American Aires Announces New Design Patent Approved

Toronto, Ontario--(Newsfile Corp. - October 7, 2020) - American Aires Inc. (CSE: WIFI) (the "Company" or "Aires") is pleased to announce it has won a design patent from the US Patent and Trademark Office to protect Aires' unique hardware design for the DEFENDER model (issued on September 1, 2020 under US D894,908).

The design is also patent protected in Canada, Europe, and the Russian Federation and allows Aires to exclude other manufacturers from making, using, selling, or importing into the US a product like the one that Aires has created.

The design patent is granted protection for 15 years.

Additionally, Aires is pleased to report the early exercise of 5 million warrants as of October 5th 2020 for proceeds of $700,000 used for general working capital purposes.

"We are pleased to have obtained patent protection for our Defender product. It brings intellectual property value and provides a competitive barrier should other companies look to enter the market; two value adds for shareholders," commented Dimitry Serov, President and CEO. "We are also pleased to see the early exercise of warrants as a testament, both to the Company and to the support of our shareholders as we move into the 4th quarter of 2020, a period during which Aires has historically had exceptionally strong sales."

About American Aires Inc. American Aires Inc. is a nanotechnology company which has developed proprietary silicon-based microprocessors that reduce the harmful effects of electromagnetic radiation (EMR). The technology was developed by a team of highly credited scientists and confirmed by independent third-party validation including peer reviewed studies and publications in scientific journals. The technology specifically targets cellphones, computers, baby monitors, Wi-Fi radiation and general EMR emitted by consumer electronic devices. Aires has launched a full suite of consumer products under the brand name "Airestech" for use on almost all consumer electronic devices. The Company has adopted a global ecommerce and distribution platform that scales easily as sales grow. Since launching in 2019, Aires has enjoyed exuberant growth. The company has been aggressively building out their ecommerce platform which is now capable of delivering up to 10,000 shipments a day along with recent customer service center agreements. Strategically placed fulfillment centers have been secured to ensure prompt delivery around the globe (see PR Jan. 31, 2020). With the launch of 5G networks around the world, this year, we are seeing an increase of news, reports and leading health organizations discussing the potential harm of EMR and the importance of identifying solutions to reduce these harmful rays. Aires products are the solution. www.airestech.com
