In January 2024, more results on the Copper Ridge showing from the Knauss Creek property were released. Highlights include:

- 6.70 g/t Au, 4,610 g/t Ag, 2.23 % Cu (W489444, erratic block),

These latest results from Copper Ridge define a high-grade silver trend with values up to 4,610 g/t Ag and 4,040 g/t Ag with elevated gold and copper assays that are in alignment with previously published results. The Copper Ridge zone hosted within a diorite now stretches over an east-west length of approximately 1,500 metres, a north-south length of 650 metres and an elevation differentiation of 470 metres. Additional prospecting occurred in the sediments east of the mineralized dioritic intrusion. Sampling of numerous quartz veins returned anomalous silver values, except for one which contains silver, gold and lead.

Exploration Projects

The Properties lie south of the “Golden Triangle” area of northwestern British Columbia where extensively occurring precious and base-metal mineralization have historically been discovered and several mine or projects with resources are currently ongoing.

The Properties are in the Omineca and Skeena Mining Division in British Columbia. They are underlain by a sequence of stratified argillites, sandstones, and conglomerates of Bowser Lake Group sedimentary rocks and Hazelton Group volcano-sedimentary rocks. These are intruded by granodioritic units.

Knauss Creek Property Overview

Property Description and Ownership

The southern portion of the Knauss Creek Property is approximately 35 km northeast of the Town of Terrace (see Figure 1). It covers 2,944 hectares in mineral claims and is fully owned by the Company. It is easily accessible by highway 16 and a bridge over the Skeena River that leads to a network of logging roads.

Highlights

The Knauss Creek Property is being explored for polymetallic veins. Placer deposits were mined in creeks adjacent, west and east, to the Property during the early part of the 20th century. The Property hosts the historical Dorreen mine. Many showings such as the Jay Veins, Hugin, Kandy and Copper Ridge are gold, silver, copper, lead and zinc bearing. More historical showing needs to be investigated.

Holy Grail Property Overview

Property Description and Ownership

The Holy Grail Property starts 10 kilometers north of Terrace, forming a horseshoe, with the eastern part surrounding the Knauss Creek property (Figure 1). The Property is easy-accessible, bounded by two highways with CN rail, high tension power crossing the Property and a network of logging roads which make for very cost-effective exploration. Some of the key areas are located below the tree line and can be worked nearly year-round. The Property covers 70,100 hectares and is fully owned by the Company.

Figure1: Knauss Creek Holy Grail properties

Highlights

The Holy Grail property has been very locally explored historically. The property is being explored for gold, silver, copper, lead and zinc. The best showings are Shock & Awe and Fore Shore. The prospection work done by the Company allowed to identify areas with high potential.

Quality Assurance and Control

Sample analysis and assaying have been conducted by ALS Global Laboratories (Geochemistry Division) in Vancouver, Canada (an ISO/IEC 17025:2017 accredited facility). A secure chain of custody is maintained in transporting and storing of all samples. Certified assay standards, duplicate samples and blanks are routinely inserted into the sample stream to ensure integrity of the assay process. Rock samples are crushed to 70% less than 2 millimeters, and a 250-gram sample is split with a riffle splitter. The split is pulverized to 85 per cent less than 75 microns and 50-gram charges prepared. Gold was assayed using a fire assay with atomic emission spectrometry and gravimetric finish when required (+10 g/t Au). Analysis by four acid digestions with 48 element ICP-MS analysis was conducted on all samples with silver and base metal over-limits being re-analyzed by atomic absorption or emission spectrometry. The Company cautions that rock chip samples from outcrop/bedrock are selective by nature and may not be representative of the mineralization hosted on the Property.

All scientific or technical information included in this MD&A has been reviewed, verified and approved by Yan Ducharme, P.Geo., President of the Company and a qualified person as defined by National Instrument 43-101.

Proposed Transactions

Except as elsewhere disclosed in this document, there are no other proposed transactions under consideration.

Capital Risk Management

The Company's objective when managing capital is to maintain its ability to continue as a going concern in order to provide returns and/or benefits for shareholders.

The Company manages its capital structure and makes adjustments to it, based on the funds available to the Company, in order to support the administration of its corporate affairs and to provide funds for the development of its business. The Board of Directors does not establish quantitative return on capital criteria for management but rather relies on the expertise of the Company's management and consultants to sustain future development of the business.

The Company has no revenue-generating operations and as such is dependent upon external financings to fund activities. In order to develop its business and pay for administrative costs, the Company will spend its existing working capital and raise additional funds as required.

Management reviews its capital management approach on an ongoing basis and believes that this approach is reasonable given the size of the Company.

There were no changes in the Company's approach to capital management during the three months ended November 30, 2023. The Company is not subject to externally imposed capital requirements.

Financial Instruments

Financial assets and liabilities are classified in the fair value hierarchy according to the lowest level of input that is significant to the fair value measurement. Assessment of the significance of a particular input to the fair value measurement requires judgment and may affect placement within the fair value hierarchy levels.

Fair value estimates of financial instruments are made at a specific point in time, based on relevant information about financial markets and specific financial instruments. As these estimates are subjective in nature, involving uncertainties and matters of significant judgment, they cannot be determined with precision. Changes in assumptions can significantly affect estimated fair values.

The Company's risk exposures and the impact on the Company's financial instruments are summarized below:

Credit risk

Credit risk is the risk of loss associated with counterparty's inability to fulfil its payment obligations. The Company's receivables consist mainly of goods and services tax receivables due from the Government of Canada. As at November 30, 2023, the Company's exposure to credit risk is minimal.

Liquidity risk

The Company's approach to managing liquidity risk is to ensure that it will have sufficient liquidity to meet liabilities when due. As at November 30, 2023, the Company had a cash balance of $745,193 to settle current liabilities of $180,624. All of the Company's accounts payable and accrued liabilities have contractual maturities of 30 days or are due on demand and are subject to normal trade terms. Management intends to meet its liabilities by actively pursuing investors.

Market risk

Market risk is the risk of loss that may arise from changes in market factors such as interest rates, foreign exchange rates, and commodity and equity prices.

a) Interest rate risk

As at November 30, 2023, the Company was not subject to or exposed to any interest rate risk as it had no variable interest debt or investments.

b) Foreign currency risk

As at November 30, 2023, the Company is not exposed to foreign currency risk.

c) Price risk

The Company is exposed to price risk with respect to commodity and equity prices. Equity price risk is defined as the potential adverse impact on the Company's earnings due to movements in individual equity prices or general movements in the level of the stock market. Commodity price risk is defined as the potential adverse impact on earnings and economic value due to commodity price movements and volatilities. As at November 30, 2023, the Company was not exposed to any equity or commodity price risks.

Significant Accounting Judgements, Estimates and Assumptions

The preparation of condensed interim financial statements requires management to make estimates about, and apply assumptions or judgment to, future events and other matters that affect the reported amounts of the Company's assets, liabilities, revenues, expenses and related disclosures. Assumptions, estimates and judgments are based on historical experience, expectations, current trends and other factors that management believes to be relevant at the time at which the Company's condensed interim financial statements are prepared.

The Company's significant accounting judgements, estimates and assumptions are disclosed in Note 2 of the condensed interim financial statements for the three months ended November 30, 2023.

Risks and Uncertainties

In conducting its business, the Company, like all exploration-stage mineral exploration companies, faces a variety of risks uncertainties. While unable to eliminate all of them, the Company aims at managing and reducing such risks as much as possible.

Exploration and Development - Resource exploration and development is a highly speculative business, characterized by a number of significant risks including, but not limited to, unprofitable efforts resulting not only from the failure to discover mineral deposits but also from finding mineral deposits that, though present, are insufficient in quantity and quality to return a profit from production. Few exploration projects successfully achieve development due to factors that cannot be predicted or anticipated, and even one such factor may result in the economic viability of a project being detrimentally impacted such that it is neither feasible nor practical to proceed. The Company closely monitors its activities and those factors that could impact them and employs experienced consultants to assist in its risk management and to make timely adequate decisions.

Title Risks - Title to mineral properties involves certain inherent risks due to the difficulties of determining the validity of certain claims, as well as the potential for problems arising from the frequently ambiguous conveyance history characteristic of many mineral properties.

Permitting Risks - The development of mineral resources in British Columbia is subject to a comprehensive review, approval and permitting process involving various provincial and regional agencies, in addition to the various First Nations groups that have jurisdiction in the Company's area of claims. There can be no assurance given for the required approvals and permits for a mining project, even if technically and economically warranted, can be obtained in a timely or cost-effective manner.

Fluctuating Metal Prices - Factors beyond the control of the Company have a direct effect on global metal prices, which have fluctuated widely, particularly in recent years. Consequently, the economic viability of any of the Company's exploration projects and the Company's ability to finance the development of its projects cannot be accurately predicted and may be adversely affected by fluctuations in metal prices.

Environmental Regulations Permits and Licenses - Environmental laws and regulations could also impact the viability of a project. The Company has ensured that it has complied with these regulations, but there could be changes in legislation outside the Company's control that could also add a risk factor to a project.

Competition - The mineral exploration industry is intensely competitive in all its phases, and the Company competes with some companies that have greater financial and technical resources. Competition could adversely affect the Company's ability to acquire suitable properties or prospects in the future.

Future Financings - The Company's continued operation will be dependent in part upon its ability procure additional financing. To date, the Company has done so through a combination of: (i) equity financing; and (ii) cash payments received as property option payments from third parties. The current state of global equity markets has had a direct effect on the ability of exploration companies, including the Company, to finance project acquisition and development through the equity markets. There can be no assurance that forms of financing can be obtained at a future date. Failure to obtain additional financing on a timely basis may cause the Company to postpone development plans, forfeit rights in some or all of the properties or joint ventures, or reduce or terminate some or all of the operations.

Price Volatility of Publicly Traded Securities - During recent months, global securities markets have experienced a high level of price and volume volatility, and the market prices of securities of many companies have experienced wide fluctuations in price that have not necessarily been related to the operating performance, underlying asset values or prospects of such companies. There can be no assurance that continual fluctuations in price will not occur.

Forward-looking statements involve known and unknown risks, uncertainties and other factors which may cause the actual results, performance or achievements of the Company to be materially different from any future results, performance or achievements expressed or implied by the forward-looking statements. Such risks and uncertainties include, among others, the actual results of current exploration activities, conclusions or economic evaluations, changes in project parameters as plans continue to be refined, possible variations in grade and or recovery rates, failure of plant, equipment or processes to operate as anticipated, accidents, labour disputes or other risks of the mining industry, delays in obtaining government approvals or financing or incompleteness of development or construction activities, risks relating to the integration of acquisitions, to international operations, and to the prices of gold and other metals. While the Company has attempted to identify important factors that could cause actual actions, events or results to differ materially from those described in forward-looking statements, there may be other factors that cause actions, events or results not to be as anticipated, estimated or intended. There can be no assurance that forward-looking statements will prove to be accurate, as actual results and future events could differ materially from those anticipated in such statements. Accordingly, readers should not place undue reliance on forward-looking statements. The Company expressly disclaims any intention or obligation to update or revise any forward-looking statements, whether as a result of new information, future events or otherwise except as required by law.
