

Nepra Foods Samples Its Vegan, non-GMO, Gluten and Dairy-Free Salad Dressings for Private Label Production

VANCOUVER, BC / ACCESSWIRE / March 17, 2022 / Nepra Foods Inc. ("Nepra") (CSE:NPRA)(FSE:2P6F)(OTCQB:NPRFF), the creator of nutritious plant-based and allergen-free food, is pleased to announce a private label sampling of salad dressings made from its proprietary cold-pressed virgin hemp oil. The anticipated volume agreement is estimated to generate initial orders totaling up to 20,000 gallons of dressings per month to be sold in large retail chains across the United States. As a bi-product of its Colorado White Hemp Heart Flour production line, Nepra produces its refined hemp oil using a cold process to preserve the natural omegas, yielding an extra fresh oil that is vibrant, golden, and well-balanced for blending into a wide variety of clean label dressings, including Creamy Italian, Balsamic Vinaigrette, Citrus Thai, and Creamy Caesar.

"Our new line of chef-developed salad dressings are formulated for consumers who want to add healthy fats and omegas to their plant-based diets but have limited non-GMO options available on grocery store shelves," said David Wood, Co-Founder and CEO of Nepra Foods. "We believe our cold-processed virgin hemp oil that we press fresh daily in our Colorado facility is the best tasting alternative to genetically modified oils, including corn, canola, or soybean."

Nepra's initial entry into the global salad dressings and mayonnaise market, estimated to reach 23.8 billion by 2026¹, is part of its vertical integration strategy enabling Nepra to better control its global supply chains and cost of goods. As a result, from seeds to final products, Nepra can maintain the highest levels of quality and a predictable supply for end consumers.
