

Pangea Natural Foods Inc. Expands Operations to Offer Co-Packing Services to Third-Party Companies

Pangea Natural Foods is pleased to announce that they have begun a new line of work, offering co-packing services to third-party companies in Canada and the United States.

VANCOUVER, BC, June 20, 2023 -- Pangea Natural Foods Inc. (“Pangea” or the “Company”) (CSE: PNGA) (OTCQB: PNGAF), based in Vancouver, is excited to announce the launch of their new co-packing services for third-party food and beverage companies in Canada and the United States. This strategic expansion is in line with Pangea Natural Foods' commitment to supporting the growth and success of the industry by offering a wide range of solutions.

“Pangea is excited to start a new line of business and support smaller businesses in their co-packing needs. We not only co-pack products but also maintain the highest standards in food quality,” said Pratap Sandhu, CEO and Founder at Pangea Natural Foods.

With their state-of-the-art facility, Pangea Natural Foods is capable of tailoring the production line to cater to a wide range of product requirements. By utilizing their services, companies can devote their attention to brand expansion and complying with regulatory standards, while also enjoying cost savings on packaging, equipment, labor, and logistics.

The addition of Pangea Natural Foods' co-packing services offer many benefits to third-party companies. By leveraging the company's advanced facility, businesses can take advantage of the following:

Tailored Production Line: Pangea Natural Foods can customize the production line to meet specific product requirements, ensuring the highest quality standards are met while maintaining product integrity and consistency.

Regulatory Compliance: Pangea Natural Foods adheres to strict industry regulations and quality control processes, providing peace of mind to partners that their products meet all necessary regulatory standards.

Cost Savings: Through co-packing, companies can save on packaging, equipment, labor, and logistics expenses. Pangea Natural Foods' efficient production processes and economies of scale enable significant cost reductions for partners.

Scalability: With the ability to scale production capacity quickly and efficiently, Pangea Natural Foods helps businesses adapt to fluctuating market demands and capitalize on growth opportunities.

Pangea Natural Foods is excited about the future of their co-packing services and the opportunities it brings for both the company and its partners. Pangea Natural Foods looks forward to forging strong partnerships with third-party food and beverage companies in Canada and British Columbia.
