The proceeds of the financing will be allocated to accelerate the marketing of the Company's Sekur encrypted email and messaging solution to the US market, and for general purposes.

The Company CEO participated in the private placement as well with subscriptions of 1,750,000 units, or almost 42% of the total offering.

The Company will issue another press release once all the regulatory filings have been submitted and will disclose all details in relations to any fees paid to third parties, if any.

GlobeX's Data privacy solutions are all hosted in Switzerland, protecting users' data from any outside data intrusion requests. In Switzerland, the right to privacy is guaranteed in article 13 of the Swiss Federal Constitution. The Federal Act on Data Protection ("FADP") of 19 June 1992 (in force since 1993) has set up a strict protection of privacy by prohibiting virtually any processing of personal data which is not expressly authorized by the data subjects. The protection is subject to the authority of the Federal Data Protection and Information Commissioner.

Under Swiss federal law, it is a crime to publish information based on leaked "secret official discussions." In 2010 the Federal Supreme Court of Switzerland found that IP addresses are personal information and that under Swiss privacy laws they may not be used to track Internet usage without the knowledge of the individuals involved.
