

Cannvas to Attend World Cannabis Conference in St. John, NB

Exploring Potential Partnerships with Global Cannabis Organizations

TORONTO, June 6, 2018 /CNW/ - Cannvas MedTech Inc. ("Cannvas" or the "Company"), a leading business technology company within the cannabis space, is pleased to announce that its senior management team will be attending the 2018 World Cannabis Conference on June 10-12 in Saint John, New Brunswick. This year's conference brings together cannabis industry leaders in business, research, politics and culture from around the world for two and half compelling and informative days that include expert speakers, innovative panels and the opportunity to make connections and do business.

"The 2018 World Cannabis Conference is a tremendous local opportunity to meet and network with other innovators from around the world," said Steve Loutskou, Chief Operating Officer, Global Markets, Cannvas MedTech Inc. "An important aspect of our business is to partner leading cannabis organizations to develop and feed our scalable, patient-centric life sciences learning platform. We have been successful at other conferences to meet and engage potential partners in our innovative solution will empower medical cannabis patients to take control of their healthcare experience. By teaming up with other businesses, government bodies, research and scientific organizations we can capture more data and information to make our single, intuitive and interactive information source much more powerful."

The World Cannabis Conference, organized by cannabis culture media and lifestyle brand Civilized, is expected to draw 350-plus VIP attendees, including cannabis experts, policymakers, government officials, leading scientists and researchers, celebrity speakers and delegates from countries including Brazil, Czech Republic, Germany, Israel, Mexico, Spain, South Africa and Uruguay. The event is supported by Opportunities New Brunswick (ONB), the province's lead business development organization driving economic growth and job creation.

The conference is taking place at the Saint John Trade and Convention Centre (1 Market Square) in Saint John, New Brunswick from June 10 – 12, 2018, and will connect cannabis industry leaders from around the globe, to share insights and foster relationships that may help shape and advance the rapidly growing industry.
