

Canadian Copper Receives New Brunswick Ministerial Approval for Murray Brook Title Transfer

Toronto, Ontario--(Newsfile Corp. - May 28, 2024) - Canadian Copper Inc. (CSE: CCI) ("Canadian Copper" or the "Company") announced today that the Murray Brook mining lease ownership and title have officially transferred to Canadian Copper. The Murray Brook deposit and its surrounding prospective exploration property ("Murray Brook Project") is located in the prolific Bathurst Mining Camp in New Brunswick, Canada.

Simon Quick, CEO of Canadian Copper, said, "This final step closes the Murray Brook transaction and is a welcomed development given the positive momentum in the commodities market. At recent spot prices, the Murray Brook deposit has significantly increased in value on a per tonne basis from the published Mineral Resource base case pricing environment of $4.00 Cu, $1.25 Zn, $0.95 Pb, and $23 Ag. This large +21 million tonne open pit resource grading 1.41% CuEq could supply much needed strategic metals faster than most advanced assets. Quality base metal deposits are rare in Canada, especially ones that are located beside existing infrastructure and process facilities."

Update on Caribou Sale Status and Potential Restart

The Company believes consolidation in the Bathurst Camp is necessary to achieve sufficient scale for a long-term successful restart of the Caribou Mine. The Murray Brook deposit is the largest VMS resource in the Bathurst region. This deposit is located ten kilometers from Caribou's 3,000 tonne per day process plant, which needs ore feed within a short haulage distance. Thus, Murray Brook becomes a key resource in extending Caribou's Mine operating life (see Figure A). Canadian Copper expects the Sales and Investment Solicitation Process ("SISP") for the Caribou Mine to be completed this year. The Company continues to express interest to the Government and the CCAA Monitor in contributing to a restart of Caribou, in the best interest of all stakeholders.
