Company Overview

AMMPOWER Corp. (the "Company" or "AmmPower") was incorporated on December 3, 2019 in British Columbia. On September 18, 2020, the Company received approval from the Canadian Securities Exchange ("CSE") for the listing of its common shares on the CSE, subject to the completion of customary requirements, including the receipt of all required documentation. The Company's shares commenced trading on the CSE under the symbol "SOLD" on October 6, 2020 which was subsequently changed to "AMMP". The Company is also listed on the Frankfurt stock exchange under "601A" and OTC under "AMMPF". The head office and principal address of the Company are located at 5 Hazelton Avenue, Toronto, Ontario, Canada, M5R 2E1. The Company's registered and records office is located at 2800 Park Place – 666 Burrard Street, Vancouver, BC V6C 2Z7.

On January 6, 2023, the Company acquired 50.05% of Progressus Clean Technologies Inc. ("Progressus"). As consideration, the Company issued 50,000,000 common shares of the Company.

Business Activities

The Company has an increasing focus on the production of green ammonia and is active in all facets of green ammonia technology, including the production of green fertilizers, carbon-free shipping fuel, moving of green hydrogen as ammonia, and "cracking" of ammonia back to hydrogen. AmmPower is developing proprietary technologies to produce green ammonia and green hydrogen at scale, including researching unique catalytic reactions to lower costs and to take advantage of carbon credits in the renewable energy space.

The Company has completed a demonstration unit capable of producing 50 kilograms of ammonia per day at its manufacturing and research and development facility in Michigan. The demonstration unit has run successfully since initiation and patents have been submitted for the Company's technologies. This same technology being scalable allowed the Company to begin its sales cycle for the four-metric-ton-per-day green ammonia production unit, the Independent Ammonia Making Machine (IAMM™).

The IAMM™ is an end-to-end clean production system that is efficient, mobile, and modularly scalable. Once in production, the IAMM™ units are expected to have a production capacity of four metric tonnes of green ammonia per day. The IAMM™ units can be utilized in industrial, commercial and agricultural markets with an emphasis on independent distributors and retailers in the agricultural market for nitrogen-based fertilizer.

The Company continues to perform research and development activities on a cracking process to create a membrane separator to efficiently spit ammonia into nitrogen and ultra-high purity hydrogen. The Company aims to commercialize this technology as ammonia is a hydrogen carrier and ultra-high purity hydrogen can be used as a fuel source. Based on current results of our research and development, the Company has entered into an agreement with Blue Ocean Salt Corp. ("Blue Ocean") (formerly known as 'Clean Light Acquisition Corp') whereby the Company has granted Blue Ocean the licensing rights for North America, the United Kingdom and the European Union for a period of two years to use certain licensed technology bundled with Blue Ocean's products. The license will allow Blue Ocean to buy, use, sell modify, create derivative works of, and distribution of AmmPower's licensed technology only as a bundle with Blue Ocean's products. As consideration, the Company received US$200,000 and will receive 5% of the issued and outstanding common shares of Blue Ocean which will be subject to escrow During the nine months ended February 29, 2024, the Company recognized as other income $101,350 (February 28, 2023 - $63,266). The Company expects to recognize as revenue the remaining performance obligations represented by the deferred revenue balance of $60,600 as at February 29, 2024 (May 31, 2023 - $162,863) in the next six months. On April 4, 2023, Blue Ocean was acquired by Vortex Energy ("Vortex"). As part of the acquisition, Blue Ocean in a subsequent agreement agreed to issue 690,000 shares of Vortex between the date of the signed acknowledgment and the initial two-year licensing term. The shares will be issued with various hold periods in various tranches. As of February 29, 2024, the Company has not received the 690,000 shares. Blue Ocean has an option to extend the license for an additional three years for a total of five year for cash payment of US$500,000 and issue additional common shares of Blue Ocean as represents 9.99% of the then issued and outstanding common shares of Blue Ocean. Blue Ocean will have the option to extend in five year increments up to a total of twenty years for aggregate cash payments totalling US$22,500,000 and the term of the agreement may be extended for perpetuity by the Company for cash payment of US$25,000,000.

Acquisition of Progressus

On January 6, 2023, the Company entered into a share exchange agreement with two vendors to acquire 50.05% of the issued and outstanding common shares of Progressus Clean Technologies Inc. ("Progressus"). The acquisition of Progressus was an important step to acquire intellectual property that has the potential to directly improve the efficiency of ammonia production. The intellectual property of Progressus will enable the Company in achieving greater vertical integration and decreasing its system expenses. As consideration for the Progressus shares, the Company issued an aggregate of 50,000,000 common shares of the Company valued at $17,250,000.

Property description

Whabouchi Property

On March 31, 2021, the Company completed the acquisition of all of the outstanding common shares of AmTek. As consideration, the Company issued 12,000,000 common shares of the Company fair valued at $0.95 per share and discounted using the average strike put-option model, which resulted in a present value of $8,753,000 on acquisition date. AmTek is the owner of the Whabouchi South lithium exploration property located in the James Bay/Eeyou Istche region of Quebec and is working on the development of a proprietary technology to produce green ammonia, a potential carbon-free energy source. The transaction was accounted for as an asset acquisition on the basis that AmTek does not meet the definition of a business as it had no ongoing business operations. Accordingly, the acquisition is accounted for in accordance with IFRS 2 Share-based payment whereby the Company issued shares in exchange for the net assets of AmTek. A fair value of $8,707 was allocated to the Whabouchi property as part of the purchase price allocation. The Company also issued 960,000 common shares as finders fee which was valued at $912,000.

On July 20, 2023, the Company entered into an asset purchase agreement with Consolidated Lithium Metals Inc.("Consolidated Lithium"), a company with common officers, whereby Consolidated Lithium acquires 100% of the Whabouchi Property. As consideration, Consolidated Lithium will pay $50,000 in cash (received). There is a 1% NSR of which Consolidated Lithium has the option to repurchase at any time for $250,000. During the nine months ended February 29, 2024, the Company recorded a gain of sale of exploration and evaluation assets for $51,293.

Off Balance Sheet Arrangements

The Company does not have any off-balance sheet arrangements.

Financial Instruments

The Company's risk exposures and the impact on the Company's condensed interim consolidated financial statements are summarized below.

Credit risk

Financial instruments that potentially expose the Company to credit risk is cash. To minimize the credit risk on cash the Company places the instrument with a high credit quality financial institution. The maximum exposure to loss arising from these advances is equal to their total carrying amounts.

Interest rate risk

The Company pays interest on its convertible notes at a fixed rate of 10% per annum and pays interest on its promissory notes at a fixed rate of 5% and 10% per annum. The Company does not have any material variable interest rates and is not exposed to any material interest rate risk on its debt instruments.

Liquidity risk

Liquidity risk is the risk that the Company will not be able to meet its financial obligations as they become due. The Company's policy is to ensure that it will always have sufficient cash to allow it to meet its liabilities when they become due, under both normal and stressed conditions, without incurring unacceptable losses or risking damage to the Company's reputation. The key to success in managing liquidity is the degree of certainty in the cash flow projections.

The Company monitors its cash flows to meet the Company's normal operating requirements on an ongoing basis and its planned capital expenditures. All of the Company's financial liabilities except for lease liabilities (Note 9), convertible loans (Note 10) and promissory notes (Note 13) have contractual maturities of 30 days or are due on demand and are subject to normal trade terms. As at February 29, 2024, the Company had a working capital deficiency of $4,104,467 (May 31, 2023 working capital deficiency– $2,308,425).

The maturity analysis of the undiscounted contractual balances of the lease liabilities is as follows:

Maturity analysis	February 29, 2024	May 31, 2023
Less than one year	$ 383,207	$ 400,253
One to three years	1,051,874	1,139,821
Four to seven years	177,257	362,844
Total undiscounted lease liabilities	1,612,338	1,902,918
Amount representing implicit interest	(345,645)	(457,563)
Lease liabilities	$ 1,266,693	$ 1,445,355

Foreign Currency Risk

The Company may be exposed to foreign currency risk on fluctuations related to cash, accounts payable and accrued liabilities and lease liabilities that are denominated in a foreign currency. As at February 29, 2024, the Company held cash denominated in US dollars of US$10,339 (May 31, 2023 – US$42,383), accounts payable and accrued liabilities of US$1,987,665 (May 31, 2023 – US$961,183), convertible note of US$40,000 (May 31, 2023 - $Nil), due to relate parties of US$157,194 (May 31, 2023 – US$75,000) and lease liabilities of US$698,737 (May 31, 2023 – US$772,873) translated at US$1 for every $1.36. These factors expose the Company to foreign currency exchange rate risk, which could have a material adverse effect on the profitability of the Company. A 10% change in the exchange rate would change other comprehensive income/loss by approximately $390,000.

The Company currently does not plan to enter into foreign currency future contracts to mitigate this risk.

Price risk

The Company is exposed to price risk with respect to commodity and equity prices. Equity price risk is defined as the potential adverse impact on the Company's earnings due to movements in individual equity prices or general movements in the level of the stock market. Commodity price risk is defined as the potential adverse impact on earnings and economic value due to commodity price movements and volatilities. The Company closely monitors commodity prices of lithium and other precious and base metals, individual equity movements, and the stock market to determine the appropriate course of action to be taken by the Company.

Fair Values

The Company's financial instruments include cash, accounts payable and accrued liabilities, due to related parties, convertible loans and lease liabilities. The carrying amounts of these financial instruments are a reasonable estimate of their fair values because of their nature.

Fair Value Hierarchy

The Company classifies its fair value measurements in accordance with the three-level fair value hierarchy as follows:

Level 1 fair value measurements are those derived from quoted prices (unadjusted) in active markets for identical assets or liabilities; and

Level 2 fair value measurements are those derived from inputs other than quoted prices included within Level 1 that are observable for the asset or liability, either directly (i.e. as prices) or indirectly (i.e. derived from prices); and

Level 3 fair value measurements are those derived from valuation techniques that include inputs for the asset or liability that are not based on observable market data (unobservable inputs).

Related Party Transactions

Related party transactions are comprised of services rendered by directors and/or officers of the Company or by a company with a director and/or officer in common. Related party transactions are in the ordinary course of business and are measured at the exchange amount.

Key Management Compensation

Key management personnel are those having authority and responsibility for planning, directing and controlling the activities of the Company, directly or indirectly, and include the Company's executive officers and members of the Board of Directors. Key management compensation consisted of the following:

Critical Accounting Estimates and Judgments

The Company makes estimates and assumptions about the future that affect the reported amounts of assets and liabilities. Estimates and judgments are continually evaluated based on historical experience and other factors, including expectations of future events that are believed to be reasonable under the circumstances. In the future, actual experience may differ from these estimates and assumptions.

The effect of a change in an accounting estimate is recognized prospectively by including it in comprehensive income in the year of the change, if the change affects that year only, or in the year of the change and future years, if the change affects both.

Information about critical judgments in applying accounting policies that have the most significant risk of causing material adjustment to the carrying amounts of assets and liabilities recognized in the financial statements within the next financial year are discussed in note 4 to the consolidated financial statements.

Business and Industry Risks

Operating History

The Company was incorporated on December 3, 2019 and has not commenced commercial operations. The Company has no history of earnings or paid any cash dividends, and it is unlikely to produce earnings or pay dividends in the immediate or foreseeable future.

Manufacturing Risk

For the successful development of the Company's IAMM™, the Company will source key components that are subject to global supply constraints, hire and retain managerial personnel and skilled labor, and maintain of desirable levels of production. There can be no assurance that the Company will be able to achieve and sustain these goals. If the Company cannot do so, it may be unable to achieve and sustain profitability. The Company's ability to achieve expected production capacity is subject to significant risks and uncertainties, including the following: (a) delays and unexpected costs as a result of a number of factors, many of which may be beyond the Company's control, such as its ability to secure successful contracts with suppliers, (b) ability to hire and retain skilled labor, (c) unavailability of manufacturing inputs; and (d) failure to increase production as orders are received.

Product Price and Margin

Operating results are and will be dependent upon product prices and margins on the IAMM™, which is in turn partially dependent on ammonia commodity pricing. Demand and pricing of ammonia can be affected by several factors including natural gas prices, global supply constraints, outlook for crop nutrient prices and farmer economics, governmental policies, and build-up of inventories in distribution channels. Ammonia prices are also significantly influenced by large scale ammonia producers that change overall industry production capacity, such as decisions to build or close production plants, changes in utilization rates, and pricing decisions.

Additional Funding Required

Further development and production of the IAMM™ or other research and development projects undertaken by the company may require significant additional financing. Accordingly, the continuing development of the Company's IAMM™ and other projects will depend upon the Company's ability to obtain financing through equity financing, debt financing, the joint venturing of projects or other external sources. Failure to obtain sufficient financing may result in a delay or an indefinite postponement of the development or production on any or all of the Company's products and research and development activities, or have a material adverse impact on the Company's future cash flows, earnings, results of operations and financial condition. There can be no assurance that additional capital or other types of financing will be available if needed or that, if available, the terms of such financing will be favorable to the Company. If the Company was required to arrange for debt financing it could be exposed to the risk of leverage, while equity financing may cause existing shareholders to suffer dilution. There can be no assurance that the Company will be successful in overcoming these risks or any other problems encountered in connection with such financings. Failure to raise capital when needed would have a material adverse effect on the Company's business, financial condition, and results of operations.

The Company has and will continue to have negative operating cash flow until it begins serial production of its IAMM™ and can sustain continued production at anticipated margins.

Volatility of Electricity Prices

The Company's ability to sell IAMM™ will be dependent on the market prices of electricity. The market rates of electricity may be affected by changes in regulations and government policy and in demand and capacity supply, including cyclical changes, as well as the overall economy. Green electricity is a key input in the production of clean ammonia from the IAMM™ and electricity markets are subject to regulatory oversight and may impact the availability and cost within the jurisdictions in which the Company operates (or intends to operate). This volatility may have a material adverse effect on Company's business and financial condition.

Market Price of Common Shares

The trading price of the common shares is likely to be significantly affected by short term changes in its financial condition or results of operations as reflected in its quarterly earnings reports. Other factors unrelated to the Company's performance that may have an effect on the price of the common shares include the following: the extent of analytical coverage available to investors concerning the Company's business; the lessening in trading volume and general market interest in the Company's securities may affect an investor's ability to trade significant numbers of common shares; and the price of the common shares and size of the Company's public float may limit the ability of some institutions to invest in the Company's securities.

As a result of any of these factors, the market price of the common shares at any given point in time may not accurately reflect the Company's long-term value. Securities class action litigation often has been brought against companies following periods of volatility in the market price of their securities. The Company may in the future be the target of similar litigation. Securities litigation could result in substantial costs and damages and divert management's attention and resources.

Wars

The Company's business may be affected by changes in political and market conditions, such as interest rates, availability of credit, inflation rates, changes in laws, and national and international circumstances. Recent geopolitical events, including, relations between NATO and Russian Federation regarding the situation in Ukraine, the escalation of war between Israel and Hamas in Gaza and potential economic global challenges such as the risk of the higher inflation and energy crises, may create further uncertainty and risk with respect to the prospects of the Company's business.

Resale of Common Shares

The continued operation of the Company will be dependent upon its ability to generate operating revenues and to procure additional financing. There can be no assurance that any such revenues can be generated or that other financing can be obtained. If the Company is unable to generate such revenues or obtain such additional financing, any investment in the Company may be lost. In such event, the probability of resale of the Common Shares by any investor of the Company would be diminished.

Price Volatility of Publicly Traded Securities

In recent years, the securities markets in Canada have experienced a high level of price and volume volatility, and the market prices of securities of many companies have experienced wide fluctuations in price which have not necessarily been related to the operating performance, underlying asset values or prospects of such companies. There can be no assurance that continual fluctuations in price will not occur. It may be anticipated that any quoted market for the Common Shares will be subject to market trends generally, notwithstanding any potential success of the Company in executing on its business plan, creating revenues, cash flows or earnings. The value of the Common Shares will be affected by such volatility.
