Securities Act (British Columbia). The Company and the vendor agreed that the Company will not be in violation of the purchase terms so long as they are in compliance with the amended terms of acquisition.

The claims will be subject to a 2% net smelter return royalty, which the Company may reduce by 50% for cash consideration of $1,200,000. The remaining 50% may be purchased for an additional $2,400,000.

The St-Robert Property was acquired for its gold, tungsten and bismuth minerals potential. The mineralization observed in the St-Robert-Bellarmin area, and more specifically in the area of the St-Robert Metals deposit, is atypical of the mineralizations normally observed in Quebec. Zn–Pb–W–Cu±Mo±Au mineralization is associated with quartz-calcite-sericite veins and numerous porphyritic dykes (Wares, 1985; Athurion, 2013). These mineralizations are mostly hosted in biotite hornfels. The latter are spatially associated with a magnetic anomaly reflecting the probable presence of an intrusive igneous mass. The assemblage of metals, observed in the mineralized veins, and the presence of numerous felsic porphyritic dykes suggest a genetic link with intrusive rocks probably present under the sedimentary rocks. This geological setting shares several similarities with vein mineralization settings commonly observed distal to porphyry mineralizations. The latter form in the earth's crust generally between 10 and 2 km (deep) and at temperatures between 350 and 700 Celsius. The textures observed in porphyry dykes, such as those at St-Robert, imply rapid emplacement of evolved magmas at relatively low temperatures.

Stella Property

On November 15, 2021, the Company ("Optionee") entered into a mineral property option agreement with Sagidor Explorations Inc. to acquire a 100% interest in the mineral claims known as the Stella Mining Claims in the Province of Quebec. Under the agreement, the Company will make the following payments to acquire the interest:

- On or before November 15, 2021, issue 1,500,000 common shares – issued,
- $35,000 cash on or before November 15, 2021 – paid,
- No later than May 15, 2022, issue an additional 2,500,000 common shares – 1,100,000 issued.

The Optionor is entitled to a 1% net smelter returns royalty ("NSR"). The Company has the right to purchase 50% of the Optionor's NSR for cash consideration of $1,000,000. On May 15, 2022, the Optionor became entitled to a 3% NSR and the Company has the right to purchase 100% of the Optionor's NSR for cash consideration of $2,000,000.

On November 15, 2021 the Company entered into a Mineral property option agreement with Denis Bouchard to acquire a 100% interest in Property claims. Under the agreement the Company will make the following payments to acquire the interest:

- 1,000,000 common shares – issued,
- $15,000 cash – paid.

During the year ended December 31, 2023, management of the Company impaired the value this property, reflecting the uncertainty that there were sufficient available resources to proceed with the project and wrote-off the carrying amount of $520,827.

EXPLORATION PROGRAM

The exploration program can be summarized by the following steps:

- i. Compile previous data (especially from JAG Mines Ltd). Put the information on a GIS (ArcGIS).
- ii. Carry out a very high-resolution drone magnetic survey.
- iii. Collect drill core samples (JAG) to measure petrophysical parameters.
- iv. Soil-Gas surveys on the St-Robert property (Sulphur detection)
- v. Mercury gas survey
- vi. Geological field work
- vii. TDEM-IP survey

Exploration work completed through March 31, 2024:

In May, June, and August 2022, the Institut National de Recherche Scientifique ("INRS") carried out five 2 km-long audiomagnetotellurics sections (continuous profiling and stations every 50m). These sections were carried out in order to clarify the deep geology of the area of the former St-Robert mine. This geophysical data will be used, among other things, to locate fundamental structures (faults) conducive to the establishment of gold mineralization in the area. During the same period, the field team carried out three geoelectric tomographic sections (resistivity and electrical chargeability) with a length of 1000m and very high spatial resolution (electrodes every 5m) to specify the thickness of glacial sediments and forest soils above the bedrock and locate areas of electrical chargeability (disseminated sulphides) that can be sampled by mechanized excavation from the surface.

In July 2022, the INRS team had the opportunity to map and sample new quarries (quarries 1, 2 and 3) used by Domtar as sources of aggregates for the repair of forest roads in the region (east sector of the Rivière du Loup) (Fig. 2). Geological mapping work has shown the presence of several generations and types of quartz-chlorite-iron carbonate and sulphide veins intersecting folded sedimentary rocks in the vicinity of major faults with graphitic surfaces (Fig. 3 and 4). In addition, this work has shown the presence of blackish sandstone and mudslate units containing semi-massive or disseminated pyrite mineralization with stratigraphic control and extending over long distances in quarries# 1 and # 3 (more than 100m). These sulfide mineralized zones were the subject of a collection of around a hundred samples which were characterized in the INRS laboratories. These samples were sent in the third week of October 2022 to the Actlabs laboratory (Ancaster, Ontario) for analysis of gold and trace elements indicative of gold mineralization by the instrumental neutronics activation analysis method (INAA).

The value of the Company's exploration and evaluation asset and expenses were comprised of the following as of March 31, 2024:

Critical Accounting Estimates

The preparation of condensed interim financial statements in conformity with IFRS requires management to make estimates and assumptions. These estimates and assumptions affect the reported amounts of assets, liabilities, shareholders' equity, and the disclosure of contingent assets and liabilities as at the date of the condensed interim financial statements, and expenses for the periods reported.

Significant assumptions about the future and other sources of estimation uncertainty that management has made at the end of the reporting period, which could result in a material adjustment to the carrying amounts of assets and liabilities in the event that actual results differ from assumptions made, relate to, but are not limited to, the following:

- a. The recoverability of receivables, prepayments and deposits that are included in the consolidated statements of financial position.
- b. The fair value of stock options, warrants and compensation options which requires the estimation of stock price volatility, the expected forfeiture rate and the expected term of the underlying instruments.
- c. The fair value of restricted share units which requires the estimation of the number of awards likely to vest on grant and at each reporting date up to the vesting date.
- d. The fair value of the investment for which a quoted market price in an active market is not available.
- e. The recoverability of deferred tax assets based on the assessment of the Company's ability to utilize the underlying future tax deductions against future taxable income prior to expiry of those deductions.
- f. The assessment of the Company's ability to continue as a going concern and to raise sufficient funds to pay its ongoing operating expenditures and to meet its liabilities for the ensuing year involves significant judgment
- g. based on historical experience and other factors, including expectation of future events that are believed to be reasonable under the circumstances. (g) The classification and allocation of expenses as exploration and evaluation expenditures or operating expenses.
