NOTES TO THE CONDENSED INTERIM FINANCIAL STATEMENTS

August 31, 2022

(Stated in Canadian Dollars)

(Unaudited)

Note 1 Nature of Operations

Golden Age Exploration Ltd. (the “Company”) is a mineral property exploration company that is planning an initial public offering (“IPO”) of its shares and intends to list on the Canadian Securities Exchange (“CSE”) (Note 7).

The Company has an option agreement to earn an interest in a mineral property located near Quesnel, British Columbia (Note 6) and has not yet determined whether this property contains mineral resources that are economically recoverable. The recoverability of amounts from the property is dependent upon the discovery of mineral resources that are economically recoverable, confirmation of the Company’s interest in the underlying property, the ability of the Company to obtain the necessary financing to satisfy the expenditure requirements under the property option agreement and to complete the development of the property and upon future profitable production or proceeds for the sale thereof.

The Company was incorporated under the Business Corporations Act (British Columbia) on February 24, 2021 but did not commence active business activities until March, 2021. These financial statements are prepared as at August 31, 2022 and 2021 and for the six months then ended. With respect to the six months ended August 31, 2021, for ease of presentation and practical reporting purposes, the financial statements refer to the six months ended August 31, 2021; however, technically they encompass the period from the date of incorporation, February 24, 2021, to August 31, 2021, a total of 189 days.

The address of the Company’s corporate office and principal place of business and records office is c/o Suite 501 – 815 Hornby Street, Vancouver, BC, V6Z 2E6.

Note 2 Basis of Preparation

a) Statement of Compliance

These condensed interim financial statements, including comparatives, have been prepared in accordance with International Financial Reporting Standards (“IFRS”) as issued by the International Accounting Standards Board (“IASB”), Interpretations issued by the International Financial Reporting Interpretations Committee (“IFRIC”) and in accordance with International Accounting Standard (“IAS”) 34 Interim Financial Reporting and which were in effect as of August 31, 2022.

The condensed interim financial statements were authorized for issue by the Board of Directors on October 17, 2022.

Note 2 Basis of Preparation – (cont'd)

b) Going Concern

The Company has not generated revenue from operations. The Company recorded a net loss of $85,845 for the six month period ended August 31, 2022, and, as of that date the Company's accumulated deficit was $157,121. As the Company is in the exploration stage, the recoverability of the costs incurred to date on its exploration property is dependent upon the existence of mineral resources that are economically recoverable, the ability of the Company to obtain the necessary financing to complete the exploration and development of its property and upon future profitable production or proceeds from the disposition of its property and deferred exploration expenditures. The Company will periodically have to raise funds to continue operations and, although it has been successful in doing so in the past, there is no assurance it will be able to do so in the future. A 'going concern' assumption is suggestive that the Company's assets will continue to be realized and its liabilities met in the normal course of its business activities, and for the reasonably foreseeable future.

The Company is planning an IPO (Note 7), which it believes will provide sufficient funds to sustain planned operations for the next twelve months. However, there can be no assurance that it will be able to complete its IPO, and this and other material uncertainties in respect to the availability of future financing cast significant doubt as to the Company's ability to continue on a going concern basis.

These financial statements do not include any adjustments relating to the recoverability and classification of recorded asset amounts and classification of liabilities that might be necessary should the Company be unable to continue as a going concern.

There was a global pandemic outbreak of COVID-19. To date, there have been a large number of temporary business closures, quarantines and a general reduction in consumer activity in Canada. The outbreak has caused companies and various governmental bodies to impose travel, gathering and other public health restrictions. While these effects are expected to be temporary, the duration of the various disruptions to businesses locally and internationally and the related financial impact cannot be reasonably estimated at this time. Similarly, the Company cannot estimate whether or to what extent this outbreak and the potential financial impact may extend. At this point, the extent to which COVID-19 will or may impact the Company is uncertain and these factors are beyond the Company's control; however, it is possible that COVID-19 may have a material adverse effect on the Company's business, results of operations and financial condition.

Note 2 Basis of Preparation – (cont'd)

c) Basis of Measurement

The condensed interim financial statements have been prepared using the historical cost basis in Canadian dollars, which is the Company's functional currency.

The preparation of financial statements in compliance with IFRS requires management to make certain critical accounting estimates. It also requires management to exercise judgement in applying the Company's accounting policies. The areas involving higher degree of judgement of complexity, or areas where assumptions and estimates are significant to the financial statements are disclosed in Note 4.

Note 3 Significant Accounting Policies

These interim financial statements have been prepared and presented utilizing accounting principles and practices consistent with those used in the preparation of the audited financial statements as at and for the year ended February 28, 2022. However, they lack certain disclosures found in annual financial statements, such as detailed descriptions of the accounting policies followed, and accordingly should be read in conjunction with those audited annual financial statements.

Accounting standards and amendments

The following new standards and/or amendments are not yet effective and have not been applied in preparing these financial statements. The Company does not expect the adoption of this standard and/or amendment to have a significant impact on the financial statements.

Classification of Liabilities as Current or Non-current (Amendments to IAS 1)

The amendments to IAS 1 provide a more general approach to the classification of liabilities based on the contractual arrangements in place at the reporting date. These amendments are effective for reporting periods beginning on or after January 1, 2023.

Note 4 Use of Estimates and Judgments

The preparation of financial statements in conformity with IFRS requires management to make estimates and assumptions that affect the reported amounts of assets and liabilities and disclosures of contingent assets and liabilities at the date of the financial statements and the reported amounts of revenues and expenses during the reporting period.

Information about critical judgments in applying accounting policies that have the most significant effect on the amounts recognized in the financial statements is as follows:

Notes to the Condensed Interim Financial Statements

August 31, 2022

(Stated in Canadian Dollars)

Note 4 Use of Estimates and Judgments – (cont'd)i) Exploration and evaluation expenditure

The carrying value and the recoverability of exploration and evaluation assets, which are included in the statements of financial position, utilize the cost model and the carrying value of the exploration and evaluation assets is based on the expenditures incurred. Management tests for recoverability whenever events or changes in circumstances indicate there are indicators of impairment and that its carrying amount may not be recoverable. Impairment of exploration and evaluation assets is generally considered to have occurred if one of the following factors are present: the rights to explore have expired or are near to expiry with no expectation of renewal, no further substantive expenditures are planned, exploration and evaluation work is discontinued in an area for which commercially viable quantities have not been discovered, indications in an area with development likely to proceed that the carrying amount is unlikely to be recovered in full by development or by sale.

ii) Share-based payment transactions

The Company measures the cost of equity-settled transactions with employees by reference to the fair value of the equity instruments at the date at which they are granted. Estimating fair value for share-based payment transactions requires determining the most appropriate valuation model, which is dependent on the terms and conditions of the grant. This estimate also requires determining the most appropriate inputs to the valuation model including the expected life of the share option, volatility, dividend yield, forfeiture rate and making assumptions about them. The assumptions and models used for estimating fair value for share-based payment transactions are disclosed in Note 7.

iii) Going concern

The assessment of the Company's ability to continue as a going concern and to raise sufficient funds to pay for its operating expenditures, meet its liabilities for the subsequent year, and to fund planned contractual exploration programs, involves significant judgement based on historical experiences and other factors including expectation of future events that are believed to be reasonable under the circumstances.

Note 5 Cash and Cash Equivalents

Cash and cash equivalents consist of cash held at Canadian banks and include highly liquid investments that are readily convertible to known amounts of cash and subject to an insignificant risk of change in value.

Note 9 Financial Instruments and Risk Management

The Company is exposed through its operations to the following financial risks:

Market Risk

Credit Risk

Liquidity Risk

In common with all other businesses, the Company is exposed to risks that arise from its use of financial instruments. This note describes the Company's objectives, policies and processes for managing those risks and the methods used to measure them. Further quantitative information in respect of these risks is presented throughout these financial statements.

There have been no substantive changes in the Company's exposure to financial instrument risks, its objectives, policies and process for managing those risks or the methods used to measure them from previous years unless otherwise stated in this note.

a) Market Risk:

Market risk is the risk that the fair value of future cash flows of a financial instrument will fluctuate because of changes in market prices and are comprised of foreign currency risk and interest rate risk.

b) Foreign Currency Risk:

Foreign currency risk is the risk that a variation in exchange rates between the Canadian dollar and other foreign currencies will affect the Company's operations and financial results. The Company does not have significant exposure to foreign exchange rate fluctuation.

c) Interest Rate Risk:

Interest rate risk is the risk that future cash flows will fluctuate as a result of changes in market interest rates. Interest rate risk is limited to potential decreases on the interest rate offered on cash and cash equivalents held with chartered Canadian financial institutions. The risk that the Company will realize a loss as a result of a decline in the fair value of the cash equivalents is limited because of the short-term nature of the investments.

d) Credit Risk:

Credit risk is the risk of financial loss to the Company if a customer or a counterparty to a financial instrument fails to meet its contractual obligations. Financial instruments which are potentially subject to credit risk for the Company consists primarily of cash and cash equivalents. Cash and cash equivalents are maintained with financial institutions of reputable credit and may be redeemed upon demand. The Company considers this risk to be minimal.

Note 9 Financial Instruments and Risk Management – (cont'd)

e) Liquidity Risk:

Liquidity risk is the risk that the Company will not be able to meet its financial obligations as they become due. The Company's policy is to ensure that it will always have sufficient cash to allow it to meet its liabilities when they become due, under both normal and stressed conditions, without incurring unacceptable losses or risking damage to the Company's reputation. The key to success in managing liquidity is the degree of certainty in the cash flow projections. If future cash flows are fairly uncertain, the liquidity risk increases. The Company manages liquidity risk through the management of its capital structure.

Accounts payable and accrued liabilities are due within the current operating year.

As at August 31, 2022, the Company had a working capital surplus of $8,892. The Company does not currently operate any producing properties and as such, may be dependent upon issuance of new equity to advance its exploration properties. If equity financing is required, failure to obtain financing on a timely basis may cause the Company to postpone exploration plans, reduce or terminate its operations.

Determination of Fair Value:

Fair values have been determined for measurement and/or disclosure purposes based on the following methods. When applicable, further information about the assumptions made in determining fair values is disclosed in the notes specific to that asset or liability.

The financial position carrying amounts for cash and cash equivalents, accounts payable and accrued liabilities approximate fair value due to their short-term nature. Due to the use of subjective judgments and uncertainties in the determination of fair values these values should not be interpreted as being realizable in an immediate settlement of the financial instruments.

Fair Value Hierarchy:

Financial instruments that are measured subsequent to initial recognition at fair value are grouped in Levels 1 to 3 based on the degree to which the fair value is observable:

- Level 1 – Applies to assets or liabilities for which there are quoted prices in active markets for identical assets or liabilities.
- Level 2 – Applies to assets or liabilities for which there are inputs other than quoted prices included in Level 1 that are observable for the asset or liability, either directly such as quoted prices for similar assets or liabilities in active markets or indirectly such as quoted prices for identical assets or liabilities in markets with insufficient volume or infrequent transactions.
- Level 3 – Applies to assets or liabilities for which there are unobservable market data.
