"I am happy to report that the drill is turning and we are now coring at Mann Lake," stated Mike Blady, CEO of Basin Uranium. "Since acquiring the project from Skyharbour Resources in late 2021, the Basin team has made great strides in consulting, permitting, planning, and now drilling in a very short period of time. Our focus now is on executing our exploration plans for 2022 in a responsible, safe and timely manner."

Bryson Drilling Ltd. is providing diamond drilling services under the supervision of TerraLogic Exploration Inc. With over 100 years of combined experience, Bryson Drilling is a locally owned Saskatchewan family-based business with vast experience in the Athabasca Basin drilling for some of the largest exploration and mining companies in the province.
