFRS 1 also outlines specific guidelines that a first-time adopter must adhere to under certain circumstances. The Company has applied the following guidelines to its opening statement of financial position as at June 1, 2015:

(a) Estimates

In accordance with IFRS 1, an entity's estimates under IFRS at the date of transition to IFRS must be consistent with estimates made for the same date under US GAAP, unless there is objective evidence that those estimates were in error. The Company's IFRS estimates as of June 1, 2015 are consistent with its US GAAP estimates for the same date.

(b) Deemed cost

The Company elected not to use fair value as deemed cost as at June 1, 2015 for property and equipment.

Future accounting pronouncements

Standards issued but not yet effective up to the date of issuance of these financial statements are listed below. This list is of standards and interpretations issued that the Company reasonably expects to be applicable at a future date. The Company intends to adopt those standards when they become effective.

IFRS 9, Financial Instruments, ("IFRS 9") was issued by the IASB in October 2010 and will replace IAS 39, Financial Instruments: Recognition and Measurement ("IAS 39"). IFRS 9 uses a single approach to determine whether a financial asset is measured at amortized cost or fair value, replacing the multiple rules in IAS 39. The approach in IFRS 9 is based on how an entity manages its financial instruments in the context of its business model and the contractual cash flow characteristics of the financial assets. Most of the requirements in IAS 39 for classification and measurement of financial liabilities were carried forward unchanged to IFRS 9. The new standard also requires a single impairment method to be used, replacing the multiple impairment methods in IAS 39. IFRS 9 will be effective as at January 1, 2018. Management is currently evaluating the potential impact, if any, that the adoption of IFRS 9 will have on the Company's financial statements.

IFRS 15, Revenue from Contracts and Customers ("IFRS 15") was issued by the IASB on May 28, 2014, and will replace IAS 18, revenue, IAS 11, construction contracts, and related interpretations on revenue. IFRS 15 sets out the requirements for recognizing revenue that apply to all contracts with customers, except for contracts that are within the scope of the standards on leases, insurance contracts and financial instruments. IFRS 15 uses a control based approach to recognize revenue which is a change from the risk and reward approach under the current standard. Companies can elect to use either a full or modified retrospective approach when adopting this standard and it is effective for annual periods beginning on or after January 1, 2018. Management is currently evaluating the potential impact, if any, that the adoption of IFRS 15 will have on the Company's financial statements.

IFRS 16, Leases ("IFRS 16") was issued by the IASB on January 13, 2016. The Company will be required to adopt IFRS 16 in its financial statements for the annual period beginning on December 1, 2019. The new standard introduces a single lessee accounting model and requires a lessee to recognize assets and liabilities for all leases with a term of more than 12 months, unless the underlying asset is of low value. A lessee is required to recognize a right-of-use asset representing its right to use the underlying asset and a lease liability representing its obligation to make lease payments. This standard substantially carries forward the lessor accounting requirements of IAS 17, while requiring enhanced disclosures to be provided by lessors. Management is currently evaluating the potential impact, if any, that the adoption of IFRS 16 will have on the Company's financial statements.

Rather, these measures are provided as additional information to complement those IFRS measures by providing further understanding of our results of operations from management's perspective. Accordingly, these measures should not be considered in isolation nor as a substitute for analysis of our financial information reported under IFRS. We use "days sales outstanding" as a non-IFRS measure of outstanding receivables – the amount of receivables divided by annual sales divided by 365.

Adjusted EBITDA does not have a uniform definition. Our definition will likely differ from the definitions used by other companies, including peer companies, and therefore comparability may be limited. Thus, our non-IFRS measure of Adjusted EBITDA should be considered in addition to, not as a substitute for, or in isolation from, measures prepared in accordance with IFRS.

Overview

The Company was incorporated on June 26, 1996 pursuant to the Ontario Business Corporations Act and is engaged in the business of providing information technology services, hardware, software and related support agreements.

We are an IT service/managed service provider, we operate a network of 125 sub-contractors ("Nerds") servicing on average 11,000 customers per year in Canada, with over 130,000 customers serviced since the inception. Our centralized ERP system IAMANERD.COM ("IAMANERD") is online operating system that manages day to day operations of our Nerds.

In 2017, the Company was operating in the usual business mode without any material increase in clients lists, number of nerds or other material performance data. With the planned expansion into United States, the Company focused on business planning, negotiations and discussion with funding providers on different funding methods to fund the expansion in United States. Revenue decreased from $9.016 Million to $8.667 Million.

IAMANERD contains marketing hub, inventory processing, client processing tools and database, Nerd to Nerd communication medium, credit card payment tools, central ordering, purchasing and invoicing, continuing education hub called University of NERDology. This system has been developed by the over the last 10 years, and is being developed continuously.

Thanks to IAMANERD our Nerds spend most of their time servicing clients. The administration/inventory and other day-to-day admin is done by the system and our admin office that oversees the operation. Our Canadian Nerds are motivated proprietors, who operate under an agreement with the Company, wearing our branded bright red T-shirts and driving bright red fully branded cars, mostly VW Beetles (“NerdMobiles”). Our business model was created to be as flexible for expansion as possible, with low overhead costs. Our Nerds are compensated on per deal or per contract basis, on various revenue splits. Revenue splits range from 37% of the contract revenue to Nerd to 50% of the contract revenue to Nerd. In addition to revenue splits our Nerds receive various volume incentives.

We are very protective of the Nerd Brand. Keyword Nerd, Nerd-mobile, and other combinations are either trademarked or trademark application filed in 12 countries. We continue to develop and monitor our trademark portfolio on monthly and quarterly basis.

We have exclusive software sales agreements with several related companies providing SaaS products. Those products include TimeWellScheduled™, DNS Thingy™, MYbusinessOS™. From each software sale we receive 20% royalty, which is split based on our standard splits with Nerds.

In 2018 the focus is to penetrate and roll out our business in the USA. We have a roll out strategy that is in line with historic roll out that was exercised in Canada in multiple cities. The strategy is based on launching in smaller cities and rippling out to neighboring major metropolitan areas. With a smaller number of Nerds and NerdMobiles we generate higher levels of brand recognition and penetration with our marketing tactics of parading in downtown, commercial and industrial sectors. Our US Nerds will be franchisees managed by the Company in the beginning of the roll out. Once business volume is established in the smaller cities close to our historic average, we will attract area developers – 2nd tier franchisees - to manage, lead and grow individual areas. Pricing of each area developer franchise is based on the number of listed businesses listed by the USA Postal site, targeted at $5-$7 per in the identified zip codes being purchased.

Our major challenges in 2018 will be effectively recruiting new Nerds and arranging a cost-efficient lease/financing program in US to acquire NerdMobiles. Flexibility on this front enables the transfer of financing and/or lease arrangements from the Company to each Nerd Franchisee. A proven and time-tested series of marketing tactics should enable the initiation of cash flow from new operations within 60-90 days.

Significant Factors Affecting Results of Operations

Our results of operations are influenced by a variety of factors, including:

Revenue

The Company recognizes revenue at the time significant risk and rewards of ownership have been transferred to the customer or the services have been performed, the price is fixed or determinable, collectability is reasonably assured, and costs incurred can be measured reliably. Amounts invoiced to customers, primarily deposits that do not meet the revenue recognition criteria are considered ‘deferred’ and are included with the Company’s current liabilities for reporting purposes.

The Company’s revenues were principally derived from the following sources:

Service fees charged for consulting services performed by the Company’s IT Consultants under written service contracts with customers. The service contracts the Company enters into, generally fall into three specific categories: time and materials, fixed-price and prepaid service agreements.

Sale of off the shelf software, hardware and related support which are specifically charged on the Company's invoices. Software, hardware and related service are part of what the Company provides to small and medium size enterprises when providing consulting. Software, hardware and related service items are priced and billed separately from IT service charges.

The Company's customers may also be charged miscellaneous fees, including software licensing fees, shipping fees, cloud storage fees, web hosting fees and fees for other miscellaneous services.

Cost of Revenue

Cost of revenue include both subcontract costs for providing information technology and related services and associated hardware and software costs. The Company provides mobile IT support for various businesses including PC set up, network installation and support & tailored software services. The Company uses a specially trained network of technically proficient IT consultants to help clients on site by providing effective, consistent and customized IT solutions.

Selling, general and administrative expenses

Selling, general and administrative expenses consist primarily of salaries and related expenses for our sales, administrative and marketing staff, including management services, data centre and call centre costs, professional and legal costs and banking services. These costs also include advertising, events, corporate communications, brand building and product marketing activities. We plan to continue to invest in sales and marketing by expanding our domestic and international selling and marketing activities, building brand awareness and sponsoring additional marketing events. We expect that in the future, sales and marketing expenses will increase with increase in revenue in absolute dollars and we incur additional employee-related costs and professional fees related to the growth of our business and international expansion.

Our presentation and functional currency is Canadian dollars and all the amounts in this management discussion and analysis are in Canadian dollars unless otherwise indicated. We derive most of our revenue from customers who pay in Canadian dollars. Our head office and most of our employees are in Ontario, Canada, and as such a significant amount of our expenses are paid in Canadian dollars. We have negligible transactions in currencies other than Canadian dollars and as such have limited exposure to risk of currency gain or loss.

Discussion of Operations: Three and Six- month periods ended November 30, 2017 and 2016

Revenue

The Company has a single reportable segment for mobile IT consulting services. We recorded total revenue of $4.214 Million during the six months ended November 30, 2017 as compared to $4.252 Million during the six months ended November 30, 2016. There was no material change in revenue during the six- month periods ended November 30, 2017 and 2016.

Gross profit

The Company recorded gross profit of $1.151 Million and $1.255 Million during the six months ended November 30, 2017 and 2016 respectively. The gross margin fell by 2% to 27% from 29% during the current six- month period primarily because of an additional cost of $30 Thousand in repurchase of a territory revenue rights and an increase in input costs of goods sold. Sales for three- month period ended November 30, 2017 was lower by $197 Thousand and a lower gross margin by due to reasons explained for the six- month period comparatives.

Total Revenue	4,214	4,252	(1) %
Gross Margin	1,151	1,255	(8) %
Gross Margin %	27%	29 %

Our overall gross margin as a percentage of revenue decreased by nearly 1% between 2017 and 2016. Our reduced margin to 27% is primarily due to our revenue mix between sale of software, hardware and consulting services. The Company anticipates its gross margin percentage to improve in the near term as investment in our expansion of our business model to the United States will likely provide additional savings from economies of scale.

Selling, general and administrative

	2017	2016	% increase

(thousands of dollars)

Total Expense	892	628	42 %
As a percentage of revenue	43%	27 %

Selling, general and administrative expenses have seen increase from 2016 to 2017 for the six months and three months comparative periods. The main driver for the increase is the increase in advertising and promotion costs expensed in new markets by $100 Thousand, additional costs of $46 Thousand relating to broker warrants costs expensed in 2017 and additional cost for legal, audit, employee and business development costs.

Operating profit (loss)

	2017	2016	change
	(thousands of dollars)
Operating income (loss)	(409)	21	n/a

Our increase in our operating loss for the comparative three and six- month periods of 2017 and 2016 are a result of increase in selling, general and administrative expenses and decrease in gross margins (as explained above).

Net Income (loss)

	(thousands of dollars)
Net income (loss)	(528)	5	n/a

Beyond the impact of operating income (loss) as noted above, the other drivers for our annual net losses is the interest expense for $144 Thousand and $31 Thousand for six months ended November 30, 2017 and 2016, amortization of deferred finance costs for $17 Thousand and $nil for six months ended November 30, 2017 and 2016 respectively and dividend payable for $18 Thousand in 2017 on preferred shares classified as a liability in the statement of financial position (refer to note 10 to the audited financial statements).

Key balance sheet items

	As at November 30, 2017	As at May 31, 2017
	(thousands of dollars)
Total Assets	4,860	2,506
Total Liabilities	5,382	2,573

The primary reason for increase in total assets and total liabilities in 2017 is a direct result of the Company raising $2.8 Million in convertible debt in 2017.

Our balance sheet has several key items that are necessary to analyze to gain a full understanding of our financial results. The following analysis explains those items.

Trade and other receivables

	As at November 30, 2017	As at May 31, 2017
	(thousands of dollars)
Trade and other receivables (net)	140	304
Days sales outstanding (“DSO”)	6 days	14 days

As at November 30, 2017, our trade receivables balance was $140 Thousand, which is 54% less from the beginning of the year. The material change in the trade receivable is primarily the reserve for doubtful accounts for $80 Thousand. We have a diverse group of customers, not one of which represents greater than 10% of the total receivables balance and, considering our low DSO we believe that our collection risk is relatively low.

Preferred Shares

	As at November 30, 2017	As at May 31, 2017
	(thousands of dollars)
Preferred shares	470	500

On January 27, 2015, the Company issued 1 Million Class A Preferred shares. The Class A shares are non-voting, and entitle the holder to cumulative dividends at a rate of 7.25% per year, paid quarterly, beginning June 30, 2016 and are redeemable upon given notice at any time, the whole or from time to time any part of the outstanding shares, by the Company from the date of issuance in cash for $1 per share together with an amount equal to all dividends accrued and remaining unpaid. The shares are redeemable any time by the shareholder, with 30 days-notice, starting from June 30, 2016. Preferred shares do not meet the criteria for equity classification under IFRS due to the cash redemption feature and have therefore been recorded as a liability. During the year ended May 30, 2017, the Company redeemed $500 Thousand of the said preference shares. During the six- month period ended November 30, 2017, the Company redeemed $30 Thousand of preferred shares.

Deferred revenue

	As at November 30, 2017	As at May 31, 2017
	(thousands of dollars)
Deferred revenue	234	261

Our business model results in us billing our customers in advance of providing the service and, as a result, we record deferred revenue at the close of the reporting period.

Liquidity and capital resources

	As at August 31, 2017	As at May 31, 2017
	(thousands of dollars)
Cash	2,428	38

The Company's primary cash flow comes from its sale of software, hardware and consulting services. The Company has also increased liquidity through debt financing at various times in its history. The Company has no current commitments for any material capital expenditure. The Company has successfully raised $2.8 Million by the issue of convertible debt in October and November 2017.

The following is a summary of our cash flows provided by (used in) operating activities, investing activities and financing activities for the years and periods as indicated:

	Six months ended November 30, 2017 2016
	(thousands of dollars)
Operating activities	(263)	89
Investing activities	(21)	649
Financing activities	2,675	(674)
Increase (decrease) in cash	2,391	64
Cash beginning of period/year	38	68
Cash end of period/year	2,428	132

Net cash from (used) in operating activities

Cash flow from (used) in operations, which is generally the net income or loss adjusted for non-cash items, such as depreciation and changes in non-cash working capital items, was $(263) Thousand in 2017 as compared to $89 Thousand in 2016.

The main factors which contributed to increase in cash outflow from operations were:

- a) The Company had a net loss of $(604) Thousand in 2017 as compared to a net loss of $(26) Thousand in 2016. The increase in loss in 2017 was a result of increase in selling, general and administrative expenses.
- b) The timing of receipts and payments, including reduction in accounts receivables by $164 Thousand in 2017 as compared to reduction in accounts receivables by $210 Thousand in 2016.
- c) Reduction in deferred revenue by $(27) Thousand in 2017 as compared to an increase in deferred revenue by $10 Thousand in 2016.

Net cash from (used) in investing activities

Cash from (used in) investing activities was $(21) Thousand in 2017 as compared to $649 Thousand in 2016. During 2017, the outflow of cash was primarily for payment related to internally generated intangible asset for $(18) Thousand and purchase of property and equipment for $(39) Thousand. In 2016, the outflow of cash was for purchase of property and equipment for $(29) Thousand, payment related to internally generated intangible asset for $(18) Thousand and decrease in restricted cash of $697 Thousand.

Relating to the sale of Series A preferred and common share issuance on January 27, 2015, the Company has segregated the proceeds from this transaction pursuant to agreement that $1 Million of the funds were restricted for the short- term needs of the Company. As of June 1, 2015, the Company had $1 Million reflected in its statement of financial position. As of May 31, 2016, the balance in restricted cash was $726 Thousand and as of November 30, 2016, the balance in restricted cash was $29 Thousand. The change in restricted cash resulted in cash inflow of $697 Thousand in 2016 as compared to inflow of $27 Thousand in 2017.

Net cash from (used) in financing activities

Cash provided (used in) by investing activities was $2.675 Million in 2017 as compared to $(674) Thousand in 2016. On November 20, 2017, the Company completed the issuance of an additional $720 Thousand principal amount of unsecured convertible debentures. The debentures are unsecured convertible debentures and bear simple interest at a rate of 10% per annum from the date of issue.

In 2017, the Company accepted additional debt from related parties for $60 Thousand as compared to reduction in debt to related parties by $(183) Thousand in 2016. The Company redeemed Series 'A' preference shares for $500 Thousand in 2016 and $30 Thousand in 2017. On November 8, 2017, the Company issued 100 Thousand common shares at $0.25 per share for a total cash consideration of $25 Thousand.

Convertible debentures

On October 27, 2017, the Company completed the issuance of an aggregate of $2,140,500 principal amount of unsecured convertible debentures at a price of $1,000 per convertible debenture. On November 20, 2017, the Company completed the issuance of an additional $720,000 principal amount of unsecured convertible debentures due November 20, 2018 at a price of $1,000 per convertible debenture (collectively the "debentures"). The debentures are unsecured convertible debentures and bear simple interest at a rate of 10% per annum from the date of issue.

The Company has the option to prepay the principal amount of a Debenture, in whole or in part, in addition to all accrued but unpaid interest accumulated to the date of such prepayment subject to providing the debenture holder with thirty (30) days prior written notice in respect of such prepayment.

The holder of the debenture may elect to convert, in whole or in part, the principal amount of the debenture together with any accrued but unpaid interest accumulated thereon as of the date of such conversion into units of the Company (the "Units") at a deemed conversion price (the Conversion Price) equal to the lesser of: (i) $0.25 per Unit; or (ii) the initial public offering price of a common share in the capital of the Corporation (each a Common Share) on the Canadian Securities Exchange (or any other Canadian exchange on which the Common Shares may be listed).

The Company may at any time and on written notice to the Purchaser require the conversion of the debenture (inclusive of the principal amount together with any accrued but unpaid interest accumulated thereon as of the date of such required conversion) into Units at the conversion price of $0.25 per Unit in the event that, during the term of the Debenture, the closing price of a common share in the capital of the Corporation (each a Common Share) on the Canadian Securities Exchange (or any other Canadian exchange on which the Common Shares may be listed) equals or exceeds $0.50 per Common Share for at least five (5) consecutive trading days.

Each Unit consists of one (1) Common Share and one (1) common share purchase warrant of the Corporation (each a Warrant). Each Warrant entitles the holder thereof to acquire one (1) Common Share for an exercise price of $0.30 per Common Share for a period of two (2) years following the Closing Date (the Warrant Exercise Period). If, at any time prior to the expiry of the Warrant Exercise Period, the closing price of the Common Shares on the Canadian Securities Exchange (or any other Canadian exchange on which the Common Shares may be listed) equals or exceeds $0.60 per Common Share for at least five (5) consecutive trading days, the Corporation shall be entitled to accelerate the Warrant Exercise Period to a period ending thirty (30) days from the date that notice of such acceleration is provided to holders of the Warrants (the Accelerated Warrant Exercise Period). Any unexercised Warrants shall automatically expire at the end of the Accelerated Warrant Exercise Period.

The Company paid the following compensation for the initial raise of $2,140,500 on October 27, 2017 and the additional raise of $720,000 on November 20, 2017 to the agents:

- Total cash compensation for of $140,360 plus issuance of 561,440 broker warrants. Each broker warrant is exercisable to purchase one additional common share of the Issuer at a price of $0.25 for a period of 12 months expiring October 27, 2018.
- Total cash compensation for of $54,640 plus issuance of 194,560 broker warrants. Each broker warrant is exercisable to purchase one additional common share of the Issuer at a price of $0.25 for a period of 12 months expiring November 20, 2018.

Financial Instruments and risk management

All financial instruments are initially recognized at fair value on the statements of financial position. The Company has classified each financial instrument into one of the following categories: (1) financial assets or liabilities at fair value through profit or loss (“FVTPL”), (2) loans and receivables, (3) financial assets available-for-sale, (4) financial assets held-to maturity, and (5) other financial liabilities. Subsequent measurement of financial instruments is based on their classification.

Financial assets and liabilities at FVTPL are subsequently measured at fair value with changes in those fair values recognized in the statements of (loss) and comprehensive (loss). Financial assets “available-for-sale” are subsequently measured at fair value with changes in fair value recognized in other comprehensive (loss), net of tax.

Credit risk

Credit risk is the risk of an unexpected loss if a customer or counterparty to a financial instrument fails to meet its contractual obligations. For financial assets, this is typically the gross carrying amount, net of any amounts offset and any impairment losses. In the normal course of business, the Company’s trade accounts receivable are potentially exposed to credit risk from its customers. However, the Company DSO is usually 15 days or less and no customer represents more than 10% of the total trade receivables balance as of May 31, 2017. To mitigate this risk the Company provides an allowance for doubtful accounts equal to the estimated losses expected to be incurred in the collection of accounts receivable.

Interest rate

Interest rate risk is the risk that the value of a financial instrument might be adversely affected by a change in interest rates. The Company does not believe that the results of operations or cash flows would be affected to any significant degree by a sudden change in market interest rates, relative to interest rates on cash and cash equivalents and bank debt due to the short-term nature of these balances and the loans and capital leases payable due to the Company’s current borrowing rate does not materially differ from market rates for similar bank borrowings.

Liquidity risk

Liquidity risk is the risk that the Company will encounter difficulty raising liquid funds to meet commitments as they fall due. In meeting its liquidity requirements, the Company closely monitors its forecasted cash requirements with expected cash drawdown.

The Company had no current commitment for capital expenditures as at May 31, 2017. Accounts payables, accrued liabilities, due to a related party and bank debt are due within the next 12 months. Dividends on preferred shares paid quarterly beginning June 30, 2016. Loans and capital leases payable are due on 2019 and 2020, and are payable monthly principal plus interest, until their maturity date.

Currency risk

The Company's functional currency and its reporting currencies are both in Canadian dollars. The Company has negligible transactions in currencies other than Canadian dollars and as such has limited exposure to risk of currency gains or losses.

Capital Management

Our objective in managing capital is to ensure sufficient liquidity to pursue our growth strategy and to provide sufficient resources to meet day-to-day operating requirements, while at the same time taking a conservative approach towards financial leverage and management of financial risk. In managing the capital structure, we take into consideration various factors, including the growth of the business and related infrastructure and the up-front cost of taking on new customers. The officers and senior management of the Company are responsible for managing the capital and do so through monthly meetings and regular review of financial information. The Board of Directors is responsible for overseeing this process. We manage capital to ensure that there are adequate capital resources while maximizing the return to shareholders through the optimization of the cash flows from operations and capital transactions.

Critical Accounting Estimates

The Company has applied IFRS 1 – First-time Adoption of IFRS in preparing the statement of financial position as at June 1, 2015.

The preparation of the financial statements in conformity with IFRS requires management to make estimates and assumptions that affect the amounts of assets, liabilities, revenue, costs, expenses and other comprehensive loss that are reported in the financial statements and accompanying disclosures. The estimates and associated assumptions are based on historical experience, actions that the Company may undertake in the future and on various other assumptions that are believed to be reasonable under the circumstances. Actual results may differ from these estimates.

Significant areas requiring the use of estimates and assumptions include the determination of useful lives of property and equipment, accounts receivable, valuation allowance and loans.

The significant accounting policies and estimates are discussed below:

Revenue Recognition

The Company recognizes revenue at the time significant risk and rewards of ownership have been transferred to the customer or the services have been performed, the price is fixed or determinable, collectability is reasonably assured and costs incurred can be measured reliably. Amounts invoiced to customers, primarily deposits that do not meet the revenue recognition criteria are considered 'deferred' and are included with the company's current liabilities for reporting purposes.

The Company's revenue was principally derived from the following sources:

- Service fees charged for consulting services performed by the Company's IT Consultants under written service contracts with customers. The service contracts the Company enters into, generally fall into three specific categories: time and materials, fixed-price and prepaid service agreements.

- Sale of off the shelf software, hardware and related support which are specifically charged on the Company's invoices. Software, hardware and related service are part of what the Company provides to small and medium size enterprises when providing consulting. Software, hardware and related service items are priced and billed separately from IT service charges.
- The Company's customers may also be charged miscellaneous fees, including software licensing fees, shipping fees, cloud storage fees, web hosting fees and fees for other miscellaneous services.

Revenue is recorded after the recognition criteria mentioned above have been met.

Service fees for consulting services

When a customer enters into a time and materials, fixed-price or a prepaid service contract, the Company recognizes revenue in accordance with the Company's evaluation of the deliverables in each contract. If the deliverables represent separate units of accounting, the Company then measures and allocates the consideration from the arrangement to the separate units, based on reliable evidence of fair value for each deliverable. Units of accounting from deliverables include specific objectives delineated in the service contract.

Revenue under time and materials contracts is recognized as services are rendered and billed at contractually agreed upon rates. Most contracts are short in duration and revenue recognized on delivery.

If the Company's initial estimates of the resources required or the scope of work to be performed on a fixed-price contract are inaccurate, or the Company does not manage the project properly within the planned time period, a provision for estimated losses on incomplete projects is made. Any known or probable losses on projects are charged to operations in the period in which such losses are determined. Management reviews the estimated total direct costs on each contract to determine if the estimated amounts are accurate, and estimates are adjusted as needed in the period revised estimates are made. No losses were recognized on fixed-price contracts during the quarters ended August 31, 2017 and 2016 and years ended May 31, 2017 and 2016.

The Company also performs services on a periodic retainer basis under infrastructure service contracts, which include monthly web hosting and support services. Revenue under periodic retainer-based contracts is recognized ratably over the contract period, as outlined within the respective contract. In the event additional services are required, above the minimum retained or contracted amount, then such services are billed on a time and materials basis. Customer prepayments, even if non-refundable, are deferred (classified as deferred revenue) and recognized over future periods as services are performed.

Property and equipment

Property and equipment are carried at historical cost less accumulated depreciation and any accumulated impairment losses. Each component of an item of property and equipment with a cost that is significant in relation to the total cost of the item is depreciated separately. Maintenance and repair expenditures that do not improve or extend the life are expensed in the period incurred.

Depreciation is recognized to write off the cost or valuation of assets (other than land) less their residual values over their useful lives, using the straight-line method. The estimated useful lives, residual values and depreciation methods are reviewed at the end of each year, with the effect of any changes in estimate accounted for on a prospective basis. An item of property and equipment is derecognized upon disposal or when no future economic benefits are expected to arise from the continued use of the asset. Any gain or loss arising on the disposal or retirement of an item of property and equipment is determined as the difference between the sales proceeds and the carrying amount of the asset and is recognized in profit or loss.

Estimated useful lives for the principal asset categories are as follows:

Computer hardware	3 - 5 years
Computer software	3 years

Furniture and fixtures	3 - 5 years
Vehicles	3 - 5 years
Websites	3 years

Preferred shares

Preferred shares with mandatory redemption on a specific date are classified as liabilities. The dividends on these preferred shares are recognized in the statements of (loss) and comprehensive (loss) as interest expense.

Loss per share

Basic and diluted loss per share is calculated by dividing the loss for the period by the weighted average number of common shares outstanding during the period. The treasury stock method is used to calculate diluted Income (loss) per common share amounts. Under the treasury stock method, the weighted average number of common shares outstanding used for the calculation of the diluted per common share amount assumes that the proceeds to be received on the exercise of dilutive share options and warrants are used to repurchase common shares at the average market price during the year. In the Company's case, diluted loss per common share presented is the same as basic loss per common share as the Company has not issued any options or warrants.
