(formerly E-Gaming Ventures Corp.)

$2,837,398.90

8,106,854 Common Shares on exercise or deemed exercise of 8,106,854 Special Warrants

This long form prospectus (the “Prospectus”) is being filed with the securities regulatory authority in the Province of British Columbia to enable AMPD Ventures Inc. (formerly E-Gaming Ventures Corp.) (“AMPD”, “we”, “us”, or “our”) to become a reporting issuer under the applicable securities legislation in the Province of British Columbia.

No securities are being offered or sold pursuant to this Prospectus. This Prospectus qualifies for distribution of Common Shares (the “Qualified Shares”) issuable for no additional consideration upon exercise or deemed exercise of 8,106,854 special warrants (the “Special Warrants”) of the Company issued on May 9, 2019 at a price of $0.35 (the “Offering Price”) per Special Warrant to purchasers in certain provinces of Canada on a non-brokered private placement basis pursuant to prospectus exemptions under applicable securities legislation and in jurisdictions outside of Canada in compliance with laws applicable to each subscriber, respectively (the “Offering”). A commission of 7% in cash and 7% in agent’s warrants will be payable and issuable to third parties in connection with the Offering. See “Plan of Distribution”.

The Special Warrants are not available for purchase pursuant to this Prospectus and no additional funds are to be received by the Company from the distribution of the Qualified Shares upon the exercise or deemed exercise of the Special Warrants.

	Price	Net Proceeds to the Company ⁽¹⁾
Per Special Warrant	$0.35	$0.35
Total	$2,837,398.90	$2,837,398.90

Notes:

(1) Before deducting the legal, accounting and administrative expenses of the Company in connection with the Offering.

Subject to the terms and conditions of the certificates representing the Special Warrants, each of the Special Warrants entitles the holder thereof to acquire, upon voluntary exercise prior to, or deemed exercise on, the Qualification Date (as defined below), one Qualified Share, subject to adjustment in certain circumstances, without payment of any additional consideration.

The Special Warrants will be deemed to be exercised on the date (the “Qualification Date”) that is the earlier of (a) the date that is four months and a day following closing date of the Offering (the “Deemed Exercise Date”), and (b) the third business day following the date on which a receipt for the final prospectus of the Company qualifying the distribution of the Qualified Shares issuable on exercise of the Special Warrants (the “Final Receipt”) has been issued, at which time each Special Warrant shall be automatically exercised for one Qualified Share, subject to adjustment in certain circumstances, without payment of any additional consideration and without further action on the part of the holder.

The Special Warrants were purchased by subscribers pursuant to private placement exemptions from the prospectus requirements in the Province of British Columbia (the “Qualifying Jurisdiction”) in compliance with laws applicable to each such subscriber, respectively. There is no market through which the Special Warrants may be sold, and none is expected to develop. However, pursuant to the terms and conditions of the certificates representing the Special Warrants, the Special Warrants will be deemed to be exercised on the date the Final Receipt for this Prospectus is issued.

In the event that a holder of Special Warrants exercises such securities prior to the earlier of the Qualification Date and the date which is four months and one day after the original date of issuance of the Special Warrants, the Qualifying Shares issued upon exercise of such Special Warrants will be subject to statutory hold periods under applicable securities legislation and shall bear such legends as required by securities laws.

No additional proceeds will be received by the Company in connection with the issuance of the Qualified Shares upon exercise or deemed exercise of the Special Warrants.

AMPD focuses on solutions for latency-sensitive applications, such as multiplayer video games, including competitive eSports, big data analysis and visualization, and animation and VFX production pipeline and rendering.

Due to the nature of the Company’s business, an investment in the Qualified Shares is speculative and involves a high degree of risk that should be considered by potential investors. An investment in the Qualified Shares should only be undertaken by those persons who can afford the total loss of their investment.

There is currently no market through which any of the securities being distributed under this Prospectus, may be sold, and purchasers may not be able to resell such securities acquired hereunder. This may affect the pricing of such securities in the secondary market, the transparency and availability of trading prices, the liquidity of such securities and the extent of issuer regulation. See “Risk Factors” and “Cautionary Note Regarding Forward-Looking Information”.

Concurrently with the filing of this Prospectus, the Company intends to list its Common Shares, the Qualified Shares and all other Common Shares issuable as described in this Prospectus on the Canadian Securities Exchange (the “Exchange” or the “CSE”). The listing of the Common Shares on the CSE (the “Listing”) will be subject to the Company fulfilling all of the listing requirements of the Exchange, which cannot be guaranteed.

As of the date of this Prospectus, the Company does not have any of its securities listed or quoted, has not applied to list or quote any of its securities, and does not intend to apply to list or quote any of its securities on the Toronto Stock Exchange, Aequitas NEO Exchange Inc., a U.S. marketplace, or a marketplace outside Canada and the United States.

Prospective investors are advised to consult their own tax advisors regarding the application of Canadian federal income tax laws to their particular circumstances, as well as any other provincial, foreign and other tax consequences of acquiring, holding, or disposing of Qualified Shares, including the Canadian federal income tax consequences applicable to a foreign controlled Canadian corporation that acquires Qualified Shares.

Prospective investors should rely only on the information contained in this Prospectus. Readers should assume that the information appearing in this Prospectus is accurate only as of its date, regardless of its time of delivery. The Company's business, financial condition, results of operations and prospects may have changed since that date.

CAUTION REGARDING FORWARD-LOOKING STATEMENTS

This Prospectus contains forward-looking statements that relate to the Company's current expectations and views of future events. The forward-looking statements are contained principally in the sections entitled "Prospectus Summary", "Description of the Business", "Selected Financial Information and Management's Discussion and Analysis" and "Risk Factors".

In some cases, these forward-looking statements can be identified by words or phrases such as "may", "might", "will", "expect", "anticipate", "estimate", "intend", "plan", "indicate", "seek", "believe", "predict" or "likely", or the negative of these terms, or other similar expressions intended to identify forward-looking statements. The Company has based these forward-looking statements on its current expectations and projections about future events and financial trends that it believes might affect its financial condition, results of operations, business strategy and financial needs. These forward-looking statements include, among other things, statements relating to:

- the Company's intention to complete the listing of the Common Shares on the CSE and all transactions related thereto;
- the Company's expectations regarding its revenue, expenses and operations;
- the Company's anticipated cash needs and its needs for additional financing;
- the Company's intention to grow its business and its operations;
- expectations with respect to the success of the Company's research and development;
- beliefs and intentions regarding the ownership of material trademarks and domain names used in connection with the design, production, marketing, distribution and sale of our products;
- the Company's competitive position and the regulatory environment in which the Company operates;
- the Company's expectation that it will have sufficient funds to cover its expenses over the next twelve months;
- the Company's expected business objectives for the next twelve months; and
- the Company's ability to obtain additional funds through the sale of equity or debt commitments;

Forward-looking statements are based on certain assumptions and analyses made by the Company considering the experience and perception of historical trends, current conditions and expected future developments and other factors it believes are appropriate and are subject to risks and uncertainties. In making the forward looking statements included in this Prospectus, the Company has made various material assumptions, including but not limited to (i) general business and economic conditions; (ii) the Company's ability to successfully execute its plans and intentions; (iii) the availability of financing on reasonable terms; (iv) the Company's ability to attract and retain skilled staff; (v) market competition; (vi) the products and technology offered by the Company's competitors; and (vii) that our current good relationships with our suppliers, service providers and other third parties will be maintained.

Although we believe that the assumptions underlying these statements are reasonable, they may prove to be incorrect, and we cannot assure that actual results will be consistent with these forward-looking statements. Given these risks, uncertainties and assumptions, prospective purchasers of Common Shares should not place undue reliance on these forward-looking statements. Whether actual results, performance or achievements will conform to the Company's expectations and predictions is subject to a number of known and unknown risks, uncertainties, assumptions and other factors, including those listed under "Risk Factors", which include:

- the Company is a development stage company with little operating history, and a history of losses and the Company cannot assure profitability;
- uncertainty about the Company's ability to continue as a going concern;

- AMPD Holdings has negative cash flow for the year ended May 31, 2018;
- the Company's actual financial position and results of operations may differ materially from the expectations of management;
- the Company expects to incur significant ongoing costs and obligations relating to its investment in infrastructure, growth and operations;
- there are factors which may prevent the Company from the realization of growth targets;
- there is no assurance that the Company will turn a profit or generate revenues;
- the Company may not be able to effectively manage its growth and operations, which could materially and adversely affect its business;
- the Company may be unable to adequately protect its proprietary and intellectual property rights;
- the Company may be forced to litigate to defend its intellectual property rights, or to defend against claims by third parties against the Company relating to intellectual property rights;
- the Company may become subject to litigation, which may have a material adverse effect on the Company's reputation, business, results from operations and financial condition;
- the Company faces competition from other companies where it will conduct business that may have a higher capitalization, more experienced management or may be more mature as a business;
- if the Company is unable to attract and retain key personnel, it may not be able to compete effectively;
- the Company will continue to sell securities for cash to fund operations, capital expansion, mergers and acquisitions that will dilute the current shareholders;
- the Company will be reliant on information technology systems and may be subject to damaging cyberattacks;
- the Company's officers and directors may be engaged in a range of business activities resulting in conflicts of interest;
- in certain circumstances, the Company's reputation could be damaged;
- the Company cannot assure you that a market will develop or exist for the Common Shares or what the market price of the Common Shares will be;
- the size of Company's target market is difficult to quantify, and investors will be reliant on their own estimates on the accuracy of market data;
- trademark and patent protection may not be available for the intellectual property of the Company;
- the Company will be subject to additional regulatory burden resulting from its intended public listing on the CSE;
- the market price for Common Shares may be volatile and subject to wide fluctuations in response to numerous factors, many of which are beyond our control;
- the Company does not anticipate paying cash dividends;
- future sales of Common Shares by existing shareholders could reduce the market price of the Common Shares; and

- no guarantee on the use of available funds by the Company.

If any of these risks or uncertainties materialize, or if assumptions underlying the forward-looking statements prove incorrect, actual results might vary materially from those anticipated in those forward-looking statements. The assumptions referred to above and described in greater detail under “Risk Factors” should be considered carefully by readers.

The Company’s forward-looking statements are based on the reasonable beliefs, expectations and opinions of management on the date of this Prospectus (or as of the date they are otherwise stated to be made). Although the Company has attempted to identify important factors that could cause actual results to differ materially from those contained in forward-looking statements, there may be other factors that cause results not to be as anticipated, estimated or intended. There is no assurance that such statements will prove to be accurate, as actual results and future events could differ materially from those anticipated in such statements. Accordingly, readers should not place undue reliance on forward-looking statements. We do not undertake to update or revise any forward-looking statements, except as, and to the extent required by, applicable securities laws in Canada.

All of the forward-looking statements contained in this Prospectus are expressly qualified by the foregoing cautionary statements. Investors should read this entire Prospectus and consult their own professional advisors to assess the income tax, legal, risk factors and other aspects of their investment.

DESCRIPTION OF THE BUSINESS

General

The business of the Resulting Issuer will effectively be the business of AMPD Holdings.

The founders of AMPD Holdings have been architecting high-performance computing infrastructure for nearly two decades. Initially this was for banks, governments and academia, with initiatives such as the Western Canada Research Grid (WestGrid) project¹, through which Canadian Universities processed massive amounts of CERN data².

In 2004, under the corporate banner ‘Seven Group’, the founders of AMPD Holdings began building out technology infrastructure for animation and visual effects studios, applying high performance computing principles to applications such as render farms. By 2008, Seven Group had taken a commanding market share for digital media infrastructure provisioning in Canada and around the world and had achieved trusted advisor status with a wide array of leading industry customers including many household names.

In 2011, the founders of AMPD Holdings started 7G Entertainment, and Seven Group became a wholly owned subsidiary of 7G Entertainment. Infinite Game Publishing (“IGP”), another 7G Entertainment subsidiary, was Canada’s first AAA³ online game publishing company. IGP published MechWarrior Online, a highly successful ‘free-to-play’ game based on the world-renowned MechWarrior IP. MechWarrior Online continues to flourish as an e-Sport, with annual global tournaments.

AMPD Holdings is focused on the low-latency requirements of multiplayer video game publishing and the intense compute requirements of digital media production and distribution. Customers already include leading video game developers and publishers, as well as animation studios, where massive amounts of high-performance computing resources are required for the development, rendering and distribution of products. As gaming continues to move from the basement to the sports arena, AMPD Holdings will use its dedicated infrastructure and HPC cloud to provide infrastructure across North America and Europe for latency-sensitive multiplayer video games, including eSports.

² CERN is the European Organization for Nuclear Research

³ “AAA” is an informal classification used for video games produced by mid-sized or major game publishers, typically having higher development and marketing budgets. AAA is analogous to the film industry term “blockbuster”.

AMPD Holdings is a founding member of Canada's Digital Technology Supercluster⁴, and is applying its expertise in high-performance computing, intensive data management, processing, and visualization to benefit a broader cross-section of industry partners and projects.

As more companies turn to high-performance computing to meet the requirements of big data collection, analysis and visualization alongside mixed reality technologies, AMPD Holdings' customer base has expanded to include top tier corporate clients, such as Boeing and Avcorp Industries Inc., for whom we have been designing the infrastructure necessary for 'Digital Twinning' projects as part of an initial Supercluster project.

AMPD Holdings is enhancing its business by providing a range of offsite and hybrid solutions, connecting customers via Metro Area Network to data centres, including our own. This means that computing power that has traditionally been accessed using powerful workstations at each individual user's desk or in a local 'machine room' can be aggregated into data centres, using servers connected via fibre. This leads to cost savings through shared resources, and the opportunity to switch from cap-ex to op-ex business models.

Primary Activities

- Currently servicing a cross-section of games and digital media companies in British Columbia.
- Founding member of Canada's Digital Technology Supercluster alongside companies including Telus, GE, Boeing, Avcorp, Canfor, DWave, LifeLabs, Teck, Urthecast, and Microsoft.
- First major Supercluster master project agreement signed for 'Digital Twinning Project'.
- Participating in three additional Supercluster proposals that have passed the full project proposal stage.
- First operational AMPD Data Centre (defined below) located at 1540 West 2nd Avenue, Vancouver, B.C. V6J 1H2 ("DC1").
- Strategic relationship with real estate company, Hynes Developments (see "Hynes Developments (Real Estate)" below), with whom AMPD Holdings is evaluating at least three additional data centre opportunities, including a memorandum of understanding with Capilano University to build a 3,000 sq. ft data centre at the core of an on-campus Creative Technology Centre.
- Strategic relationships with companies offering complementary solutions that enable AMPD Holdings to enhance its own product offerings and differentiate itself from competitors by creating a more holistic offering for various industry verticals.
- Certified partners with Dell, Lenovo, HP, EMC, NVidia, Kaminario, Perforce and Fortinet.

Technology

Current cloud infrastructure does not properly support the intensive requirements of the latest multiplayer video games, including those for eSports, nor the requirements of emerging mixed reality and big data visualization applications across both entertainment and commercial sectors.

Current cloud providers saddle customers with high-latency, one-size-fits-all solutions. In contrast, AMPD Holdings uses its expertise in HPC to tailor specific solutions for applications using a combination of 'bare metal'⁵, private

The Company's anticipated acquisition of a cloud technology company will bolster its product offering to include self-service cloud, private and hybrid cloud, along with enhanced cloud orchestration systems.

AMPD Holdings implements hardware-switched and firewalled environments, as well as high-performance flash array storage (e.g. Kaminario) that is simultaneously accessible by all servers at over 500K IOPS. By spreading out the network and data retrieval workload across the servers, AMPD Holdings' technology helps mitigate latency issues inherent in distributed computing architectures that use hyper-converged storage.

AMPD Holdings' vision is to create a network of smaller, distributed AMPD Data Centres built within urban environments, connected by metropolitan area and 5G networks to mitigate the last mile latency that is unavoidable when using remote data centres that service massive geographic areas.

Workstation as a Service ("WaaS") has yet to become a viable solution for most digital media studios and an increasing number of mainstream corporations who run latency-sensitive, compute-intensive applications. AMPD Holdings' urban data centre strategy, when combined with dedicated fibre connectivity in excess of 10Gb/s, unlocks the advantages of thin client environments even for companies with the most intensive HPC requirements, representing cost savings and large efficiency improvements.

If AMPD Holdings deploys its WaaS platform in a sufficient number of major cities, the Company will also be able to serve content to consumers in these locations enabling users to enjoy high-fidelity game and entertainment content (including next generation mixed reality) on almost any device with the compute being handled entirely in the AMPD HPC cloud.

Next-Generation Data Centres

Technical Specifications

AMPD Holdings offers customized data centres (each an "AMPD Data Centre") include the following specifications:

- Built to Tier 2 standards⁶, all systems are redundant to at least N+1, including HVAC, Power (UPS), A+B Power throughout with dual power distribution units per rack, fire suppression, generator back-up, and redundant network connections and peering.
- Industry-leading security, fire suppression and monitoring systems.

Key technical differentiators that separate AMPD Data Centres from the Company's competitors are as follows:

- Handle up to 30kW per rack for high density computing.
- Capture, concentrate and redistribute heat generated by servers (CPU and GPU).
- Capture and treat water from condensing systems used to cool the AMPD Data Centre to create clean drinking water.
- Filter, fans and ducting systems efficiently use ambient air for cooling, where applicable.
- Control systems linked to sensors in racks to automatically adjust HVAC, power, and fan louvers to control the data centre environment and optimise the capture of heat and the creation of water.
- Fibre connectivity directly to clients over the Company's metro area network.

Operating AMPD Data Centres

The first AMPD Data Centre, DC1, is currently operational at 1540 West 2nd Avenue, Vancouver, B.C.

AMPD is currently working in conjunction with Hynes Developments on the early phases of a second AMPD Data Centre at 1502 West 2nd Avenue, Vancouver, B.C., and a third AMPD Data Centre at Capilano University.

In each case, it is anticipated that the buildings will be owned by Hynes Developments, with the data centre spaces being leased and managed by the Company.

Proximity to HPC infrastructure and ultra-fast, ubiquitous connectivity will be a key driver of where people choose to live, work, and play in the future. Working in conjunction with Hynes Developments, the Company's infrastructure will power urban environments attractive to future generations of employees and residents.

Principal Products and Services

AMPD Studio (Studio Infrastructure Sales & Management)

AMPD Studio solutions bring digital media-specific expertise to every studio architecture it designs. AMPD provides higher quality for better pricing across workstations, servers, software and middleware, network design and implementation, security, and storage and disaster recovery.

AMPD Connect (Metro Area Network)

AMPD Connect links studios to AMPD Data Centres using dark fibre with speeds of up to 40 Gbps at cost-effective flat monthly rates. This enables much of the 'in-studio' infrastructure to be shifted off site for significant cost-savings and performance improvements.

- AMPD Develop: studio-in-the-cloud' solution.
- AMPD Build: shared build and render resources.
- AMPD Deploy: applies consistent 'dev/ops' practices to the entire product lifecycle.
- AMPD Vault: true remote backup and recovery solution.

AMPD Online (Low-Latency Hosting of Computing-Intensive Applications)

AMPD Data Centres blend dedicated core infrastructure with the flexibility of public cloud for scaling up and down based on demand. AMPD Holdings intends to serve the entire North American market with sub-40ms round trip connectivity from AMPD Data Centres to be built throughout Vancouver and Toronto. Hosting in Canada can have major cost, tax and data protection advantages compared with the U.S. AMPD Online components include:

- Development environment dedicated hosting.
- Production environment dedicated hosting.
- Hybrid cloud solutions
- Public cloud alternatives
- Multi-CDN (content delivery network)

Future Products / Roadmap

AMPD Holdings intends to operate AMPD Data Centres in urban locations across North America and Europe. AMPD Data Centres are intended to host customers in each location requiring sub-10ms latency which can be achieved through proximity to the large urban population base.

As the Company builds out its technology development and design team, the Company intends to develop several service offerings in the near- to mid-term, based upon ongoing market needs analysis. These products and services are anticipated to include:

Full Remote Render Pipeline

Studios creating content require vast amounts of compute power for rendering scenes, specifically as the industry moves to higher resolution and volumetric movie production. AMPD Data Centres will allow studios to leverage a pool of HPC render and build farms to offload the work to the AMPD HPC Cloud, including sharing resources between different studios during periods of under-utilization.

AMPD Holdings intends for its systems to integrate smoothly into existing render pipeline tools, so that operators can simply and effectively send render jobs to the Company's infrastructure.

AMPD Spot Instances

A spot instance is an unused instance that is available for less than the on-demand price. Because spot instances enable customers to request unused instances at steep discounts, they can lower costs significantly. The Company will evaluate innovative 'market-place' offerings, potentially utilizing blockchain, to develop a customer-to-customer marketplace for the sharing of compute resources.

'Commodity Cloud Liberation Stack'

AMPD Holdings will continue to evaluate third-party offerings and seek opportunities to develop tools to complement them, thereby offering a comprehensive solution to facilitate customers' smooth transition away from current 'commodity cloud' providers.

Workstation / Desktop as a Service (WaaS / DaaS)

Due to urban proximity and HPC architecture, AMPD Holdings will be able to remove the need for a powerful onsite PC workstation, with most of the compute being executed in the Company's cloud. Customers will be able to utilise less powerful PC's (thin clients) and even mobile devices to enjoy all the advantages of high-end workstations.

Gaming Rig as a Service (GRaaS)

By having the compute in the AMPD HPC Cloud, consumers will be able to play the latest, most graphics-intensive games without a high-end console or home PC.

Ongoing Enhancement of End-to-End Solutions for Games Companies

AMPD Holdings will continue to develop a holistic solution set to game developers and publishers, particularly those creating multiplayer game experiences, including eSports. By developing Company specific solutions and partnering with other companies, AMPD Holdings intends to provide important value-add components to its product offering that help differentiate the Company's core hosting and infrastructure services from the competition.

Production and Sales

AMPD Holdings' primary sales model is business to business with account executives identifying, qualifying, developing and closing deals with potential and existing customers. AMPD Holdings engages with technology decision makers at these companies, establishes 'trusted advisor status', and provides consulting around innovative technology solutions for each phase and component of a project. AMPD Holdings is then able to supply the equipment and infrastructure for each of these phases, both in the user's studio and in AMPD Data Centres.

AMPD Holdings leverages long-term relationships, memberships in relevant industry associations and participation in large industry conferences to develop and reach its customer base.

The majority of the Company's engagements moving forward are anticipated to be on a monthly recurring revenue basis. Two primary examples are as follows:

1. Dedicated: set monthly fee over a multi-year contract for services, including co-location, managed services, connectivity and dedicated hosted infrastructure.
2. Utilization Based: customers are billed based on utilization of the systems. This is the standard billing methodology used by public cloud providers, based on the number of hours of CPU and GPU for compute, and per GB or TB for data storage. One of AMPD Holdings' key advantages is that the Company charges a set monthly fee for bandwidth with no transit fees, compared to very expensive data transfer charges from competitive providers.

Typical customer engagements are managed by account executives and solutions engineers working together to identify, engage, define and develop relationships from both technical and business perspectives, providing comprehensive proposals to decision makers for a custom architecture that meets the specific requirements of the customer's application. As premier customers reach the end of their initial contracted terms with the Company and upgrade their systems, an increasing amount of fully amortized technical infrastructure, including servers and storage, will become available for inclusion into the Company's own cloud offering, enabling the Company to leverage valuable economies of scale, and increase long-tail profit margins. The Company may then achieve the necessary critical mass of compute within its AMPD Data Centres to be able to provide consumers with AMPD HPC Cloud gaming services.

Marketing and Brand Strategies

AMPD Holdings is currently undergoing a branding update to enable the Company to address each of the key industry verticals in which it plans to conduct business (eSports & Games / Digital Media Production / Industry 4.0⁷) under a cohesive umbrella brand, while facilitating sector-specific messaging and activities.

The Company's main public-facing brand will be "AMPD Technologies" using the simple and effective URL "ampd.tech". AMPD Holdings intends to adopt brand components that identify the Company within each key industry vertical, for example esports.ampd.tech, games.ampd.tech, and cloud.ampd.tech.

AMPD Holdings will employ the full arsenal of on-line and off-line marketing channels, including social media. The Company will also expand its participation in key industry conferences such as Gamescom in Europe, the Game Developers Conference (GDC) in North America, and G-Star in Asia.

AMPD Holdings has leveraged the Canadian government to help with marketing at conferences and has been chosen by the Canadian federal government to be "investment champions" representing Canada in both Korea at G-Star, and in India at Vibrant Gujarat 2019.

The Company will seek out opportunities to co-brand eSports and other events so that industry players come to associate the Company with those verticals.

AMPD Holdings is a member of key industry associations and organizations in B.C, including; DigiBC – the Interactive and Digital Media Industry Association of B.C. (Member), where James Hursthouse also sits on the board; The Cube Mixed Reality Society (Founding Sponsor); and Canada's Digital Technology Supercluster (Founding Member, Board Member, Executive Committee Member).

AMPD Holdings also intends to join Alliance Numérique in Quebec and the Studio Sysadmin Group based in Toronto. Participation in these groups is expected to enhance the Company's credibility within these territories and help the Company establish relationships with clients directly.

Supply/Services Agreements

AMPD Holdings is in late-stage discussions with Bardel Entertainment regarding a deal under which a significant portion of DC1 would be placed under contract for the foreseeable future.

Lease Agreements

DC1 Lease Agreement

On June 1, 2019 AMPD Holdings entered into a lease agreement with 515734 B.C. Ltd through which it will assume tenancy of DC1 for an initial period of three years beginning on the earlier of November 1, 2019 or the date the Company issues its first invoice to Bardel Entertainment for data centre hosting services.

Great Northern Way Trust

On July 12, 2019 AMPD Holdings entered into a lease agreement with Great Northern Way Campus Ltd. through which the Company will assume tenancy of a 2,800 sq. ft office space located at Unit # 210 at the Centre for Digital Media, 577 Great Northern Way, Vancouver, B.C. This lease is for a period of three years beginning on August 1, 2019.

Competition

General

There is potential that the Company will face intense competition from other companies, some of which can be expected to have longer operating histories and more financial resources and production and marketing experience than the Company. Further, because of the early stage of the industry in which the Company operates, the Company expects to face additional competition from new entrants. Due to the nature of HPC technology, cloud computing / storage and gaming sectors, the Company expects that competition will become more intense, as current and future competitors begin to enter the space.

To remain competitive, the Company will require a continued high level of investment in its data centres, products and technologies, research and development, marketing, sales and client support. Because of the rapid growth of the HPC technology, cloud computing/storage and gaming sectors, the Company faces competition from other companies in the sector who are accessing the equity capital markets. Established technology companies, such as Google, are also entering this space and could become potential competition. See “Risk Factors”.

The Company believes it has an advantage in the HPC technology, cloud computing/storage and gaming sectors over most of its competitors in Canada because AMPD Holdings can compete on price in comparison with the incumbent cloud providers, while providing a higher level of high-performance computing expertise.

Partnerships and Memberships

Canada's Digital Technology Supercluster

AMPD Holdings is a founding member of Canada's Digital Technology Supercluster (CDTS), one of five Superclusters awarded across Canada (Maritimes, Quebec, Ontario, Alberta, and B.C.) by the federal government. The federal government through Innovation Science Economic Development Canada (ISED) has contributed almost $1 billion in matching funds across all five Superclusters over five years. These funds are awarded to projects approved by each individual Supercluster and are matched by industry members of the projects.

As a founding member, AMPD Holdings sits on the board of the Supercluster, and the Company's CEO, Anthony Brown is also on the executive committee.

To date, AMPD Holdings has participated in four projects with the Supercluster. One project has been approved for funding (The Learning Factory Digital Twin) in partnership with Avcorp, Llama Zoo, UBC, Convergent, Microsoft, and Boeing. Three more projects have passed the expression of interest (EOI) stage of the approval process and full proposals were submitted at the end of June 2019. The new projects are in conjunction with companies such as Teck Mining, which has two projects (for predictive maintenance AI research, and new ore discovery visualization with applied deep learning), and Terramera (for plant genome research).

Total estimated revenue is approximately $3-$4 million across all four projects for AMPD Holdings. The Company expects there to be many additional projects that will require AMPD HPC cloud, and the Supercluster is also investigating the possibility of having the Company build an HPC platform to be used across multiple projects. The Company will also propose its own projects with the most likely first project being associated with the Capilano University Creative Technology Community on their North Shore campus.

Capilano University Creative Technology Community

In October 2018, AMPD Holdings entered into a binding MOU with Capilano University and Hynes Developments to undertake a joint venture to develop a space at the University for collaboration amongst students, faculty and industry. The Creative Tech Community (CTC) is intended to be one of Canada's largest on-campus collaborations between education and industry. The collaboration is a joint effort to develop future generations of digital storytellers in technology-related areas such as animation, film, games, visual effects and emerging platforms. This multi-million-dollar project will be based around a 3,000 sq. ft. AMPD Data Centre, next generation rendering and emerging platforms) for shared use.

Hynes Developments (Real Estate)

Hynes Developments is a real estate development company owned by Stephen Hynes, based in West Vancouver, B.C. Hynes has real estate holdings across the U.S. and in western Canada. AMPD Holdings’ relationship with Hynes is expected to enable the Company to develop custom-built data hosting facilities across the U.S. and Canada. Hynes Developments and AMPD Holdings are collaborating on the Capilano University Creative Technology Community project. The Company has identified three additional potential locations in B.C. and one location in the state of Washington for these data centres. Hynes has purchased 1502 West 2nd in Vancouver and is anticipating completion in the first half of 2021. It is anticipated that Hynes will retain ownership of the buildings, with AMPD leasing and assuming management of the purpose-built data center space.

eSports Stadium Buildouts (My eSports Ventures)

My eSports Ventures (MEV) is an eSports stadium company based in Richmond B.C. It is anticipated that AMPD will provide technology infrastructure at the eSports stadiums. AMPD is expected to deploy a small amount of AMPD HPC Cloud infrastructure within the stadiums. Moving forward, MEV intends to sell franchises of their stadium business, with AMPD supplying the compute infrastructure and building out a data centre in each location. This partnership allows AMPD to proliferate its HPC Cloud hosting platform as each stadium franchise is sold.

There is no guarantee that the Company will be successful in forming a joint venture, partnership or other strategic relationship with another entity on terms satisfactory to the Company or at all (see “Risk Factors – There is no assurance that the Company will secure a Partnership it considers important”).

Business Objectives and Milestones

The Company’s primary business objectives and milestones over the next 12 months are the following:

Objectives	Timeline	Expected Cost
Finalize acquisition of cloud technology company	Aug 2019 to Nov 2019	$500,000
Research and product development	Sep 2019 to Jun 2020	$300,000
Establish European and Asian Offices	Jan 2020 to Jul 2020 ⁽²⁾	$200,000

Finalize acquisition of cloud technology company

In order to accelerate the Company’s product suite as it pertains to every aspect of cloud, the Company intends to use a portion of the proceeds to complete the acquisition of a cloud technology company. The company in question has been operating in the cloud sector for more than seven years and besides having deep expertise in the underlying technology also has a self-service technology stack that they have been developing over this time as well.

Research and Product Development

The Company intends to conduct the following activities as part of its ongoing research and product development strategy:

Completion of AMPD HPC Cloud in DC1

The Company will build out an HPC Cloud node in DC1 to allow the Company to begin providing these services to existing and future clients attached to the Company's metro area network.

Completion of the AMPD 'Lab'

The Company will acquire the required hardware and software to support a broad range of development and evaluation initiatives within the company. This includes all of those detailed above, see "Future Developments".

Development of full remote render pipeline

The Company intends to conduct an in-depth evaluation of market-leading rendering software to determine if integration or modification needs to take place to simplify the adoption of AMPD HPC Cloud via this channel. Once the analysis is complete, the development effort will be undertaken to ensure a simplified customer pipeline workflow.

Extending the acquired cloud tool set to support spot instances

The Company intends to extend the capabilities of s an extension to acquiring an existing cloud technology stack. The Company also intends to add spot instance support as an early priority to its development roadmap. It will evaluate innovative 'marketplace' offerings to develop a customer-to-customer marketplace for the sharing of compute resources.

Design and implement MVP of AMPD's 'Commodity Cloud Liberation Stack'

The Company will continue to develop tools to complement the tool kits of third-party providers and offer a comprehensive solution to facilitate customers' smooth transition away from current 'commodity cloud' providers.

Establish AMPD's Workstation / Desktop / Gaming Rig as a Service (WaaS / DaaS / GRaaS) Strategy

Once the Company has identified and qualified potential partners in this space, it will select a candidate to move forward with to either acquire or white label a solution to become the basis of our product suite here.

Establish European and Asian offices

AMPD currently does not have a permanent presence in either Europe or Asia. This presence is required to sustain the long sales cycles typical in the Company's industry. The Company will seek qualified individuals to oversee business development efforts and operate extended campaigns as well as manage the ongoing relationships of major target organizations, in their respective geographies.

The Company does not foresee any unusual risks associated with the above objectives other than cost overruns and delays customary for all start up businesses with significant research or development projects (See "Risk Factors – There are factors which may prevent the Company from the realization of growth targets. The Company is currently in early development stage").

After spending the first half of his career in Asia and Silicon Valley, Mr. Hursthouse moved to Vancouver, B.C. in 2010 to co-found and be the CEO of Roadhouse Interactive, a mobile gaming studio that grew to 180 people at its peak.

Mr. Hursthouse is currently a board member at DigiBC – the Interactive and Digital Media Industry Association of British Columbia where he has a special focus on international outreach and partnerships, helping to promote the broader B.C. games and digital media industry around the world. Mr. Hursthouse was previously Executive Director of DigiBC, and in this capacity traveled to South Korea with Premier John Horgan in January 2018 to sign a three-year collaboration agreement between DigiBC and the Gyeonggi Contents Agency as part of the overall economic action plan between the B.C. provincial government and Gyeonggi province.

In October 2017, Mr. Hursthouse co-founded Cooper's New Reality Garage, an augmented reality mobile game studio, rapidly establishing the company as a leading artificial reality games studio. Cooper's was acquired in November 2018 by Truly Social Games (Portland, Oregon) to form the basis of its Truly Social Games Vancouver studio, poised for rapid growth. In 2001, Mr. Mari co-founded Seven Group, a technology systems integrator specializing in data management and high-performance computing. Seven Group disrupted the technology infrastructure market by concentrating on specific solutions rather than generalizing in geographic markets. This strategy proved to be extremely effective and the company quickly and profitably grew to become a leading force in the industry.

A few years later, Seven Group shifted focus to the animation, visual effects and game development sectors and achieved dominant market share in Canada in these sectors. In 2015, Mr. Mari came out of retirement to co-found AMPD Holdings, a technology infrastructure company specializing in the video game sector and has focused on providing top quality service and solutions to clients. The Board is of the view that the Company’s general approach to corporate governance, summarized below, is appropriate and substantially consistent with objectives reflected in the guidelines for improved corporate governance in Canada adopted by the Canadian Securities Administrators (the “Governance Policy”).

Board of Directors

The Board will be composed of five directors.

The Governance Policy suggests that the board of directors of every listed company should be constituted with a majority of individuals who qualify as “unrelated”, or “independent”, directors. An “unrelated” director is a director who is independent of management and is free from any interest and any business or other relationship which could or could reasonably be perceived to materially interfere with the director’s ability to act with a view to the best interests of the Company, other than interests and relationships arising from shareholding. In addition, where a company has a significant shareholder, the Governance Policy suggests that the Board of Directors should include a number of directors who do not have interests in either the company or the significant shareholder.

The Company will have three “unrelated” directors within the meaning of the Governance Policy: Mr. Howard Donaldson, Mr. Ravinder Kang, and Mr. Markus Windelen. The two remaining directors are not considered “unrelated” within the meaning of the Governance Policy: Mr. Anthony Brown (CEO), and Mr. Don Bustin (CTO). In assessing the Governance Policy and making the foregoing determinations, the circumstances of each director have been examined in relation to a number of factors.

Directors are expected to attend Board meetings and meetings of committees on which they serve and to spend the time needed and meet as frequently as necessary to properly discharge their responsibilities.

Board Mandate

The Board will facilitate independent supervision of management through meetings of the Board and through frequent informal discussions among independent members of the Board and management. In addition, the Board will have access to the Company’s external auditors, legal counsel and to any of the Company’s officers.

The Board will have a stewardship responsibility to supervise the management of and oversee the conduct of the business of the Company, provide leadership and direction to management, evaluate management, set policies appropriate for the business of the Company and approve corporate strategies and goals.

The day-to-day management of the business and affairs of the Company will be delegated by the Board to the senior officers of the Company. The Board will give direction and guidance through the CEO to management and will keep management informed of its evaluation of the senior officers in achieving and complying with goals and policies established by the Board.

The Board will recommend nominees to the shareholders for election as directors, and immediately following each annual general meeting will appoint an Audit Committee.

The Board will exercise its independent supervision over management by its policies that (a) periodic meetings of the Board be held to obtain an update on significant corporate activities and plans; and (b) all material transactions of the Company are subject to prior approval of the Board. To facilitate open and candid discussion among its independent directors, such directors will be encouraged to communicate with each other directly to discuss ongoing issues pertaining to the Company.

Position Description

Because the Board is a small, working board, it has not developed written position descriptions and does not have a process for assessing the performance of the directors or the chair of the Board committees. It is not anticipated that the board of the Company will perform formal assessments of its members in the 12 months following completion of the Transaction.

Other Reporting Issuer Experience

None of the proposed directors, officers and promoters of the Company are, or have been within the last five years, directors, officers or promoters of other issuers that are or were reporting issuers in any Canadian jurisdiction.

Orientation and Continuing Education

The Board has not adopted formal policies respecting continuing education for Board members. Board members are encouraged to communicate with management, legal counsel, auditors and consultants of the Company, to keep themselves current with industry trends and developments and changes in legislation with management's assistance, and to attend related industry seminars and visit the Company's operations. Board members will have full access to the Company's records. It is not anticipated that the board of the Company will adopt formal guidelines in the 12 months following completion of the Transaction.

Ethical Business Conduct

The Board has not adopted formal guidelines to encourage and promote a culture of ethical business conduct but does promote ethical business conduct by nominating board members it considers ethical, by avoiding or minimizing conflicts of interest and by having a sufficient number of its board members independent of corporate matters. It is not anticipated that the board of the Company will adopt formal guidelines in the 12 months following completion of the Transaction.

The Board has found that the fiduciary duties placed on individual directors by governing corporate legislation and the common law, and the restrictions placed by the BCBCA and/or CBCA, as applicable, on an individual director's participation in decisions of the Board in which the director has an interest, have helped to ensure that the Board operates independently of management and in the best interests of the Company.

Under corporate legislation, a director is required to act honestly and in good faith with a view to the best interests of a company and exercise the care, diligence and skill that a reasonably prudent person would exercise in comparable circumstances. In addition, if a director of a company also serves as a director or officer of another company engaged in similar business activities to the first company, that director must comply with the conflict of interest provisions of the BCBCA and/or CBCA, as applicable, as well as the relevant securities regulatory instruments, in order to ensure that directors exercise independent judgment in considering transactions and agreements in respect of which a director or officer has a material interest. Any interested director would be required to declare the nature and extent of his interest and would not be entitled to vote at meetings of directors that evoke such a conflict.

Nomination of Directors

The Company will not have a stand-alone nomination committee. The full Board has responsibility for identifying potential Board candidates. The Board assesses potential Board candidates to fill perceived needs on the Board for required skills, expertise, independence and other factors. Members of the Board and representatives of the industry are consulted for possible candidates. It is not anticipated that the nomination committee of the Company will adopt a formal process to determine new nominees in the 12 months following completion of the Transaction.

Compensation

The Board will conduct reviews with regard to directors' and officers' compensation at least once a year. For information regarding the steps taken to determine compensation for the directors and the executive officers, see "Executive Compensation" herein.

Other Board Committees

The Board has no other committees other than the Audit Committee. It is not anticipated that the Board of the Company will establish any committee other than its Audit Committee in the 12 months following completion of the Transaction.

Assessments

The Board will monitor the adequacy of information given to directors, communication between the Board and management and the strategic direction and processes of the Board and committees. On an ongoing annual basis, the Board will assess the performance of the Board as a whole, each of the individual directors and each committee of the Board in order to satisfy itself that each is functioning effectively.

RISK FACTORS

An investment in the Company involves a high degree of risk and should be considered speculative. An investment in the Company should only be undertaken by those persons who can afford the total loss of their investment. You should carefully consider the risks and uncertainties described below, as well as other information contained in this Prospectus, including the financial statements and accompanying notes, appearing elsewhere in this Prospectus, before investing in the Company. The risks and uncertainties below are not the only ones the Company faces. Additional risks and uncertainties not presently known to the Company or that the Company believes to be immaterial may also adversely affect the Company's business. If any of the following risks occur, the Company's business, financial condition and results of operations could be seriously harmed, and you could lose all or part of your investment.

Risks Related to the Company

The Company is a development stage company with little operating history, a history of losses and the Company cannot assure profitability.

As the Company has yet to begin to generate revenue, it is extremely difficult to make accurate predictions and forecasts of its finances. This is compounded by the fact the Company intends to operate in the technology, cloud storage/computing and gaming sectors, which is rapidly transforming. There is no guarantee that the Company's products or services will be attractive to potential consumers.

Uncertainty about the Company's ability to continue as a going concern.

AMPD is in the development stage and is currently seeking mergers, acquisitions, joint ventures, partnerships and other business arrangements to expand its product offerings in the technology, cloud storage/computing and gaming sectors, and grow its revenue. AMPD's ability to continue as a going concern is dependent upon its ability in the future to grow its revenue and achieve profitable operations and, in the meantime, to ensure it has the necessary financing to meet its obligations and repay its liabilities when they become due. These conditions indicate the existence of material uncertainties that may cast significant doubt about the AMPD's ability to continue as a going concern.

The Company has negative cash flow for the year ended May 31, 2018.

The Company has a negative operating cash flow for the year ended May 31, 2018. To the extent that the Company has negative operating cash flow in future periods, it may need to allocate a portion of its cash reserves to fund such negative cash flow. The Company may also be required to raise additional funds through the issuance of equity or debt securities. There can be no assurance that the Company will be able to generate a positive cash flow from its operations, that additional capital or other types of financing will be available when needed or that these financings will be on terms favourable to the Company. The Company's actual financial position and results of operations may differ materially from the expectations of the Company's management.

The Company's actual financial position and results of operations may differ materially from the expectations of the Company's management.

The Company's actual financial position and results of operations may differ materially from management's expectations. As a result, the Company's revenue, net income and cash flow may differ materially from the Company's projected revenue, net income and cash flow. The process for estimating the Company's revenue, net income and cash flow requires the use of judgment in determining the appropriate assumptions and estimates. These estimates and assumptions may be revised as additional information becomes available and as additional analyses are performed. In addition, the assumptions used in planning may not prove to be accurate, and other factors may affect the Company's financial condition or results of operations.

There are factors which may prevent the Company from the realization of growth targets. The Company is currently in the expansion from early development stage.

The Company's growth strategy contemplates opening additional AMPD Data Centres. There is a risk that this will not be achieved on time, on budget, or at all, as it can be adversely affected by a variety of factors, including some that are discussed elsewhere in these "Risk Factors" and the following:

- Delays or failures in obtaining an appropriate location and/or space for the AMPD Data Centres;
- data centre design errors;
- environmental pollution; non-performance by third party contractors; increases in materials or labour costs; construction performance falling below expected levels of output or efficiency;
- breakdown, aging or failure of equipment or processes;
- contractor or operator errors;
- operational inefficiencies;
- labour disputes, disruptions or declines in productivity; inability to attract sufficient numbers of qualified workers; disruption in the supply of energy and utilities; and
- major incidents and/or catastrophic events such as fires, explosions or storms.

The Company may face significant competition.

The Company is engaged in an industry that is highly competitive. Because its industry is evolving and characterized by technological change, it is difficult for the Company to predict whether, when and by whom new competing technologies may be introduced or when new competitors may enter the market. The Company faces increased competition from companies with strong positions in certain markets the Company intends to serve and in new markets and regions it may enter. Many of the Company's competitors have significantly greater financial and other resources than the Issuer currently possesses and may spend significant amounts of resources to gain market share. The Company cannot assure investors that it will be able to compete effectively against current and future competitors. In addition, increased competition or other competitive pressures may result in price reductions, reduced margins or loss of market share, any of which could have a material adverse effect on the Company's business, financial condition or results of operations. Competitors may be able to respond to new or emerging technologies and changes in customer requirements more effectively than the Issuer can, or devote greater resources to the development, promotion and sale of products than the Issuer can. Current and potential competitors may establish cooperative relationships among themselves or with third parties, including through mergers or acquisitions, to increase the ability of their products to address the needs of the Company's prospective customers. If these competitors were to acquire significantly increased market share, it could have a material adverse effect on the Company's business, financial condition or results of operations. The Company's competitors may also establish or strengthen co-operative relationships with systems integrators, third party consulting firms or other parties with whom the Company has relationships, thereby limiting its ability to promote its products.

The Company may be subject to additional regulatory burden resulting from its public listing on the CSE.

The Company has not been subject to the continuous and timely disclosure requirements of Canadian securities laws or other rules, regulations and policies of the CSE. The Company is working with its legal, accounting and financial advisors to identify those areas in which changes should be made to the Company's financial management control systems to manage its obligations as a public company listed on the CSE. These areas include corporate governance, corporate controls, disclosure controls and procedures and financial reporting and accounting systems. The Company has made, and will continue to make, changes in these and other areas, including the Company's internal controls over financial reporting. However, the Company cannot assure holders of Company's shares that these and other measures that the Company might take will be sufficient to allow us to satisfy the Company's obligations as a public company listed on the CSE on a timely basis. In addition, compliance with reporting and other requirements applicable to public companies listed on the CSE will create additional costs for the Company and will require the time and attention of management. The Company cannot predict the amount of the additional costs that the Company might incur, the timing of such costs or the impact that management's attention to these matters will have on the Company's business.

There is no assurance that the Company will turn a profit or generate immediate revenues.

There is no assurance as to whether the Company will be profitable, earn revenues, or pay dividends. The Company has incurred and anticipates that it will continue to incur substantial expenses relating to the development and initial operations of its business.

The payment and amount of any future dividends will depend upon, among other things, the Company's results of operations, cash flow, financial condition, and operating and capital requirements. There is no assurance that future dividends will be paid, and, if dividends are paid, there is no assurance with respect to the amount of any such dividends.

The Company may not be able to effectively manage its growth and operations, which could materially and adversely affect its business.

If the Company implements its business plan as intended, it may in the future experience rapid growth and development in a relatively short period of time. The management of this growth will require, among other things, continued development of the Company's financial and management controls and management information systems, stringent control of costs, the ability to attract and retain qualified management personnel and the training of new personnel. The Company intends to utilize outsourced resources, and hire additional personnel, to manage its expected growth and expansion. Failure to successfully manage its possible growth and development could have a material adverse effect on the Company's business and the value of the Common Shares.

Failure to Innovate

The Company's success depends upon its ability to design, develop, test, market, license and support new software products and enhancements of current products on a timely basis in response to both competitive threats and marketplace demands. In addition, software products and enhancements must remain compatible with the other software products and systems used by its customers. Often, the Company must integrate software licensed or acquired from third parties with its proprietary software to create or improve its products. If the Issuer is unable to successfully integrate third party software to develop new software products and enhancements to existing products, or to complete products currently under development, its operating results will materially suffer. In addition, if the integrated or new products or enhancements do not achieve acceptance by the marketplace, the Company's operating results will materially suffer. Also, if new industry standards emerge that the Company does not anticipate or adapt to, its software products could be rendered obsolete and, as a result, its business and operating results, as well as its ability to compete in the marketplace, would be materially harmed.

The Company may be unable to adequately protect its proprietary and intellectual property rights

The Company's ability to compete may depend on the superiority, uniqueness and value of any intellectual property and technology that it may develop. To the extent the Company is able to do so, to protect any proprietary rights of the Company, the Company intends to rely on a combination of patent, trademark, copyright and trade secret laws, confidentiality agreements with its employees and third parties, and protective contractual provisions. Despite these efforts, any of the following occurrences may reduce the value of any of the Company's intellectual property:

- the market for the Company's products and services may depend to a significant extent upon the goodwill associated with its trademarks and trade names, and its ability to register certain of its intellectual property;
- patents in the technology, cloud storage/computing and gaming sectors involve complex legal and scientific questions and patent protection may not be available for some or any products; the Company's applications for trademarks and copyrights relating to its business may not be granted and, if granted, may be challenged or invalidated;
- issued patents, trademarks and registered copyrights may not provide the Company with competitive advantages; the Company's efforts to protect its intellectual property rights may not be effective in preventing misappropriation of any its products or intellectual property;
- the Company's efforts may not prevent the development and design by others of products or marketing strategies similar to or competitive with, or superior to those the Company develops;
- another party may assert a blocking patent and the Company would need to either obtain a license or design around the patent in order to continue to offer the contested feature or service in its products; or
- the expiration of patent or other intellectual property protections for any assets owned by the Company could result in significant competition, potentially at any time and without notice, resulting in a significant reduction in sales. The effect of the loss of these protections on the Company and its financial results will depend, among other things, upon the nature of the market and the position of the Company's products in the market from time to time, the growth of the market, the complexities and economics of manufacturing a competitive product and regulatory approval requirements but the impact could be material and adverse.

Intellectual Property Infringement

Other companies may claim that the Company has infringed their intellectual property, which could materially increase costs and materially harm the Company's ability to generate future revenue and profits. Claims of infringement are becoming increasingly common as the software industry develops and as related legal protections, including patents are applied to software products. Although the Company does not believe that its products infringe on the rights of third parties, third parties may assert infringement claims against the Company in the future. Although most of the Company's technology is proprietary in nature, the Company does include significant amounts of third-party software in its products. In these cases, this software is licensed from the entity holding the intellectual property rights. Although the Company believes that it has secured proper licenses for all third-party software that is integrated into its products, third parties may assert infringement claims against the Company in the future. Any such assertion may result in litigation or may require the Company to obtain a license for the intellectual property rights of third parties. Such licenses may not be available, or they may not be available on reasonable terms. In addition, such litigation could be disruptive to the Company's ability to generate revenue or enter into new market opportunities and may result in significantly increased costs as a result of the Company's efforts to defend against those claims or its attempt to license the patents or rework its products to ensure they comply with judicial decisions. Any of the foregoing could have a significant adverse impact on the Company's business and operating results as well as its ability to generate future revenue and profits. The loss of licenses to use third-party software or the lack of support or enhancement of such software could materially adversely affect the Issuer's business. The Company could also be forced to do one or more of the following: (i) stop selling, incorporating or using its products that use the challenged intellectual property; (ii) obtain from the owner of the infringed intellectual property right a license to sell or use the relevant technology, which license may not be available on reasonable terms, or at all; (iii) redesign those products that use allegedly infringing technology which may be costly or time-consuming; or (iv) refund license fees and other amounts received, and make payments of additional amounts in damages or settlement payments, for allegedly infringing technology or products.

The Company may be forced to litigate to defend its intellectual property rights, or to defend against claims by third parties against the Company relating to intellectual property rights.

The Company may be forced to litigate to enforce or defend its intellectual property rights, to protect its trade secrets or to determine the validity and scope of other parties' proprietary rights. Any such litigation could be very costly and could distract its management from focusing on operating the Company's business. The existence and/or outcome of any such litigation could harm the Company's business. Further, because of the nature of the Company's technology the Company may face additional difficulties in defending its intellectual property rights.

The Company may become subject to litigation, which may have a material adverse effect on the Company's reputation, business, results from operations, and financial condition.

The Company may be named as a defendant in a lawsuit or regulatory action. The Company may also incur uninsured losses for liabilities which arise in the ordinary course of business, or which are unforeseen, including, but not limited to, employment liability and business loss claims. Any such losses could have a material adverse effect on the Company's business, results of operations, sales, cash flow or financial condition.

Reliance on Third Party Software

The Company currently depends upon third party software products to develop its products. If in future such reliance existed and the software products were not available, the Company might experience delays or increased costs in the development of its products. The Company currently does not rely on software products that it licenses from third parties. Should the Company in the future rely upon third-party software licenses that may not continue to be available to the Company, and the related software may not continue to be appropriately supported, maintained, or enhanced by the licensors, the loss by the Company of the license to use, or the inability by licensors to support, maintain, and enhance any of such software, could result in increased costs or in delays or reductions in product shipments until equivalent software is developed or licensed and integrated with internally developed software. Such increased costs or delays or reductions in product shipments could materially adversely affect its business. The loss of the Company's rights to use software licensed to it by third parties could increase its operating expenses by forcing the Company to seek alternative technology and materially adversely affect its ability to compete. In addition, the Company's web-based software applications depend on the stability, functionality and scalability of the underlying infrastructure software including application servers, databases, java platform software and operating systems produced by IBM, Microsoft and others. If weaknesses in such infrastructure software exist, the Issuer may not be able to correct or compensate for such weaknesses. If the Issuer is unable to address weaknesses resulting from problems in the infrastructure software such that its products do not meet customer needs or expectations, its reputation, and consequently, its business may be significantly harmed.

Use of Open Source Software

The Company's software makes use of and incorporates open source software components. These components are developed by third parties over whom the Company has no control. There are no assurances that those components do not infringe upon the intellectual property rights of others. The Company could be exposed to infringement claims and liability in connection with the use of those open source software components, and the Company may be forced to replace those components with internally developed software or software obtained from another supplier, which may increase its expenses. The developers of open source software are usually under no obligation to maintain or update that software, and the Company may be forced to maintain or update such software itself or replace such software with internally developed software or software obtained from another supplier, which may increase its expenses. Making such replacements could also delay enhancements to its products. Certain open source software licenses provide that the licensed software may be freely used, modified and distributed to others provided that any modifications made to such software, including the source code to such modifications, are also made available under the same terms and conditions. As a result, any modifications the Company makes to such software will be available to all downstream users of the software, including its competitors. In addition, certain open source licenses provide that if the Company wishes to combine the licensed software, in whole or in part, with its proprietary software, and distribute copies of the resulting combined work, the Company may only do so if such copies are distributed under the same terms and conditions as the open source software component of the work was licensed to the Company, including the requirement to make the source code to the entire work available to recipients of such copies. The types of combinations of open source software and proprietary code that are covered by the requirement to release the source code to the entire combined work are uncertain and much debated by users of open source software. An incorrect determination as to whether a combination is governed by such provisions will result in non-compliance with the terms of the open source license. Such non-compliance could result in the termination of the Company's license to use, modify and distribute copies of the affected open source software and the Company may be forced to replace such open source software with internally developed software or software obtained from another supplier, which may increase its expenses. In addition to terminating the affected open source license, the licensor of such open source software may seek to have a court order that the proprietary software that was combined with the open source software be made available to others, including its competitors, under the terms and conditions of the applicable open source license.

Disruption of Information Technology Systems.

The Company relies on information technology in virtually all aspects of our business. A significant disruption or failure of our information technology systems could result in service interruptions, safety failures, security violations, regulatory compliance failures, and inability to protect information and assets against intruders, and other operational difficulties. Attacks perpetrated against its information systems could result in loss of assets and critical information and exposes us to remediation costs and reputational damage. Although the Company has taken steps intended to mitigate these risks, including business continuity planning, disaster recovery planning and business impact analysis, a significant disruption or cyber intrusion could lead to misappropriation of assets or data corruption and could adversely affect its results of operations, financial condition and liquidity. Additionally, if the Company is unable to acquire or implement new technology, it may suffer a competitive disadvantage, which could also have an adverse effect on its results of operations, financial condition and liquidity.

Cyber-attacks could further adversely affect the Company's ability to operate facilities, information technology and business systems, or compromise confidential customer and employee information. Political, economic, social or financial market instability or damage to or interference with its operation assets, or its customers or suppliers may result in business interruptions, lost revenue, higher commodity prices, disruption in fuel supplies, lower energy consumption, unstable markets, increased security and repair or other costs, any of which may materially affect its consolidated financial results. Furthermore, instability in the financial markets as a result of terrorism, sustained or significant cyber-attacks, or war could also materially adversely affect the Issuer's ability to raise capital.

Dependence on Internet Infrastructure; Risk of System Failures, Security Risks and Rapid Technological Change

The Company's success in the technology, cloud computing/storage and gaming sectors will depend by and large upon the continued development of a stable public infrastructure, with the necessary speed, data capacity and security, and the timely development of complementary products such as high-speed modems for providing reliable internet access and services. These sectors have experienced and are expected to continue to experience significant growth in the number of users, amount of content and bandwidth availability. It cannot be assured that the associated infrastructure will continue to be able to support the demands placed upon it by this continued growth or that the performance or reliability of the technology will not be adversely affected by this continued growth.

If the Company is unable to attract and retain key personnel, it may not be able to compete effectively in the technology, cloud storage/computing and gaming sectors.

The Company's success has depended and continues to depend upon its ability to attract and retain key management, including the Company's Chief Financial Officer, Chief Operating Officer, and technical experts. The Company will attempt to enhance its management and technical expertise by continuing to recruit qualified individuals who possess desired skills and experience in certain targeted areas. The Company's inability to retain employees and attract and retain sufficient additional employees or engineering and technical support resources could have a material adverse effect on the Company's business, results of operations, sales, cash flow or financial condition. Shortages in qualified personnel or the loss of key personnel could adversely affect the financial condition of the Company, results of operations of the business and could limit the Company's ability to develop and market its cannabis-related products. The loss of any of the Company's senior management or key employees could materially adversely affect the Company's ability to execute the Company's business plan and strategy, and the Company may not be able to find adequate replacements on a timely basis, or at all. The Company does not maintain key person life insurance policies on any of the Company's employees.

There is no assurance that the Company will secure strategic relationships in jurisdictions in which the Company considers important

The Company intends to form various strategic relationships. The Company believes it has a business strategy irrespective of any outside support it gains through such strategic relationships. Many of the Company's potential products and/or services could be developed with or without a strategic partner, although securing the appropriate partnership may help improve the Company's ability to further its research on and development of its products and services. There is no guarantee that the Company will be successful in forming a partnership with another entity on terms satisfactory to the Company or at all. Should the Company fail to form a partnership with an entity the Company considers important, or should the Company form a partnership with an entity on different or less favourable terms than anticipated, the business, financial condition and results of the operation of the Company could be materially adversely affected.

Failure to successfully integrate acquired businesses, its products and other assets into the Company, or if integrated, failure to further the Company's business strategy, may result in the Company's inability to realize any benefit from such acquisition.

The Company expects to grow by acquiring businesses. The consummation and integration of any acquired business, product or other assets into the Company may be complex and time consuming and, if such businesses and assets are not successfully integrated, the Company may not achieve the anticipated benefits, cost-savings or growth opportunities. Furthermore, these acquisitions and other arrangements, even if successfully integrated, may fail to further the Company's business strategy as anticipated, expose the Company to increased competition or other challenges with respect to the Company's products or geographic markets, and expose the Company to additional liabilities associated with an acquired business, technology or other asset or arrangement.

The Company will be reliant on information technology systems and may be subject to damaging cyberattacks.

The Company has entered into agreements with third parties for hardware, software, telecommunications and other information technology ("IT") services in connection with its operations. The Company's operations depend, in part, on how well it and its suppliers protect networks, equipment, IT systems and software against damage from a number of threats, including, but not limited to, cable cuts, damage to physical plants, natural disasters, intentional damage and destruction, fire, power loss, hacking, computer viruses, vandalism and theft. The Company's operations also depend on the timely maintenance, upgrade and replacement of networks, equipment, IT systems and software, as well as pre-emptive expenses to mitigate the risks of failures. Any of these and other events could result in information system failures, delays and/or increase in capital expenses. The failure of information systems or a component of information systems could, depending on the nature of any such failure, adversely impact the Company's reputation and results of operations.

The Company has not experienced any material losses to date relating to cyber-attacks or other information security breaches, but there can be no assurance that the Company will not incur such losses in the future. The Company's risk and exposure to these matters cannot be fully mitigated because of, among other things, the evolving nature of these threats. As a result, cyber security and the continued development and enhancement of controls, processes and practices designed to protect systems, computers, software, data and networks from attack, damage or unauthorized access is a priority. As cyber threats continue to evolve, the Company may be required to expend additional resources to continue to modify or enhance protective measures or to investigate and remediate any security vulnerabilities.

The Company's officers and directors may be engaged in a range of business activities resulting in conflicts of interest.

Although certain officers and board members of the Company are expected to be bound by anticircumvention agreements limiting their ability to enter into competing and/or conflicting ventures or businesses, the Company may be subject to various potential conflicts of interest because some of its officers and directors (and consequently, some of the officers and directors of the Company may be engaged in a range of business activities. In addition, the Company's executive officers and directors may devote time to their outside business interests, so long as such activities do not materially or adversely interfere with their duties to the Company. In some cases, the Company's executive officers and directors may have fiduciary obligations associated with these business interests that interfere with their ability to devote time to the Company's business and affairs and that could adversely affect the Company's operations. These business interests could require significant time and attention of the Company's executive officers and directors.

In addition, the Company may also become involved in other transactions which conflict with the interests of its directors and the officers who may from time to time deal with persons, firms, institutions or companies with which the Company may be dealing, or which may be seeking investments similar to those desired by it. The interests of these persons could conflict with those of the Company. In addition, from time to time, these persons may be competing with the Company for available investment opportunities. Conflicts of interest, if any, will be subject to the procedures and remedies provided under applicable laws. In particular, if such a conflict of interest arises at a meeting of the Company's directors, a director who has such a conflict will abstain from voting for or against the approval of such participation or such terms. In accordance with applicable laws, the directors of the Company are required to act honestly, in good faith and in the best interests of the Company.

In certain circumstances, the Company's reputation could be damaged.

Damage to the Company's reputation can be the result of the actual or perceived occurrence of any number of events, and could include any negative publicity, whether true or not. The increased usage of social media and other web-based tools used to generate, publish and discuss user-generated content and to connect with other users has made it increasingly easier for individuals and groups to communicate and share opinions and views regarding the Company and its activities, whether true or not. Although the Company believes that it operates in a manner that is respectful to all stakeholders and that it takes care in protecting its image and reputation, the Company does not ultimately have direct control over how it is perceived by others. Reputation loss may result in decreased investor confidence, increased challenges in developing and maintaining community relations and an impediment to the Company's overall ability to advance its projects, thereby having a material adverse impact on financial performance, financial condition, cash flows and growth prospects.

No guarantee on the use of available funds by the Company.

The Company cannot specify with certainty the particular uses of available funds. Management has broad discretion in the application of its proceeds. Accordingly, a holder of Common Shares will have to rely upon the judgment of management with respect to the use of available funds, with only limited information concerning management's specific intentions. The Company's management may spend a portion or all of the available funds in ways that the Company's shareholders might not desire, that might not yield a favourable return and that might not increase the value of a purchaser's investment. The failure by management to apply these funds effectively could harm the Company's business. Pending use of such funds, the Company might invest the available funds in a manner that does not produce income or that loses value.

Risks Related to the Company's Securities

The Company cannot assure you that a market will continue to develop or exist for the Common Shares or what the market price of the Common Shares will be.

The Company cannot assure that a market will continue to develop or be sustained once the Company's shares are listed on the CSE. If a market does not continue to develop or is not sustained, it may be difficult for investors to sell the Common Shares at an attractive price or at all. The Company cannot predict the prices at which the Common Shares will trade.

The market price for the Company's shares may be volatile and subject to wide fluctuations in response to numerous factors, many of which are beyond the Company's control.

The market price for the Company's shares may be volatile and subject to wide fluctuations in response to numerous factors, many of which are beyond the Company's control, including the following:

- actual or anticipated fluctuations in the Company's quarterly results of operations;
- recommendations by securities research analysts;
- changes in the economic performance or market valuations of companies in the industry in which the Company operates;
- addition or departure of the Company's executive officers and other key personnel;
- release or expiration of lock-up or other transfer restrictions on outstanding Common Shares;
- sales or perceived sales of additional Common Shares;
- significant acquisitions or business combinations, strategic partnerships, joint ventures or capital commitments by or involving us or the Company's competitors;
- operating and share price performance of other companies that investors deem comparable to us; fluctuations to the costs of vital production materials and services;
- changes in global financial markets and global economies and general market conditions, such as interest rates and product price volatility;
- operating and share price performance of other companies that investors deem comparable to the Company or from a lack of market comparable companies;
- news reports relating to trends, concerns, technological or competitive developments, regulatory changes and other related issues in the Company's industry or target markets; and
- regulatory changes in the industry.

Financial markets have recently experienced significant price and volume fluctuations that have particularly affected the market prices of equity securities of companies and that have often been unrelated to the operating performance, underlying asset values or prospects of such companies. Accordingly, the market price of the Common Shares may decline even if the Company's operating results, underlying asset values or prospects have not changed. Additionally, these factors, as well as other related factors, may cause decreases in asset values that are deemed to be other than temporary, which might result in impairment losses. There can be no assurance that continuing fluctuations in price and volume will not occur. If such increased levels of volatility and market turmoil continue, the Company's operations could be adversely affected, and the trading price of the Common Shares might be materially adversely affected.

The Company does not anticipate paying cash dividends.

The Company's current policy is to retain earnings to finance the development and enhancement of its products and to otherwise reinvest in the Company. Therefore, the Company does not anticipate paying cash dividends on the Company's shares in the foreseeable future. The Company's dividend policy will be reviewed from time to time by the Company's board in the context of its earnings, financial condition and other relevant factors. Until the time that the Company pays dividends, which the Company might never do, Company shareholders will not be able to receive a return on their Common Shares unless they sell them.

Future sales of Common Shares by existing shareholders could reduce the market price of the Common Shares.

Sales of a substantial number of Common Shares in the public market could occur at any time. These sales, or the market perception that the holders of a large number of Common Shares intend to sell Common Shares, could reduce the market price of the Common Shares. Additional Common Shares may be available for sale into the public market, subject to applicable securities laws, which could reduce the market price for Common Shares. Holders of Options or Warrants will have an immediate income inclusion for tax purposes when they exercise their Options or Warrants (that is, tax is not deferred until they sell the underlying Common Shares). As a result, these holders may need to sell Common Shares purchased on the exercise of Options or Warrants in the same year that they exercise their options. This might result in a greater number of Common Shares being sold in the public market, and fewer long-term holds of Common Shares by the Company's management and employees.

CERTAIN FEDERAL INCOME TAX CONSIDERATIONS

The Company encourages each security holder to consult with its own tax or professional advisor to under the tax considerations generally applicable with purchasing or owning the Qualified Shares.

PURCHASERS' STATUTORY RIGHTS OF WITHDRAWAL AND RECISSION

Securities legislation in certain of the provinces of Canada provides purchasers with the right to withdraw from an agreement to purchase securities. INDEPENDENT AUDITOR'S REPORT

To the Directors of AMPD Ventures Inc. (formerly E-Gaming Ventures Corp.):

Opinion

We have audited the financial statements AMPD Ventures Inc. (formerly E-Gaming Ventures Corp.) (the "Company"), which comprise the statement of financial position as at February 28, 2019, and the statement of loss and comprehensive loss, statement of changes in equity and cash flows for the period from incorporation on June 27, 2018 to February 28, 2019, and notes to the financial statements, including a summary of significant accounting policies (collectively referred to as the "financial statements").

In our opinion, the accompanying financial statements present fairly, in all material respects, the financial position of the Company as at February 28, 2019, and its financial performance and its cash flows for the period from incorporation on June 27, 2018 to February 28, 2019 in accordance with International Financial Reporting Standards.

Basis for Opinion

We conducted our audit in accordance with Canadian generally accepted auditing standards. Our responsibilities under those standards are further described in the Auditor's Responsibilities for the Audit of the Financial Statements section of our report. We are independent of the Company in accordance with the ethical requirements that are relevant to our audit of the financial statements in Canada, and we have fulfilled our other ethical responsibilities in accordance with these requirements. We believe that the audit evidence we have obtained is sufficient and appropriate to provide a basis for our opinion.

Emphasis of Matter

We draw attention to Note 1 to the financial statements, which indicates that the Company incurred a net loss of $94,942 during the period from incorporation on June 27, 2018 to February 28, 2019. As stated in Note 1, these events or conditions, along with other matters as set forth in Note 1, indicate that a material uncertainty exists that may cast significant doubt on the Company's ability to continue as a going concern. Our opinion is not modified in respect of this matter.

Responsibilities of Management and Those Charged with Governance for the Financial Statements

Management is responsible for the preparation and fair presentation of the financial statements in accordance with International Financial Reporting Standards, and for such internal control as management determines is necessary to enable the preparation of financial statements that are free from material misstatement, whether due to fraud or error.

In preparing the financial statements, management is responsible for assessing the Company's ability to continue as a going concern, disclosing, as applicable, matters related to going concern and using the going concern basis of accounting unless management either intends to liquidate the Company or to cease operations, or has no realistic alternative but to do so.

Those charged with governance are responsible for overseeing the Company's financial reporting process.

Auditor's Responsibilities for the Audit of the Financial Statements

Our objectives are to obtain reasonable assurance about whether the financial statements as a whole are free from material misstatement, whether due to fraud or error, and to issue an auditor's report that includes our opinion. Reasonable assurance is a high level of assurance, but is not a guarantee that an audit conducted in accordance with Canadian generally accepted auditing standards will always detect a material misstatement when it exists. Misstatements can arise from fraud or error and are considered material if, individually or in the aggregate, they could reasonably be expected to influence the economic decisions of users taken on the basis of these financial statements. As part of an audit in accordance with Canadian generally accepted auditing standards, we exercise professional judgment and maintain professional skepticism throughout the audit. We also:

- Identify and assess the risks of material misstatement of the financial statements, whether due to fraud or error, design and perform audit procedures responsive to those risks, and obtain audit evidence that is sufficient and appropriate to provide a basis for our opinion. The risk of not detecting a material misstatement resulting from fraud is higher than for one resulting from error, as fraud may involve collusion, forgery, intentional omissions, misrepresentations, or the override of internal control.
- Obtain an understanding of internal control relevant to the audit in order to design audit procedures that are appropriate in the circumstances, but not for the purpose of expressing an opinion on the effectiveness of the Company's internal control.

- Evaluate the appropriateness of accounting policies used and the reasonableness of accounting estimates and related disclosures made by management.
- Conclude on the appropriateness of management's use of the going concern basis of accounting and based on the audit evidence obtained, whether a material uncertainty exists related to events or conditions that may cast significant doubt on the Company's ability to continue as a going concern. If we conclude that a material uncertainty exists, we are required to draw attention in our auditor's report to the related disclosures in the financial statements or, if such disclosures are inadequate, to modify our opinion. Our conclusions are based on the audit evidence obtained up to the date of our auditor's report. However, future events or conditions may cause the Company to cease to continue as a going concern.
- Evaluate the overall presentation, structure and content of the financial statements, including the disclosures, and whether the financial statements represent the underlying transactions and events in a manner that achieves fair presentation.

We communicate with those charged with governance regarding, among other matters, the planned scope and timing of the audit and significant audit findings, including any significant deficiencies in internal control that we identify during our audit.

We also provide those charged with governance with a statement that we have complied with relevant ethical requirements regarding independence, and to communicate with them all relationships and other matters that may reasonably be thought to bear on our independence, and where applicable, related safeguards.

Notes to the Financial Statements

For the period from June 27, 2018 (date of incorporation) to February 28, 2019

(Expressed in Canadian Dollars)

1. NATURE OF BUSINESS

AMPD Ventures Inc. (formerly E-Gaming Ventures Corp.) (the “Company”) was incorporated under the laws of the Province of British Columbia on June 27, 2018. The Company changed its name from 1169750 B.C. Ltd. to CannaGlobe Therapeutics Corp. on August 2, 2018, then to E-Gaming Ventures Corp. on January 28, 2019 and subsequently to AMPD Ventures Inc. on July 25, 2019.

The Company’s head office and principal address is Suite 2050-1055 W. Georgia Street, Vancouver BC, V6E 3P3. The registered and records office is 1500-1055 West Georgia Street, Vancouver, BC, V6E 4N7.

On July 15, 2019, the Company entered into a share exchange agreement (“SEA”) with AMPD Holdings Corp. (“AMPD”), a private company incorporated under the Canada Business Corporations Act. AMPD is a technology company building high performance computing infrastructure, cloud computing and next-gen content to gaming developers and publishers.

Pursuant to the SEA, the Company will acquire 100% of the issued and outstanding common shares of AMPD (the “Transaction”) resulting in AMPD becoming a wholly owned subsidiary of the Company and the Company will continue on the business of AMPD. Upon completion of the Transaction, the security holders of AMPD will become shareholders of the combined entity (the “Resulting Issuer”) (Note 11).

These financial statements have been prepared using International Financial Reporting Standards (“IFRS”) applicable to a going concern, which assume that the Company will continue in operation for the foreseeable future and will be able to realize assets and discharge liabilities in the normal course of operations. Different bases of measurement may be appropriate if the Company is not expected to continue operations for the foreseeable future. The Company’s continuation as a going concern is dependent upon the successful identification of viable business project, its ability to raise equity capital, to obtain loans from related parties, and to attain profitable operations to generate funds and meet current and future obligations. These conditions cast significant doubt on the Company’s ability to continue as a going concern. During the period ended February 28, 2019, the Company reported a net loss of $94,942. As at February 28, 2019, the Company had working capital of $63,664.

2. BASIS OF PRESENTATION

These financial statements were authorized for issue on July 31, 2019 by the directors of the Company.

Statement of compliance

These financial statements have been prepared in accordance with International Financial Reporting Standards (“IFRS”) as issued by the International Accounting Standards Board (“IASB”) and Interpretations issued by the International Financial Reporting Interpretations Committee (“IFRIC”).

2. BASIS OF PRESENTATION (cont'd)

Basis of presentation

The financial statements of the Company have been prepared on an accrual basis and are based on historical costs, modified where applicable. These financial statements are presented in Canadian dollars unless otherwise noted.

Significant estimates and assumptions

The preparation of financial statements in accordance with IFRS requires the Company to make estimates and assumptions concerning the future. The Company's management reviews these estimates and underlying assumptions on an ongoing basis, based on experience and other factors, including expectations of future events that are believed to be reasonable under the circumstances. Revisions to estimates are adjusted for prospectively in the period in which the estimates are revised.

Estimates and assumptions where there is significant risk of material adjustments to assets and liabilities in future accounting periods include the fair value measurements for financial instruments and the recoverability and measurement of deferred tax assets.

Significant judgments

The preparation of financial statements in accordance with IFRS requires the Company to make judgments, apart from those involving estimates, in applying accounting policies. The most significant judgments applying to the Company's financial statements include the assessment of the Company's ability to continue as a going concern and whether there are events or conditions that may give rise to significant uncertainty.

3. SIGNIFICANT ACCOUNTING POLICIES

Share capital

Common shares issued for non-monetary consideration are recorded at their fair value on the measurement date and classified as equity. The measurement date is defined as the earliest of the date at which the commitment for performance by the counterparty to earn the common shares is reached or the date at which the counterparty's performance is complete.

Transaction costs directly attributable to the issue of common shares and share purchase options are recognized as a deduction from equity, net of any tax effects.

Notes to the Financial Statements

3. SIGNIFICANT ACCOUNTING POLICIES (cont'd)

Earnings (loss) per share

Basic earnings (loss) per share is computed by dividing net earnings (loss) available to common shareholders by the weighted average number of shares outstanding during the reporting period. Diluted earnings (loss) per share is computed similar to basic earnings (loss) per share except that the weighted average shares outstanding are increased to include additional shares for the assumed exercise of stock options and warrants, if dilutive. The number of additional shares is calculated by assuming that outstanding stock options and warrants were exercised and that the proceeds from such exercises were used to acquire common stock at the average market price during the reporting periods. If these computations prove to be anti-dilutive, diluted loss per share is the same as basic loss per share.

Income taxes

Income tax expense is comprised of current and deferred tax. Income tax is recognized in profit or loss except to the extent that it relates to items recognized directly in equity. Current tax expense is the expected tax payable on taxable income for the year, using tax rates enacted or substantively enacted at period end, adjusted for amendments to tax payable with regards to previous years.

Deferred tax is recorded using the asset and liability method, providing for temporary differences, between the carrying amounts of assets and liabilities for financial reporting purposes and the amounts used for taxation purposes. Temporary differences are not provided for relating to goodwill not deductible for tax purposes, the initial recognition of assets or liabilities that affect neither accounting or taxable loss, and differences relating to investments in subsidiaries to the extent that they will probably not reverse in the foreseeable future. The amount of deferred tax provided is based on the expected manner of realization or settlement of the carrying amount of assets and liabilities, using tax rates enacted or substantively enacted at the reporting date.

A deferred tax asset is recognized only to the extent that it is probable that future taxable profits will be available against which the asset can be utilized. To the extent that the Company does not consider it probable that a deferred tax asset will be recovered, it provides a valuation allowance against that excess.

Financial instruments – recognition and measurement

The following is the Company's accounting policy for financial instruments under IFRS 9:

(i) Classification

The Company classifies its financial instruments in the following categories: at fair value through profit and loss ("FVTPL"), at fair value through other comprehensive income (loss) ("FVTOCI") or at amortized cost. The Company determines the classification of financial assets at initial recognition. The classification of debt instruments is driven by the Company's business model for managing the financial assets and their contractual cash flow characteristics. Equity instruments that are held for trading are classified as FVTPL.

For other equity instruments, on the day of acquisition the Company can make an irrevocable election (on an instrument-by-instrument basis) to designate them as at FVTOCI. Financial liabilities are measured at amortized cost, unless they are required to be measured at FVTPL (such as instruments held for trading or derivatives) or if the Company has opted to measure them at FVTPL.

(ii) Measurement

Financial assets and liabilities at amortized cost

Financial assets and liabilities at amortized cost are initially recognized at fair value plus or minus transaction costs, respectively, and subsequently carried at amortized cost less any impairment.

Financial assets and liabilities at FVTPL

Financial assets and liabilities carried at FVTPL are initially recorded at fair value and transaction costs are expensed in the statements of loss and comprehensive loss. Realized and unrealized gains and losses arising from changes in the fair value of the financial assets and liabilities held at FVTPL are included in the statements of loss and comprehensive loss in the period in which they arise.

Debt investments at FVOCI

These assets are subsequently measured at fair value. Interest income calculated using the effective interest method, foreign exchange gains and losses and impairment are recognised in profit or loss. Other net gains and losses are recognised in Other Comprehensive Income ("OCI"). On derecognition, gains and losses accumulated in OCI are reclassified to profit or loss

Equity investments at FVOCI

These assets are subsequently measured at fair value. Dividends are recognised as income in profit or loss unless the dividend clearly represents a recovery of part of the cost of the investment. Other net gains and losses are recognised in OCI and are never reclassified to profit or loss.

(iii) Impairment of financial assets at amortized cost

The Company recognizes a loss allowance for expected credit losses on financial assets that are measured at amortized cost. At each reporting date, the Company measures the loss allowance for the financial asset at an amount equal to the lifetime expected credit losses if the credit risk on the financial asset has increased significantly since initial recognition. If at the reporting date, the financial asset has not increased significantly since initial recognition, the Company measures the loss allowance for the financial asset at an amount equal to the twelve month expected credit losses. The Company shall recognize in the statements of loss and comprehensive loss, as an impairment gain or loss, the amount of expected credit losses (or reversal) that is required to adjust the loss allowance at the reporting date to the amount that is required to be recognized.

9. FINANCIAL INSTRUMENTS AND RISK MANAGEMENT (cont'd)

Liquidity risk

Liquidity risk is the risk that the Company will not be able to meet its financial obligations as they fall due. The Company's objective in managing liquidity risk is to maintain sufficient readily available reserves in order to meet its liquidity requirements at any point in time. The Company achieves this by maintaining sufficient cash and seeking equity financing when needed.

As at February 28, 2019, the Company had cash on hand of $699,714, which is sufficient to settle its current liabilities of $636,050.

Market risk

Market risk is the risk of loss that may arise from changes in market factors such as interest rates, foreign exchange rates, and commodity and equity prices.

(a) Interest rate risk

Interest rate risk is the risk that the fair value of future cash flows of a financial instrument will fluctuate because of changes in the market interest rates. The Company's cash is held in an account with a major Canadian financial institution. The funds may be withdrawn at any time without penalty.

(b) Foreign currency risk

The Company does not have assets or liabilities in a foreign currency and therefore is not exposed to foreign currency risk.

(c) Price risk

The Company is exposed to price risk with respect to equity prices. Equity price risk is defined as the potentially adverse impact on the Company's ability to obtain equity financing due to movements in individual equity prices. The Company closely monitors individual equity movements to determine the appropriate course of action to be taken by the Company.

10. CAPITAL MANAGEMENT

Capital is comprised of the Company's shareholders' equity and any debt that it may issue. As at February 28, 2019, the Company's shareholders' equity was $63,664 and it had current liabilities of $636,050. The Company's objectives when managing capital are to maintain financial strength and to protect its ability to meet its future liabilities, to continue as a going concern, to maintain creditworthiness and to maximize returns for shareholders over the long term. Protecting the ability to pay current and future liabilities includes maintaining capital above minimum regulatory levels, current financial strength rating requirements and internally determined capital guidelines and calculated risk management levels. The Company currently is not subject to externally imposed capital requirements.

11. PROPOSED BUSINESS TRANSACTION

The Company entered into a SEA dated July 15, 2019 with AMPD pursuant to which the Company proposes to acquire all of the issued and outstanding securities of AMPD in exchange for the issuance of securities of the Company, which will result in AMPD becoming a wholly owned subsidiary of the Company. In conjunction with the Transaction, the Company will file a non-offering prospectus that will result in it becoming a reporting issuer and will apply to list (the "Listing") its common shares on the Canadian Securities Exchange (the "Exchange"). Upon completion of the Transaction, the Company will carry on the business of AMPD.

The Transaction

In consideration of the Transaction, the Company shall, upon completion of the Transaction, issue 20 million of its shares to the then existing shareholders of AMPD at a price of $0.35 per share. At closing, each of the AMPD optionholders and warrant holders shall receive replacement securities, if not exercised, of their holdings multiplied by the share exchange ratio. The replacement security will maintain the same expiration date.

Further, at closing, the convertible loans in AMPD, if not converted prior to closing, will be exchanged into the Company's common shares multiplied by the share exchange ratio.

Concurrent Financing

In conjunction with, and prior to the closing of the Transaction, the Company will complete a private placement of subscription receipts with each subscription receipt being convertible upon the Listing closing into a minimum of 11,428,571 shares at a price of $0.35 per receipt for total minimum gross proceeds of $4,000,000.

The concurrent financing may be increased to up to $5,000,000 in gross proceeds. A commission of 7% cash and 7% agent's warrants may be payable and issuable to third parties on a portion of the financing.

Subsequent to February 28, 2019, the Company completed the first tranche of private placement and issued 8,106,853 subscription receipts for total gross proceeds of $2,837,400. The Company paid $130,837 in cash commissions and issued 262,249 agent's warrants on a portion of the financing. Each agent's warrant will entitle the holder to one common share at no additional consideration and will be deemed to be exercised on the earlier of (i) the third business day after a receipt for a final prospectus qualifying the distribution of the shares; and (ii) four months and one day after issue date of the agent's warrants.

The Company also received $82,250 in subscription receipts for its second tranche of the concurrent financing.

INDEPENDENT AUDITOR'S REPORT

To the Directors of AMPD Ventures Inc. (formerly E-Gaming Ventures Corp.):

Opinion

We have audited the financial statements of AMPD Ventures Inc. (formerly E-Gaming Ventures Corp.) (the "Company"), which comprise the statement of financial position as at May 31, 2019 and February 28, 2019, and the statement of loss and comprehensive loss, statement of changes in equity and cash flows for the three months ended May 31, 2019, and notes to the financial statements, including a summary of significant accounting policies (collectively referred to as the "financial statements").

In our opinion, the accompanying financial statements present fairly, in all material respects, the financial position of the Company as at May 31, 2019, and its financial performance and its cash flows for the three months ended May 31, 2019 in accordance with International Financial Reporting Standards.

Basis for Opinion

We conducted our audit in accordance with Canadian generally accepted auditing standards. Our responsibilities under those standards are further described in the Auditor's Responsibilities for the Audit of the Financial Statements section of our report. We are independent of the Company in accordance with the ethical requirements that are relevant to our audit of the financial statements in Canada, and we have fulfilled our other ethical responsibilities in accordance with these requirements. We believe that the audit evidence we have obtained is sufficient and appropriate to provide a basis for our opinion.

Emphasis of Matter

We draw attention to Note 1 to the financial statements, which indicates that the Company incurred a net loss of $65,140 during the three months ended May 31, 2019. As stated in Note 1, these events or conditions, along with other matters as set forth in Note 1, indicate that a material uncertainty exists that may cast significant doubt on the Company's ability to continue as a going concern. Our opinion is not modified in respect of this matter.

Responsibilities of Management and Those Charged with Governance for the Financial Statements

Management is responsible for the preparation and fair presentation of the financial statements in accordance with International Financial Reporting Standards, and for such internal control as management determines is necessary to enable the preparation of financial statements that are free from material misstatement, whether due to fraud or error.

In preparing the financial statements, management is responsible for assessing the Company's ability to continue as a going concern, disclosing, as applicable, matters related to going concern and using the going concern basis of accounting unless management either intends to liquidate the Company or to cease operations, or has no realistic alternative but to do so.

Those charged with governance are responsible for overseeing the Company's financial reporting process.

Auditor's Responsibilities for the Audit of the Financial Statements

Our objectives are to obtain reasonable assurance about whether the financial statements as a whole are free from material misstatement, whether due to fraud or error, and to issue an auditor's report that includes our opinion. Reasonable assurance is a high level of assurance, but is not a guarantee that an audit conducted in accordance with Canadian generally accepted auditing standards will always detect a material misstatement when it exists. Misstatements can arise from fraud or error and are considered material if, individually or in the aggregate, they could reasonably be expected to influence the economic decisions of users taken on the basis of these financial statements. As part of an audit in accordance with Canadian generally accepted auditing standards, we exercise professional judgment and maintain professional skepticism throughout the audit. We also:

- Identify and assess the risks of material misstatement of the financial statements, whether due to fraud or error, design and perform audit procedures responsive to those risks, and obtain audit evidence that is sufficient and appropriate to provide a basis for our opinion. The risk of not detecting a material misstatement resulting from fraud is higher than for one resulting from error, as fraud may involve collusion, forgery, intentional omissions, misrepresentations, or the override of internal control.
- Obtain an understanding of internal control relevant to the audit in order to design audit procedures that are appropriate in the circumstances, but not for the purpose of expressing an opinion on the effectiveness of the Company's internal control.
- Evaluate the appropriateness of accounting policies used and the reasonableness of accounting estimates and related disclosures made by management.
- Conclude on the appropriateness of management's use of the going concern basis of accounting and based on the audit evidence obtained, whether a material uncertainty exists related to events or conditions that may cast significant doubt on the Company's ability to continue as a going concern. If we conclude that a material uncertainty exists, we are required to draw attention in our auditor's report to the related disclosures in the financial statements or, if such disclosures are inadequate, to modify our opinion. Our conclusions are based on the audit evidence obtained up to the date of our auditor's report. However, future events or conditions may cause the Company to cease to continue as a going concern.

- Evaluate the overall presentation, structure and content of the financial statements, including the disclosures, and whether the financial statements represent the underlying transactions and events in a manner that achieves fair presentation.

We communicate with those charged with governance regarding, among other matters, the planned scope and timing of the audit and significant audit findings, including any significant deficiencies in internal control that we identify during our audit.

We also provide those charged with governance with a statement that we have complied with relevant ethical requirements regarding independence, and to communicate with them all relationships and other matters that may reasonably be thought to bear on our independence, and where applicable, related safeguards.

Notes to the Financial Statements
For the three months ended May 31, 2019
(Expressed in Canadian Dollars)

1. NATURE OF BUSINESS

AMPD Ventures Inc. (formerly E-Gaming Ventures Corp.) (the “Company”) was incorporated under the laws of the Province of British Columbia on June 27, 2018. The Company changed its name from 1169750 B.C. Ltd. to CannaGlobe Therapeutics Corp. on August 2, 2018, then to E-Gaming Ventures Corp. on January 28, 2019 and subsequently to AMPD Ventures Inc. on July 25, 2019.

The Company’s head office and principal address is Suite 2050-1055 W. Georgia Street, Vancouver BC, V6E 3P3. The registered and records office is 1500-1055 West Georgia Street, Vancouver, BC, V6E 4N7.

On July 15, 2019, the Company entered into a share exchange agreement (“SEA”) with AMPD Holdings Corp. (“AMPD”), a private company incorporated under the Canada Business Corporations Act. AMPD is a technology company building high performance computing infrastructure, cloud computing and next-gen content to gaming developers and publishers.

Pursuant to the SEA, the Company will acquire 100% of the issued and outstanding common shares of AMPD (the “Transaction”) resulting in AMPD becoming a wholly owned subsidiary of the Company and the Company will continue on the business of AMPD. Upon completion of the Transaction, the security holders of AMPD will become shareholders of the combined entity (the “Resulting Issuer”) (Note 11).

These financial statements have been prepared using International Financial Reporting Standards (“IFRS”) applicable to a going concern, which assumes that the Company will continue in operation for the foreseeable future and will be able to realize assets and discharge liabilities in the normal course of operations. Different bases of measurement may be appropriate if the Company is not expected to continue operations for the foreseeable future. The Company’s continuation as a going concern is dependent upon the successful identification of a viable business project, its ability to raise equity capital, to obtain loans from related parties, and to attain profitable operations to generate funds and meet current and future obligations. These conditions cast significant doubt on the Company’s ability to continue as a going concern. During the period ended May 31, 2019, the Company reported a net loss of $64,150. As at May 31, 2019, the Company had working capital of $2,705,086 (February 28, 2019 - $63,664).

2. BASIS OF PRESENTATION

These financial statements were authorized for issue on July 31, 2019 by the directors of the Company.

Statement of compliance

The financial statements have been prepared in accordance with International Financial Reporting Standards (“IFRS”) as issued by the International Accounting Standards Board (“IASB”) and Interpretations issued by the International Financial Reporting Interpretations Committee (“IFRIC”).

Basis of presentation

The financial statements of the Company have been prepared on an accrual basis and are based on historical costs, modified where applicable. These financial statements are presented in Canadian dollars unless otherwise noted.

2. BASIS OF PRESENTATION (cont'd)

Significant estimates and assumptions

The preparation of financial statements in accordance with IFRS requires the Company to make estimates and assumptions concerning the future. The Company's management reviews these estimates and underlying assumptions on an ongoing basis, based on experience and other factors, including expectations of future events that are believed to be reasonable under the circumstances. Revisions to estimates are adjusted for prospectively in the period in which the estimates are revised.

Estimates and assumptions where there is significant risk of material adjustments to assets and liabilities in future accounting periods include the fair value measurements for financial instruments and the recoverability and measurement of deferred tax assets.

Significant judgments

The preparation of financial statements in accordance with IFRS requires the Company to make judgments, apart from those involving estimates, in applying accounting policies. The most significant judgments applying to the Company's financial statements include the assessment of the Company's ability to continue as a going concern and whether there are events or conditions that may give rise to significant uncertainty.

3. SIGNIFICANT ACCOUNTING POLICIES

Share capital

Common shares issued for non-monetary consideration are recorded at their fair value on the measurement date and classified as equity. The measurement date is defined as the earliest of the date at which the commitment for performance by the counterparty to earn the common shares is reached or the date at which the counterparty's performance is complete.

Transaction costs directly attributable to the issue of common shares and share purchase options are recognized as a deduction from equity, net of any tax effects.

Earnings (loss) per share

Basic earnings (loss) per share is computed by dividing net earnings (loss) available to common shareholders by the weighted average number of shares outstanding during the reporting period. Diluted earnings (loss) per share is computed similar to basic earnings (loss) per share except that the weighted average shares outstanding are increased to include additional shares for the assumed exercise of stock options and warrants, if dilutive. The number of additional shares is calculated by assuming that outstanding stock options and warrants were exercised and that the proceeds from such exercises were used to acquire common stock at the average market price during the reporting periods. If these computations prove to be anti-dilutive, diluted loss per share is the same as basic loss per share.

3. SIGNIFICANT ACCOUNTING POLICIES (cont'd)

Income taxes

Income tax expense is comprised of current and deferred tax. Income tax is recognized in profit or loss except to the extent that it relates to items recognized directly in equity. Current tax expense is the expected tax payable on taxable income for the year, using tax rates enacted or substantively enacted at period end, adjusted for amendments to tax payable with regards to previous years.

Deferred tax is recorded using the asset and liability method, providing for temporary differences, between the carrying amounts of assets and liabilities for financial reporting purposes and the amounts used for taxation purposes. Temporary differences are not provided for relating to goodwill not deductible for tax purposes, the initial recognition of assets or liabilities that affect neither accounting or taxable loss, and differences relating to investments in subsidiaries to the extent that they will probably not reverse in the foreseeable future. The amount of deferred tax provided is based on the expected manner of realization or settlement of the carrying amount of assets and liabilities, using tax rates enacted or substantively enacted at the reporting date.

A deferred tax asset is recognized only to the extent that it is probable that future taxable profits will be available against which the asset can be utilized. To the extent that the Company does not consider it probable that a deferred tax asset will be recovered, it provides a valuation allowance against that excess.

Share-based compensation

The fair value of share-based compensation to non-employees is measured at the date the goods or services are received, at either the fair value of the goods or services received or the fair value of the equity instruments issued using the Black-Scholes Option Pricing Model, if the fair value of the goods or services received cannot be readily measured.

The fair value is recognized as an expense with a corresponding increase in reserves. The amount recognized as expense is adjusted to reflect the number of share options expected to vest. For share options granted with vesting terms conditional upon the achievement of a performance condition, and the performance condition is not a market condition, the Company revises its estimates of the length of the vesting period, if necessary, when information arises that indicates that the length of the vesting period differs from previous estimates. When this occurs, the change in estimate is accounted for prospectively.

Compensation expense is recorded in the statement of loss and comprehensive loss as share-based compensation expense with a corresponding credit to equity reserves. When stock options are exercised, the proceeds, together with the amount recorded in equity reserves, are recorded in share capital.

3. SIGNIFICANT ACCOUNTING POLICIES (cont'd)

Financial instruments – recognition and measurement

The following is the Company's accounting policy for financial instruments under IFRS 9:

(i) Classification

The Company classifies its financial instruments in the following categories: at fair value through profit and loss ("FVTPL"), at fair value through other comprehensive income (loss) ("FVTOCI") or at amortized cost. The Company determines the classification of financial assets at initial recognition. The classification of debt instruments is driven by the Company's business model for managing the financial assets and their contractual cash flow characteristics. Equity instruments that are held for trading are classified as FVTPL.

For other equity instruments, on the day of acquisition the Company can make an irrevocable election (on an instrument-by-instrument basis) to designate them as at FVTOCI. Financial liabilities are measured at amortized cost, unless they are required to be measured at FVTPL (such as instruments held for trading or derivatives) or if the Company has opted to measure them at FVTPL.

(ii) Measurement

Financial assets and liabilities at amortized cost

Financial assets and liabilities at amortized cost are initially recognized at fair value plus or minus transaction costs, respectively, and subsequently carried at amortized cost less any impairment.

Financial assets and liabilities at FVTPL

Financial assets and liabilities carried at FVTPL are initially recorded at fair value and transaction costs are expensed in the statements of net (loss) income. Realized and unrealized gains and losses arising from changes in the fair value of the financial assets and liabilities held at FVTPL are included in the statements of net (loss) income in the period in which they arise.

Debt investments at FVTOCI

These assets are subsequently measured at fair value. Interest income calculated using the effective interest method, foreign exchange gains and losses and impairment are recognised in profit or loss. Other net gains and losses are recognised in Other Comprehensive Income ("OCI"). On derecognition, gains and losses accumulated in OCI are reclassified to profit or loss

Equity investments at FVTOCI

These assets are subsequently measured at fair value. Dividends are recognised as income in profit or loss unless the dividend clearly represents a recovery of part of the cost of the investment. Other net gains and losses are recognised in OCI and are never reclassified to profit or loss.

3. SIGNIFICANT ACCOUNTING POLICIES (cont'd)

(iii) Impairment of financial assets at amortized cost

The Company recognizes a loss allowance for expected credit losses on financial assets that are measured at amortized cost. At each reporting date, the Company measures the loss allowance for the financial asset at an amount equal to the lifetime expected credit losses if the credit risk on the financial asset has increased significantly since initial recognition. If at the reporting date, the financial asset has not increased significantly since initial recognition, the Company measures the loss allowance for the financial asset at an amount equal to the twelve month expected credit losses. The Company shall recognize in the statements of net (loss) income, as an impairment gain or loss, the amount of expected credit losses (or reversal) that is required to adjust the loss allowance at the reporting date to the amount that is required to be recognized.

(iv) Derecognition

Financial assets

The Company derecognizes financial assets only when the contractual rights to cash flows from the financial assets expire, or when it transfers the financial assets and substantially all of the associated risks and rewards of ownership to another entity.

Financial liabilities

The Company derecognizes a financial liability when its contractual obligations are discharged or cancelled, or expire. The Company also derecognizes a financial liability when the terms of the liability are modified such that the terms and / or cash flows of the modified instrument are substantially different, in which case a new financial liability based on the modified terms is recognized at fair value.

Gains and losses on derecognition are generally recognized in profit or loss.

The Company classifies cash as FVTPL.

Recent accounting pronouncements

Accounting standards or amendments to existing accounting standards that have been issued but have future effective dates are either not applicable or are not expected to have a significant impact on the Company's financial statements.

Adoption of new accounting standards

The Company has adopted the following new standard, with a date of initial application of March 1, 2019 and have been applied in preparing these financial statements:

IFRS 16, Leases ("IFRS 16") IFRS 16 specifies how an IFRS reporter will recognize, measure, present and disclose leases. This standard provides a single lessee accounting model, requiring lessees to recognize assets and liabilities for all leases unless the lease term is 12 months or less or the underlying asset has a low value. Lessors continue to classify leases as operating or finance, with IFRS 16's approach to lessor accounting substantially unchanged from its predecessor, IAS 17. The standard is effective for annual periods beginning on or after January 1, 2019.

There can be no assurance that the Company will have sufficient financing to meet its future capital requirements or that additional financing will be available on terms acceptable to the Company in the future.

1.7 Off-Balance Sheet Arrangements

The Company does not utilize off-balance sheet arrangements.

1.8 Risk and Uncertainties

The Company's financial performance is likely to be subject to the following risks:

- Although management of the Company is working diligently to complete the business transaction, there is no assurance that a definitive agreement will be entered into nor completed.
- The Company has not generated any significant revenue and has incurred significant losses since inception.

The Company's risk exposures and the impact on the Company's financial instruments are summarized below:

Credit risk

Credit risk is the risk of loss associated with the counterparty's inability to fulfill its payment obligations. The Company believes it has no significant credit risk.

Liquidity risk

Liquidity risk is the risk that the Company will not be able to meet its financial obligations as they fall due. The Company's objective in managing liquidity risk is to maintain sufficient readily available reserves in order to meet its liquidity requirements at any point in time. The Company achieves this by maintaining sufficient cash and seeking equity financing when needed.

As at May 31, 2019, the Company had cash on hand of $2,842,286, which is sufficient to settle its current liabilities of $137,200.

Market risk

Market risk is the risk of loss that may arise from changes in market factors such as interest rates, foreign exchange rates, and commodity and equity prices.

(a) Interest rate risk

Interest rate risk is the risk that the fair value of future cash flows of a financial instrument will fluctuate because of changes in the market interest rates. The Company's cash is held in an account with a major Canadian financial institution. The funds may be withdrawn at any time without penalty.

(b) Foreign currency risk

The Company does not have assets or liabilities in a foreign currency and therefore is not exposed to foreign currency risk.

(c) Price risk

The Company is exposed to price risk with respect to equity prices. Equity price risk is defined as the potentially adverse impact on the Company's ability to obtain equity financing due to movements in individual equity prices. The Company closely monitors individual equity movements to determine the appropriate course of action to be taken by the Company.

1.9 Transactions with Related Parties

As at May 31, 2019, the Company owed $Nil (February 28, 2019 - $3,680) to a shareholder of the Company for an overpayment of their equity purchase.

As at May 31, 2019, the company owed $1,074 (February 28, 2019 - $Nil) to a director of the Company for reimbursement of corporate expenses paid on behalf of the Company. This amount was paid subsequent to May 31, 2019.

1.10 Subsequent event

On July 30, 2019, the Company entered into a Loan Agreement ("Loan Agreement") with AMPD whereby the Company has agreed to lend $100,000 (the "Loan") to AMPD for the purpose of funding the operating expenses of AMPD and not for settlement of outstanding debts or liabilities unless agreed upon by the Company.

The Loan will bear interest at 8% per annum and will mature at the earlier of (a) the listing of the common shares of the Company on a recognized Canadian securities exchange; or (b) December 31, 2019, unless sooner determined due to the occurrence of a default event as defined in the Loan Agreement. The term of the Loan may be extended on the Company's authorization. The Loan is secured by a General Security Agreement dated July 30, 2019.

1.11 Proposed Transactions

The Company entered into a SEA dated July 15, 2019 with AMPD pursuant to which the Company proposes to acquire all of the issued and outstanding securities of AMPD in exchange for the issuance of securities of the Company, which will result in AMPD becoming a wholly owned subsidiary of the Company. In conjunction with the Transaction, the Company will file a non-offering prospectus that will result in it becoming a reporting issuer and will apply to list (the "Listing") its common shares on the Canadian Securities Exchange (the "Exchange"). Upon completion of the Transaction, the Company will carry on the business of AMPD.

The Transaction

In consideration of the Transaction, the Company shall, upon completion of the Transaction, issue 20 million of its shares to the then existing shareholders of AMPD at a price of $0.35 per share. At closing, each of the AMPD optionholders and warrant holders shall receive replacement securities, if not exercised, of their holdings multiplied by the share exchange ratio. The replacement security will maintain the same expiration date.

Further, at closing, the convertible loans in AMPD, if not converted prior to closing, will be exchanged into the Company's common shares multiplied by the share exchange ratio.

Concurrent Financing

In conjunction with, and prior to the closing of the Transaction, the Company will complete a private placement of subscription receipts with each subscription receipt being convertible upon the Listing closing into a minimum of 11,428,571 shares at a price of $0.35 per receipt for total minimum gross proceeds of $4,000,000.

The concurrent financing may be increased to up to $5,000,000 in gross proceeds. A commission of 7% cash and 7% agent's warrants may be payable and issuable to third parties on a portion of the financing.

During the three months ended May 31, 2019, the Company closed its first tranche of the concurrent financing for total gross proceeds of $2,837,400 (Note 5(c)). The Company paid $130,837 in cash commissions and issued 262,249 agent's warrants on a portion of the financing. Each agent's warrant will entitle the holder to one common share at no additional consideration and will be deemed to be exercised on the earlier of (i) the third business day after a receipt for a final prospectus qualifying the distribution of the shares; and (ii) four months and one day after issue date of the agent's warrants.

The Company also received $82,250 in subscription receipts for its second tranche of the concurrent financing.

INDEPENDENT AUDITOR'S REPORT

To the Shareholders of AMPD Holdings Corp.

Opinion

We have audited the consolidated financial statements of AMPD Holdings Corp. and its subsidiary (the "Company"), which comprise the consolidated statements of financial position as at May 31, 2018 and 2017 and June 1, 2016, the consolidated statements of comprehensive loss and comprehensive loss, consolidated statements of changes in equity and consolidated statements of cash flows for the years ended May 31, 2018 and 2017, and notes to the consolidated financial statements, including a summary of significant accounting policies.

In our opinion, the accompanying consolidated financial statements present fairly, in all material respects, the consolidated financial position of the Company as at May 31, 2018 and 2017 and June 1, 2016, and its consolidated financial performance and its consolidated cash flows for the years ended May 31, 2018 and 2017 in accordance with International Financial Reporting Standards.

Basis for Opinion

We conducted our audit in accordance with Canadian generally accepted auditing standards. Our responsibilities under those standards are further described in the Auditor's Responsibilities for the Audit of the Consolidated Financial Statements section of our report. We are independent of the Company in accordance with the ethical requirements that are relevant to our audit of the consolidated financial statements in Canada, and we have fulfilled our other ethical responsibilities in accordance with these requirements. We believe that the audit evidence we have obtained is sufficient and appropriate to provide a basis for our opinion.

Material Uncertainty Related to Going Concern

We draw attention to Note 1 in the consolidated financial statements, which indicates that the Company has incurred losses since inception and has a working capital deficit and accumulated deficit as at May 31, 2018. As stated in Note 1, these conditions, along with other matters as set forth in Note 1, indicate that a material uncertainty exists that may cast significant doubt on the Company's ability to continue as a going concern. Our opinion is not modified in respect of this matter.

Other Information

Management is responsible for the other information. The other information comprises the Management Discussion and Analysis for the year ended May 31, 2018, but does not include the consolidated financial statements and our auditor's report thereon.

Our opinion on the consolidated financial statements does not cover the other information and we do not express any form of assurance conclusion thereon.

In connection with our audit of the consolidated financial statements, our responsibility is to read the other information and, in doing so, consider whether the other information is materially inconsistent with the consolidated financial statements or our knowledge obtained in the audit or otherwise appears to be materially misstated. If, based on the work we have performed, we conclude that there is a material misstatement of this other information, we are required to report that fact. We have nothing to report in this regard.

Responsibilities of Management and Those Charged with Governance for the Consolidated Financial Statements

Management is responsible for the preparation and fair presentation of the consolidated financial statements in accordance with International Financial Reporting Standards, and for such internal control as management determines is necessary to enable the preparation of consolidated financial statements that are free from material misstatement, whether due to fraud or error.

In preparing the financial statements, management is responsible for assessing the Company's ability to continue as a going concern, disclosing, as applicable, matters related to going concern and using the going concern basis of accounting unless management either intends to liquidate the Company or to cease operations, or has no realistic alternative but to do so.

Those charged with governance are responsible for overseeing the Company's financial reporting process.

Auditor's Responsibilities for the Audit of the Consolidated Financial Statements

Our objectives are to obtain reasonable assurance about whether the consolidated financial statements as a whole are free from material misstatement, whether due to fraud or error, and to issue an auditor's report that includes our opinion. Reasonable assurance is a high level of assurance, but is not a guarantee that an audit conducted in accordance with Canadian generally accepted auditing standards will always detect a material misstatement when it exists. Misstatements can arise from fraud or error and are considered material if, individually or in the aggregate, they could reasonably be expected to influence the economic decisions of users taken on the basis of these consolidated financial statements.

As part of an audit in accordance with Canadian generally accepted auditing standards, we exercise professional judgment and maintain professional skepticism throughout the audit. We also:

- Identify and assess the risks of material misstatement of the consolidated financial statements, whether due to fraud or error, design and perform audit procedures responsive to those risks, and obtain audit evidence that is sufficient and appropriate to provide a basis for our opinion. The risk of not detecting a material misstatement resulting from fraud is higher than for one resulting from error, as fraud may involve collusion, forgery, intentional omissions, misrepresentations, or the override of internal control.
- Obtain an understanding of internal control relevant to the audit in order to design audit procedures that are appropriate in the circumstances, but not for the purpose of expressing an opinion on the effectiveness of the Company's internal control.
- Evaluate the appropriateness of accounting policies used and the reasonableness of accounting estimates and related disclosures made by management.
- Conclude on the appropriateness of management's use of the going concern basis of accounting and, based on the audit evidence obtained, whether a material uncertainty exists related to events or conditions that may cast significant doubt on the Company's ability to continue as a going concern. If we conclude that a material uncertainty exists, we are required to draw attention in our auditor's report to the related disclosures in the consolidated financial statements or, if such disclosures are inadequate, to modify our opinion. Our conclusions are based on the audit evidence obtained up to the date of our auditor's report. However, future events or conditions may cause the Company to cease to continue as a going concern.

- Evaluate the overall presentation, structure and content of the consolidated financial statements, including the disclosures, and whether the consolidated financial statements represent the underlying transactions and events in a manner that achieves fair presentation.
- Obtain sufficient appropriate audit evidence regarding the financial information of the entities or business activities within the Company to express an opinion on the consolidated financial statements. We are responsible for the direction, supervision and performance of the Company audit. We remain solely responsible for our audit opinion.

We communicate with those charged with governance regarding, among other matters, the planned scope and timing of the audit and significant audit findings, including any significant deficiencies in internal control that we identify during our audit.

We also provide those charged with governance with a statement that we have complied with relevant ethical requirements regarding independence, and to communicate with them all relationships and other matters that may reasonably be thought to bear on our independence, and where applicable, related safeguards.

AMPD HOLDINGS CORP.

Notes to the Consolidated Financial Statements

May 31, 2018 and 2017

(Expressed in Canadian dollars)

1. NATURE OF OPERATIONS

AMPD Holdings Corp. (“AMPD”), together with its subsidiary company AMPD Game Technologies US Inc. (“AMPD US”) (collectively referred to as the “Company”), is a Canadian technology solutions provider specializing in high-performance computing (HPC).

AMPD was incorporated on April 8, 2015 under the British Columbia Corporations Act. Its registered office is located at Suite 2900 – 550 Burrard St., Vancouver, B.C., Canada V6C 0A3.

The Company has incurred losses since inception and as at May 31, 2018 has a working capital deficit of $260,340 and an accumulated deficit of $645,095. These consolidated financial statements have been prepared on the basis of a going concern which assumes that the Company will be able to realize its assets and discharge its liabilities in the normal course of business. These consolidated financial statements do not reflect the adjustments or reclassifications which would be necessary if the Company were unable to continue its operations in the normal course of business.

The Company’s ability to continue as a going concern is dependent on being able to raise the necessary funding to continue operations, through public equity, debt financings, joint arrangements and other contractual arrangements, or being able to operate profitably in the future. There is no assurance that additional funding will be available on a timely basis or on terms acceptable to the Company. If the Company is unable to obtain sufficient funding, the ability of the Company to meet its obligations as they come due and, accordingly, the appropriateness of the use of accounting principles of a going concern will be in doubt.

2. BASIS OF PREPARATION

(a) Statement of compliance

These consolidated financial statements have been prepared in accordance with International Financial Reporting Standards (“IFRS”) as issued by the International Accounting Standards Board (“IASB”).

(b) First-time adoption of IFRS

The Company previously prepared its annual financial statements in accordance with Canadian Accounting Standards for Private Enterprises (“ASPE”).

The Company adopted IFRS with an effective date and transition date of June 1, 2016. Under IFRS 1 First-time Adoption of International Financial Reporting Standards the IFRS are applied retrospectively at the transition date with all adjustments to assets and liabilities included in retained earnings unless certain exemptions are applied. None of the exemptions which could be applied on the transition to IFRS were applicable to the Company.

The Company also early-adopted IFRS 9 Financial instruments and IFRS 15 Revenue from contracts with customers and applied those standards on the date of adoption of IFRS.

On conversion from ASPE to IFRS there were no significant changes that required adjustments to the Company’s financial statements as at June 1, 2016 and for the year ending May 31, 2017.

AMPD HOLDINGS CORP.

Notes to the Consolidated Financial Statements

May 31, 2018 and 2017

(Expressed in Canadian dollars)

2. BASIS OF PREPARATION (Continued)

(c) Basis of preparation

These consolidated financial statements have been prepared on the historical cost basis, except for certain financial instruments which are measured at fair value, as explained in the accounting policies set out in Note 3.

(d) Authorization

These consolidated financial statements were approved and authorized for issue by the board of directors on June 14, 2019.

3. SIGNIFICANT ACCOUNTING POLICIES

(a) Basis of consolidation

These consolidated financial statements include the accounts of AMPD Holdings Corp. and its wholly owned subsidiary AMPD Game Technologies US Inc., which was incorporated on May 15, 2017.

The results of subsidiaries acquired or disposed of during a reporting period are included in the consolidated statements of loss and comprehensive loss from the effective date of acquisition or up to the effective date of disposal, as appropriate. All intra-company transactions, balances, income and expenses are eliminated on consolidation.

(b) Accounting estimates and judgments

The preparation of these consolidated financial statements requires management to make estimates and judgments and to form assumptions that affect the reported amounts and other disclosures in these consolidated financial statements. The estimates and associated assumptions are based on historical experience and various other factors that are believed to be reasonable under the circumstances. The results of these assumptions form the basis of making the judgments about carrying values of assets and liabilities that are not readily apparent from other sources. Actual results may differ from these estimates under different assumptions and conditions.

The estimates and underlying assumptions are reviewed on an ongoing basis. Revisions to accounting estimates are recognized in the period in which the estimate is revised if the revision affects only that period or in the period of the revision and further periods if the review affects both current and future periods.

Critical accounting estimates are estimates and assumptions made by management that may result in material adjustments to the carrying amount of assets and liabilities within the next financial year. Critical estimates used in the Company's preparation of these consolidated financial statements include, among others, the recoverability of accounts receivable, recoverability of the carrying value of inventory, valuation of deferred tax assets, and the measurement of share-based payments.

Critical accounting judgments are accounting policies that have been identified as being complex or involving subjective judgments or assessments. Critical accounting judgments used by the Company include the expected economic lives of assets, the classification of financial instruments, the estimated future operating results and the net cash flows from equipment.

(c) Foreign currencies

(i) Functional currency

The reporting and functional currency of AMPD is the Canadian dollar and the functional currency of its subsidiary, AMPD US, is the US dollar.

(ii) Transactions and balances

Transactions in foreign currencies are initially recorded in the functional currency at the date of the transaction. At each statement of financial position date, monetary assets and liabilities denominated in foreign currencies are translated using the exchange rate of the functional currency as at the period ending date. Non-monetary items measured in terms of historical cost in a foreign currency are translated using exchange rates as at the initial transaction dates. Non-monetary items measured at fair value in a foreign currency are translated using the exchange rates at date when the fair value was measured. All foreign currency translation gains and losses are included in the consolidated statement of loss.

(iii) Foreign operations

The results of foreign operations are translated to Canadian dollars at an appropriate monthly average rate of exchange during the period. The assets and liabilities of foreign operations are translated to Canadian dollars at rates of exchange in effect at the end of the period. Gains or losses arising on translation of foreign operation's assets and liabilities to Canadian dollars at period end are recorded in other comprehensive income as a foreign currency translation adjustment. When a foreign operation is sold, the net cumulative exchange differences are recorded in the statement of loss as part of the gain or loss on sale of the foreign operation.

(d) Financial instruments

Financial instruments consist of financial assets and financial liabilities and are initially recognized at fair value, plus transaction costs if the financial instrument is not subsequently measured at fair value through profit and loss.

Financial assets are measured subsequently at amortized cost, fair value through other comprehensive income ("FVOCI"), or fair value through profit and loss ("FVTPL") based on the business model for managing the financial asset and the contractual cash flow characteristics of the financial asset. Financial assets which are investments in equity instruments are measured subsequently at FVTPL unless they are not held for trading and are designated as FVOCI. Financial liabilities are measured subsequently at amortized cost, except for derivatives and certain other specified exceptions measured FVTPL

(d) Financial instruments (continued)

The Company classifies its financial instruments as follows:

Financial instrument	Classification
Cash	Amortized cost
Accounts receivable	Amortized cost
Accounts payable and accrued liabilities	Amortized cost
Long-term debt	Amortized cost

Fair value measurements are determined based on quoted prices or appropriate valuation methods. The Company classifies and discloses fair value measurements based on a three-level hierarchy:

- Level 1 – inputs are unadjusted quoted prices in active markets for identical assets or liabilities;
- Level 2 – inputs other than quoted prices in Level 1 that are observable for the asset or liability, either directly or indirectly; and
- Level 3 – inputs for the asset or liability that are not based on observable market data.

Financial instruments classified as amortized cost are measured at amortized cost using the effective interest method, adjusted as required for credit-impaired financial assets.

Financial assets measured at amortized cost are subject to a loss allowance for expected credit losses resulting from default events that are possible within 12 months after the reporting date, or an allowance for lifetime expected losses for certain trade receivables, contract assets and lease receivables, and for financial assets where credit risk has increased significantly since initial recognition. Changes in the amount of expected credit losses are recognized as an impairment gain or loss in profit and loss.

Financial assets are derecognized when the contractual rights to the cash flows expire, for certain transfers, or when there is no reasonable expectation of recovering the financial asset. Financial liabilities are derecognized when the obligation specified in the contract is discharged, cancelled or expires.

(e) Cash and cash equivalents

Cash and cash equivalents in the consolidated statement of financial position are composed of cash at banks and on hand and short-term deposits which have an original maturity of three months or less or are readily convertible into a known amount of cash.

(f) Inventory

Inventory includes computer hardware and computer software licenses and subscriptions and are recorded at the lower of cost and net realizable value.

(g) Equipment

Property and equipment is recorded at cost less accumulated depreciation and accumulated impairment write-downs. These assets are depreciated using the declining balance method at the following rates:

Computer equipment	55%

(h) Impairment of non-financial assets

At the end of each reporting period, the Company reviews the carrying amounts of its property and equipment to determine whether there is an indication of impairment. If any such indication exists, the extent of the impairment charge is determined based on the estimated recoverable amount of the asset.

The recoverable amount of the asset used for this purpose is the higher of the fair value less costs to sell and the value in use. In assessing the value in use, the estimated future cash flows are discounted to their present value using a pre-tax discount rate that reflects current market assignments of the time value of money and the risks specific to the asset.

If the recoverable amount of the asset is estimated to be less than its recorded amount, the recorded amount of the asset is reduced to its recoverable amount. An impairment charge is recognized immediately in the statement of loss and comprehensive loss, unless the asset is carried at a revalued amount, in which case the impairment loss is treated as a revaluation decrease.

Where an impairment loss subsequently reverses, the carrying amount of the asset is increased to the revised estimate of its recoverable amount, to a maximum amount equal to the carrying amount that would have been determined had no impairment loss been recognized for the asset in prior years.

(i) Provisions

Provisions are recorded when a present legal or constructive obligation exists as a result of past events where it is probable that an outflow of resources embodying economic benefits will be required to settle the obligation, and a reliable estimate of the amount of the obligation can be made.

The amount recognized as a provision is the best estimate of the consideration required to settle the present obligation at the statement of financial position date, taking into account the risks and uncertainties surrounding the obligation. Where a provision is measured using the cash flows estimated to settle the present obligation, its carrying amount is the present value of those cash flows. When some or all of the economic benefits required to settle a provision are expected to be recovered from a third party, the receivable is recognized as an asset when it is virtually certain that reimbursement will be received and the amount receivable can be measured reliably. There were no provisions recorded for the years presented in these consolidated financial statements.

(j) Revenue recognition

The Company sells computer hardware and software and provides technological services to customers in the United States of America and Canada, under fixed price contracts for a specified period of time. Service contracts are typically for the initial setup and ongoing technological services over a specified period of time at specified fees for each service. When collectability is reasonably assured, fees relating to the initial setup are recorded when the setup is complete and the ongoing technological service fees are billed monthly and recorded as revenue on a monthly basis, over the term of the contract.

Credits are offered to customers for service outages and are based on rates specified in the customer's contracts. When the Company can reliably estimate the amount of credits to be issued for service outages, these credits are recorded as a reduction in revenue when issued.

Interest from cash and short term investments is recorded on an accrual basis when collection is reasonably assured.

(k) Comprehensive income or loss

Other comprehensive income or loss is the change in net assets arising from transactions and other events and circumstances from non-owner sources. Comprehensive income is composed of net income or loss and other comprehensive income or loss. Financial assets that are classified as FVOCI will have revaluation gains and losses included in other comprehensive income or loss until the asset is removed from the statement of financial position. Gains and losses arising on translation of foreign operation's assets and liabilities to Canadian dollars at period end are also recorded in other comprehensive income or loss as a foreign currency translation adjustment.

(l) Share-based payments

From time to time, the Company grants common share purchase options to directors, officers, employees and consultants. The Company accounts for its share-based compensation plan using the fair-value method. Compensation costs, equal to the fair value of the options on the date of grant for options issued to employees and fair value of goods or services received for options issued to non-employees, are recognized in operations, with an offsetting credit to the share option reserve, over the vesting period of the related options. The cumulative expense is recognized for equity-settled transactions at each reporting date until the vesting date reflects the Company's best estimate of the number of equity instruments that will ultimately vest. Consideration received upon exercise of share purchase options, along with the related amount previously recorded in the share option reserve, is credited to share capital.

No expense is recognized for awards that do not ultimately vest. Where the terms of an equity-settled award are modified, the minimum expense recognized is the expense as if the terms had not been modified. An additional expense is recognized for any modification which increases the fair value of the award as measured on the date of modification.

(m) Income taxes

The provision for income taxes consists of current and deferred tax expense and is recorded in operations. Current tax expense is the expected tax payable on the taxable income for the year, using tax rates enacted or substantively enacted at the end of the period, adjusted for amendments to tax payable for previous years.

Deferred tax assets and liabilities are computed using the asset and liability method on temporary differences between the carrying amounts of assets and liabilities on the statement of financial position and their corresponding tax values, using the enacted or substantially enacted, income tax rates at each statement of financial position date.

(m) Income taxes (continued)

Deferred tax assets also result from unused losses and other deductions carried forward. The valuation of deferred tax assets is reviewed on a regular basis and adjusted to the extent that it is not probable that sufficient taxable profit will be available to allow all or part of the deferred tax asset to be utilized by use of a valuation allowance to reflect the estimated realizable amount.

4. NEW ACCOUNTING STANDARDS AND INTERPRETATIONS

7. LONG-TERM DEBT

On October 13, 2017 the Company entered into a three-year $200,000 non-revolving credit facility agreement (the "Loan") with Runway Finance Group Inc. (the "Lender"). The Loan bears interest at 16% per annum and matures on October 13, 2020. The Company paid $8,018 in financing fees in connection with obtaining the Loan.

For the first three months of the Loan term the Company was required to make interest only payments and subsequently, interest plus monthly principal repayments of the greater of $7,250 or 45% of proceeds received from customers of assigned contracts, as defined in the agreement, in a given month. The interest only payment period was subsequently extended until November 2018.

The Company provided the following as security:

- General security agreement charging all of the Company's assets;
- Assignment of the Company's May 31, 2018 and 2019 SRED refund claims; and
- Assignment of certain of the Company's sales contracts.

7. LONG-TERM DEBT (Continued)

The reconciliation of the carrying amount of the Loan is:

Balance, beginning of year	$ -
Net loan proceeds	191,983
Interest expense at effective interest rate	20,892

The Company is required to meet certain covenants imposed by the Lender which includes a financial covenant to maintain a minimum net worth, defined as its share capital plus retained earnings. As at May 31, 2018, the Company was not in compliance with this financial covenant and accordingly the balance of the Loan has been classified as a current liability on the statement of financial position.

8. SHARE CAPITAL

Common Shares

Authorized	Unlimited number of common voting shares without par value.
Issued and Outstanding	9,500,000 common shares

- (a) During the year ended May 31, 2017, the Company issued 500,000 royalty units at a price of $0.50 per unit for gross proceeds of $250,000. Each royalty unit is comprised of one common share and one non-transferrable special warrant. Holders of the special warrants are entitled to receive a pro-rata share of 0.83% of the Company's annualized gross sales, to a maximum of 80% of net profit for that year, so long as the Company maintains a positive annual EBITDA. Once holders of the special warrants have received an amount equal to the aggregate purchase price of the royalty units, the Company may at its sole discretion convert each special warrant to one-half of one share purchase warrant. Each whole share purchase warrant issued on conversion of the special warrants will entitle the holder to purchase one common share at a price of $0.60 per share for a period of 12 months following conversion.

Following conversion of the special warrants, provided that the Company maintains a positive annual EBITDA and receives board of director approval, the Company will pay to all holders of common shares an annual dividend of no less than 5% of the Company's annualized gross sales in excess of $5 million.

The purchase price of the royalty units has been allocated to the common shares issued and no value has been allocated to the special warrants as the Company has incurred a net loss for the years ended May 31, 2018 and 2017 and there is no certainty that the Company will achieve positive annual earnings in future years.

- (b) On March 26, 2018, the Company entered into an agreement (the "Share Repurchase Agreement") to repurchase and cancel 500,000 common shares from an officer of the Company for $5 in consideration.

8. SHARE CAPITAL (continued)Share Purchase Option Plan

Pursuant to a share purchase option plan dated March 26, 2018, a maximum of 2,000,000 unissued common shares are available for share purchase options that may be granted from time to time. Share purchase options are granted at an exercise price not less than the estimated market value of the Company's common shares on the date of the grant and generally vest over four years from the grant date.

On March 27, 2018, the Company granted 1,000,000 common share purchase options with an exercise price of $0.25 per share and a term to expiry of 6 years to consultants of the Company. 50% of the options vest immediately and 50% vest on January 1, 2019.

The weighted average grant date fair value of the share purchase options granted during the year ended May 31, 2018 was estimated at $0.14, using the Black-Scholes option pricing model and the following weighted average inputs and assumptions

	2018
Share price	$ 0.25
Exercise price	$ 0.25
Risk free interest rate	2.07%
Expected volatility	58.25%
Expected years of option life	6
Expected dividends	$ -

The effects of early exercise were incorporated into the estimate of the expected life of the share purchase options. Expected volatility was estimated by reference to public companies operating in a similar industry, commensurate with the expected life of the options. No other features of the options granted affected the calculation of grant date fair value.

As at May 31, 2018, the following share purchase options were outstanding:

Weighted Average Exercise Price	Outstanding Options	Weighted Average Remaining Life (Years)	Exercisable Options
$ 0.25	1,000,000	5.83	500,000

For the year ended May 31, 2017, sales to three of the Company's customers amounted 32%, 22%, and 22%, respectively, for a combined total of 76% of sales.

The Company's outstanding accounts receivable from one of these customers was $10,799 at May 31, 2018 (2017 - $13,424). The digital media and computer technology industry is highly competitive and there is no guarantee that the Company could easily replace these customers should it cease selling products and services to them. One of these customers cancelled their contract with the Company in December 2018.

10. INCOME TAXES

The Company's deferred income tax assets are:

	2018	2017
Deferred income tax assets

Deferred income tax assets have not been recognized on the consolidated statements of financial position as there is no certainty that the Company will generate the taxable income required to utilize them in the future.

The reconciliation of the provision for income taxes to the amount based on statutory income tax rates is:

	2018	2017
Net loss before income taxes	$ 473,336	$ 225,780

10. INCOME TAXES (continued)

The combined tax rate applied in the table above increased during the year ended May 31, 2018 due to an increase in the BC provincial tax rate.

As at May 31, 2018, the Company has $517,544 in Canadian non-capital losses and $6,320 in U.S. net operating losses for income tax purposes that may be used to offset future taxable income. If unused, the Canadian non-capital losses and $2,257 of the U.S. net operating losses will expire between 2037 and 2038. The remaining $4,063 U.S. net operating losses may be carried forward indefinitely.

11. RELATED PARTY TRANSACTIONS

The Company's directors and officers are its key management personnel. The following amounts were incurred for key management personnel compensation during the years ended May 31, 2018 and 2017:

The Company also reimburses key management personnel for travel and other expenses incurred during the course of business. As at May 31, 2018, no amount is due to management for expense reimbursements (2017 - $4,801).

12. OPERATING SEGMENT DISCLOSURES

The Company operates in one industry segment in both Canada and the United States of America. The Company's assets are solely located in Canada. A breakdown of the Company's operations by geographical area is as follows:

	For the year ended May 31, 2018
	Canada	United States	Total

13. MANAGEMENT OF CAPITAL

The Company's capital management objectives are to safeguard the Company's ability to continue as a going concern in order to continue its technology services to its customers. The Company's capital is composed of its shareholders' equity and long-term debt.

The Company manages and adjusts its capital structure whenever changes to the risk characteristics of the underlying assets or changes in economic conditions occur. To maintain or adjust the capital structure, the Company may issue new shares or acquire, dispose of or jointly operate certain of its assets. In order to facilitate the management of its capital requirements, the Company actively monitors its liquidity and short and long-term funding requirements.

14. LOSS PER SHARE

The Company has outstanding share purchase options and warrants as described in Note 8 that could potentially dilute earnings per share in the future. The potential common shares from these options were not included in calculation of diluted earnings per share because they are antidilutive for the years presented.

15. FINANCIAL INSTRUMENT RISKS

The Company classifies and discloses its fair value measurements based on a three-level hierarchy as described in Note 3(d). As at May 31, 2018 and 2017, all of the Company's financial instruments are measured at amortized cost and their carrying values approximate fair value.

The Company's financial instruments are exposed to certain risks, which include credit risk, liquidity risk and market risks such as interest rate risk and other market price risks.

Credit risk

Credit risk is the risk of an unexpected loss if a customer or third party to a financial instrument fails to meet its contractual obligations.

The Company's cash is held at a large Canadian financial institution and credit risk for cash is therefore minimal.

Accounts receivable consists of trade receivables due from customers. The Company performs ongoing credit evaluations and monitors the receivable balances and payments received from its customers in order to determine if any allowance for estimated credit losses is required. Accounts overdue more than 30 days are presumed to be subject to expected credit losses. When determining the allowance for estimated credit losses the Company will consider historical experience with the customer, current market and industry conditions and specific collection issues. As at May 31, 2018 and 2017 and June 1, 2016, no amounts were past due and the Company has not provided for an allowance for expected credit losses on its accounts receivable.

Liquidity risk

Liquidity risk is the risk that the Company will not be able to meet its financial obligations as they fall due. Accounts payable and accrued liabilities are due within the current operating period. The Company's long term debt matures in 2020 but has been classified as a current liability as at May 31, 2018, as described in Note 7. The Company manages liquidity risk through the management of its capital structure as described in Note 13.

15. FINANCIAL INSTRUMENT RISKS (continued)

Interest rate risk

Interest rate risk is the risk that the fair value of future cash flows from a financial instrument will fluctuate because of changes in market interest rates. The Company is exposed from time to time to interest rate risk as a result of interest bearing debt. As the interest rate on the Company's long-term debt is fixed, the sensitivity of the Company's loss before tax to a reasonably possible change in interest rates is minimal.

Currency risk

Currency risk is the risk of loss due to fluctuation of foreign exchange rates and the effects of these fluctuations on foreign currency denominated monetary assets and liabilities. A change in value of the U.S. dollar by 5% relative to the Canadian dollar would affect the Company's U.S. dollar monetary assets and liabilities and statement of loss and comprehensive loss by approximately $300 (2017 - $4,300). The Company does not take any steps to mitigate this risk.

Notes to the Condensed Consolidated Interim Financial Statements

For the nine months ended February 28, 2019

(Unaudited)

(Expressed in Canadian dollars)

1. NATURE OF OPERATIONS

AMPD Holdings Corp. (“AMPD”), together with its subsidiary company AMPD Game Technologies US Inc. (“AMPD US”) (collectively referred to as the “Company”), is a Canadian technology solutions provider specializing in high-performance computing (HPC).

AMPD was incorporated on April 8, 2015 under the British Columbia Corporations Act. Its registered office is located at Suite 2900 – 550 Burrard St., Vancouver, B.C., Canada V6C 0A3.

The Company has incurred losses since inception and as at February 28, 2019 has a working capital deficit of $291,775 and an accumulated deficit of $1,022,998. These condensed consolidated interim financial statements (“financial statements”) have been prepared on the basis of a going concern which assumes that the Company will be able to realize its assets and discharge its liabilities in the normal course of business. These financial statements do not reflect the adjustments or reclassifications which would be necessary if the Company were unable to continue its operations in the normal course of business.

The Company’s ability to continue as a going concern is dependent on being able to raise the necessary funding to continue operations, through public equity, debt financings, joint arrangements and other contractual arrangements, or being able to operate profitably in the future. There is no assurance that additional funding will be available on a timely basis or on terms acceptable to the Company. If the Company is unable to obtain sufficient funding, the ability of the Company to meet its obligations as they come due and, accordingly, the appropriateness of the use of accounting principles as a going concern will be in doubt.

2. BASIS OF PREPARATION

These financial statements have been prepared in accordance with International Accounting Standard 34 Interim Financial Reporting using the same accounting policies (except as noted below under “New accounting standards and interpretations”) and methods of computation as the Company’s annual financial statements for the year ended May 31, 2018. These financial statements do not include all of the notes and disclosures normally included in the Company’s annual financial statements should be read in conjunction with the Company’s annual financial statements for the year ended May 31, 2018.

These financial statements were approved and authorized for issue by the board of directors on June 14, 2019.

3. NEW ACCOUNTING STANDARDS AND INTERPRETATIONS

Adoption of New Accounting Pronouncements

The following is a summary of new accounting standards or amendments to standards that are effective for annual periods beginning on or after June 1, 2018 and which the Company has not previously applied in its annual financial statements. Adoption of these new standards or amendments did not have a material impact on these financial statements.

IFRS 2 – Share-based Payment (“IFRS 2”)

Amendments to IFRS 2, effective for annual periods beginning on or after January 1, 2018, provided further clarification on treatment of vesting conditions, cash settled share-based payment transactions and share-based payment transactions with a net settlement feature for withholding tax obligations and with cash alternatives.

3. NEW ACCOUNTING STANDARDS AND INTERPRETATIONS (continued)

IFRS 7 – Financial instruments: Disclosure (“IFRS 7”)

IFRS 7 was amended to require additional disclosures on transition from IAS 39 to IFRS 9. The standard is effective on adoption of IFRS 9, which is effective for annual periods commencing on or after January 1, 2018. In connection with the adoption of IFRS 9, the Company adopted these amendments on June 1, 2016.

Accounting Standards and Amendments Issued But Not Yet Effective

IFRS 16 – Leases (“IFRS 16”)

IFRS 16 was issued on January 13, 2016, and will be effective for accounting periods beginning on or after January 1, 2019. Early adoption is permitted, provided the Company has adopted IFRS 15. This standard sets out a new model for lease accounting. The Company is currently evaluating the impact this standard may have on its financial statements.

IFRIC 23 - Uncertainty Over Income Tax Treatments (“IFRIC 23”)

IFRIC 23 clarifies application of the recognition and measurement requirements in IAS 12 when there is uncertainty over income tax treatments. It is effective for annual periods beginning on or after January 1, 2019 with early adoption permitted. The Company is currently evaluating the impact this standard may have on its financial statements.

4. SIGNIFICANT EVENTS AND TRANSACTIONS

On January 24, 2019, the Company entered into non-binding letter of intent to obtain a public listing on the Canadian Securities Exchange whereby all of the Company's common shares will be acquired by another entity. During the nine months ended February 28, 2019, the Company incurred $13,411 in legal and other professional fees in connection with this transaction and its intention to obtain a public listing. Subsequent to the end of the period, on July 15, 2019, the Company entered into a share exchange agreement as further described in Note 9(h).

5. LOANS PAYABLE

(Expressed in Canadian dollars)

1. DESCRIPTION OF BUSINESS

AMPD is an industry leading technology integrator providing hardware, software, hosting and support solutions to game developers and publishers as well as a range of other emerging sectors. AMPD has partnered with some of the top technology companies in the industry to provide customers with the advanced Cloud and IT Infrastructure solutions

AMPD was formed on April 8, 2015 under the British Columbia Corporations Act and its wholly owned subsidiary company, AMPD Game Technologies US Inc. ("AMPD US"), was incorporated on May 15, 2017 under the Secretary of State of Washington.

The founders of AMPD have been architecting high-performance computing ("HPC") infrastructure for nearly two decades. At their previous company, Seven Group, the team initially applied their expertise to solutions for banks, governments and academia, and subsequently focused on building out technology infrastructure for digital media companies.

AMPD continues to address the needs of these sectors, and is also applying high-performance computing principles to the low-latency requirements of multiplayer video game publishing, as well as the intense computation requirements of digital media production and distribution, where massive amounts of high-performance computing resources are required for the development, rendering and distribution of products. As gaming continues to transition from the basement to the sports arena, AMPD intends to increase its focus on providing infrastructure for latency-sensitive eSports games across North America and Europe.

2. SUMMARY OF KEY EVENTS AND FUTURE PLANS

AMPD intends to complete a transaction and financing which will allow the Company to continue to expand its operations. See "Proposed Transaction" below.

The increase in G&A expenses is primarily due to an increase in compensation to the Company's key personnel through consulting fees and share-based compensation, an increase in dues and subscriptions related to the Company's membership in Canada's Digital Technology Supercluster, and professional fees for audit, tax and related services which were not required in the prior year.

AMPD is continuing to transition away from single unit sales to a recurring revenue model. The Company has recently become founding members of Canada's Digital Technology Supercluster and is opening up new opportunities within various industrial sectors. Additionally, the Company is in the process of acquiring funding to allow the Company to scale the business and execute on the opportunities that are emerging from AMPD's business development pipeline.

6. LIQUIDITY

As at May 31, 2018, the Company had a working capital deficit of $260,340. This was a decrease of $377,716 over the working capital surplus of $117,376 as at May 31, 2017. The decrease in working capital is primarily due to the Company's ongoing expansion activity and the Company expects to continue to operate at deficit for the next year.

The Company experiences significant fluctuations in liquidity due to the timing of sales to major customers whereas operating expenses are generally incurred evenly throughout the fiscal year. All of the Company's liabilities are due within the current year. The Company does not have significant levels of inventory or constraints on its working capital other than regular operating expenses.

The Company is in the process of completing an investment round (see "Proposed Transaction" below) that would provide it with capital to meet current obligations and finance future operations and would allow it to scale its ability to identify and execute new deals. AMPD intends to do this in parallel with expanding its effective reach to a global audience while expanding its product portfolio.

7. CAPITAL RESOURCES

The Company expects to acquire capital resources to expand operations through the completion of the Proposed Transactions as described below.

Additional sources of financing and share issues are as follows:

During the year ended May 31, 2018, the Company entered into a $200,000 credit facility bearing 16% interest and maturing October 13, 2020. The Company is required to meet certain covenants imposed by the lender which includes a financial covenant to maintain a minimum net worth, defined as its share capital plus retained earnings. As at May 31, 2018, the Company was not in compliance with this financial covenant and accordingly the balance of the loan has been classified as a current liability on the statement of financial position.

During the year ended May 31, 2017, the Company issued 500,000 royalty units at $0.50 per unit for gross proceeds of $250,000. Each whole share purchase warrant issued on conversion of the special warrants will entitle the holder to purchase one common share at $0.60 per share for a period of 12 months following conversion.

Following conversion of the special warrants, provided that the Company maintains a positive annual EBTIDA and receives board of director approval, the Company will pay to all holders of common shares an annual dividend of no less than 5% of the Company's annualized gross sales in excess of $5 million.

Subsequent to May 31, 2018, the Company replaced the outstanding special warrants with 250,000 common share purchase warrants exercisable at $0.60 per share once the holders of the previous special warrants have received royalty payments equal to the purchase price of the royalty units under the same conditions as set out above.

10. FOURTH QUARTER

The Company experienced increased revenues during the fourth quarter of fiscal 2018, which were offset by share-based compensation, an increase in dues in subscriptions related to the Company's membership in Canada's Digital Technology Supercluster and amounts accrued for professional fees for services related to the 2018 fiscal year.

11. PROPOSED TRANSACTION

On July 15, 2019, the Company entered into a Share Exchange Agreement (the "Transaction") whereby AMPD Ventures Inc. (formerly E-Gaming Ventures Corp.) ("AMPD Ventures") will acquire all of the Company's issued and outstanding shares in exchange for issuing 20 million common shares of AMPD Ventures. In connection with the Transaction, AMPD Ventures intends to raise $4 million through the issuance of special warrants convertible to common shares at a price of $0.35 per share. The resulting entity is expected to concurrently obtain a public listing on the Canadian Securities Exchange via a non-offering prospectus.

The Transaction will be accounted for as a reverse acquisition of a non-operating entity with the Company identified as the acquirer and the continuing entity for accounting purposes.

Completion of the proposed transaction is subject to regulatory and shareholder approval.

The Company intends to use the capital raised to expand its sales reach and product portfolio. This initial expansion will increase AMPD's operating deficit in the short- to medium-term. The company also intends to use these proceeds to acquire a cloud technology company and expand its data centers to accelerate these plans.

12. CHANGES IN ACCOUNTING POLICIES

Adoption of International Financial Reporting Standards

The Company previously prepared its annual financial statements in accordance with Canadian Accounting Standards for Private Enterprises ("ASPE").

The Company adopted International Financial Reporting Standards ("IFRS") with an effective date and transition date of June 1, 2016. Under IFRS 1 First-time Adoption of International Financial Reporting Standards the IFRS are applied retrospectively at the transition date with all adjustments to assets and liabilities included in retained earnings unless certain exemptions are applied. None of the exemptions which could be applied on the transition to IFRS were applicable to the Company.

The Company also early-adopted IFRS 9 Financial instruments and IFRS 15 Revenue from contracts with customers and applied those standards on the date of adoption of IFRS.

On conversion from ASPE to IFRS there were no significant changes that required adjustments to the Company's financial statements as at June 1, 2016 and for the year ending May 31, 2017.

13. FINANCIAL INSTRUMENT RISKS

The Company's financial instruments consist of cash, accounts receivable, accounts payable and accrued liabilities, and long-term debt. These financial instruments are exposed to certain risks, including credit risk, interest rate risk, liquidity risk and other market risk.

Credit Risk

Credit risk is the risk of an unexpected loss if a customer or third party to a financial instrument fails to meet its contractual obligations. The Company's cash is held through large Canadian financial institutions. The Company considers credit risk on its cash to be minimal.

AMPD HOLDINGS CORP.

Management's Discussion and Analysis

For the years ended May 31, 2018 and 2017

(Expressed in Canadian dollars)

The Company's receivables consist of Goods and Services Tax due from the Federal Government of Canada and amounts receivable from customers. The Company's maximum exposure to credit risk as at May 31, 2018 is $37,055 (May 31, 2017 - $51,049), representing accounts receivable.

For amounts due from customers, the Company performs ongoing credit evaluations of its customers and monitors the receivable balance and the payments made in order to determine if an allowance for estimated credit losses is required.

When determining the allowance for estimated credit losses the Company will consider historical experience with the customer, current market and industry conditions and any specific collection issues. As at May 31, 2018, $2,090 of customer receivables are past due (May 31, 2017 - $nil).

As of the date of this Management Discussion and Analysis all of the customer receivables outstanding as at May 31, 2018 were received.

Liquidity Risk

Liquidity risk is the risk that the Company will not be able to meet its financial obligations as they become due. Accounts payable and accrued liabilities are due within the current operating period. The Company's long-term debt is classified as a current liability as at May 31, 2018 due to the Company not being in compliance with a financial covenant of the loan. The Company manages its liquidity risk through its operating budgets and financing activities.

Interest Rate Risk

Interest rate risk is the risk that the fair value of future cash flows of a financial instrument will fluctuate because of changes in market interest rates. The Company is exposed to interest rate risk from its secured loans and convertible debentures. As the interest rate on the Company's long-term debt is fixed, the sensitivity of the Company's loss before tax to a reasonably possible change in interest rates is minimal.

Other Market Risk

Other market risk that the Company is exposed to includes currency risk. Currency risk is the risk of loss due to fluctuation of foreign exchange rates and the effects of these fluctuations on foreign currency denominated monetary assets and liabilities. The Company is not exposed to significant currency risk as the parent entity and subsidiaries primarily transact in their functional currencies.

14. BUSINESS RISK FACTORS

1. DESCRIPTION OF BUSINESS

AMPD is an industry leading technology integrator providing hardware, software, hosting and support solutions to game developers and publishers as well as a range of other emerging sectors. AMPD has partnered with some of the top technology companies in the industry to provide customers with the, most advanced Cloud and IT Infrastructure solutions

AMPD was formed on April 8, 2015 under the British Columbia Corporations Act and its wholly owned subsidiary company, AMPD Game Technologies US Inc. ("AMPD US"), was incorporated on May 15, 2017 under the Secretary of State of Washington.

The founders of AMPD have been architecting high-performance computing ("HPC") infrastructure for nearly two decades. At their previous company, Seven Group, the team initially applied their expertise to solutions for banks, governments and academia, and subsequently focused on building out technology infrastructure for digital media companies.

AMPD continues to address the needs of these sectors, and is also applying high-performance computing principles to the low-latency requirements of multiplayer video game publishing, as well as the intense computation requirements of digital media production and distribution, where massive amounts of high-performance computing resources are required for the development, rendering and distribution of products. As gaming continues to transition from the basement to the sports arena, AMPD intends to increase its focus on providing infrastructure for latency-sensitive eSports games across North America and Europe.

2. SUMMARY OF KEY EVENTS AND FUTURE PLANS

AMPD intends to complete a transaction and financing which will allow the Company to continue to expand its operations. See "Proposed Transaction" below.

On July 15, 2019, the Company entered into a Share Exchange Agreement (the "Transaction") whereby AMPD Ventures Inc. (formerly E-Gaming Ventures Corp.) ("AMPD Ventures") will acquire all of the Company's issued and outstanding shares in exchange for issuing 20 million common shares of AMPD Ventures. In connection with the Transaction, AMPD Ventures intends to raise $4 million through the issuance of special warrants convertible to common shares at a price of $0.35 per share. The resulting entity is expected to concurrently obtain a public listing on the Canadian Securities Exchange via a non-offering prospectus.

The Transaction will be accounted for as a reverse acquisition of a non-operating entity with the Company identified as the acquirer and the continuing entity for accounting purposes.

Completion of the proposed Transaction is subject to regulatory and shareholder approval.

Management's Discussion and Analysis

For the three and nine months ended February 28, 2019

(Expressed in Canadian dollars)

The Company intends to use the capital raised to expand its sales reach and product portfolio. This initial expansion will increase AMPD's operating deficit in the short- to medium-term. The company also intends to use these proceeds to acquire a cloud technology company and expand its data centers to accelerate these plans.

12. FINANCIAL INSTRUMENT RISKS

The Company's financial instruments consist of cash, accounts receivable, accounts payable and accrued liabilities, and long-term and convertible debt. These financial instruments are exposed to certain risks, including credit risk, interest rate risk, liquidity risk and other market risk.

Credit Risk

Credit risk is the risk of an unexpected loss if a customer or third party to a financial instrument fails to meet its contractual obligations. The Company's cash is held through large Canadian financial institutions. The Company considers credit risk on its cash to be minimal.

The Company's receivables consist of Goods and Services Tax due from the Federal Government of Canada and amounts receivable from customers. The Company's maximum exposure to credit risk as at February 28, 2019 is $172,133 (May 31, 2018 - $37,055), representing accounts receivable.

For amounts due from customers, the Company performs ongoing credit evaluations of its customers and monitors the receivable balance and the payments made in order to determine if an allowance for estimated credit losses is required. When determining the allowance for estimated credit losses the Company will consider historical experience with the customer, current market and industry conditions and any specific collection issues. As at February 28, 2019, $2,973 of customer receivables are past due (May 31, 2018 - $2,090).

Interest Rate Risk

Interest rate risk is the risk that the fair value of future cash flows of a financial instrument will fluctuate because of changes in market interest rates. The Company is exposed to interest rate risk from its secured loans and convertible debentures. As the interest rate on the Company's long-term debt is fixed, the sensitivity of the Company's loss before tax to a reasonably possible change in interest rates is minimal.

Liquidity Risk

Liquidity risk is the risk that the Company will not be able to meet its financial obligations as they become due. Accounts payable and accrued liabilities are due within the current operating period. The Company's long-term debt is classified as a current liability as at May 31, 2018 due to the Company not being in compliance with a financial covenant of the loan. The Company manages its liquidity risk through its operating budgets and financing activities.

Other Market Risk

Other market risk that the Company is exposed to includes currency risk. Currency risk is the risk of loss due to fluctuation of foreign exchange rates and the effects of these fluctuations on foreign currency denominated monetary assets and liabilities. The Company is not exposed to significant currency risk as the parent entity and subsidiaries primarily transact in their functional currencies.

13. BUSINESS RISK FACTORS

The Company is exposed to a number of "Risk Factors", which are summarized below:

- The Company is a development stage company with little operating history, a history of losses and the Company cannot assure profitability.

Notes to the Pro Forma Consolidated Financial Statements

1. BASIS OF PREPARATION

The accompanying unaudited pro forma consolidated financial statements of AMPD Ventures Inc. (“AMPD”) (formerly E-Gaming Ventures Corp.) have been prepared by management for inclusion in the long-form preliminary prospectus of AMPD dated July 31, 2019, after giving effect to the acquisition of all of the issued and outstanding common shares of AMPD Holdings Corp. (“AMPD Holdings”) by AMPD in a share exchange transaction (the “Transaction”).

As a result of the Transaction, the former shareholders of AMPD Holdings will own approximately 54.6% of the issued and outstanding shares of AMPD. The substance of the transaction is a reverse acquisition of a non-operating company. The Transaction does not constitute a business combination as AMPD does not meet the definition of a business prior to the Transaction under International Financial Reporting Standard 3 Business Combinations. As a result, the Transaction is accounted for as a capital transaction where 1) AMPD Holdings is identified as the acquirer for accounting purposes; 2) equity consideration consisting of common shares and common share purchase warrants is deemed to have been issued to the equity holders of AMPD, measured at fair value; and 3) the resulting consolidated financial statements are reported as a continuance of AMPD Holdings.

These unaudited pro forma consolidated financial statements have been compiled from and include the audited financial statements of AMPD for the period from incorporation on June 27, 2018 to February 28, 2019, the unaudited interim financial statements of AMPD for the period from March 1, 2019 to May 31, 2019, and the unaudited interim consolidated financial statements of AMPD Holdings for the nine month period ended February 28, 2019, each prepared in accordance with International Financial Reporting Standards (“IFRS”). The unaudited pro forma consolidated financial statements are prepared as if the Transaction had occurred as of May 31, 2019 for the purposes of the unaudited pro forma statement of financial position, and as of the beginning of the period presented for the purposes of the unaudited pro forma statement of loss and comprehensive loss. It is management’s opinion that these unaudited pro forma consolidated financial statements include all of the adjustments necessary for the fair presentation of the Transaction, as described in Note 3, in accordance with IFRS.

The unaudited pro forma consolidated financial statements are not intended to reflect the results of operations or the financial position of AMPD which would have actually resulted had the Transaction been effected on the dates indicated. Further, the unaudited pro forma consolidated financial statements are not necessarily indicative of the results of operations that may be obtained in the future. Actual amounts recorded once the Transaction is completed are likely to differ from those recorded in the unaudited pro forma consolidated financial statements. In addition, the impact of integration activities, the timing of completion of the Transaction and other changes in the net tangible and intangible assets prior to the completion of the Transaction which have not been incorporated into these unaudited pro forma financial statements could cause material differences in the information presented.

2. SIGNIFICANT ACCOUNTING POLICIES

The unaudited pro forma consolidated financial statements have been compiled using the significant accounting policies as set out in the unaudited interim consolidated financial statements of AMPD Holdings for the nine month period ended February 28, 2019 and the audited consolidated financial statements of AMPD Holdings for the years ended May 31, 2018 and 2017 and should be read in conjunction with the historical financial statements and notes thereto of AMPD Holdings. In preparing the unaudited pro forma consolidated financial information, consideration was given to identifying accounting policy differences between AMPD and AMPD Holdings. No accounting policy differences where the impact was potentially material and could reasonably be estimated were identified.

3. PRO FORMA ADJUSTMENTS AND ASSUMPTIONS

- (a) AMPD returns $47,250 of subscription receipts for unissued special warrants.
- (b) AMPD Holdings rescinds the repurchase of 500,000 common shares issued to a director and officer for consideration of $5.
- (c) AMPD Holdings issues 1,285,716 common shares at a subscription price of $0.001 per share for gross proceeds of $1,286. The common shares are issued as employment sign-on incentives and recorded as share-based payments with a fair value of $0.50 per share.
- (d) AMPD Holdings issues 350,000 common shares pursuant to an asset exchange agreement for the acquisition of computer equipment. The fair value assigned to the assets acquired is $175,000, estimated on the basis of the deemed value of the common shares of AMPD Holdings of $0.50 per share.
- (e) AMPD Holdings issues 100,000 common shares to a consultant as compensation for services rendered. The fair value of the consulting services received is $50,000, estimated on the basis of the deemed value of the common shares of AMPD Holdings of $0.50 per share.
- (f) AMPD Holdings cancels 1,000,000 fully vested issued and outstanding common share purchase options which were exercisable at a price of $0.25 per share and expired March 27, 2024.

 - 1,765,104 vest immediately and expire in 5 years;
 - 294,184 vest any time after AMPD Holdings generates not less than $750,000 in total revenues in a single fiscal year, and expire in 2 years;
 - 294,184 vest any time after AMPD Holdings generates not less than $1.5 million in total revenues in a single fiscal year, and expire in 3 years;
 - 294,184 vest any time after AMPD Holdings generates not less than $4 million in total revenues in a single fiscal year, and expire in 5 years; and
 - 294,184 vest any time after AMPD Holdings closes a single recurring revenue deal in which the aggregate top-line value exceeds $2 million, and expire in 5 years.

Vesting is not conditional on the directors and officers remaining engaged with AMPD Holdings and therefore the vesting conditions have been included in the determination of the fair value of the options. The aggregate fair value of the options is estimated at $1,590,182 based on the estimated probability of achieving each vesting condition and the Black-Scholes option pricing model using the following weighted average inputs and assumptions: Share price - $0.59; Exercise price - $0.001; Expected share price volatility – 68%; Risk-free rate - 1.51%; Expected life – 4.5 years.

- (h) AMPD Holdings replaces its outstanding special warrants with 250,000 common share purchase warrants exercisable at a price of $0.60 per share for a period of 12 months once the previous holders of the special warrants have received royalty payments under the same conditions as attached to the previous special warrants.

- (i) The Transaction is accounted for as a capital transaction in which AMPD Holdings is being identified as the acquirer of AMPD for accounting purposes. - 16,606,954 common shares (including the conversion of 8,106,854 AMPD special warrants to common shares). The fair value of the common shares is estimated on the basis of the subscription price of the special warrants issued by AMPD in connection with the Transaction at a price of $0.35 per common share for a total value of $5,812,434.
 - 262,249 agent's warrants exercisable at $0.35 per common share for a period of one year from the date that AMPD's common shares are listed for trading on a national Canadian securities exchange. The agent's warrants are subject to a hold period expiring four months and one day from the date that AMPD becomes a reporting issuer. The fair value of the agent's warrants is estimated at $25,087 using the Black-Scholes option pricing model and the following inputs and assumptions: Share price - $0.35; Exercise price - $0.35; Expected share price volatility – 68%; Risk-free rate - $1.61%; Expected life – 1 year.
